Mr. Parisi,
Your executive order 8 for mandatory masks ONLY lists increasing Covid 9 positive cases - but IGNORES decreasing percentage positive cases and DECREASING Death rates - see attachment and see CDC at: https://www.cdc.gov/nchs/nvss/vsrr/covid_weekly/index.htm
We are told herd immunity is what is needed as in other community outbreaks - so what is rational about mandating masks now, when death rates are dramatically decreasing?? [and ignoring masks mandates in March or april or when protesting in large crowds]
Citations would be $376 in Madison and $263.50 elsewhere in the county - hmmmm, what about "Liberal" freedom - since you ALLOWED violent protesters to be free of masks why are you now HYPOCRITES and expect non-protesters to pay the penalty for YOUR lack of protecting the community from violence???
Thank you for your consideration and I do expect a thoughtful reply.

Mr. Parisi,

I've called your office twice in the past two weeks, leaving messages for you to return my calls. You have not, so I will email you to express my extreme disgust in your mandate of wearing masks or other face coverings in public.

This is an idiotic attempt at controlling the people of Dane County. If face coverings are so effective, why not suggest them to the people when Governor Evers destroyed the states economy and residents livelihood with his safer at home order? Why wait until months after? You do realize that with more testing, you will see more positive results? It sure would be nice to have a general idea how many of those cases are hospitalized, have no symptoms, or show cold/flu like symptoms. Madison's liberal biased media doesn't share that info because it may hurt your fear mongering propaganda that comes from the office of the Governor and the mayor.

You sir, need to grow a backbone and stand up to Satya Rhodes Conway. She is the mayor of Madison, not the dictator of the entire county. You need to listen to all voices in the county, not just the ones outside of your office. Be an advocate for everyone in the county, or be voted out.

I understand we are in strange times. But between our downtown businesses being destroyed, monuments torn down, a virus being over exaggerated, and division caused by liberal politics and propaganda, forcing people to wear a mask is unacceptable. You can recommend it, but mandating it is uncalled for. This will end up in court.

We are free to make our own decisions. If a business wants to require consumers to wear face coverings, that should be up to each individual business. It is not the job of county government to strong arm businesses into compliance.

I know you won't, but should you want to discuss your position, please feel free to call me at 608-212-7234. I refuse to comply to your mask mandate, along with many others who feel the same way. Congratulations on hurting more businesses in Dane County, as others like myself will go to neighboring counties to spend our money.

COVID and the CDC

Boy [and girl], were We snookered! Ever wonder why deaths from flu and bacterial pneumonia, neither of which have anything to do with COVID-19, are way down this year? 'Cause both were fraudulently used to turn non-epidemic COVID-19 into a dempanic pandemic

American Thinker, By Robert L. Kinney III

Some have rightly noted the double standard shown by numerous public health officials and politicians indicating that COVID-19 is not as dangerous as originally stated by their approval of rioting. SARS-CoV-2, the virus which causes COVID-19, is not the "threat to all Americans" that it has been made out to be. One need not be an epidemiologist to arrive at this conclusion. The United States Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and others have provided criteria to determine the severity of a "Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome" (SARS) virus. One needs only to evaluate the facts from the standpoint of the severity criteria.

When the virus was first reportedly discovered, the panic and hysteria propagated by public health officials was supposedly due to their belief that the SARS-CoV-2 virus would cause millions of people to experience pneumonia, acute respiratory distress syndrome, and death. During the initial outbreak of SARS-CoV-2, the CDC was suggesting that the expected sequences of events leading to death in COVID-19 patients would be viral pneumonia and acute respiratory distress syndrome.

How does one determine the severity, danger, or threat to society that a SARS virus poses? In the past, the CDC determined the severity of a SARS virus by looking at evidence and incidence [incidents?] of pneumonia and acute respiratory distress syndrome. A SARS case was designated to be "severe respiratory illness" if a patient had the following:

- Temperature higher than 100.4°F (38°C), AND
- One or more clinical findings of lower respiratory illness (e.g., cough, shortness of breath, or difficulty breathing) AND
- Radiographic evidence of pneumonia, OR
- Acute respiratory distress syndrome, OR
- Autopsy findings consistent with pneumonia or acute respiratory distress syndrome without an identifiable cause
- [Seems to me, if they don't distinguish between bacterial and viral pneumonia, even this method would result in misleadingly high numbers. But never mind, he's on a roll.]

If the CDC and other public health officials were consistent, they would be determining the severity of the current SARS virus by looking at incidents of pneumonia and acute respiratory distress syndrome. Calculating the number of people whose death certificates list them as having died from COVID-19 and pneumonia or acute respiratory distress syndrome would provide a more accurate count of people who actually died from COVID-19 (rather than those who died with COVID-19).

How many deaths involving COVID-19 have shown evidence of acute respiratory distress syndrome, then? According to the CDC, as of this writing, 15,243 death certificates out of 106,008 deaths "involving" COVID-19 included the contributing cause of severe acute respiratory distress syndrome. The statistics are here, up to the week ending June 20, 2020. That is a big deal. [Let's try that again: [The difference between 106,008 and 15,243 deaths] is a [VERY] big deal.]

Oddly, instead of listing pneumonia due to COVID-19 or viral pneumonia individually, the CDC obscures pneumonia statistics by combining viral pneumonia with various types of influenza diagnoses (COVID-19 is not influenza) and various types of bacterial pneumonias. Combining those statistics is misleading [Sumsay: fraudulent]. This is also a big deal.

Based on the SARS case severity criteria used by the CDC in the past, the data indicates that SARS-CoV-2 and Covid-19 are much less dangerous than numerous persons have led Americans to believe. After applying the CDC's SARS severity criteria, would COVID-19 death counts even be high enough to label COVID-19 as a public health emergency, epidemic, or pandemic? [Not a chance, me bucko.] Maybe the above statistics are reasons why numerous public health officials and politicians were not concerned with the recent mass rioting. [How do the dempanic pandemic cheerleaders unring a 100,000 death end zone twerk?]

Informed consent is legally defined by the Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations for any medical treatment offered to you that includes:

1. Opportunity to opt out of vaccination (refuse immunization) without penalties or recrimination.
2. Alternatives to vaccination, if any.
3. Privacy (confidentiality) so immunization will not be used against you.
4. Knowledge of known risks involved and any proposed benefits

Other provisions in a consent form should include:

A. A copy of the consent form to take home
B. Name of vaccine manufacturer, type of vaccine, lot number
C. Number needed to vaccinate to prevent 1 COVID-19 infection; the number needed to vaccinate to prevent 1 COVID-19 related death
D. Information on whether the vaccine was approved by comparison with an inactive placebo or comparison with an existing vaccine.
E. Opportunity to refuse a waiver of liability in cases of malpractice
F. List of health factors that predispose you to a poor response to vaccination
G. Acknowledgment the vaccine you are about to receive has been rushed to market and has not undergone customary testing
H. Concession that all the side effects posed by a new vaccine will not be known until months or years after the vaccine is licensed and approved for use by the Food & Drug Administration. The vaccine you receive may be recalled at a later date.
I. Assurance by your health practitioner who administers the vaccine that in his/her assessment of you as an individual that the proposed benefits of the vaccine exceed known side effects.

Morning,
Mr. Parisi. Under what authority do you or the health department to mandate people to wear a mask? I would like for you to show me what ordinance or state law that gives you this authority. When you don't answer the constituents you work for is pretty telling by the ignorance with this whole situation. You are killing business in this county and should be ashamed by the leadership your are presenting by following a political agenda to hurt people and divide people out here in the real world.
I never really liked recall elections but I think it is time you are recalled from this position. I will wait to hear your explanation what gives you or the health department the authority.

Thank you,

Hi everyone,

Apologies for the lateness, but this is a friendly reminder of our Dane RJ Coalition meeting tomorrow 9:30-11am via Zoom (link below & in the calendar invitation)

https://us02web.zoom.us/j/83705260892

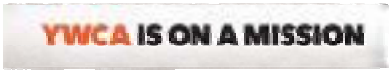

I want to acknowledge the call for this group to create an action plan and/or statement related to the current events and demands for Black lives in our community and nationally. Given all that folks are doing during this pandemic, direct services, and direct action there was not a lot of energy and ability to create another working group.

Also, after doing some reflecting and receiving some guidance, I wanted to remind us that the assessment and evaluation work led by UW CommNS and Ubuntu is helping shape recommendations for our coalition related to the actions we need to take to meet our mission of 'transforming justice systems.. through a racial and social justice lens.. to create a continuum of RJ for youth and adults'. It is important for us to balance our urgency for change while we are engaged in a process that ensures the actions we take are thoughtful and don't replicate or create new harms.

Tomorrow, we will be led in a facilitated activity uncovering "Who we are during change" and continued dialogue as RJ work being intimately tied with dismantling systemic oppression and racism.

Please be in touch with your concerns, needs, suggestions, events/resources to share and anything else. I will send a follow up email after our meeting with a collection of information.

Thanks for all you do and all that you're holding.

Subject: Justice for Althea Bernstein and Taking Action Against Hate Crimes

To Madison and Wisconsin Government Officials,

My name is Sarah Trad. I am a resident of Philadelphia, PA and I am emailing today to demand accountability for the racist and violent hate crimes that occurred at the expense of Althea Bernstein, an 18-year-old biracial woman.

On June 24, 2020, Althea Bernstein, was driving near the state capitol and was stopped at a red light. While stopped she heard someone yell out a racial epithet and when she looked around she saw four white men approaching her car. Before she had time to react, one man sprayed her face and neck with lighter fluid while another threw an ignited lighter at her. She was severely burned and raced home before eventually going to the hospital to be treated.

This is disgusting. This is inhumane. This is unacceptable.

I am asking that your department use its resources to look into and investigate these hate crimes. If your Police department is unwilling or successful, I ask that you pursue and investigation via the FBI. Hate crimes like this are unacceptable. The men who did this to Althea must be held accountable, and if you cannot find them then I am asking that you make it HARDER for men to do this to women in the future. As a biracial woman, I urge you to understand that womxn like myself and Althea already rarely feel safe in public spaces. We are susceptible to both racist and sexually motivated threats.

We MUST change this and it starts with you, our elected officials. We trusted you to make the right decisions, ones that reflect how the people feel. This cannot continue.

I demand that you work to stop hate crimes and dismantle the systems in place that perpetuate them and stand idly by while they continue to happen.

I demand that you do more. Simply saying that what happened is awful is NOT ENOUGH. As our elected officials it is your duty to do everything in your power to tear down racism and rebuild our communities as equitable institutions.

In addition, I demand that we provide more support for community efforts and organizations that work to prevent police brutality and violence of any kind towards BIPOC, women, non-binary individuals, and any member of the LGBTQIA community.

Sincerely,

Sarah Trad

July 8th, 2020

Dane County Board Supervisors:

I am writing with questions regarding the new Public Health Directive issued on July 7th, as well as the previous Dane County directives regarding COVID-19.

From what I've seen regarding this issue, you have primarily or solely based your decisions upon the recommendation of local and national public health officials. Is this correct? Is it not also correct that public health officials have no legal authority to enact any directives to citizens regarding any restriction of their constitutional rights?

Assuming this is the case, is it accurate to say that decision-making here in Dane County about COVID 19 entirely rests upon your shoulders, along with those of the Dane County Executive?

If yes to the above questions, can you then please tell me what kind of data and reasoning you are using, beyond that of public health officials, to enable you to make the best overall decision regarding how to deal with this pandemic?
I'm specifically referring to the issue of the huge negative economic, social and health impacts upon citizens who live in Dane County created due to your emergency orders. These are the impacts unrelated to how to best deal with COVID-19 itself.

Many reasonably informed people question the kind of misleading propaganda which is being peddled by many health officials and the mainstream media regarding the actual nature of COVID-19. Some of us also see a broader agenda which lies behind this propaganda: namely, an endless future of new mandatory vaccines, after periodic public lockdowns, which will provide a continued flow of billions of dollars to Big Pharma.

Whether or not you would personally agree with this position, do you not agree that public health officials are actually completely unqualified to make any analysis regarding the broader economic, social and personal impact upon Dane county residents from any governmental directives? And if this is the case, is it fair to expect that you will have made a most serious consultation with other experts/sources of information who could provide you with this information, analysis and projections before issuing these extraordinary directives?

So has this actually been done? And if it has, could you please direct me to those experts and sources of information you've consulted before issuing these directives?

Thanks to each of you for your response to these questions.

July 8th, 2020

Dear Mr Parisi:

I am writing with questions regarding the new Public Health Directive issued on July 7th, as well as the previous Dane County directives regarding COVID-19.

From what I've seen regarding this issue, you have primarily or solely based your decisions upon the recommendation of local and national public health officials. Is this correct? Is it not also correct that public health officials have no legal authority to enact any directives to citizens regarding any restriction of their constitutional rights?

Assuming this is the case, is it accurate to say that decision-making here in Dane County about COVID 19 entirely rests upon your shoulders, along with the Dane County Board of Supervisors?

If yes to the above questions, can you then please tell me what kind of data and reasoning you are using, beyond that of public health officials, to enable you to make the best overall decision regarding how to deal with this pandemic?
I'm specifically referring to the issue of the huge negative economic, social and health impacts upon citizens who live in Dane County created due to your emergency orders. These are the impacts unrelated to how to best deal with COVID-19 itself.

Many reasonably informed people question the kind of misleading propaganda which is being peddled by many health officials and the mainstream media regarding the actual nature of COVID-19. Some of us also see a broader agenda which lies behind this propaganda: namely, an endless future of new mandatory vaccines, after periodic public lockdowns, which will provide a continued flow of billions of dollars to Big Pharma.

Whether or not you would personally agree with this position, do you not agree that public health officials are actually completely unqualified to make any analysis regarding the broader economic, social and personal impact upon Dane county residents from any governmental directives? So has this actually been done? And if it has, could you please direct me to those experts and sources of information you've consulted before issuing these directives?

Thank you for your response to my questions.

Subject: RE: EO #8 needs an exception for child care settings

Betsy –

Thanks for reaching out with your concerns about your son and his wearing a mask at daycare.

As you note, according to the new order, children over the age of 5 must wear a face covering; however, "individuals with a medical condition, mental health condition, or disability that prevents them from wearing a face covering" are exempt from the requirement.

You ask what constitutes an allowable condition? Unfortunately I cannot answer that, and as with any questions and concerns regarding the orders, I encourage you to contact public health with questions. I do know they are receiving the most inquires to date of any of the orders that have been issued. I also want to bring to your attention their FAQ page which is being updated as they answer more inquiries. That section may be found scrolling down at this webpage: https://publichealthmdc.com/coronavirus/masks

In addition, this question is listed in the FAQ:

I'm not able to wear a mask for medical condition, mental health reason, or disability. Do I need documentation about why I can't wear a mask?

No.

In addition to contacting PHMDC for more information, I suggest working with your child care provider. I do not know how PHMDC suggests parents and daycare centers should work to address these exemptions, it might be best to work together with your provider, so they understand how children's exemptions should be addressed.

I understand your concerns regarding your son. As everyone works toward implementation of the order next week hopefully more questions regarding how it will be executed will be answered.

It may be beneficial for your day care center to contact public health for information on this subject; you may contact PHMDC in the following ways: Calling 211 or by email: coronavirus@publichealthmdc.com.

Please contact our office with any additional concerns or comments.

Stay safe!

First, I will begin by saying that I am all for a baseline requirement (with some exceptions) for adults to wear facemasks indoors when with those who are not part of their household. I am very concerned about the recent rise of COVID numbers in Dane County. However, today's PHMDC Emergency Order #8 requires this for children over age 5, and contains no exception for child care settings.

Children under five are not the only children who need childcare. Especially with school out of session, children over age five but not old enough to be unsupervised still need child care. And many (probably most) children who need childcare need it 8-10 or more hours a day.

It is cruel to expect children to wear a mask for 8-10 hours a day, and possibly ineffective.

Children will be inordinately affected by this order, as so many adults can work at home or in a place where they can close a door to others. Exceptions for eating and drinking only cover a tiny percentage of the day. It will discourage kids from drinking water during these hot summer months. This, despite the fact that any daycare will now probably take the kids outdoors even more than they already were - if they have the option. However, many child care providers are in a location or situation where time outdoors is limited, especially where they may only have a small outdoor space and classrooms are not supposed to mix - I imagine this is particularly the case for child care providers serving low income populations. Which brings us back to the fact that this order means kids will need to wear masks 10 or more hours a day.

My six year old son, in particular, has autism and sensory issues. I cannot imagine expecting him to wear a mask that long. There are exceptions in the order for disabilities, but his autism is generally mild in most circumstances and I have no idea whether he would qualify for this exception. Plus there are so many kids with autism or other sensory issues who are undiagnosed. Even for kids who would qualify for an exception, it would be incredibly difficult for child care providers to expect some kids in the class to wear a mask but not others. Six year olds are young, immature, and have a hard time with this kind of nuance.

Sensory diagnoses aside, any young kid will find it difficult to properly wear a mask - it's hard to find a mask that fits a little kid well, they slip and need adjusting, etc - kids will likely end up touching their faces and noses more messing with their masks all day.

Any exception for child care settings should cover not just centers, but also in-home care, which may be provided in the child's own home by a babysitter who is not part of the household.

If no exception is made for time in child care, this may mean child care is not an option and parents are in a position of not being able to work. Please add an exception for child care ASAP so that child care providers, summer day camps, etc do not waste time and cause panic announcing the new mask requirement.

I am happy to discuss if it would be helpful.

Thank you.

Renowned Doctor Reveals Why Coronavirus Reporting Has Been Full Of Lies – Explains True Cause Of COVID Spike

LifeZette
By LifeZette | July 7, 2020 4:05PM
Dr. Scott Atlas, the former chief of neuroradiology at Stanford University Medical Center, spoke out on Monday to explain why the spike of COVID-19 cases across the south doesn't really actually matter.
Atlas told Fox News that Americans should be hesitant in believing the way the media is portraying the spike in coronavirus cases because it "doesn't really matter how many cases" there are. Instead, what really matters is "who gets the cases."
He added that the mortality rate for coronavirus is just .04% for people under age 70, a statistic that is equal to or lower than the seasonal flu. Atlas said that the number of cases is increasing only because younger people are contracting the virus on a larger scale.
"The overwhelming majority are younger, healthier people," Atlas explained. "It only matters if we cannot protect the high-risk people, which we are protecting...how do I know? Because the death rates are not going up."
"Right now, the cases have been going up for three weeks. We have no increase—in fact, we have a decrease in death rates," he continued. "You know, it doesn't matter if you get the illness if you're going to fully recover and be fine from it. That is what people must understand. For younger, healthier people, there's not a high risk from this disease at all."
He then expressed his frustrations with the way the media has been reporting on this pandemic, as the press has focused on COVID-19 hospitalizations when this data does not differentiate between coronavirus-positive patients who are hospitalized for reasons that have nothing to do with the virus.
"When I looked at every single hospital area in Texas today, 15-20% of people in the hospital as inpatients are COVID-positive patients. That means 80-85% have nothing to do with COVID-19. And the same thing goes with some of these other states. There are people hospitalized, a large number, because they are tested as COVID-positive, somehow they are categorized as COVID hospitalizations," he said.
Atlas concluded by saying it is "ridiculous" to blame the spike in cases on reopening businesses, instead putting the blame on "large protests" at the end of May and through June. "It's not the guy getting his hair cut in the barbershop," he said.

Good Afternoon Dane County Recipients,

If you recall, a few months ago we had a fraudulent external email get through our filters. The subject line claimed that the email was about "mandatory sexual harassment training". A number of us fell for that and entered our credentials in the fraudulent site. To address that we made some changes to filter more spam out of your inboxes, we reset everyone's password, and we sent out a friendly reminder about being extra cautious when handling external emails.

We have since learned that this specific fraudulent email has been circulating throughout the public sector of multiple counties and states ever since. Sometimes it is a copy of the previous; sometimes it has been tweaked slightly. Whatever the contents, we want to take a minute to remind everyone of the simple cyber security tips in the email below. We would appreciate it if you would take a quick minute to review and think about them.

Cyber security is a shared responsibility. We all need to be vigilant to protect ourselves and, by extension, those around us – a common theme these days. Please be extra cautious with external emails and, if there is ever any uncertainty, contact the Help Desk and we will happily investigate. Our contact information is below.

Thank you for taking the time to read this. Please stay safe out there.

Good Morning Dane County Recipients,

Dane County Information Management is expecting an increase in fraudulent emails and phone calls due to the ongoing local- and nation-wide issues. There are always malicious actors looking to take advantage of opportunities and this is no exception. With that in mind, we want to take a quick minute to remind everyone about basic cyber security:

- Unless you know the sender and recognize the email address – do not click on any links or open any attachments.
- Look for the red banner indicating an email came from an external sender.
- Look out for external emails that are vague and ask you to do something
- If you are unfamiliar with a phone caller – take an extra step or two to verify their identity
- Never give anyone your passwords

If you're ever uncertain as to whether an email is legitimate – simply forward it to the Help Desk. We will happily investigate and get back to you quickly. We can also help identify fraudulent websites and phone calls. Please reach out to us when you need a hand.

Thanks for your response, Scott. I was finally able to find an email address for PHMDC (I previously had submitted my message on their online form), so I am asking them to read this full email chain and consider my request.

I appreciate the exemption for people who cannot wear a mask for medical, mental health, or disability reasons. I do not plan to immediately seek this exemption for my son because it is possible he "can handle it," and I do not want to single him out or cause him to be stigmatized due to his otherwise generally invisible disability. If my son cannot handle wearing a mask, I will seek the exemption and hope for the best.

My concern is for kids in general. My concern is that any kid, special needs or not, is expected to wear a mask 8+ hours a day. Wearing a mask for that many hours a day will not be easy for any kid. This, while other sources of transmission are more prevalent and not prevented by this Order. The Order's exception for eating and drinking will mean adults can continue to go to restaurants and gatherings and be unencumbered by a mask as long as they have a drink in their hand, while kids are stuck making significant sacrifices.

The communications regarding the Order indicate that if someone does not want to wear a mask, they can simply choose not to go somewhere that would require a mask. Kids do not have that choice. This is being forced upon them because their parents have to work. And if they refuse yet have no official diagnosis, their family is left with no child care.

Between this, multiple disrupted school years, and many other impacts of the pandemic on kids, kids are bearing the brunt of so many adults' bad decisions in this pandemic. Therefore, my request is for PHMDC to make an exception to the mask order for kids receiving child care.

Thank you.

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Good afternoon Joseph and Janel,

I work for Monterey Mills, a textile manufacturing facility located in Janesville, WI. I am reaching out to see if Dane County as a whole or a particular department is interested in procuring reusable protective face masks for its employees, families, or community members during this difficult time?

With a county mandate on mask wearing being put in place over the next week, we would be willing to give your team specially discounted $4 per unit pricing (depending on volume) on our washable masks. Our reusable masks are far more economic and environmentally friendly than one-time use disposable masks.

A little bit of background on our company and our mask endeavor is below:

Monterey Mills, is the largest knitting operation of its kind in North America. In the face of the Covid-19 crisis, we shifted our manufacturing capacity and created a unique safe washable/reusable barrier mask alternative to N95 masks. The masks have been tested, approved, ordered and re-ordered by the largest hospital systems in Chicago/Milwaukee (AdvocateAurora), Madison's (UW Health Systems) as well as hundreds of hospitals, first responders, senior care facilities and businesses across the USA. We have sold to large companies such as Ariens, Alliant Energy, and Seneca Foods, as well as small businesses hoping to protect their employees. For the first few months we concentrated on supplying first responders and making donations to the community. Donations were made to the Milwaukee County Health Department, the Milwaukee County Sherriff's Office, The Boys and Girls Clubs of Greater Milwaukee, the Children's Outing Association, Sixteenth Street Health Center, etc.

Our 3-Ply barrier masks are currently made in North America with cut and sew operations in the USA and Mexico. They utilize Monterey's unique air filtration fabric, a non-woven water repellant material and a comfortable jersey barrier. The masks have been tested through an infectious disease regimen, subjected to wash at 170 degrees, and passed with high reviews. They have been submitted to the FDA for analysis and review, we believe they will receive a Tier 2 or Tier 3 rating.

I have attached spec sheets and would be happy to send over specially discounted pricing for a more in depth look at our masks. We offer three varieties; ties, elastic straps, and ear loops. We are currently developing a children's mask and expect to have inventory available in the coming weeks.

Because our 3 ply masks are washable and re-usable, they are an ideal choice for multi-use environments. They can be cleaned in industrial or home washing machines and reused multiple times. We expect each mask to have a six month life span, but our internal tests have shown our masks to last much longer than that. These are far more economical that one-time use disposable masks.

Please see examples of positive media our company has received over the past few months concerning distribution of protective barrier masks to the community.

Dane County Unveils New Technology to Keep Beaches Safe and Healthy

Today, County Executive Joe Parisi joined Dane County Land and Water Resource Department staff at Mendota County Park to unveil new technology that is being tested to vacuum out hazardous blue-green algae blooms near local beaches to keep them safe and healthy. This cleaning system is being used to remove algae and decaying plants that emerge along the shoreline at Mendota County Park, which can increase in frequency during hot weather patterns like Dane County is currently experiencing. With the new system in place, water quality around the beach will be improved for safe swimming through this summer and beyond.

"As the summer heats up and the COVID-19 pandemic continues, Dane County residents are turning to our lakes to cool down and reconnect with the outdoors," said Dane County Executive Joe Parisi. "This new technology will allow families to have a safe and fun time at the beach, without having to worry about water quality. Projects like this are an extension of our equity work – providing safe, free fun across our community and encouraging kids to get outside."

The county's vacuum technology will remove algal scum, filamentous algae, floating aquatic plants, and trash from the water. The system consists of a vacuum intake nozzle attached to piping that uses a venturi pump design to create a suction force at the nozzle intake. The suction created at the intake pulls water and algae scum at the surface, which discharge into filter bags where clean water flows back into the lake and the algae and decaying plants will remain trapped inside.

Excessive blooms of algae commonly occur during the summer months in the Yahara Lakes. Such blooms can be a health concern to humans and pets. Some species of blue-green algae float on the water's surface when winds are relatively calm. These moderate winds then push the buoyant algae to downwind shorelines where it can pile up as thick mats or scums along with other floating debris such as aquatic plants, detached filamentous algae, dead fish, and trash.

Public beaches on the Yahara lakes are particularly susceptible to trapping material because of the shoreline geometry with cutouts into riprap banks. The floating algae debris can break up or move elsewhere when wind conditions change. Otherwise, the trapped debris remains until it decomposes. While local municipality staff remove cut weeds and debris from beaches, blue-green algal scums, due to their watery nature, can only be removed with specialized pumping equipment. County Executive Parisi included $20,000 for this algae vacuum initiative in his 2018 budget.

In addition to cleaning algae on area lakes, Dane County has expanded its "blue waters barge" program to include Lake Waubesa. Previously, the program included lakes Mendota, Monona, and Kegonsa. The "blue waters barge" program began in 2008, when Dane County partnered with the City of Madison to clean up lakes Mendota and Monona by removing aquatic plants and debris on piers, stormwater outlets, and beaches. The partnership enables Dane County to provide a means for disposal and the City of Madison, Town of Westport, City of Monona, and Friends of Lake Kegonsa to cover barge crew costs. New this year, a similar cost sharing partnership is now in place with the Lake Waubesa Conservation Association for Lake Waubesa and Town of Westport for Lake Mendota.

Hi Carrie and Charles,

I've pulled together a few updates for the executive's office. I've included information on hospital capacity, but if you feel this should be left out I can certainly make that adjustment. In short, call volume continues to go up. Respiratory and infectious incidents aren't skyrocketing, but that could be because the younger populations experiencing the surge in positive cases don't utilize the 911 system for care or patients are asymptomatic and don't require emergency care.

Thanks!

Ariana, I mean only to be helpful. This is, what, the third or even fifth press release on the same subject?

From your standpoint, this is counter-productive. Joe is teaching the press to ignore his releases. It's overkill. Redundant. We got it the first three times.

I don't mean to be presumptuous. I would be very happy to talk with you in person or by phone, off the record, about what really is useful to working journalists. Again, I just want to help. You have both been very kind to ISTHMUS and me in the past.

To: All Employees
From: Greg Brockmeyer

On July 7, 2020, Public Health Madison & Dane County issued Emergency Order #8 requiring a face covering for individuals five years of age and older when in public. The order is posted online at the following link: https://publichealthmdc.com/documents/2020-07-07_Order_8.pdf. The order goes into effect on July 13, 2020.

Face coverings have been shown to reduce the spread of infection to other individuals and face coverings can protect individuals from the droplets that may contain the virus. From June 27 to July 3, 780 individuals tested positive for COVID-19 – the highest of any seven day period in Dane County. Given the substantial increase in the number of cases of COVID-19 in Dane County, the precaution of wearing a face covering has become mandatory. As a result, the Department of Administration has updated our APM policy on Cloth Face Coverings or Masks. The updated policy is attached to this email and will be posted to the website.

Effective Monday July 13, 2020 all county employees are required to wear a mask or cloth face covering. There are limited exceptions to this policy, which are articulated in the policy. Additionally, all visitors to County Buildings are now required to wear a face covering. Disposable masks for visitors will be available for those who do not have their own mask or cloth face covering. There are some exemptions from this requirement that are addressed in the policy.
If someone enters a county building without a mask, remind them about the policy and offer them one of the disposable masks. If they say they are unable to wear a mask, we must offer a reasonable accommodation, such as offering the service over the internet or by phone. If your Department is having difficultly developing an accommodation for an individual with a condition that prevents them from wearing a face covering, please contact the ADA Coordinator in the Office for Equity and Inclusion. The Department of Administration will be working with all Departments to ensure that there is proper signage about the masking requirement. If visitors are unruly about the masking requirement, please contact your direct supervisor.

Thank you all for your efforts during this challenging time. Please stay home if you are sick. If you are experiencing symptoms, please call your doctor. Stay healthy by washing your hands with soap and water; avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth; cover your cough with your elbow if a Kleenex is not available and lastly, wear a mask when required to do so.

Best,

Greg

Hello,

My name is Brittney Ermon with NBC15.

I was at the Alliant Energy Center COVID testing site yesterday and they explained they are officially launching a pre-registration phone sign-up today.

Officials at the testing site said allowing people to sign-up on their cell phone to pre-register is speeding up testing by 100 additional tests per hour.

Would someone be willing to do an interview about this new addition?

Please feel free to call me at 608-228-1082. I reached out to Public Health Madison and Dane County, but have not heard back yet.

ASSEMBLY GOP PROPOSE UI LOAN PROGRAM

Assembly Republicans raised concerns about the number of individuals waiting to have their UI benefits approved. They have proposed a loan program they say the Governor should implement to help individuals in need to address their immediate needs while their UI claims are being addressed.

According to an LFB memo released by Rep. Nygren, DWD says as of June 27 approximately 511,500 weeks of claimed UI benefits were being held for adjudication, 13.8% of all weeks claimed since March 15. Assembly Republicans proposed a temporary program to be financed through Wisconsin's allocation of federal funding from the Coronavirus Relief Fund. The LFB memo says, "To help aid individuals that have claims waiting adjudication, your office has described a temporary program to be financed from Wisconsin's allocation of federal funding from the Coronavirus Relief Fund. The program would be designed to accept personal loan applications from those UI claimants that currently have pending claims awaiting adjudication or that do not qualify for regular or expanded federal UI benefits." While the idea was made public today, no bill or official proposal was provided. According to an LRB memo:

> State law provides the governor the authority to accept federal funds and to designate a state board, commission, or department to administer the funds, subject to federal law. The governor could therefore likely act to establish such a program. However, I would reiterate that the CARES Act designates the Treasury Department as the ultimate authority over what are eligible expenditures of fund moneys; whether program would qualify as a valid use of fund moneys may depend on the details of how the program were structured.

The LFB memo goes on to say:

> It is estimated that, for every $40 million in loan funding made available to the program, 10,787 individuals could receive a loan of $3,708, which is equal to four weekly benefit payments of $927. The $927 figure includes $327, which was the average weekly regular UI payment for Wisconsin recipients in March, 2020, and $600, which is the Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation supplemental weekly payment available to UI recipients through the week ending July 25, 2020. Similarly, for every $40 million in loan funding made available to the program, it is estimated that 30,581 individuals could receive a loan of $1,308, which is equal to four weekly Page 2 benefit payments of $327.

The LFB memo also highlights that Wisconsin has received $2.0 billion in CRF funding as of July 1, 2020. Of that funding, $1.72 billion was allocated to fund the initiatives announced by Governor Evers, with $280 million remaining. Any CRF funds issued to the state which are not used by December 30, 2020, must be returned to the Treasury.

The LRB memo does address specific caveats:

- State and federal law limits what deductions may be made from UI benefit payments. In a program letter addressing this issue, the United States Department of Labor, which oversees the approval of state UI programs through its Employment and Training Administration (ETA), wrote: Since the inception of the unemployment insurance program, DOL and its predecessor agencies have interpreted [federal law] as requiring that all unemployment compensation must be paid directly, as a matter of right, to the individual whose unemployment is being compensated, except for some narrowly limited statutory exceptions. Therefore, unemployment compensation may not be levied, attached, or otherwise encumbered to satisfy any public or private debt. It is difficult to say, without knowing the full details of the proposed program, but I believe, based on the provisions of state and federal law just described, that loan or grant payments made under the program would not be considered deductible from UI or PUA payments.
- The Treasury Department guidance expressly indicates that fund moneys may be used by recipients to provide loans. However, the guidance specifies that loan amounts repaid by the borrower before December 30, 2020, must be either returned to the federal government or used for another eligible expenditure; and it further specifies that any loan amount repaid by the borrower after December 30, 2020, must be returned to the federal government.
- Although fund moneys may be used to provide emergency financial assistance to individuals and families, it is not clear that a person's having a pending UI or PUA claim could be used as the sole criteria for providing such assistance. Unlike other state and federal programs that provide support to individuals, UI is not means tested, and any qualifying worker is entitled to benefits regardless of the worker's need while eligible. I would also note that not all claimants may be claiming benefits for reasons related to the COVID-19 emergency. A person's having a pending claim, on its own, may be viewed as a criteria insufficiently related to the emergency to warrant using fund moneys to provide the person a loan or grant as you describe. On the other hand, the Treasury Department could conclude that the overall backlog of claims is a consequence of the emergency and that a loan or grant program for persons awaiting UI or PUA claim adjudications is therefore an appropriate use of funds

The LRB memo concludes by saying a loan or grant program may be permissible but it would depend on the details of the program and whether the Treasury Department would approve them.

This morning, DWD announced the following steps to address issues for UI claims:

- They have tripled the Unemployment staff (going from roughly 500 in March to 1,700 as of July 7) using internal transfers, intergovernmental transfers, new hires, and contract vendors.
- Expanded its help center hours to 6:15 am to 5:30 pm Monday through Friday, and 7 am to 1:30 pm on Saturdays.
- Increased the rate at which it answers calls, answering almost 70% of the unique phone numbers received each day.
- Increased the number of claims processed. DWD says 86.67% of the 4 million claims have been resolved (paid or denied). The remaining 13% are awaiting verification, adjudication, or investigations.

DWD says the common eligibility issues which require investigation are:

- Separation Issues: Issues which include quits and discharges.
- Issues that impact qualifying amount or weekly benefit amount: Wage information from the past 18 months is needed to determine a claimant's weekly benefit rate and maximum benefit amount.
- Wage holds: Investigations when there is an allegation of misreported work and wages.

Ariana, I request a phone interview at your convenience. Please be prepared to tell me how many press releases on this single subject, including the note below, have been sent by the Dane County Executive's Office.

I think have retained most of the various drafts. To be sure, please forward all of them to me, so that I may compare each and gauge their periodicity. I count at least four, and probably six releases on this single matter.

I asked earlier to discuss this off the record. I wanted to help. You did not respond. With Mr. Adrian's note, below, this has become a matter I must look into as a reporter.

Please book me for an interview at your and Joe's convenience. Besides this one matter, I have questions about Joe's press relations in general.

Hey Joe,
I have meant to thank you so many times but today I happen to be laying on the couch with my phone as a story about algae and the lakes came on the news...
I am so grateful that every time I see you or hear of your initiatives you are doing something I approve of. You work for the environment. You expand the park system. You create bike trails. You are not mean spirited or the topic of scandals. It isn't often that someone in government evokes a feel good response but dad gum it, you sure do! Every time I ride my bike on county trails or walk at Pheasant Branch my thoughts go to how fortunate we are to have you as county executive.
Thank you from the bottom of my heart for being someone I can admire. Keep up the good work.
Your fan,
Marsha Alderman

Good afternoon,
We're going to launch #MaskupMadison tomorrow. Wondering if you might be willing to ask the Urban League if they'd be interested in signing on as supporter.

Here's an email we've crafted...

We'd like to invite you to be a part of a social media campaign we are launching tomorrow afternoon alongside health care and community partners. The campaign is called #MaskUpMadison and the goal is to promote mask wearing as part of our daily lives and to invite people to share why they think mask wearing is important. We are hoping people will post pictures of themselves or people from their organization in masks, and share their thoughts about wearing masks with the hashtag #MaskUpMadison on Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram. If people want ideas of what to write or would like a social media graphics to post, they can check out our Google Drive: http://bit.ly/Mask-Up-Madison

We are issuing a news release on this tomorrow. We'd want to list each organization in tomorrow's press release and would also list them on our website as partners. If people aren't sure right now and end up wanting to join later they could just reach out to us and we can list them on our website later.

Other partners include: UW Health, UW Madison, SSM, Meriter, Metcalfe's, the Foundation for Black Women's Wellness. We are waiting to hear back from a number of others.

We'd want to hear by tomorrow at noon if people want to be included in the press release. I know that's short turnaround and I apologize for the last minute ask! I am including Rebecca LeBeau on this email as she is leading this effort.

Subject: MMSD Referenda

Hello Joe,

I sincerely hope this email finds you safe and well. I'm reaching out to you to give you an update on our current thinking about the November 2020 Future Ready referenda.

COVID-19 has shone a bright light on the disparities in our community and our education system. Illness, evictions, and job instability have hit people hard, particularly our most vulnerable families and citizens. In addition, the tragic deaths of Rayshard Brooks, George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, Ahmaud Arbery and countless others, alongside the pain, anger and frustration we've seen expressed throughout Madison, have prompted deep reflection among members of the Board of Education.

MMSD is committed to our Black Excellence work and addressing disparities in opportunity that can lead to different results for different children. For instance, we invested in wireless hotspots this spring, so every student can access virtual learning. Most summer school will be virtual this year, but our nurses and social workers will support students and families in the community. Still, there is so much more work to do. With the support of our community, we will come out of this stronger together.

While the needs of our students are growing exponentially during this time, we are disheartened by the news that the state may be planning drastic budget cuts to K-12 public education. We are being told to plan for unprecedented budget reductions—estimated to be in the range of $3M to $9M for the 2020-21 school year on top of the $8M in reductions already reflected in our budget. Revenues for 21-22 and 22-23 are also unclear, and we are projecting $30M to $40M budget reductions over the next four years. We face difficult decisions ahead.

With all of this in mind, we are prepared to move forward with the November 2020 referenda. While the economy and the world around us have changed since our fall community input sessions, the individual needs of our students—and our community's need for strong public schools—are now more important than ever. Our budgetary forecast, paired with low-interest rates and a potentially competitive construction bidding environment that provides local jobs, have prompted us to proceed with both the operating and facilities referenda. We need to ensure we are here for students in the coming school year and that we have the infrastructure and operational capacity to serve them for years to come.

- Operating budget request to increase the MMSD revenue limit
    - Permanently increasing the school board's taxing authority in each of the next four years. For 20-21, the board would request authority to add $6 million of tax revenue, $8 million in 21-22, $9 million in 22-23 and $10 million in 23-24, adding up to $33 million, a $3 million decrease from the model presented to the community in the fall. For an average homeowner, if the board were to use the full taxing authority this would be an ask of approximately $82/year, incrementally increasing over 4 years. The board could choose not to use this full taxing authority.
- Facilities request of $317M to support the district's long-range facility plan, including:
    - Renovating all four comprehensive high schools, including environmental sustainability projects

- Remodeling Hoyt School to move Capital High to a student-centered, permanent central location
- Building a new elementary school in the Rimrock area on the city's south side
- We have restructured debt payments and revised estimates to account for currently low interest rates, reducing the cost from $200 to $140 per year for the average homeowner.

We are interested in hearing from you about our plans for the November 2020 Future Ready referenda, and anything you wish to share about how we're doing as a district. Please share your thoughts by writing the full board at board@madison.k12.wi.us. We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Gloria Reyes

Hello Joe Parisi,

I wasn't even aware of your position to be honest. I am learning so much more about the levels of bureaucracy through this pandemic and it has been very informative. So I hope this is going to the proper person and I appreciate you taking the time to read this message and look forward to your response.

Recently the Public Health Madison & Dane county (another public facility I was unaware of) has published "Emergency Order #8" effectively requiring all individuals to wear a face covering nearly at all times.

I worry this is infringing on my rights and would like to know how I can fight this? Or at the very least express my disapproval of this mandate?

Thanks,
Nicholas LePar

Dear Friends,

I hope you have all been safe and well. Following is another update from Scott Strong, Executive Director at RISE on how RISE has continued to serve children and families as COVID continues to impact the community.

Since our last email to you, RISE has continued to respond to the needs of children, families and the community. The early childhood development and mental health needs of children and families remain our top priority and we have responded accordingly to address these needs and to reduce the risk of further isolation that they may experience during this unprecedented time.

The Therapeutic Services Team continues to enroll new families and meet via telehealth addressing the mental health and crisis stabilization needs of their child. These children and adolescents are at risk of in-patient psychiatric care so by responding promptly we are able to provide the mental health services they need while supporting their continued placement at home. Likewise, the CCF mental health Care Coordination Team has enrolled 15 children/youth into the program, all of whom were at risk of placement outside of the home and community. By continuing our enrollment, CCF is able to support some of the more vulnerable children to be safe and close to home resulting in better outcomes and considerable costs savings.

Although scaled back to meet the most emergent needs, the Respite Center has been providing emergency childcare and respite to families who are experiencing safety concerns and emergencies. This safety net has provided immeasurable relief during this time of high stress and anxiety for many families. Additionally, Respite staff have continued phone outreach to families and partnered with the Madison Reading Project which donated 250 books to add to care packages that were distributed to Respite Center families.

Our early childhood Home Visiting programs also continue to enroll new families, are providing remote connections, have facilitated a remote parent group for 8 families with 25 participants, and have distributed well over 60 care packages. Parent/child connections are so important during the early developmental years between the ages of 0-5. Supporting these connections cannot take a break during COVID as every day, week and month matters greatly.

On June 22 RISE began providing in-person, in-community meetings for participants who have been experiencing barriers to remote visits and we are preparing for a small number of staff to return to the office by the middle of July. We are thoughtfully moving to a re-opening plan that follows data and guidance from public health and utilizing PPEs and safe distancing measures. Many of our services have the flexibility to continue remote work and telehealth as long as necessary which will allow essential staff to return to the office for operational support.

Of particular importance, RISE is standing in support of Black Lives Matter and ensuring that we are responsive to the institutional racist practices that families and staff of color have been subjected to for way too long. RISE is committed to supporting the holistic needs of families and will do our part to dismantle systemic racism.

Finally, you may remember receiving an invitation from Deirdre regarding an exciting event she had planned at Quivey's Grove in April surrounding RISE's exciting new renovation project. Unfortunately, the event needed to be postponed due to COVID and the Safer at Home order. After careful consideration and planning, the event has been rescheduled for Thursday, August 20th. Watch for a separate email outlining details of this innovative and fun event. We hope that you can join us as we tell you about our exciting new project and all the benefits this renovation project will bring to RISE participants and the community.

We hope that you are well and taking good care of yourselves.

Together we will RISE!

Deirdre and Scott

Dear Respectable Elected Officials,

I'm reaching out to ask that you please support County Supervisor Doyle's resolution against expansion of the Dane County Jail.

This is NOT THE TIME to be investing money in a jail expansion! Jail expansions will not decrease crime. The only way to decrease crime is through investments into our communities. The COVID pandemic has shown that we do not need to hold so many people in that jail! We need to pivot to what is most important to our communities and ask "what kind of community do I want to live in, do I want to create?

I want to create a community that doesn't have people in jail because of poverty and lack of opportunity.

I want to create a community where justice is served by providing for peoples' needs.

I want to create a community where ALL people can call 911 for help without fear.

I want to create a community that is not scared to take certain risks for the end goal of bettering our society and that will serve as a beacon for the rest of the country.

I want to create a community where all people can be involved in its decisions.

Thank you for caring about your community and for doing the work that you do everyday.

I do not comply with the mask mandate (not a law). And now it is discrimination against those with health issues who cannot wear a mask. You cannot govern or force what someone is to put on their body. It is also overstepping your authority. As far as children wearing masks, you are not their legal guardian and do not have a say in what they are forced to do. Thank you.

Dane County Awards Over $138,000 in Grants to Local Arts Organizations

Dane Arts Awards Over 70 Grants Supporting Arts and Cultural Activities Countywide with Public-Private Funds

Dozens of local organizations that promote community arts, history, and culture are receiving “Dane Arts” grants, County Executive Joe Parisi and the Dane County Arts and Cultural Affairs Commission announced today. Sixty-eight project/short order grants and four capital requests totaling $138,273.05 were recently awarded in Cycle 1 for “Dane Arts” project grants for 2020. Organizations requested over $350,000 in support.

“Dane County is fortunate to be home to so many creative artists,” County Executive Joe Parisi said. “We are proud to support our arts and culture communities. Congratulations to this year’s recipients.”

The “Dane Arts” grants are funded by Dane County in conjunction with private donations from the Endres Manufacturing Company Foundation, the Evjue Foundation, Inc., charitable arm of The Capital Times, the W. Jerome Frautschi Foundation, and the Pleasant T. Rowland Foundation.

This year, Dane County’s Dane Arts will award over $250,000 in public-private funds to nonprofit organizations, schools, individuals, and municipalities for arts, cultural, and local history projects and programs offered countywide. The next project grant deadline is August 1, 2020, 4:00pm.

Grant recipients are listed in the attached document. Dane Arts is working with each organization, as COVID-19 has impacted all of their projects.

Dear NACo member –

Reaching out today to notify you that the U.S. Treasury Office of Inspector General (OIG) recently released a memorandum outlining reporting and record retention requirements for Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) recipients.

According to the memorandum, each direct CRF recipient is required to report COVID-19 related costs during the covered period as outlined in the CARES Act – March 1, 20200 to December 30, 2020. The memorandum also states that CRF recipients will be required provide interim and quarterly reports on how their CRF dollars have been/will be spent.

The first interim report is due on Friday, July 17. As part of this first report, CRF recipients are responsible for report costs incurred during the period March 1 through June 30, 2020.

Attached to this email, please find both the U.S. Treasury memorandum as well as a spreadsheet that CRF recipients must use to report data. Interim reporting information should be submitted to CARES@oig.treas.gov.

Once your county submits its interim CRF report to the U.S. Treasury, if your county is able and willing to, please send the report to NACo Associate Legislative Director Eryn Hurley at ehurley@naco.org. NACo is collecting these reports in an effort to assist counties throughout this new process.

Finally, also attached (third attachment) is the updated Treasury guidance for the CRF that was released on Tuesday, June 30. Please note the new language is highlighted in yellow.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out.

Very best,

Eryn

Dane County Partners with Urban League Effort to Create South Side Economic Development Hub, Encourage Black Business Start-Ups

Today, Dane County Executive Joe Parisi joined Ruben L. Anthony Jr., President and CEO of the Urban League of Greater Madison, to announce that $100,000 in county funds will go to the Urban League for planning assistance to create an economic development hub for the South Park Street corridor and support minority-owned businesses. The project will be modeled after the Sherman Phoenix project in Milwaukee, an entrepreneurial hub in the Sherman Park neighborhood providing high-quality commercial space and support for small businesses.

“We are excited to partner with the Urban League of Greater Madison in this effort to locate a space where the talent and potential of entrepreneurs can flourish,” said Dane County Executive Joe Parisi. “Having the Urban League develop a space like this will give entrepreneurs of color in Dane County a place to grow, find community, and use as a vehicle to carry out their goals.”

The Sherman Phoenix project serves as an entrepreneurial incubator for small businesses and helps develop businesses created by people of color. Funded by a mix of public and private dollars, Sherman Phoenix has become a community hub—housing a mix of retail, health and wellness, beauty, and art-based small businesses. It also has a food hall showcasing numerous different vendors who share kitchen space. Entrepreneurs who are part of Sherman Phoenix receive mentorship and coaching as they grow their business. The model is one that Dane County and the Urban League hope to duplicate for the south side of Madison.

“Black businesses need a nurturing space that allows for start-up, maintenance and expansion,” said Ruben L. Anthony Jr., President and CEO of the Urban League of Greater Madison. “These funds will help the community begin to formally engage community stakeholders and develop a plan for how this innovative economic development opportunity might be advanced. Thanks to County Executive Parisi for this partnership.”

Under the contract with Dane County, the Urban League will create a one-year project position. This individual will provide stakeholder engagement around various planning processes related to the facility, conduct a site search, and develop the facility’s operational structure, financial modeling, and business plan. Outreach to and selection of prospective tenants for the facility will also be conducted.

Much like Sherman Phoenix, goals of the future economic development hub will be to support entrepreneurship, whether it be through mentorship or coaching, and support entrepreneurs of color to help them grow their businesses, generate jobs, and support the local economy. Through this effort, Dane County and the Urban League want to build community wealth by engaging neighborhood partners, supporting small businesses, and demonstrating that socially just and culturally rich projects can be successful in disinvested communities.

The Urban League of Greater Madison’s $100,000 contract will begin on August 17, 2020. A resolution to approve the contract will be introduced at tonight’s Dane County Board meeting.

Attachments: School Fall Requirements Final Draft 2020-07-09.docx

For our 2pm call.
We've developed has come up with this package of requirements to provide to schools in the short term to support decision making about what type of school model they would be starting with. DPI/DHS has indicated that there are 3 models to choose from A) all in person B) hybrid C) virtual

The goal would be to release this information next week. But not make any recommendations about what model schools should select other than some caveats that they should:

- Be prepared for virtual learning for any children who are unable to attend and/or all students at any point in time
- Be prepared for State or Local Public Health to put forth additional requirements/orders that would clarify how school should happen at any point in the next 8 weeks or during the school year based on local data.

These requirements would not be provided as an "order" at this time.

Hey Janel,

Attached is the updated school requirements draft for your meeting.

For reference, the two changes from this morning include:

- "Ensuring students are at least six (6) feet from other students to the greatest extent possible."
    - Previously said 'when feasible'

- Added, “For students who cannot wear a face covering they are required to maintain at least six (6) feet distancing at all times from other students.”
    - Requirements also say, “Exceptions to face coverings are listed in section 1. e. ii & iii.”

Talking points include:

- We would like to release these preliminary requirements on our website Monday morning 7/13.
    - We’ll continue to reiterate that plans are subject to change and schools should be prepared to implement a 100% virtual model.
- By Monday (7/13) in the evening, 6 more public schools will be voting on their expected fall school plan. This means after Monday, half (8/16) of public schools in Dane County will have voted on their expected plans.
- We will wait to issue (but continue developing) school requirements/orders/guidance regarding common spaces and action protocols (shut downs, etc.) given the complexity and likelihood that more guidance will be available soon.
- In reference to schools, DPI/DHS and CDC say 6ft when possible/feasible and masks when possible.
    - We have not seen any guidance say 6ft at all times and masks required at all times.
    - CDC plans to release updated school guidance next week, which will be less strict than their current guidance.

Please let me know if any questions come up.

Thank you!

Good afternoon,

I am wondering why your mask order is so overreaching and lacks common sense. Even the strictest of mask orders (Denver) only requires businesses to require face masks when they are around others, in a public space or dealing with food products. There is absolutely no reason why individuals should be required to wear a mask when they are sitting in space that is socially distant from others or in their own office with a closed door.

A virus, even if very contagious, with a death rate that is clearly becoming lower and lower as the number of cases rise does not warrant this kind of tyranny.

It is outrageous to ask children to wear masks for extended periods of time. This is not good for their physical or emotional health. Some children have parents who have to go to a physical workplace and are forced to be in a daycare setting. Most adults I know have confided that they have trouble wearing a mask for more than a couple of hours at a time. Do you have school aged children? Do you have any idea of what you're asking them to do? Health experts agree that they have less ability to transmit and are very low risk.

I understand that there are people who have petitioned you to order others to wear masks. My guess is these people were more concerned with mask use in public places. Mask mandates in public settings is a little more in line with our situation here in Dane County. Our hospitals are not at capacity. Not even close and have not come anywhere near close since the beginning of the pandemic.

Please reconsider the severity of your order. People were not meant to wear masks on their faces. We breathe, smile, eat, drink and talk. Our bodies were not designed for our nose and mouth to be covered.

Thank you,
Heather LeBeau

Hi Joe,

First, i'm emailing to request to talk to you asap regarding several concerns related to recent incidents involving my neighbor joeseph polacek including but not limited to.

#1 mowing state hwy 14 row after dark twice on Friday nights. Twice on Saturday and Sunday evenings in low light during weekend end of day high traffic time. All reported to Dane cty sheriff dispatch. It's been every weekend for last four weeks. Polacek has mowed wo lights, rops, flashers, smv sign and no dot permit. I've called dispatch and reported it while occurring four times. Polacek didn't mow this row area nearest my property and livestock pens in past but recently started to do to taunt me. I graze my horses in these pens and llama etc. Polacek received an arbitration request from attorney Nick loniello in may regarding my joining driveway agreement he's violated. Since then he's done various illegal acts to aggravate me and is causing me chest pains and stress. I've got photos, video and local farmer witnesses and my partner. I had visit by west district sheriff lietemant last week and deputy Brook gagner. Having been a law enforcement officer in Dane county for years, I know the uniform traffic code. I reported this unsafe, unpermitted and hazardous action to sheriff office in hopes they'd stop the activity. They do not seem to want to enforce the laws for traffic safety? Apparently the dot supv john marchewka Said he would not enforce this law and he did not authorize polacek a permit to do so. They will be held accountable and Dane county if anything happens and negligent for not acting on laws.

My concerns are....I just lost a $5000 quarter horse age 13 to broken leg and pelvis from running in fear in dark, a prey animal. I have a $5000 thoroughbred and other horses and llama that graze in these paddocks by the hwy. I built an paid for these rotational pastures set up for organic grazing. I built my farm in 2004, polacek arrived in 2008. Joint driveway I built and on file with dane county as built. I'm in process of certifying my farm organic. I'm in process of working with 3 VA veterans female minorities on csa beginner farming program. I'm USDA disabled female farmer. These pens are used for expensive livestock and will be in future by veteran farmers. Polacek mowing in dark or by my pens will harass my animals and could cause injury or loss!
Polacek mowing in hwy row wo permit could hurt himself by roll over and die. Could cause motorist accident and death. Could cause bodily harm. Could cause equipment damage and state claims etc.
It's illegal to operate farm machinery on or in row state hwy day or night wo lights, flashers, smv sign and permit! I've reported four times and will continue to do so until polacek is stopped or complies with law!
I don't welcome this mowing. He doesn't mow his steep bank in front of his own house! It's harassing me, my livestock and may harm my future farmers activities!

Second, polacek was noted last fall that my non shared portion of driveway was damaged by 2018 flood. I had Burse survey stake my 24 ft driveway from hwy 14 to my house. I had attorney virginia Bartelt send polacek a letter advising I'm staking it and why.....it was not to code for fire and Ems 24 ft with 14 ft center gravel material. I had planned to fix driveway may 6. Polacek was advised in fall 2019 an April 2020 by my lawyer. He pulled survey stakes out end of april. I was paying for everything even though I legally could've required he pay half! In 15 years I've paid for all road mtc abd plowing never billing him! Definition of good neighbor!

As you know I had to retire from my city of Middleton job due to health.. heart defect and critical nerve danage left leg and back. I'm legally disabled as of Sept 2018. We had the 1000 year flood wrecked my farm, fences, sheds and home to the tune of $100,000 repairs in 2018&2019! The driveway was the last thing to repair. If I die my partner and family will have to sell my farm it's in a trust.
But I've chosen to remain on my farm I built in 2004! I'm a fourth generation wi farmer and manage century farm lands in adams wi. My grandfather Leo Klein was county board chair and town board chair in adams forever. He helped build a hospital and courthouse. He donated land for castle Rock county park our family homestead. And my land was recognized on hwy h as century farm 1868-1968. I'm the last of a long line of democrats, farmers, serving in civil war to Korean war my dad. I have family photo of my grandparents with governor Knowles awarding me and sisters with grandparents century farm plaque at wi state fair. I continue to manage that land as well as here and am transitioning it to organic certified lands too. I've been working with USDA agribility program since last year and recently farm develiopment center and VA to help beginner farmers on my two farm lands, with female, minority, lgbtq emphasis. I've done everything Dane county required to build my farm and home here....hired Burse survey and the engineering to handle all permits, surveys and zoning documents according to town and county laws from get go.....wo issue.
Kim drake my partner of 16 years has provided equine programs for children come first with mcpasd over the years. Special needs children have benefitted from her skills here. She's a lifelong certified birth to 3 childcare provider. An the kindest gentlest soul you'd ever meet!

Well why is it my town chair Greg hyer has been absent and or derelict in his duties in dealing with this alt right red state neo fascist racist neighbor polacek? Sheriff Mahoney advised I get a restraining order 4 weeks ago. My attorney Nick loniello suggested we first try to arbitrate this joint driveway issue with polacek as it's quicker and less expense legally and more likely to gain compliance by polacek!
I'm
Hyer learned of my health condition day after flood. He learned of my family directives and trust instructions from me. I'm sick and on nitro. I could have heart attack anytime and have had pallative care folks advise me and my family on my state of health! Mistakenly I informed hyer of this. I then believe he informed his friend polacek off the record. They seem to have had numerous discussions on joint driveway in 2018& 2019 post flood. Hyer went so far as to suggest my best way to deal with polacek on driveway may be to Petit dot for separate driveway in front of my property on to hwy 14. My attorney virginia Bartelt was the festge family lawyer when Dane county got more land next to my place and sold me my place. Dot barely allowed me to do joint driveway agreement and I built it for $12000! Jerrmy balousek and i worked closely with Burse engineers to build it right to last. I had no issue for four years with festge family on this deed restricted drive agreement.

polacek arrived in 2008. By year end I had to install 30 ft gate on drive at property line to stop tresspassing and property damage by his kids on atv and entering my livestock pens harassing horses.
By 2009 he lit fire to mark cowling hayfield east of his property. He tresspassed onto Tony cowlngs and swamplovers property and caused problems.
By 2010 he dug hole in back yard buried tires and shingles lit on fire and cp fire responded to black smoke and illegal burning of haz waste.
By 2012&2013 he had two firearms calls with AR 15 assault weapons safety issues i reported.

And after 2018 flood,the day after I told hyer he buried stove and other nursing home furniture and beds and buckets of stuff from his deforest properties brought in by trailer. Hyer did nothing. So I reported to dnr. Dnr warned to clean up. Never came back. He's added to it and I've reported to darren marsh month ago. Henry bowman assigned nothing done yet and he's attempting to bury it with fabric over it and rock.

He also got caught dumping nursing home appliances and stuff in ditch on table bluff road last year by dream farms Diane and jim.murphy at night! So he knows what he's doing and avoiding costs to his in home nursing homes!
I've alerted Jerry goth swamplovers and learned polacek had another firearms incident at swamplovers in 2019. Another AR 15 assault rifle incident in prairie area unwelcomed!

This guy is not okay!
This guy has history with all neighbors around him for same bad things
This guy has avoided consequence due to town chair not taking stand or reporting it. And recently looking the other way on no building permits required for adding 2 ft fill into pole barn and concrete floor improving metal Pole barn structure changing drainage to wreck my driveway more and it continues. My emails from hyer will shock you! My enail from building inspector Fred hankel same.

Last, polacek pulled my survey stakes in April and has brought in enough fill dirt work inside pole barn to raise floor two feet! He's brought in an additional 32 loads outside which gratefully your Jessica starks assessed for county ec storm water and fill permits. Just shy last week but exceeded 4000 today. I reported to balousek and left Stark messages. I've sent photos and enails to hyer and now believe he's shared with polacek. Couldn't figure out how polacek seemed to know what an who I was contacting before I did it! Hyer.

So I told hyer he was Derelict in his duties and my grandfather would have ensured my complaints were heard about dealt with swiftly. Shame on hyer.

Third, I'm in process of getting 3 female minority veterans here on my farm to work learn agriculture. An to start their she businesses with me while I'm here on my beloved property we call Bremenstadt Farms, German for brementown.....we have all rescue equine and livestock. I've done my 32 years public service as you know 16 dnr state parks and special game warden Dane cty and 16 years Middleton public lands manager. I'm proud of my service. I'm proud of the 13 game wardens I mentored including Ryan Caputo current Dane cty warden supv. I'm proud of my 6 foresters including Mark wagner at Middleton mentored and many more natural resource professionals. I'm proud disabled lgbtq female farmer. And I will not allow a few to cause me physical, mental and the rest financial harm in the county I was born in. The county my mother worked for sheriff dept.and father state if wi engineer. I expect my last days on this planet to be free or worry and stress so that I can enjoy my partner Kim and my family and friends here! There should be no room for hate in this county and in 2004 this town was blue and not like it is today!

I expect you and sheriff Mahoney to send a loud message to polacek and those looking the other way for him to get away with so many incidents or allowing him to violate laws openly and defiantly now!

Polacek has made racist comments to me on my voicemail about mexicans coming here to buy sweet corn or eggs scaring his wife and kids. And same with blacks coming to buy used vehicle and furniture calling them the n word. He has for years taken control of my non shared portion of my driveway and showing hate toward my guests such as these random visitors attempting to buy my farm goods! His latest was in February my 88 year old mother cane to gate in her car. She calls me on cell phone I drive to gate to open it. It's heavy gate for mom. Polacek ran from his house to her car, in winter, banged on her door side window yelling who are you why you on my property your tresspassing etc....I heard him yelling st my mom as I was on cell phone with her. By time I got there he ran off! He doesn't own the 24 ft driveway it's for my ingress egress guests famiky and visitors to use wo his harassment and aggressivenrss!

I've had it, so Nick loniello has been retained to arbitrate what can be done. It's a $5000 retainer plus $5000 judge fee. An more. I'm going to show loniello the derelict emails from hyer and hankel. It shows where they are at and honestly I've spent soo much on my own property and permits with county and town I'm shocked.

After that arbitration occurs ive been advised get restraining order and by then who knows what civilly he'll have done in addition to his antics today

You should know thanks to hyer, polacek told cowlings(Tony and mark ) last winter that he learned I'm.sick from hyer and if I die he's going to buy my place move in and turn festge house into another in home nursing home!

Now I know why hyer was trying to rezone me to rr4 last year and did. I said no I opposed it. I want to remain ag I have 6.6 acres in ag and organic soon. I had plans for USDA partnerships with beginner farmers in motion last year...but I'm sick it's hard to keep up with everything! I told hyer I want to be AG. Fp 1or stay r2 ag4. I need to hear from Brian at zoning because now we need to ensure my legacy will go on with these 3 veterans in ag beyond me....kim.and my family can do transition plan with my estate to allow these or other farmers to buy my farm over time in trust. It will never be sold to polacek or a hyer crony! Never. And I will fight this rezoning as it was done without my consent and would giving me time to have others look at what would be best for my ag businesses here! It was a set up for hyer to hand to polacek as rr4 if I die which is based on Dr saying less than five years here! I'm at year two and fading!

So Mr Joe parisi I've tried to summarize what's been boiling for 3 months here. Unlike others I don't play politics never did. I hope you see my naivete and how I totally was blind sided by this neighbor and hyer looking off. But there is a sad truth to it underneath.....and if you know me at all you will know I stand for truth. I stand for good. I stand for the women, the lgbtq an black n brown! And I will stand for my rights to farm in this county even if on only 6.6 acres! You can do much with well managed lands. Diversity is key with people, with farming methods and with the environment.....

.my ancestors left me land with a class a troutstream and 200 ft tall heirloom white pines cause they never let the cows graze in that woods.....conservation before it had a name. My ten acre field there was restored to dry prairie and i seeded the lupine myself that the karner blue butterfly live off now.

Here next to festge park I support the friends, I coordinate and donate to CP fire to burn my wetlands, pond and county lands since 2004. I support kesterel nest boxes by donating my riff sawn pine from Adams land to friend dave Lucy. I support blue birds here with dave as well. I support endangered native plants here an share with friends of festge. I support all I can and will until my last breath!

As for polacek he's the opposite....illegal dumping haz wastes, contaminating our ground water, illegal fill and no storm water mngt, no erosion control, pushing limits avoiding permits and avoiding laws....to be cheap, get away with violating and not looking to the future for anyone but himself.

Last, you know it's bad when farmer and neighbor pam Allen festge who share crops polacek 5 acres says to me....be careful penni, he seems to have a bead on you, he really hates you! I'd wager it's because I'm.proud female, lgbtq, fourth generation farmer and not one to be cowed by his hate! Yes if he threatens to harm me or does anything it will be reported for hate crime and felony enhancers will apply.

Ps My partner Kim drake is extremely affected by this she has PTSD and anxiety disorder so this sent her the urgent care last week. She's 60 years old and having to deal with my health failing and the reality we don't get much time now! So it's hurting two people now.

And in Dane county I expect the best! It's my county too and I'm proud of it! I'm proud to have known and worked with you. With Ken lepine and darren marsh. With Jeremy balousek and Hans Hilbert. Dave Mahoney and John vandinter. An many more great county staff.

I started with dane county as park ranger intern under Ken Lepine. The token park horse trails my donated project I know drive buggies on today....Darren marsh and I were park rangers in door county same year 1984, me at peninsula the only female ranger and darren at whitefish dunes. I did try for Dane cty parks director twice....sue black got it first time, Darren second, I ended up running devil's lake the largest state park in wi! Not bad for a girl. And they say to this day, I was the best supt there ever in park history....most trails built, most buildings and projects built, south shore road w sidewalk, best maintenance program, and best staff/operations. Then I believe I repeated that goodness at gov nelson and on to city of middleton. Life is a journey.

I look forward to speaking with you this week. I have attorney call Tues at 10 am and surveyors on site to restake my driveway contrary to polacek placing massive amounts of dirt on it now.....wed so we get attorney on site to witness his aggression against my joint driveway on file with deeds/county.

EVERS ANNOUNCES REDISTRICTING COMMISSION APPLICATION PROCESS

Governor Evers announced the application and selection process for The People's Maps Commission, his nonpartisan redistricting commission charged with creating the Wisconsin State and Congressional districts after the 2020 U.S. Census. The application process opens today and will continue to accept applications through July 31, 2020. The applications will be reviewed, and candidates will be selected by a panel of three retired judges. Applicants are required to:

- Be 18 years of age or older;
- A Wisconsin resident;
- May not be:
- Registered as a lobbyist in the last 5 years;
- A declared candidate for a local, state, or federal elected office;
- A state public official as defined by Wis. Stat. § 19.42(14);
- A local public official as defined by Wis. Stat. § 19.42(7x);
- An officer or member of the governing body of a local, state, or national political party.

SUPREME COURT OPINIONS

(SEIU v. Robin Vos, Dane County Circuit Court, J. Hagedorn opinion on all issues except guidance documents, J. Kelly delivers the opinion pertaining to guidance documents.) – Extraordinary Session and Separation of Powers

J. Hagedorn – All Issues but Guidance Documents

This case centers around the Extraordinary Session held by the legislature in 2018 after the November election, but before the new governor and attorney general were sworn in. During the Session, three acts were passed and signed into law. The SEIU and other labor organizations filed suit against the leaders of both the Senate and the Assembly claiming the enacted provisions violated the separation of powers. In this case, the plaintiffs seek to strike down application of the challenged laws in their entirety, rather than as applied to a given party or set of circumstances. Hagedorn says, "By presenting their challenge this way, the Plaintiffs face a tall task. Under our well-established law, a facial challenge succeeds only when every single application of a challenged provision is unconstitutional."

The Legislature moved to dismiss the entire complaint, which the circuit court denied in full, although the circuit court granted a temporary injunction against enforcement of some of the provisions. The Supreme Court then took jurisdiction of the case. The opinion says, "While the Legislative Defendants moved to dismiss the entire complaint, they have not sufficiently briefed or developed arguments regarding several challenged provisions…Therefore, we offer no opinion on the merits of these undeveloped claims – none of which were enjoined by the circuit court – and they may proceed in the ordinary court of litigation on remand. All of the enjoined claims, as well as several other related claims, were sufficiently briefed and argued. We conclude that with respect to each of these claims, other than those separately addressed in Justice Kelly's opinion for the court, the Plaintiffs have not met their high burden to demonstrate that the challenged provisions are unconstitutional in all of their applications…the motion to dismiss the facial challenges to these claims should have been granted. This therefore means the temporary injunction is vacated in full except as other instructed in Justice Kelly's opinion for the court." The opinion concludes with, "The Legislative Defendants have successfully shown that the motion to dismiss the facial challenge to these laws should have been granted. On remand, we direct the circuit court to grant the motion to dismiss with respect to these provisions. We also vacate the temporary injunction in full for all provisions addressed in this opinion."

J. Kelly – Guidance Documents

The opinion by J. Kelly regarding guidance documents starts by saying, "As a consequence, we conclude that when the legislature prohibited the executive branch from communicating with the public through the issuance of guidance documents without first going through a pre-clearance process and including legislatively-mandate content, it invaded the executive branch's exclusive province to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed."" The opinion later says, "The Act's plain language allows us to discern the following essential attributes of guidance documents, They are not law, they do not have the force or effect of law, and they provide no authority for implementing or enforcing standards or conditions. They simply "explain" statutes and rules, or they 'provide guidance or advice" about how the executive branch is "likely to apply" a statute or rules. They impose no obligations, set no standard, and bind no one. They are communications about the law – they are not the law itself…It is readily apparent, therefore, that the executive need not borrow any legislative authority, nor seek the legislature's permission, to create guidance documents." The opinion concludes with, "We conclude the circuit court did not erroneously exercise its discretion in issuing the temporary injunction with respect to §§ 33 and 38 because those provisions are unconstitutional, and it would therefore be unlawful to enforce them."

(Kathleen Papa v. DHS, Waukesha County Circuit Court, J. Ziegler Opinion) – DHS Authority to Recoup Payments

This is a consolidation of two cases against DHS for its Medicaid recoupment process. In this case, Kathleen Papa and Professional Homecare Providers (PHP) argue that DHS has been using its recoupment policy to recover payments made for services provided to Medicaid patients. PHP argues that after DHS pays a nurse for covered and provided Medicaid services, DHS then audits the nurse's records and seeks to recover payments for any documentation shortcomings. The opinion says, "According to PHP, DHS does not contest whether the nurse actually provided a Medicaid patient with the covered service for which the nurse was paid. Nor does it claim that the payment was inappropriate or inaccurate. Rather, it recoups payments nurses earned and received for their work because, after the fact, it claims the nurse's supporting records are not perfect. The issue in this case is whether DHS has the authority to enforce this recoupment policy. The short answer is no, it does not." The court determined that DHS may recoup Medicaid payments from service providers only in cases where DHS cannot verify:

1. the actual provision of covered services;
2. that the reimbursement claim is appropriate for the service provided; and
3. that the reimbursement claim is accurate for the service provided.

The opinion says DHS's recoupment policy exceeds its recoupment authority.

APPEALS COURT CERTIFICATION

(Jama I, Jama v. Jason Gonzalez, Dane County Circuit Court, District IV Court of Appeals) – Criminal Defense Attorney Malpractice

Jama I. Jama was charged with sexual assault, burglary, and theft. He hired attorney Jason Gonzalez as defense counsel. Jama told Gonzalez that he committed the theft, but not the other crimes. During the criminal trial, Gonzalez made numerous errors, including not meeting with Jama until the third day of the trial after both sides had already rested. Jama was convicted of four felonies (second-degree sexual assault, third-degree sexual assault, and two charges of burglary) and one misdemeanor (theft). While serving time for the sexual assault convictions, Jama, through new counsel, filed a postconviction motion for a new trial based on ineffective counsel. The circuit court held a hearing and found Gonzalez was ineffective as counsel and vacated all convictions against Jama. The State moved to dismiss all of the original charges against Jama except the misdemeanor theft. The State issued a new charge of misdemeanor resisting. Jama pled guilty to both theft and resisting and was sentenced to nine months which were deemed served since he had already served two and one-half years in prison. In the suit against Gonzalez, Jama alleges that he suffered damages including loss of his "civil liberties and freedoms." Gonzalez moved to dismiss the complaint on the basis that Jama was not entitled relief because he could not prove he was innocent of all charges as required by Hicks and Tallmadge. Jama claims the malpractice action addresses only the sexual assault charges, not the theft, and he can prove his innocence. The circuit court granted Gonzalez's motion to dismiss saying that under Hicks and Tallmadge Jama has to provide "proof of innocence of all charges." Jama appealed. The appeals court now certifies the case to the Supreme Court "because resolution of this novel split innocence issue appeals to require application of public policy considerations in ways not addressed in Hicks, Tallmadge, or Skindzelewski."

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL INTERIM ACTIVITIES DEFINED

The Legislative Council announced earlier this year they would be holding one interim Study Committee, would complete five research reports, would hold the statutory Committee on State-Tribal Relations, and would have three symposia series. The scope statements for each has been updated:

- Study Committee on Public Disclosure and Oversight of Child Abuse and Neglect Incidents.
    - The study committee is directed to examine the requirements created by 2009 Wisconsin Act 78, and analyze whether those requirements provide an effective mechanism for public disclosure and legislative oversight of certain egregious incidents of child abuse or neglect and certain reports of abuse of children placed in out-of-home care. The committee shall consider whether to modify the types of incidents prompting disclosure and reports, as well as the nature and timing of any required disclosures or reports. In addition, the committee shall consider modifying the manner in which the Legislature reviews the required disclosures and reports and consider whether to subject alternative or additional information to regular review by the Legislature.

- Interim Research Report on Criminal Sentencing of Juvenile Offenders
    - This report will review issues related to the sentencing of juvenile offenders in adult criminal court, with a specific focus on sentences to life imprisonment. The report will include an overview of relevant state sentencing requirements and federal and state case law regarding Eighth Amendment constraints on sentences imposed on juvenile offenders in adult criminal court. It will also include options from stakeholder groups regarding possible modifications to the procedures and standards for sentencing juvenile offenders in adult criminal court, including the procedures and standards for determining a juvenile's eligibility for release to supervision.
- Interim Research Report on District Attorney Funding
    - This report will describe how the state provides funding for district attorneys, deputy district attorneys, and assistant district attorneys (prosecutors), including a description of the weighted caseload formula and how positions are allocated statewide. In addition, this report will include recommendations from prosecutors and other stakeholders for alternative funding approaches to provide funding for prosecutors that will allow for adequate prosecutorial staffing without creating incentives to overcharge or discouraging appropriate diversion programs.
- Interim Research Report on Dual Enrollment
    - This report will review the history of current dual enrollment programs under which students may simultaneously earn both high school and college credit, the Early College Credit program, and the Start College Now program. Further, the report will describe these programs and gather recommendations regarding the adequacy of opportunities for student participation, course costs, and the division of expense between students, secondary, and post-secondary institutions. The report will also gather recommendations regarding the appropriateness of maintaining separate programs for technical colleges and other institutions of higher education and may include options for: resolving any ambiguities that exist under the current programs; creating more uniformity between the current programs; or consolidating the current programs.
- Interim Research Report on Streamlining the Hunting, Trapping, and Fishing Licensure System
    - This report will describe the hunting, trapping, and fishing licensure system in Wisconsin. Specifically, the report will focus on the variety of licenses and approvals, including fees, discounts, and options, available to certain groups or individuals. In addition, the report will include recommendations from stakeholders, the Department of Natural Resources, and other relevant state agencies for legislation that streamlines and simplifies the licensure system and increases the system's ease of use.
- Interim Research Report on the Organization of Wisconsin's Workforce Development System
    - The Symposia Series on Workforce Housing will present information on the affordability of workforce housing in Wisconsin. The symposia will explore underlying issues, such as the cost of building materials and regulations under current law that affect the cost of construction of new, or rehabilitation of existing, affordable workforce housing. Further, the symposia will survey how other states have incentivized or reduced barriers to the development of affordable workforce housing by utilizing tax policy, zoning, and land use regulations. The symposia will consider how other states' solutions might be tailored to Wisconsin to create affordable housing in both rural and urban parts of the state.

- Special Committee on State-Tribal Relations
  - The committee is directed to study issues relating to American Indians and the American Indian tribes and bands in this state and develop specific recommendations and legislative proposals relating to these issues. [s. 13.83 (3), Stats.]
- Symposia Series on Early Access to Autism Treatment
  - The Symposia Series on Early Access to Autism Treatment will present information on barriers to Wisconsin families/children in accessing early diagnosis and treatment of autism. The symposia will include a review of current state Medicaid policies and a discussion on the availability of autism treatment providers throughout the state. The symposia will identify options for enhancing access to early diagnosis of autism and promoting treatment that is based on evidence-based medical practices.
- Symposia Series on Early Literacy Policies
  - The Symposia Series on Early Literacy Policies will present information on the "science of reading," focusing on the scientific research done by cognitive psychologists, neuroscientists, and linguists about how the brain learns to read. The symposia will also provide background on the so-called "reading wars," and the various approaches that have been used to teach reading in Wisconsin and elsewhere, including structured literacy instruction, balanced literacy instruction, and whole language instruction. Finally, the symposia will review the requirements in current Wisconsin law for early literacy screening and phonics instruction and compare them with efforts in other states to legislate in the areas of teacher professional development training on the science of reading, college teacher preparation programs, monitoring of student progress, interventions, early literacy screening, and funding for these efforts.
- Symposia Series on Workforce Housing
  - The Symposia Series on Workforce Housing will present information on the affordability of workforce housing in Wisconsin. The symposia will explore underlying issues, such as the cost of building materials and regulations under current law that affect the cost of construction of new, or rehabilitation of existing, affordable workforce housing. Further, the symposia will survey how other states have incentivized or reduced barriers to the development of affordable workforce housing by utilizing tax policy, zoning, and land use regulations. The symposia will consider how other states' solutions might be tailored to Wisconsin to create affordable housing in both rural and urban parts of the state.

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Youbin Kang and I live at 125 N Ingersoll Street, 53703.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Your Dane County Constituent

Covering the Wisconsin Legislature since 1972

FISCAL BUREAU RELEASES JUNE GENERAL FUND TAX COLLECTIONS

The Legislative Fiscal Bureau released a new memo, June, 2020, General Fund Tax Collections. According to the memo, "Actual tax collections for the first nine months of the 2019-20 fiscal year (through March, 2020) increased by 5.1% over the same period for 2018-19. Although this growth was higher than the projected 1.75%, collections were on target with the estimates as the impact of the individual income tax rate reductions of 2019 Acts 9 and 10 would be realized in the remaining months of the 2019-20 fiscal year."

Preliminary tax collections for June, 2020, were $1,340 million, $370 million below collections of June, 2019. The decline in June, 2020, collections is mainly attributable to two income tax components, reduced income and franchise taxes and withholding tax payments. Income and franchise taxes account for $252 million in lower tax revenue, but likely reflects the delayed filing date and the impact of C19. Withholding tax payments account for $104 million of the revenue reduction, which reflects a decline in employment in the state.

April, 2020, collections were $870 million below April, 2019, collections, the reduction likely attributable to the delayed filing date. The memo says, "For the 12 months of the 2019-20 fiscal year, collections are $749 million, or 4.7%, below those over the same 12 months of 2018-19."

Preliminary individual income tax collections for June, 2020, are $246 million (27.2%) lower than June, 2019, making year-to-date individual income tax collections for 2019-20 $936 million, which is 11.0% lower than the comparable time in 2018-19. Again, this is likely caused by the delayed filing date of July 15,

Preliminary corporate income/franchise tax collections for June, 2020, are $131 million, or $108 million less than collected in June of last year. That is a decrease of 45%. Similar to individual collections, most corporations likely delayed filing until July 15. Year-to-date collections through June, 2020, are $1,425 million, $101 million more than the comparable 12-month period last year, but lower than the 12.3% growth rate previously estimated. Yet additional payments are still due by the July 15 extended deadline.

Preliminary state sales and use tax collections generally reflect taxes paid for sales which occurred in May. Sales tax collections for June, 2020, were $9 million lower than the June collections for 2019, a decrease of 1.7%. However, that is an improvement since May saw a 10.1% decline and April a 9.9% decline over the previous years. Total, sales collections through June, 2020, are $91 million above collections in the comparable 12-month period in 2018-19, a 1.8% growth year-to-date.

The memo, similar to the memo released in May, shows that sales tax collections impact industries differently. While retail sales for clothing and clothing accessories are lower, nonstore retailers (remote sellers and marketplace providers) and building and gardening equipment have increased.

Hello,

My name is Catherine and I'm one of your constituents. I live at 1115 Chandler St.

I would like to express my support for Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, these funds would do much greater good when reinvested into communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.)

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community. Only when we reinvest in our local community support systems will we build a stronger Madison. We should be cultivating the community we want for ALL -- and that means listening to those most affected by punitive policies and institutions.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Catherine

Dear County Executive Parisi,

I am a resident and constituent in Dane County. My name is Sarah Chodorow and I live at 413 Ring St. Tonight Supervisor Doyle is introducing a resolution to divert funding that is currently slated to build a new jail. I am writing to you to express my support of the reallocation of these funds, and to urge you to also support it. The nearly $200 million the county has allocated to a new jail should be spent on initiatives that provide affordable housing, healthcare, and education.
Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. While this was sparked by a global pandemic, our community must prioritize continuing to empty our jail and investing in initiatives that build community resilience. We see that the criminal justice system can operate this way now; we must rise to the occasion and continue in this way, without locking people up.

Despite my support of this resolution, I would also like to express my concern about proposal #11 in this resolution, which indicates a plan to increase use of electronic monitoring. Our current pandemic is such that a decrease in the jail population is urgent. However, I do not support an increase in electronic monitoring. The restrictions placed on individuals on electronic monitoring hold them to impossible standards and predisposes them to reincarceration and an ongoing cycle of legal system involvement. I do not believe that reliance on electronic monitoring paves the way to transforming our legal system, it simply enmeshes people further in a system that does not recognize their humanity.

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community. We must invest in approaches to justice that promote healing rather than caging human beings.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Dear Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Anatoly Detwyler, and my address is 333 W Mifflin St, Unit 4070, in Madison.

I firmly and enthusiastically support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. This is an important issue and many in our community are watching keenly. I join many others in the belief that the funds are better used for real and tangible community good, such as food, education, public transportation, parks, and so on.

As your constituent, regarding Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail, I urge you in the strongest possible terms, please add it to the agenda tonight and support it.

I have learned that, due to COVID precautions, the current jail has let out many people, and that it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. Dear Supervisor Stubbs,

I am a Dane County constituent in your district. I support Supervisor Elizabeth Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail and instead redirect those funds to community needs that support alternatives to incarceration (i.e., food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).
As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

We know from measures taken during the current Covid pandemic that it is possible to significantly reduce the jail population. We have an opportunity to keep it that way, seek alternatives to incarceration, and redirect the millions of dollars involved in jail expansion to community needs that help keep people out of jail. Let's use this opportunity to make fundamental change. As has been demonstrated time and time again, new jail construction only upholds the status quo and disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities.

Dear Mr. Parisi,

I'm a Dane County resident writing to you to ask you to support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to halt the new jail project.

The COVID-19 crisis has taught me a lot about the daily crises that exist in our community. Mutual aid groups have demonstrated that many caring people live here. There are also many, many people who live here who were broke before COVID. Their lives have only gotten harder and more precarious since then. Every day someone needs housing, food for their families, assistance accessing healthcare, etc. Every night is somebody's last night before they lose their hotel room and end up on the street. In a community where this much need exists, it is morally bankrupt to spend hundreds of millions of dollars on a jail.

The COVID crisis has also shown that we do not need to incarcerate 800+ people at a time. With some concerted effort, we can keep the numbers much lower. Let's make the concerted effort a regular practice, ditch this expensive jail project, and start investing our money in programs and projects that will alleviate the hardship in our community. Frankly, a lot of this hardship is what causes criminal activity to flourish. I recently heard Ruth Wilson Gilmore, a prison abolitionist, say, "Where life is precious, life is precious." Where people are cared for and invested in, they can care for and invest in others.

Please help us transform Dane County into a place where life is precious, and let's see what happens next. I'm eager to find out.

Sincerely,

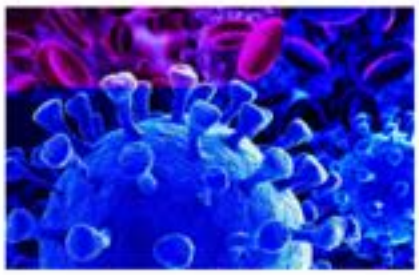

Dayna Long

Hi,

I'm Rachel Kutner, and I'm a constituent of Dane County living at 2129 E Washington Ave, Madison, WI 53704. I'm writing to support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail.

I believe the money in our community should be spent more constructively, to enrich and uplift members of our community who are struggling and help make our community better through engagement, rather than removal.

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, we should promote the use of these funds to help our community in ways that count - education, nutrition, wellness, fair housing, etc.

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. Let's instead use our funds in ways that can disproportionately help Black and Brown communities instead.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Your Dane County District Constituent
Rachel Kutner

Hello Joe,
I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Steven Lorenz and I live at 5460 Congress Ave, Apt 3, Madison, WI 53718.
I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).
As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.
Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?
Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.
Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.
Sincerely,
Your Dane County Constituent

Hello County Executive Parisi,

I am your constituent in Dane County. I am in the Yahara Landing apartment complex at 1630 Fordem Ave Apt 101.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

I'm reaching out to encourage you to support Supervisor Doyle's proposal to divert funds from the new jail into serving our communities. I'm interested in our community being a leader for our neighbors, the rest of the state, and the country by looking to divest in policing and jails. We can set an example that truly supports people in our community, disproportionately people of color, by putting funds towards housing, healthcare, and restorative justice.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? Hello County Executive Parisi,

I am a Dane County resident; my name is Elaine Poche and I live at 313 Cardinal Crescent in Monona. I am writing to you today in support of Supervisor Doyle's resolution to immediately halt any further progress on the new jail.

I urge you to speak up in support of it, and support the allocation of those resources towards the community's better access to healthcare, education, food, housing, transportation, etc.

We do not need a new jail; we do not need another high risk covid situation, or anything that disproportionately affects Black, Indigenous, and People of Color. we need reformation to the justice system that includes —as Doyle enumerates— restorative and mental health alternatives to the carceral system.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
El Poche

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Tessa Echeverria and I live at 2814 Coolidge St.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Your Dane County Constituent

Dear Joe,

I am one of your neighbors in Dane County District 6. I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to marginalized communities by supporting food security, public transportation, housing, healthcare, education, and other social services.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

The jail has less than 500 people in it—we must keep our incarceration rates low. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Good evening Joe and Chuck,
I just received a text from my security team that earlier today both of you clicked through a link on a email that was retroactively marked as a phishing attempt. The email was delivered just before 4 PM.

They were wondering about resetting your password this evening. Due to the issues with password resets remotely and a board meeting this evening I have directed them not to change your password. We have seen no unusual activity from your accounts since that time.

I would assume you both clicked the link in the email, noticed that something was off and didn't enter your username/password on the website. If you did, please reset your password or let me know so that we can remotely reset it. Otherwise have a good evening.

Thank you

I was just walking down to respond back to the email. My apologizes - you know how texts can be written.

The email was received in both of your inboxes. We cannot confirm if it was clicked - no one on the county network clicked it (we just verified the IP address traffic of the link) - however with staff working remotely from webmail there is a chance one of you could have clicked it from your personal device and we would not have that traffic information.

Sounds like you are good chuck.

County Executive Joe Parisi,

Checking in again to see if you have discussed this. Mayors Rhodes-Conway, Brar, O'Connor and Diaz have all agreed to write or sign on to a letter. I hope you will join them.

After further discussion, we've decided that Governor Evers and Lt Governor Barnes are the best targets, and that Evers is the one with enough sway to perhaps persuade the PSC to extend the moratoriums. If he tried to issue an Executive Order, he's concerned that the Republicans would undermine it, whereas the PSC has direct authority to do this.

Thanks,

Don

Subject: Considerations for NOT MANDATING masks

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear Elected Officials;

Please consider the following for not mandating masks.

Let's review the most common types of masks:

N95 Respirator - The N95 mask is an amazing tool that protects the person USING IT. The N95 Respirator was created for the user to wear in a contaminated environment to protect the user. Because it was designed for a contaminated environment, it doesn't filter what the person is breathing OUT.

In order for it to be at all effective, it must be fitted properly. We'd read various phrases, cough, open and close our mouths etc. to make sure the respirator kept a tight seal. In order for it to render itself effective, it must have a tight seal on the users face, which means no facial hair, and no crack along the outside. This is to keep particles from coming in. But it is NOT effective at protecting others. While using an N95, if the person using it has COVID-19, they will release that virus through the respirator, without it being filtered, and you are putting other people at risk. So although an N95 mask, when used properly, could protect the individual wearing it, it does not protect other.

To quote this article (with substantial empirical evidence) "Those N95's with a exhalation valve protects the person wearing the mask but not the subject being evaluated/operated on".
https://medicine.uiowa.edu/iowaprotocols/n95-respirators-hepa-or-high-efficiency-particulate-air-filter-respirators-personal-protective

So essentially, if the whole family wears properly-fitting N95 masks, they are doing nothing to protect grandma. Grandma has to wear one to protect herself, but the person wearing the mask is not protecting someone who isn't. Save the N95 for the immune-compromised and for heath care workers working in contaminated environments. But if you are a COVID-carrier, and go into the public, this mask will do you and others no good.

Surgical masks are there to protect individuals from splashes or particles in a sterile environment. When they are sterile, in a room with negative pressure, and in a sterile environment, the mask offers protection from large particles and microbes in the air. HOWEVER, if a nurse were to go into a "dirty" or "contaminated" room, once they leave that room, it is considered contaminated, and the mask must be thrown away. I was a nurse extern at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital where these kiddos receiving chemotherapy had ZERO white blood cells. We took all necessary precautions to protect them. Double doors getting into their room, gown, mask, gloves etc in the room. When we exited the room you would throw it all away, and grab new things when you entered the room again. Once out of the room, you were immediately considered contaminated. When people are using surgical masks in public, they are immediately contaminated. Using the mask over and over means more and more particles are being trapped in the mask increasing their risk of transmission more than if you weren't wearing one at all.

"If worn properly, a surgical mask is meant to help block large-particle droplets, splashes, sprays, or splatter that may contain germs (viruses and bacteria), keeping it from reaching your mouth and nose. Surgical masks may also help reduce exposure of your saliva and respiratory secretions to others.
While a surgical mask may be effective in blocking splashes and large-particle droplets, a face mask, by design, does not filter or block very small particles in the air that may be transmitted by coughs, sneezes, or certain medical procedures. Surgical masks also do not provide complete protection from germs and other contaminants because of the loose fit between the surface of the mask and your face."

https://www.fda.gov/medical-devices/personal-protective-equipment-infection-control/n95-respirators-surgical-masks-and-face-masks

Therefore, the surgical mask can protect from splashes that are contaminated, however, should be thrown away frequently as the people you are exposed to constantly changes. If the microbes are on your mask, and you continue to use it, you're breathing them in, versus fresh air. So using the same surgical mask all week long, isn't the way they were meant to be used. In fact, it may be putting the immune compromised at risk by continuing to carry the germs you've been exposed to, in the mask.

The CDC is recommending the use of cloth masks to SLOW the spread...because the spread is still inevitable, they say that the cloth masks could slow this down. However, the evidence shows that cloth masks can actually increase the rate of infection.

Here is an example of a randomized control trial comparing cloth masks to surgical masks. They found that there was a 97% transmission of particles in the cloth mask group, and increase rate of infection. "Moisture retention, reuse of cloth masks and poor filtration may result in increased risk of infection."

https://bmjopen.bmj.com/content/5/4/e006577

If we truly wore surgical masks and threw them away after each individual use, that may do some good, but the supply of masks are so low, they are being told to use and reuse masks as much as possible to not waste supply. But the bottom line is, there will ALWAYS be viruses and bacteria putting us at risk. It's impossible to live in a bubble, and if we did, we would die! Our microbiome is so diverse and intricate, and has thousands of strains of bacteria and viruses that populate our bodies every day. We need bacteria, we need germs, healthy people need to be exposed on a daily basis to train our immune system to fight. For those that are immune compromised, they need to be protecting themselves right now and staying home as much as possible. But for the healthy individuals, the best thing we can do is to actually become exposed, achieve immunity, and that will protect those immune compromised.

I know COVID is real. And people have horror stories of becoming infected. Now, more than ever, it's time to make certain we are caring for our health however we know how. Decreasing inflammation, supporting our immune response, getting adjusted...these things will not make you immune to the virus, but if you are exposed, you're more likely to recover from it faster than the average person.

Furthermore, the CDC even says someone can test positive for the virus if they even have the common cold.

"A positive test result shows you might have antibodies from an infection with the virus that causes COVID-19. However, there is a chance a positive result means that you have antibodies from an infection with a virus from the same family of viruses (called coronaviruses), such as the one that causes the common cold".

https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/testing/serology-overview.html

Why has the narrative changed from death rate to number of cases? Because the number of cases will rise for sure! (Especially if the common cold can cause a positive test). But the death rate is still incredibly low. Do we want to make this world safer for people? Why not banning fast food? Making cigarettes illegal?

Article written by PhD, that outlines more research on it:

https://www.rcreader.com/commentary/masks-dont-work-covid-a-review-of-science-relevant-to-covide-19-social-policy

What can we do to slow the spread? Wash your hands. Stop touching your face. Don't pass judgement on others if they choose to wear a mask or not. I still don't see the logic behind it, and if I did, I'd wear one! I believe it is giving people a false sense of security. The virus will find them, mask or not, and if you're continuing to make lifestyle choices that hinder your health but still wear a mask for protection, your logic is flawed. Wear a mask to protect from a respiratory virus, but still smoke like a chimney. Wear a mask to protect your immune system, but fuel your body with Doritos and hohos. We can do better than this!

Please help WI remain a choice state to wear or not wear a mask!

Thank you.

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Janet Parker and I live at 2442 Upham Street in Madison.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Your Dane County Constituent

Subject: CARES Act Allotment

Good afternoon,

This week begins the first period that municipalities can start submitting costs to the state for reimbursement from the CARES Act allotment set aside for them by the state Department of Administration (DOA) in the Routes to Recovery program. The initial period runs until July 15th. If you are not ready to submit costs yet, there will be two more opportunities for submissions – September 1st through the 15th and November 7th through the 18th.

A unique code is being sent to each municipal clerk to access the expense reporting system. You can find the portal for the reporting system here: https://covidgovgrant.wi.gov/account/signin?ReturnUrl=%2f

Last week the state DOA sent out the terms and conditions that each municipality must agree to in order to receive reimbursement. It includes items such as maintaining spending records for five years and agreeing that you will provide any records requested by DOA to verify spending. You can find that document here: https://doa.wi.gov/Secretary/RRG-TermsConditions.pdf

The U.S. Treasury Department updated their FAQ last week as well. The state Routes to Recovery program has more restrictions on funding than the U.S. Treasury guidelines, but the FAQ from Treasury does help provide a framework for the type of spending the program allows. It also answers questions others have submitted to the department about what qualifies as eligible spending. For example, it added clarity on helpful topics like what “substantially dedicated” means for employees and gives some examples of the type of employee that could be covered for reimbursement. You can find the updated version here: https://home.treasury.gov/system/files/136/Coronavirus-Relief-Fund-Frequently-Asked-Questions.pdf

Some spending allowed by the federal program is not allowed in the state program. For example, creating a loan or grant program for local businesses is allowed under the federal rules, but not allowed in the state Routes to Recovery funds for local governments because it doesn’t allow any sub-award programs.

Examples of allowed expenses in the Routes to Recovery program includes: PPE, deep cleaning of public facilities required because of COVID, items such as sneeze guards to reduce transmission, and payroll expenses for employees substantially dedicated to responding to the COVID emergency. You can find more information on what is allowed under the state Routes to Recovery program in the guidance document issued by DOA here:

There could also be opportunities for municipalities to coordinate purchases for better pricing so please don’t hesitate to reach out to my staff about this or any other questions you may have about this program. If you are not on the email list used by the state DOA to send out updates and information about the Routes to Recovery program you can send an email to subcribe-covidgovgrant@lists.wi.gov to get added to that list.

Team,

This morning we are testing max throughput capacity at the Alliant Energy Center COVID Testing Site. We have fully implemented the DTRA registration system, we have increased testing lane capacity by 33% and the National Guard has increased staffing 25%. Our calculations predict a throughput rate of over 360 tests per hour.

We don't have 360 people in line; and it doesn't look like they're coming. If you know of anyone in your organizations who wants a COVID test, please encourage them to visit AEC today before noon.

Thank you.

Under what authority does the this department or the Dane County Executive have the constitutional authority to mandate such an order? There needs to be a clear law stated as such or this order should be rescinded immediately. You all do not have such authority to do an order like this. County Executive Joe Parisi,

Checking in again to see if you have discussed this. Mayors Rhodes-Conway, Brar, O'Connor and Diaz have all agreed to write or sign on to a letter. I hope you will join them.

After further discussion, we've decided that Governor Evers and Lt Governor Barnes are the best targets, and that Evers is the one with enough sway to perhaps persuade the PSC to extend the moratoriums. If he tried to issue an Executive Order, he's concerned that the Republicans would undermine it, whereas the PSC has direct authority to do this.

Thanks,

Don

Maggie Gau, Chief of Staff
Office of Governor Tony Evers
115 East Capitol Drive, #1
Madison, WI 53702

Subject: Follow-up to July 8, 2020 Meeting with Safe Skies Clean Water Wisconsin

Dear Maggie:

Thank you for meeting with us from Safe Skies Clean Water Wisconsin on July 8th to discuss the environmental impacts of the Air National Guard at Truax Field in Madison. We represent the thousands of Wisconsin residents who have been exposed to the PFAS contamination caused by the ANG, endure the noise and pollution of current fighter jet training, and oppose the irresponsible and racist proposal to bring a squadron of F-35 nuclear-equipped fighter jets to Madison. Due to the pandemic, a Zoom call was the best we could expect, but as Eugenia said during the meeting, it is disappointing that you and Governor Evers have not met face to face with the low-income and families of color that are forced to live adjacent to Truax.

We were pleased to hear about Governor Ever's commitment to clean air and water in Wisconsin and the selection of Adjutant General Paul Knapp based on his dedication to cleaning up the PFAS contamination at the base. We are asking that Governor Evers and Adjutant General Knapp demonstrate their commitment to a clean environment by taking the following steps:

1. Provide Transparency on PFAS Cleanup – High levels of PFAS contamination from Truax Field continue to discharge into Starkweather Creek, Lake Monona, and our groundwater, exposing residents who eat fish or swim in the polluted waters. Fortunately Madison's Municipal Well 15 has been shut down and warning signs posted along the creek, but the contamination grows and spreads each day. We and the public deserve to hear details and timelines for Dane County and the ANG's efforts to investigate and clean up this PFAS contamination. We ask that Governor Evers direct DNR and WANG staff to provide us with an ongoing line of communication on these details, and to allow us to participate in your monthly meetings with DNR staff to discuss the status of PFAS cleanup efforts.

2. Delay Construction at Truax Field – This fall, the ANG plans to begin construction to accommodate the proposed squadron of F-35 fighter jets. We ask that Governor Evers and Adjutant General Knapp demonstrate their commitment to cleanup efforts by delaying all F-35 related construction until the ANG has completed a full investigation of its PFAS contamination and provided an approved cleanup plan. Additionally, the DNR should withhold any stormwater or wastewater approvals for construction at Truax Field until a thorough site investigation and proper treatment and disposal plan for contaminated soil and water are completed.

3. Evaluate a New Mission for Truax Field – This spring the Air Force ignored local opposition and promoted environmental racism by selecting the 115th Fighter Wing at Truax Field to receive a squadron of F-35 fighter jets costing $1.5 billion. If we want the 115th Fighter Wing to be an asset to our community, we should find a new mission other than training fighter jet pilots that is appropriate and compatible for our urban area. We need a mission that doesn't place its environmental and economic costs on the shoulders of those with low incomes or people of color forced to live adjacent to the base, or on the thousands of people who live on the east and north sides of Madison. We ask that Governor Evers and Adjutant General Knapp begin the process of finding a new mission for the 115th Fighter Wing.

The Air Force's decision to deploy a squadron of F-35A fighter jets at Truax Field was controversial, as thousands of Madison residents registered their opposition. Of the 6,419 comments submitted on the draft Environmental Impact Statement for five potential sites, 89% were submitted regarding Truax. Numerous local organizations, including our Common Council and School Board, opposed the beddown. The EIS concluded that Truax was one of two sites where "there will be disproportionate impacts to low income and minority populations, as well as children." Interestingly, the other site with disproportionate impacts, Montgomery, Alabama, was the second site chosen by the Air Force for the new jets. The EIS stated that Truax Field would experience the greatest environmental impacts of all sites, even though the statement did not even consider noise and safety impacts on the surrounding urban area and the 60,000 people living within three miles of the base.

By selecting Truax Field, the Air Force showed exceedingly poor and irresponsible judgement. Its decision ignored the values of Madison residents and our plans for a sustainable and livable city for ourselves and our children. The selection of Truax required the Air Force to ignore environmental justice and promote environmental racism. The Air Force ignored the current PFAS contamination of our groundwater, Starkweather Creek and Lake Monona by the ANG at Truax, and exposure of area residents to PFAS in our drinking water and fish.

The ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and recent police killing of an unarmed, defenseless Black man in Minneapolis further accentuated a range of concerns regarding the recklessness and racism of the proposed selection of Truax for the F-35 squadron. We were unprepared to defend ourselves against the new virus, so why are we spending $1.5 billion on a squadron of fighter jets? If we are committed to combating racism in Madison and Wisconsin, why will we continue exposing Black and other minority families of color living adjacent to Truax Field to the pollution and violence of these jets?

Since we cannot trust the Air Force to consider impacts on Madison and Wisconsin residents, we are turning to Governor Evers and Adjutant General Knapp of the Wisconsin National Guard to look out for us, promote Wisconsin values and end this disturbing example of environmental racism. The long-term mission of the 115th Fighter Wing at Truax Field has been training fighter jet pilots. This mission is no longer suitable for our growing urban area, especially when the greatest impacts fall on those least able to defend themselves. The Air Force currently has 44 possible missions for ANG units, most of which do not require fighter jet training. For your information, Table 1 summarizes these missions. Given these alternative missions, we ask that you evaluate and select a new mission for the 115th Fighter Wing that would be compatible with our residential area, one that supports and improves our community, rather than one that, according to the EIS, will sicken our residents, make us less safe, and reduce our quality of life.

The 115th should have a mission that provides us civil defense in times of catastrophe and emergency, rather than a mission that wages war with a first strike, nuclear-equipped offensive weapon like the F-35. Hosting such an offensive weapon seems ludicrous when our current security threats now come from cyber attacks and terrorism, neither of which the F-35 can counter.

There are several examples of ANG units which have changed their mission. In 2013, the New Mexico Air National Guard's 150th Fighter Wing changed from a fighter mission to training crews in special operations and personnel recovery. In 2016, the Montana 120th Airlift Wing switched from flying F-15 fighter jets to the C-130 and transport aircraft. In 2018, the Air Force Times reported on the increasing need for mobility aircraft to deliver critical equipment and supplies to military forces stateside and overseas, and for humanitarian and diplomatic missions. It found that during the 2017 hurricane season, Air Force mobility teams flew nearly 1,500 flights, delivering 28 million pounds of supplies to victims of Hurricanes Harvey, Irma and Maria. The Air Force estimated that the F-35 squadron would add only 64 jobs. Switching to another mission would provide far more jobs to Truax Field, jobs that would be beneficial to our community.

Other examples include scientific, engineering or weather missions for the 115th which would complement the enormous knowledge base available at the UW campus. In an April 1st news release, the Wisconsin National Guard explained all the ways it was helping combat the current pandemic. A permanent medical mission for the 115th would complement our forward-looking economy grounded in health services.

Rather than continuing the divisive proposal to bring F-35 fighter jets to Truax Field in Madison, let’s work to find a new mission for the 115th Fighter Wing that benefits the entire community, one of which we can all be proud. The new F-35 fighter jets will not arrive until 2023 so we should begin the evaluation now to find a more suitable and compatible mission.

Sincerely,

Safe Skies Clean Water Wisconsin

Josh, thanks, that's great. I can do a draft of a letter for you and the mayors, but don't want to speak for you, so you all may have some revisions.

Haven't heard from Fitchburg. Any other Dane County mayors you can think of that might want to sign on - or other organizations who might do their own?

The 15th is the optimal date we are aiming for, but if Dave can talk to Tyler next week, that would be great too. One of our staff has been in touch with Marie Redmond too.

Thanks,

Don

After further discussion, we've decided that Governor Evers and Lt Governor Barnes are the best targets, and that Evers is the one with enough sway to perhaps persuade the PSC to extend the moratoriums. If he tried to issue an Executive Order, he's concerned that the Republicans would undermine it, whereas the PSC has direct authority to do this.

Thanks,

Don

Dear Ms. Utzig and Mr. Parisi:

I hope you and those you care about are doing well. I would like to say "thank you" for your leadership and for allowing SSM Health/Dean Health Plan to serve you and your families.

On Thursday July 24th, Damond Boatwright, Regional President of SSM Health Wisconsin, Les McPhearson, President of Dean Health Plan and I are coming to your office for a "partnership meeting". The idea is simple, get to know each other a little better and also allow time for us to provide updates we think it's important to know about. While I know there is never enough time in the day, I do believe there is value in doing things like this. I will send out a simple agenda but in advance of that I also wanted to provide you the opportunity to let me know if there is anything specific you would like to know about or be covered at this meeting.

While this meeting is scheduled "in person" your safety is very important to us so please let me know if you have any concerns with this or would to do a Zoom meeting instead.

Thank you in advance for your consideration and please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Mike

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION of COUNTIES NACo

Counties Encouraged to Complete Brief NACo Survey on County Budget Outlooks and Staff Impacts of COVID-19

The National Association of Counties (NACo) is requesting county executives, administrators, and administrative coordinators, as well as finance officers, complete a brief NACo survey on county budget outlooks and staff impacts of COVID19.

NACo is aiming to launch the results next week as part of their renewed push for additional COVID-19 resources for counties, including amending the current Treasury CRF program to allow for lost revenue as related to COVID19.

According to NACo, it is anticipated that Congress will have 3-4 weeks to potentially hammer out another COVID19 supplemental package before the August recess. Right now, Senate GOP leadership is focused on school (re)opening, business liability protections, modifications to unemployment insurance and reforms to the PPP small business fund.

NACo is working toward two major items: (1) expand eligibility of current Treasury CRF dollars for lost revenues related to COVID19 (with appropriate guardrails) and (2) ensure counties receive a "fair share" if Congress approves another round of state and local government aid.

- Take the NACo Survey on COVID-19 County Budget Outlooks and Staffing Impacts Here

Please note that NACo also wants to know where counties are NOT impacted; This will help think about potential formula and eligibility criteria for any new federal funding.

NACo is focused on the distribution formula among state, county and city governments, rather than the dollar amount. Their efforts have focused on recognizing the role of counties in the COVID19 pandemic and making sure all counties have access to federal funds, not just a few large urban counties

The attached form expired May 31, 2020. The agency just informed me they are still accepting this form until the Department of Education issues a new form. (Previously they would reject expired forms.) If you submitted this form to me after May 31 and I did not accept it, please resubmit page 1 to me, via email if possible, and I will complete page two and submit it to the agency.

To: All County employees:

Managers/Supervisors/Payroll Clerks: PLEASE POST FOR EMPLOYEES WITHOUT ACCESS TO EMAIL

What is the Federal Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program?

The PSLF Program is intended to encourage individuals to enter and continue to work full-time in public service jobs. Under this program, borrowers may qualify for forgiveness of the remaining balance of their Direct Loans after they have made 120 qualifying payments on those loans while employed full time by certain public service employers.

In January 2014 the County Board adopted, and the County Executive signed, Resolution 208, 13-14 (attached).

The instructions and application for this loan forgiveness program are attached and are posted on DCINet on the Payroll Resources page. If you qualify for the program please complete, and sign, page 1. I will complete, and sign, page 2 (Section 3). Page 3 includes a link for more information about the program, and pages 3-6 contain information on completion of the form. Please read all of the information carefully before submitting the form. Section 7 includes a phone number you can call for help with the form, or if you have questions about the program.

After completing and signing page 1, you can scan and email the form to me, or you can print and forward (inter-d) it to me. I will then complete page 2 and will fax both pages of the application to the appropriate agency, and then return the originals to you. Please do not send me pages 2-6.

This email will be sent annually as a reminder of this benefit that Dane County employees may be eligible for.

The time is now to take a strong public stance for basic human decency and civil rights! The time is now to intentionally and actively address systemic racism in our criminal justice and law enforcement systems, as well as our healthcare and socio-economic systems! No more lip service, platitudes, public displays of PR, and committee discussions! There are community organizations that have put in the research and effort over many years, know what their communities need, and have policy ideas ready to go. It is time to listen to the black voices in the community and lift them up into action! Supervisor Doyle's resolution has the support of these community organizations, such as Freedom Inc.

Due to COVID precautions the jail has let out many people, and so it currently has less than 500 people in it. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these people have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail? Incarceration does not keep us safer and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our communities for food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail, and as your constituent I request that you support it too.

Sincerely,
Lisa Hansen

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear Friends,

As you may remember from my invitation in March, I'm involved in a project with RISE Wisconsin, one of the largest providers of well-baby, mental health services and respite care for 3,300 children, individuals and families in Dane County.

I had originally planned to see you at a special dinner party in April to offer an opportunity to learn more about RISE as an organization and to hear about an exciting project they have coming up. Due to COVID-19 we had to postpone this event to honor safety and be conscious of your well-being.

I am pleased to invite you and a guest for a delicious, social distance-friendly CarHop experience at Quivey's Grove in Fitchburg on a newly proposed date of Thursday, August 20th at 6:00 P.M. with a rain date of August 27th .

Step 1: Upon arrival at Quivey's, you and your guest will be greeted at each entrance and directed to the parking area where your food will be served to you in your car by a Quivey's server and a RISE board member.

Please choose one of the Car Hop-tions below for you and your guest:

A. Barbecue Ribs
   Corn Bread Muffins
   Slaw
   Smashed Potatoes

B. Breaded Whitefish
   Corn Bread Muffins
   Slaw
   Parmesan Potatoes

C. Vegetarian choice
   Corn Bread Muffins
   Slaw
   Potatoes

Dessert: Fruit Crisp
Drinks: Red and White wine, beer, sodas served from individual containers.

Step 2: While eating your meal, RISE staff will provide a presentation on their exciting new project and tell you how they quickly adapted their services during COVID while simultaneously continuing planning and executing their project to remodel the Fordem Avenue building so their entire staff and programming can be located in one facility, thus generating significant benefits for program participants.

Hello,

I am a resident of Dane County, living at 1137 Erin Street #201 in Madison. I fully support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution (2020 Res. 145) to halt the current jail funding plan, and the alternatives to incarceration that it proposes as well.

The problems of severe, persistent, and endemic racial inequality, as well as the inequalities laid bare by the Covid-19 global pandemic are present here in our county, as they are throughout our country. In fact outcomes for black families in our community and state are worse than in most other places in the country (2019 Report). This cannot all be solved by one measure, but surely rethinking how our most vulnerable community members are supported or more commonly criminalized, is a necessary step in this process.

Thank you for your consideration,

W. Keith Sayles

Hi,

Boys and Girls Club just reached out to ask if I am available to participate in a press conference promoting the wearing of masks on Monday.

They received a huge donation from a donor in CA, to distribute to the community.

I'm happy to participate if you all are okay with it.

Is there anything more I need to do from our end?

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Betsy Moyer and I live at 413 Pawling St, Madison, WI.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Hi Molly, I looked, the FAQ doesn't answer my question: Why is PHMDC telling employers that the order does not apply when in an office by oneself, when the order itself says that it applies in any building where others could be present?

You need to either enforce the order you've written, or change it. Providing guidance that directly contradicts the text of the order itself does a disservice to the public welfare.

I don't see a "closed door office" exception in the text of Public Health Order #8-- are you planning to change the order? (e)(i)(1) requires it in every enclosed building (not room) where other people could be present, and there's no exception for closed offices in subsection ii.

e. Face Coverings.

i. Every individual, age five (5) and older, in Dane County must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when:

1. In any enclosed building where other people, except for members of the person's own household or living unit, could be present.

2. In line to enter any indoor space.

3. Driving or riding on public transportation or in a paratransit vehicle, a taxi, a private car service vehicle, a ride-sharing vehicle, or any other for hire vehicle.

ii. Individuals may remove their face coverings under the following circumstances:

1. While they are eating or drinking.

2. When communicating with an individual who is deaf or hard of hearing and communication cannot be achieved through other means.

3. While obtaining a service that requires the temporary removal of the face covering.

4. When necessary to confirm the individual's identity.

5. When federal or state law prohibits wearing a face covering.

iii. The following individuals are exempt from the requirement to wear a face covering:

1. Individuals for whom wearing a face covering would create a risk to the person related to their work, as determined by government safety guidelines.

2. Individuals with a medical condition, mental health condition, or disability that prevents them from wearing a face covering.

If someone is working in a fully enclosed (walled) single occupied office with a shut door, then they could remove their face covering. If the door is open then a face covering would be required or if they left that space. There is more information regarding masks on our FAQ masks website.

COVID-19
The Novel Coronavirus

- As of this morning, there are XXXX people who have tested positive for coronavirus in Dane County. Of those, XXXX individuals have recovered.
- Starting today, people must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health cares settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation.
- Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.
- See Public Health Madison & Dane County's face covering webpage for more information.
- Visit Public Health's Data Dashboard for the latest on COVID-19 case counts, hospitalizations, deaths, tests by date, and more.

Masks and distance are really the two most effective means of slowing the spread of COVID-19. Given the recent rapid increases in cases in our county, it's imperative we take this step now to try and slow the spread of COVID-19 through our community. Nothing that's happening right now is easy or normal, but it's what we must do – come together as a community and put everything we have into keeping one another safe.

Conservation & Environmental News

We recently unveiled new technology that is being tested to vacuum out hazardous blue-green algae blooms and decaying plants near local beaches to keep them safe and healthy.

To help promote pollinator habitat, UW-Madison's Gratton Lab and the Dane County Environmental Council have launched a new, free online tool for Dane County residents to use.

In June, our first-in-the-nation renewable natural gas (RNG) offloading station at the Dane County Landfill received its first load of RNG from a manure digester in the Yahara Watershed.

We're moving forward on our historic 160-acre restoration project to expand the Pheasant Branch Conservancy. Saving this property from development and restoring it to prairie will prevent the runoff of nearly 5 million gallons of water from entering the Yahara Lakes each year.

Our sediment removal project in the Yahara Chain of Lakes is underway! We hope to remove more than 3,000 dump truck loads of sediment during the first phase of the initiative. This will help improve water flow, flood storage capacity, and fish and wildlife habitat. Check out our video to get a closer look!

Hi Shawn,

Few tears of joy this afternoon after reading the quotes from some of the child care providers in the 4-C's Q2 2020 report (bottom of page 5-7). Thankful for the opportunity to continue helping people in the community while in the middle of a pandemic. This made my week and was another reminder of why we do this rewarding, at times, challenging work – THANK YOU!

The JCO customers have been pulling on my heart strings this week when leaving the building at night, too. All positive encounters and additional opportunities to help others by providing community resources. Just makes me think twice about how blessed I am to be where I'm at in life today.

Share as you see fit and have a great weekend.

Forward Analytics to Study Broadband

The COVID-19 pandemic has put in sharp relief the need to ensure all households in Wisconsin, in rural areas as well as towns and cities, have access to adequate broadband. To this end, it is crucial to identify unserved and underserved areas in the state, and empower local service providers and local units of government to seek and receive support from the Public Service Commission (PSC) of Wisconsin and the Federal Communications Commission.

Due to the critical importance of this topic, Forward Analytics is conducting a deeper dive into broadband infrastructure, looking at the economic importance of broadband, the unserved or underserved areas of the state, and the different means of expanding broadband in Wisconsin. The analysis and findings will be published in one or more reports later this year. Alliant Energy Center Community Testing Site Update

- Wednesday (7/8) 1598 people were tested and Thursday (7/9) 2298 people were tested.
- The total number of people who have been tested at the community test site is 54,059.
- In collaboration with the National Guard, we implemented an online registration system that has dramatically improved wait times. Today there was nearly no wait time the entire day.

Data Byte

In the past week (July 3—July 9) there were 559 new cases of COVID-19 in Dane County. We're happy to report the targeted approach we've taken to control the increase in cases over the past few weeks has had positive effects! We're seeing fewer cases and fewer associated with clusters—particularly bars and restaurants.

Of those interviewed so far:

- 126 of the 559 reported attending a gathering, party, or meeting with people from outside their household.

- 64 of the 559 were associated with clusters: 34 from bars/restaurants, 7 from congregate facilities, 6 from housing for college-aged people, 2 from gyms, 1 from a daycare, and 14 from other workplaces.

We define a cluster as 1 case in a long term care facility or daycare or 2 or more cases associated with one location or event around the same time.

Remember, our contact tracers are still conducting interviews, so the numbers associated with gatherings and clusters will go up as they complete more interviews.

On Monday we'll be releasing our weekly data snapshot, and this weekend you can keep tabs on the latest case count and other key data by visiting our dashboard: https://bit.ly/2xW8iE1

Good morning,

Here is an email regarding the severe thunderstorm potential for late this afternoon and evening.

Bottom Line Up Front
Scattered to numerous thunderstorms are expected to develop late this afternoon into the evening mainly along and south of a line from Montello to Juneau to Milwaukee. Damaging winds and large hail will likely occur in some of these thunderstorms. Urban and small stream flooding is possible.

What has changed?
Confidence is increasing for severe thunderstorms with damaging winds and large hail late this afternoon and evening. Given the recent heavy rain, urban and small stream flooding is possible.

Forecast Information
Where: Highest concentration of storms should be along and south of a line from Montello to Juneau to Milwaukee..
What: Scattered to numerous thunderstorms with some becoming severe. Damaging winds, large hail, and lightning strikes are the hazards. However, given the recent heavy rain, urban and small stream flooding is possible.
When: Late afternoon and evening. See onset of thunderstorms graphic which is an approximation give or take 2 hours.
Impacts: Mainly tree and power line damage. Small potential for structural damage. Crop damage possible.

We Are Getting Ready to ReOpen this Fall

An Update on the Release of our Plans for the 2020-21 School Year

July 11, 2020

Dear Joe,

Greetings from all of us at One City Schools! We hope your summer is going well, that you and your family are staying safe and healthy, and that you are getting time to enjoy the outdoors. Despite the challenges we are all confronting with the COVID-19 public health crisis, this has been quite a beautiful summer thus far.

I am writing this morning to provide you with an update on where we are with planning for the 2020-21 school year for our preschool and elementary school, and to share dates and times for you to learn about these plans.

Summer Planning for 2020-21

We have completed our second week of planning for next school year. Every member of our team has been involved.

Our elementary school teachers and assistant teachers have been in training and working with EL Education on our instructional and education plans for the fall, and our preschool teachers have been training and working with Anji Play's leadership to accomplish the same. Our leadership and nursing teams have been working closely with the City of Madison Child Care Division, Public Health Madison & Dane County and the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction on our school health, school safety and reopening plans for 2020-21.

Through support provided by our national investment partner, Charter School Growth Fund of Colorado, we are also working with Afton Partners of Chicago, Illinois on a COVID-19 responsive budget and financial plan for the 2020-21 school year, and have participated in multiple webinar and workshops provided by McKinsey & Company, Charter School Capital, Aspen Institute and Harvard University. We have also been networking with high quality schools across the country, sharing ideas and plans for the fall in the areas of general educational programming, special education, school social work, scheduling and school finance.

We will wrap-up our summer planning later this month, and will be prepared to share the full details of our plans with you between the last week of July and first week of August. We are creating three plans that will enable us to adjust to changes that our current public health crisis could present to our schools and families as schools reopen in Wisconsin this fall: 100% in-person instruction at One City, 100% virtual instruction at home, and a hybrid approach that will include a combination of in-person and virtual learning.

Key Dates: One City 2020-21 Reopening Plan Review

Please review the calendar below. We are following this process and timeline for sharing and discussing our plans with you for the 2020-21 school year. You will receive a follow-up electronic invitation to the session(s) you should attend from our team next week, so please watch, check and respond to your email and texts.

You will be required to register to attend your session. We will use Zoom video conferencing for all virtual presentations. During these sessions, we will provide important information about the upcoming school year. It is very important that you or your designated family representative attend this meeting.

I am writing to urge you to do your part to make sure that mask-wearing is voluntary, not mandatory.

Many jurisdictions are basing their face mask policies on guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). The CDC has flip-flopped its position on face coverings several times since March but is now recommending that everyone wear a mask in public. This recommendation is not supported by strong empirical evidence. Though there is science to support mask-wearing, there's also a preponderance of science showing that masks can cause considerable harm and are ineffective in preventing the spread of coronavirus. There is also no science supporting the use of masks by healthy individuals. So emergency orders that are being issued to help protect public health are actually hurting individuals' physical and emotional well being — and violating their basic human rights, constitutional rights and religious rights.

Evidence that masks reduce the transmission of viral respiratory infections within community settings is equivocal at best. A recent meta-analysis (bit.ly/2VHaubd) that included nearly a dozen randomized, controlled trials and 10 observational studies found that there was no clear clinical or laboratory-confirmed evidence that masks prevent infection. Even the U.S. Surgeon General has noted that masks "are not effective in preventing the general public from catching the coronavirus." (bit.ly/31Dqdm5)

In terms of harm, studies show that wearing a face covering reduces blood and tissue oxygenation — which can be deadly — while increasing carbon dioxide levels. The use of masks can also increase the risk of infection and the spread of viral illness (particularly cloth masks), hinder detoxification that occurs through exhalation, impair the immune system, and cause a wide range of other physical and psychological issues. (bit.ly/31Epv1e). Moreover, some masks have been found to contain known carcinogens, which put people at risk from inhaling toxic chemicals and having them come into contact with their skin.

There is no science to support the use of masks by healthy individuals, and the World Health Organization backed this up when it said, "WHO stands by recommendations to not wear masks if you are not sick or caring for someone who is sick." Forcing healthy individuals to wear face coverings is a completely unnecessary intervention that dehumanizes their interactions with others. More important, it eliminates their right to make informed decisions about what risks and precautions they are willing to take.

It is unethical and unconstitutional to subject healthy, law-abiding citizens to measures that can result in physical and emotional harm and that impinge on their ability to move freely throughout society. For those with deeply held religious beliefs, mask mandates violate their ability to abide by natural law and follow their convictions to walk in faith, not fear. As such, the decision to wear a mask is a highly personal one and should not be universally mandated; measures that are meant to protect the community as a whole are not effective if they hurt individuals in that community.

Mandatory medicine and mandated interventions such as social distancing and mask-wearing have no place in a free society; citizens want to maintain the right to make responsible decisions about what is best for themselves and their children based on their own unique circumstances. I urge you to do the right thing, stand for choice and protect all individuals by encouraging — not mandating — the use of face masks in the community. This policy can be bolstered by asking at-risk populations and those who are sick to self-quarantine, with society taking the best care of them possible.

Thank you for your continued leadership during these unprecedented times and for upholding the health and the rights of your constituents.

Sincerely,
Noah Kedtler

ϒΠ 49% of cases were between the ages of 18 and 25.

ϒΠ 54% of cases were tested at the community test site at Alliant Energy Center.

ϒΠ 45% of cases interviewed reported attending a gathering or party with people outside of their household.

ϒΠ 28% of cases (a total of 172) were associated with a cluster: 132 from bars, 14 from workplaces, 11 from congregate facilities, 3 from daycares/preschools, and 12 from other clusters.

ϒΠ 13% of cases were asymptomatic at the time of the interview.

In short the new orders include:

1. Create definitions of restaurants (sale of alcohol is 50% or less of gross receipts) and taverns (sale of alcohol is 51% or more of gross receipts)

2. Limit seating capacity inside restaurants to 25%

3. Prohibit any seating inside bars – takeout/delivery only

4. Reduce the number of individuals allowed at Mass Gatherings held inside any property to 10

5. Reduce the number of individuals allowed at Mass Gatherings held outside to 25

6. Require businesses to post PHMDC signage for employees

7. Limit the number of students allowed in summer school classrooms to the same level as childcare

Public Health has also updates the Forward Dane plan – draft attached – and developed "Rebound Metrics" that will guide how we move into more restrictions.

Hello Joe,
I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Peyton David and I live at 314 N Broom St, Madison, WI.
I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).
As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.
Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?
Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.
Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.
Sincerely,

Your Dane County constituent

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Destiny Smoot and I live at 625 Skyview Place #1 Madison Wisconsin 53713.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. Dear Joe,

As a Dane County constituent, I ask that you please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Before the COVID lockdown, I visited the jail regularly to provide yoga practices to the women who are incarcerated in the "public safety" building. My experiences align with the research done by the Derail the Jail coalition a few years ago - many people that our community incarcerates are there for non-violent drug offenses or because they cannot afford bail. This makes our jail a debtor's prison and a drug treatment facility - neither of which are just or compassionate.

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Morgan Mayer-Jochimsen

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Marcel Bogucki and I live at 128 E Johnson St.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

County Board Members and County Justices,

I am voicing my support of resolution 145, you must halt the funding of the new county jail.

I do not want to see further funding of systems that have proven to be overwhelmingly racist in their practices.

Please listen to the voices of the underprivileged and disenfranchised who will be more significantly impacted by this jail expansion.

Redirect these funds to schools where teachers like me can work proactively to ensure that all young people have resources, mentors to look up to, and safe up-to-date learning environments which will lower incarceration rates. Redirect these funds to hire Black / POC teachers and antiracist / ally educators who will challenge our biased curriculum and create restorative justice practices in all school buildings.

We need better schools, not more jails....

Sincerely,
Amy Froelich

I wanted to share a photo of our beautiful, OUTDOOR 50 acre, 10,000 capacity, easily social distanced facility. It's clearly an OUTDOOR PLACE OF AMUSEMENT AND ACTIVITY. This is from Friday night, 7:30 pm when the National Anthem would be sung and non-contact cars would be racing on the half mile track. Our fans would be socially distancing easily. They would all arrive and leave at staggered times (much different than MASS GATHERING INDOOR movie theaters).

Have a great Monday, I will check in again tomorrow where we can hopefully begin an open dialogue so the people you see in that photo can get back to work and open safely and pay their mounting bills - like the vast majority of other Dane County businesses have been allowed to do.

Our seasonal business has now lost another weekend and we would greatly appreciate any direction in regards to future capacity limits and changes to such within the Forward Dane Order. We are hearing that Illinois will allow facilities such as race tracks and other outdoor sporting events to open at 25% capacity on June 26.

Again, we are open to continuing to work with you all on this, but would greatly appreciate a line of communication so we can plan our next steps with our business. As you can imagine, between the amount of protestors, the release of Emergency Order #4 allowing 25% capacity at churches and speedways throughout the state being open for business without issue, we continue to seek a fair resolution that will allow the survival of our family business.

A response would be greatly appreciated as not knowing continues to create great emotional strain on our family as a whole. Thank you.

Bonnie,

My wife Angie and I own and operate Madison Speedway in rural Rutland township between Oregon and Stoughton. With today's announcement concerning Emergency Order #4 in regards to a 25% capacity limit now allowed at churches vs the previous 50 person limit, is it possible to have an open discussion in regards to % limits versus a number limit for outdoor venues such as ours? Currently we are being held to 50 people with a 250 limit currently set during Phase 3 of the Forward Dane document.

With nearly 50 acres and hosting spectator events each Friday night throughout the summer and the second Thursday of each month, our remaining July, August and September schedule consists of a total of 13 spectator events. Currently, our local Walgreens has a greater capacity than our venue. We are more than willing to work with you all on a plan that will allow us to reopen, the current and future imposed attendance restrictions will likely force us to close our business. Thank you for any insight you can provide.

We have canceled all of our spectator events through June and just want to get an idea of whether 250 is still a solid number looking ahead to phase 3 or if another limit has been discussed. Now that we have another weekend behind us:

Can you explain how a June 27 game for Forward Madison FC at Breese Stevens Field is selling tickets online with no distancing between seats, no policy posted and the ability to buy up to 25 seats. By all indications this should not be allowed according to your order, what's fair for one is fair for all.

Additionally, we were out of town opening our business in La Crosse County over the weekend but have had multiple reports of large gatherings throughout the city and county for music and more including an organized protest. Meanwhile, countless race tracks have opened across the state including in adjacent counties.

We will continue to ask for an open communication about our family owned and operated business as long as we see the inconsistency of your order and how it is applied to businesses like ours. We continue to be closed while other indoor ticket selling businesses are permitted to open under your order while rotating clients throughout the day, 7 days a week, in the same seats and common areas.

We continue to ask for a percentage allowance as you have granted other businesses in our county, businesses that do not have the ability to social distance as we do at our 10,000 seat outdoor 50 acre facility. While the zoo, movie theaters, miniature golf and bowling alleys are allowed to operate at 25%, our business is held to 50 people.

We believe that if you were to make a site visit to our facility it would become clear that your order is incorrect in it's limitation of our ability to operate our business.

Is there somebody else that we need to talk to? This is our family owned and operated business that we have dedicated 27 years plus (since I was 14, and even before) towards building, it is of utmost importance to us that we are allowed to open just as other businesses are being allowed to. We understand that we are a niche business, but we should not be penalized for being one. We have a plan in place and are ready to go.

We do not understand how indoor operations are allowed to open at 25% capacity when we may not be allowed to, many with more interaction and touch points than we have here. For example, the following indoor businesses are allowed to open at 25% during phase 1 (Which I think is great)

-Restaurants and Bars

-Retail

-Gym/Recreational facilities

-Indoor Shopping Malls

-Licensed Swimming Pools

-Indoor Places of Art and Culture (Movie Theaters, going to the races is exactly the same as going to a movie, in every aspect other than we are outside)

-Bowling Alleys

We feel that we are an outdoor place of amusement and activity, if amusement parks, zoos and miniature golf can be open, we surely can be as well. How do any of the above qualify any more than we do? Especially the indoor facilities with numerous points of contact.

Please let us know if there is someone else we need to contact to share our story or when you may be able to provide us more direction. We deserve to know by tomorrow if not before. Thank you for your time.

- -Competitors are limited to 6 people total per team.
- -Teams must stay in their own pit area.
- -6' Distance to be required on spotters stand and in pit stands We have painted every other board white and blue to help distance, most stand along top of hill.
- -Drivers meeting will be via public address system, there will be no gathering in pit area.
- -Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.

- -All team members must agree in writing that they will adhere to all policies and restrictions prior to entering the restricted area and will be encouraged to wear face coverings

In our Main Seating Area

-We will limit attendance to 2,000 (20%) spectators for our May 29, June 5, June 11 and June 12 events and then work with health officials to expand capacity limits from that point. At no time in 2020 will we ask for greater than 50% capacity

- Additionally we are prepared to have ushers help direct groups to open areas to ensure distancing in grandstands, forming family seating arrangements of 2-4-6 with 6 feet of spacing between seating groups, utilizing measurement tools as needed.

-All concession stands will be equipped with plexi glass to separate attendees from staff

-Concession lines will be limited to one person per group, queuing areas will also be clearly marked with distancing markings

-Hand Sanitizer (already acquired) will be available throughout the facility at key locations including gates and concession areas

-Two employees will be responsible for monitoring and disinfecting high touch areas as well as rest rooms during each event.

-Use of face coverings highly encouraged

--Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.

We are open to further suggestions, and look forward to working with you. Currently, the only weekly race tracks in the state unable to open are Madison International Speedway and Angell Park Speedway in Sun Prairie. Subject: Support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution for No New Jail

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Lynne MacAdam and I live at 1924 E Dayton St., Madison.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Lynne MacAdam
Your Dane County Constituent

Subject: Order #8

Mr. Parisi,
I highly suggest that you rescind this order immediately with the constitutional fact that the health department had no authority to write laws. The Wisconsin State Supreme Court has ruled on this and this does not make you or the health department above the law. You know darn well this is an abuse of power and you are allowing this to happen.
When did we as citizens give away this type of authority? Remember that you are an elected official. Who either can be recalled and voted out of office.
Also it is time to actually get physicians that actually practice medicine to be in these press conferences. We have 3 major hospitals in this county and for some odd reason we can only hear from Public Health officials that appear to only have a degree in Public Health not a Medical Doctor degree practicing medicine.
It is time to end this especially per the CDC suggest counting probable cases in with positive cases artificially inflates the numbers.

Thank you,
Derek Statz

Good morning, Joe,

My name is Mary Jo Vitale, daughter-in-law of Joe and Donna Vitale. I often wonder what our parents are thinking as they look down on this mess from the heavens. One thing for certain is that your mom and dad certainly are proud of you and your work.

My husband, Joe, and I were talking last night about, take a guess, reopening the school. As the principal of the largest private school in the area it is a daunting task. Joe works as a maintenance person at Queen of Peace, I am the principal, and my son Jon is the IT specialist. Joe mentioned to contact you to see if we could chat. I would love to talk with you to help me get clarity to this. I know it's ALOT to ask, given your position, but, what the heck, what do I have to lose?

I hope the family is safe and healthy.

Take care,

Dear Joe Parisi,

You are invited to join me, along with State, County, and Health System Executives to participate in a timely National Executive Roundtable on the topic of COVID-19 Learnings: Opportunity or Set-back?

Given the importance of this dialogue we are providing two dates for you to choose from:

1. Weds, July 22nd from 1:00 to 2:00 PM Eastern – Register Here
2. Weds, August 5th from 1:00 to 2:00 PM Eastern – Register Here

The purpose of these two executive roundtables is to gain frontline insights and learnings and to explore together the innovative public/private partnership case studies that are showing real promise. Dr. Roger Spoelman, an experienced health system CEO, who is now actively engaged in his Community supporting their response to the COVID-19 crisis, will be the discussion moderator. I hope your schedule allows you to attend! These exclusive Leader Dialogue events are hosted by the Baldrige Foundation in collaboration with SOAR Vision Group and Central Logic and will be conducted virtually. There is no cost to attend.

Please refer to the attached flyer to learn more. Given the compressed timeframe, I encourage you to sign-up promptly in order to reserve your place.

Look forward to interacting with you soon!

My best regards,

Al

The Novel Coronavirus

- As of this morning, there are 3,071 people who have tested positive for coronavirus in Dane County. Of those, 1,919 individuals have recovered.

- Starting today, people must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health care settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation.
- Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.
- See Public Health Madison & Dane County's face covering webpage for more information.
- Visit Public Health's Data Dashboard for the latest on COVID-19 case counts, hospitalizations, deaths, tests by date, and more.

Masks and distance are really the two most effective means of slowing the spread of COVID-19. Given the recent rapid increases in cases in our county, it's imperative we take this step now to try and slow the spread of COVID-19 through our community. Nothing that's happening right now is easy or normal, but it's what we must do – come together as a community and put everything we have into keeping one another safe.

We've doubled our partnership with Second Harvest to $6 million, which will increase deliveries to Dane County food pantries through the end of October and help even more residents and local food producers

We are partnering with Badger Prairie Needs Network to build a 1,000 sq ft expansion of their cold storage facility and address shortages in frozen food storage during the COVID-19 pandemic

Dane County launched a more than $10 million emergency package to prevent evictions and help stabilize housing for families during this uncertain time

We've purchased 3,500 COVID-19 test kits for first repsonders belonging to police, fire, and EMS departments in Dane County who seek reassurance after a potential coronavirus exposure

Conservation & Environmental News

We recently unveiled new technology that is being tested to vacuum out hazardous blue-green algae blooms and decaying plants near local beaches to keep them safe and healthy.

To help promote pollinator habitat, UW-Madison's Gratton Lab and the Dane County Environmental Council have launched a new, free online tool for Dane County residents to use.

In June, our first-in-the-nation renewable natural gas (RNG) offloading station at the Dane County Landfill received its first load of RNG from a manure digester in the Yahara Watershed.

We're moving forward on our historic 160-acre restoration project to expand the Pheasant Branch Conservancy. Saving this property from development and restoring it to prairie will prevent the runoff of nearly 5 million gallons of water from entering the Yahara Lakes each year.

Our sediment removal project in the Yahara Chain of Lakes is underway! We hope to remove more than 3,000 dump truck loads of sediment during the first phase of the initiative. This will help improve water flow, flood storage capacity, and fish and wildlife habitat. Check out our video to get a closer look!

Conservation & Environmental News

We recently unveiled new technology that is being tested to vacuum out hazardous blue-green algae blooms and decaying plants near local beaches to keep them safe and healthy.

To help promote pollinator habitat, UW-Madison's Gratton Lab and the Dane County Environmental Council have launched a new, free online tool for Dane County residents to use.

In June, our first-in-the-nation renewable natural gas (RNG) offloading station at the Dane County Landfill received its first load of RNG from a manure digester in the Yahara Watershed.

We're moving forward on our historic 160-acre restoration project to expand the Pheasant Branch Conservancy. Saving this property from development and restoring it to prairie will prevent the runoff of nearly 5 million gallons of water from entering the Yahara Lakes each year.

Our sediment removal project in the Yahara Chain of Lakes is underway! We hope to remove more than 3,000 dump truck loads of sediment during the first phase of the initiative. This will help improve water flow, flood storage capacity, and fish and wildlife habitat. Check out our video to get a closer look!

The Novel Coronavirus

- As of this morning, there are 3,071 people who have tested positive for coronavirus in Dane County. Of those, 1,919 individuals have recovered.

- Starting today, people must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health care settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation.
- Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.
- See Public Health Madison & Dane County's face covering webpage for more information.
- Visit Public Health's Data Dashboard for the latest on COVID-19 case counts, hospitalizations, deaths, tests by date, and more.

Masks and distance are really the two most effective means of slowing the spread of COVID-19. Given the recent rapid increases in cases in our county, it's imperative we take this step now to try and slow the spread of COVID-19 through our community. Nothing that's happening right now is easy or normal, but it's what we must do – come together as a community and put everything we have into keeping one another safe.

We've doubled our partnership with Second Harvest to $6 million, which will increase deliveries to Dane County food pantries through the end of October and help even more residents and local food producers

We are partnering with Badger Prairie Needs Network to build a 1,000 sq ft expansion of their cold storage facility and address shortages in frozen food storage during the COVID-19 pandemic

Dane County launched a more than $10 million emergency package to prevent evictions and help stabilize housing for families during this uncertain time

We've purchased 3,500 COVID-19 test kits for first repsonders belonging to police, fire, and EMS departments in Dane County who seek reassurance after a potential coronavirus exposure

Last week, I joined Ruben Anthony, President and CEO of the Urban League of Greater Madison, to announce that $100,000 in county funds will go to the Urban League for planning assistance to create an economic development hub for the South Park Street corridor and support minority-owned businesses.

The project will be modeled after the Sherman Phoenix project in Milwaukee, an entrepreneurial hub in the Sherman Park neighborhood providing high-quality commercial space and support for small businesses.

We are excited to partner with the Urban League of Greater Madison in this effort to locate a space where the talent and potential of entrepreneurs can flourish.

To help promote pollinator habitat, UW-Madison's Gratton Lab and the Dane County Environmental Council have launched a new, free online tool for Dane County residents to use.

In June, our first-in-the-nation renewable natural gas (RNG) offloading station at the Dane County Landfill received its first load of RNG from a manure digester in the Yahara Watershed.

We're moving forward on our historic 160-acre restoration project to expand the Pheasant Branch Conservancy. Saving this property from development and restoring it to prairie will prevent the runoff of nearly 5 million gallons of water from entering the Yahara Lakes each year.

Our sediment removal project in the Yahara Chain of Lakes is underway! We hope to remove more than 3,000 dump truck loads of sediment during the first phase of the initiative. This will help improve water flow, flood storage capacity, and fish and wildlife habitat. Check out our video to get a closer look!

The Novel Coronavirus

- As of this morning, there are 3,071 people who have tested positive for coronavirus in Dane County. Of those, 1,919 individuals have recovered.

- Starting today, people must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health care settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation.
- Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.
- See Public Health Madison & Dane County's face covering webpage for more information.
- Visit Public Health's Data Dashboard for the latest on COVID-19 case counts, hospitalizations, deaths, tests by date, and more.

Masks and distance are really the two most effective means of slowing the spread of COVID-19. Given the recent rapid increases in cases in our county, it's imperative we take this step now to try and slow the spread of COVID-19 through our community. Nothing that's happening right now is easy or normal, but it's what we must do – come together as a community and put everything we have into keeping one another safe.

We've doubled our partnership with Second Harvest to $6 million, which will increase deliveries to Dane County food pantries through the end of October and help even more residents and local food producers

We are partnering with Badger Prairie Needs Network to build a 1,000 sq ft expansion of their cold storage facility and address shortages in frozen food storage during the COVID-19 pandemic

Dane County launched a more than $10 million emergency package to prevent evictions and help stabilize housing for families during this uncertain time

We've purchased 3,500 COVID-19 test kits for first repsonders belonging to police, fire, and EMS departments in Dane County who seek reassurance after a potential coronavirus exposure

Last week, I joined Ruben Anthony, President and CEO of the Urban League of Greater Madison, to announce that $100,000 in county funds will go to the Urban League for planning assistance to create an economic development hub for the South Park Street corridor and support minority-owned businesses.

The project will be modeled after the Sherman Phoenix project in Milwaukee, an entrepreneurial hub in the Sherman Park neighborhood providing high-quality commercial space and support for small businesses.

We are excited to partner with the Urban League of Greater Madison in this effort to locate a space where the talent and potential of entrepreneurs can flourish.

In June, our first-in-the-nation renewable natural gas (RNG) offloading station at the Dane County Landfill received its first load of RNG from a manure digester in the Yahara Watershed.

We're moving forward on our historic 160-acre restoration project to expand the Pheasant Branch Conservancy. Saving this property from development and restoring it to prairie will prevent the runoff of nearly 5 million gallons of water from entering the Yahara Lakes each year.

Our sediment removal project in the Yahara Chain of Lakes is underway! We hope to remove more than 3,000 dump truck loads of sediment during the first phase of the initiative. This will help improve water flow, flood storage capacity, and fish and wildlife habitat. Check out our video to get a closer look!

The Novel Coronavirus

- As of this morning, there are 3,071 people who have tested positive for coronavirus in Dane County. Of those, 1,919 individuals have recovered.

- Starting today, people must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health care settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation.
- Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.
- See Public Health Madison & Dane County's face covering webpage for more information.
- Visit Public Health's Data Dashboard for the latest on COVID-19 case counts, hospitalizations, deaths, tests by date, and more.

Masks and distance are really the two most effective means of slowing the spread of COVID-19. Given the recent rapid increases in cases in our county, it's imperative we take this step now to try and slow the spread of COVID-19 through our community. Nothing that's happening right now is easy or normal, but it's what we must do – come together as a community and put everything we have into keeping one another safe.

We've doubled our partnership with Second Harvest to $6 million, which will increase deliveries to Dane County food pantries through the end of October and help even more residents and local food producers

We are partnering with Badger Prairie Needs Network to build a 1,000 sq ft expansion of their cold storage facility and address shortages in frozen food storage during the COVID-19 pandemic

Dane County launched a more than $10 million emergency package to prevent evictions and help stabilize housing for families during this uncertain time

We've purchased 3,500 COVID-19 test kits for first repsonders belonging to police, fire, and EMS departments in Dane County who seek reassurance after a potential coronavirus exposure

Last week, I joined Ruben Anthony, President and CEO of the Urban League of Greater Madison, to announce that $100,000 in county funds will go to the Urban League for planning assistance to create an economic development hub for the South Park Street corridor and support minority-owned businesses.

The project will be modeled after the Sherman Phoenix project in Milwaukee, an entrepreneurial hub in the Sherman Park neighborhood providing high-quality commercial space and support for small businesses.

We are excited to partner with the Urban League of Greater Madison in this effort to locate a space where the talent and potential of entrepreneurs can flourish.

Conservation & Environmental News

We recently unveiled new technology that is being tested to vacuum out hazardous blue-green algae blooms and decaying plants near local beaches to keep them safe and healthy.

To help promote pollinator habitat, UW-Madison's Gratton Lab and the Dane County Environmental Council have launched a new, free online tool for Dane County residents to use.

COVID-19
The Novel Coronavirus

- As of this morning, there are 3,071 people who have tested positive for coronavirus in Dane County. Of those, 1,919 individuals have recovered.

- Starting today, people must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health care settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation.
- Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.
- See Public Health Madison & Dane County's face covering webpage for more information.
- Visit Public Health's Data Dashboard for the latest on COVID-19 case counts, hospitalizations, deaths, tests by date, and more.

Masks and distance are really the two most effective means of slowing the spread of COVID-19. Given the recent rapid increases in cases in our county, it's imperative we take this step now to try and slow the spread of COVID-19 through our community. Nothing that's happening right now is easy or normal, but it's what we must do – come together as a community and put everything we have into keeping one another safe.

PACIFIC OFFSHORE WIND WEBINAR SERIES

Advancing Offshore Wind in California during Covid

Thursday, July 16, 2020
10:00-11:30am PDT

Presented by Offshore Wind California and INFOCAST

Offshore wind will offer many benefits to California as the state seeks to reach its ambitious clean energy and climate goals. This untapped resource will complement the existing supply of solar and onshore wind, help balance the grid, and provide a major boost to the state's economy.

Federal and state agencies continue to actively plan and conduct stakeholder outreach for the development of a sustainable offshore wind industry for California, notwithstanding delays cause by the coronavirus pandemic.

Please join us for the first in a series of webinars, Advancing Offshore Wind in California during Covid, as top federal and state officials and other experts share updates on development plans.

COVID-19 SURVEY
FOR JULY 2020 ESTIMATES

PLEASE DISTRIBUTE TO RENTAL HOUSING PROVIDERS AND MANAGERS

MONTHLY SURVEY THROUGH 2020

Dane County and the state of Wisconsin have both announced rental assistance programs using federal CARES Act resources for tenants experiencing Covid19-related income loss.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this survey is to gain real-time understanding of the impact of COVID19 on renters and landlords/property owners in the City of Madison and Dane County. This information will help city, county, and non-profit agencies plan and evaluate ongoing housing assistance program needs.

SURVEY LINK

CONFIDENTIALITY

All answers are confidential and no personal or property information will be collected or identifiable. Please do not identify tenants by name or list the address of your property/properties. Individual survey responses will not be published; only combined data from all survey responses will be published.

TIME

This survey has 16 questions and will take approximately 5-7 minutes to complete.

RESPONDENT

The person who answers this survey should be an owner of rental properties, a property manager, or an employee of a property management company and have knowledge of the current status of units they own or manage.

CONTACT

This survey is a partnership between the City of Madison, Dane County and the University of Wisconsin–Madison and is being conducted by Prof. Kurt Paulsen at UW-Madison. For more information, please contact Kurt Paulsen at kpaulsen@wisc.edu, Linette Rhodes at LRhodes@cityofmadison.com, or Olivia Parry at parry@countyofdane.com.

Joe,

I'm writing to you because of the lack of rural broadband in the rural areas.

While Dane County is not as bad as other counties, waiting for 5G is not the answer.

So we have formed a coalition of companies that install wireless systems in the market to move this issue in another direction.

Like usual, throwing money at a problem is not working. The current funding is discombobulated to the point of no organized system and places to be deployed.

All it is right now is major companies building the back-bone off the American Tax Payer, with nothing to show for it. With that wiring for rural broadband is not cost effective.
Thus we are leaving a lot of people and schools in the dust. We are not using the 2.5GHz. bandwidth set-aside for schools. Which should be used for distant learning especially now with this virus.

So we are suggesting that the Counties in each state play a crucial role in implementing a wireless service in each county under the new ATSC 3.0 guideline of broadcast standards.

I enclosed just an overview on how it would work.

We would greatly appreciate your feedback if you think this would work. I will then work through the Governor's office for understand all the way through Pocan and Baldwin as well.

I was just tested and the site at the Colosseum is well done!

Regards,

Jeff Schumann

Note: My business is designing the new ATSC 3.0 box for production here in Wisconsin. We hope we can get the government support behind this product!

Can you explain to me why large group protests like took place in Middleton this weekend are allowed while teenagers are not allowed to play baseball in Dane County? Are you intentionally creating hostility with young people when they witness this double standard? Are you afraid of the press or the threat of violence, while you know young men who just want to play the game they love will not creat any waves?

I just wanted to voice my anger at this double standard.

Dear Aaron,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

As a resident of Dane county, I demand your support of Supervisor Doyle's resolution to halt the $148M jail plan, commit to ending systemic racism in our criminal justice system, and pursue solutions to reduce to zero the number of incarcerated people in Dane County including via non law enforcement crisis response services.

Sup. Doyle's courageous leadership (and Sup. Kilmer's co-sponsorship) in this direction is commendable, and the beginning of our healing process.

Acting for those actively hurt by way we have structured our community is how we will build a better community for us all.

Dear Dane County Board, County Executive Parisi, and Supervisor Chawla -

I support Supervisor Liz Doyle's Resolution to halt jail spending and address systemic racism through transformative justice. Wisconsin ranks among the worst of the 50 states on many measures of racial disparity. Our state incarcerates more people than other democratic countries. We need to take this seriously. Activist Ady Barkan recently said that our budget is a reflection of our morals. Let's do what's right in this moment and support Supervisor Doyle's resolution. And let's do what's right for the future and redirect funds to new systems of transformative justice.

Dear Respectable Elected Officials,

I'm reaching out to ask that you please support County Supervisor Doyle's resolution against expansion of the Dane County Jail.

This is NOT THE TIME to be investing money in a jail expansion! Jail expansions will not decrease crime. The only way to decrease crime is through investments into our communities. The COVID pandemic has shown that we do not need to hold so many people in that jail! We need to pivot to what is most important to our communities and ask "what kind of community do I want to live in, do I want to create?

I want to create a community that doesn't have people in jail because of poverty and lack of opportunity.

I want to create a community where justice is served by providing for peoples' needs.

I want to create a community where ALL people can call 911 for help without fear.

I want to create a community that is not scared to take certain risks for the end goal of bettering our society and that will serve as a beacon for the rest of the country.

I want to create a community where all people can be involved in its decisions.

Thank you for caring about your community and for doing the work that you do everyday.

Your constituent,

Tracy Peterson

Hello,

My name is Sarah Beach and I live at 890 Sky Ridge Drive, 53719, in District 1 of Madison. I am writing because I want you to ask your supervisor to support the Doyle Resolution to halt the $148 million dollar jail pan.

For too long we have looked to address crime and poverty with a harsh sentence and more imprisonment. However, this focus on punishment has led only to more crime and more prisons, not a better society. If we want to address recidivism, we need to look more deeply than just a crime committed and how much time we can give a person. We need to address racist and classist policies that lead to harsher sentences and uneven chance at opportunity and security, and learn to bring in restorative justice and forgiveness into the justice system.

We need to be braver. Politicians saw the Willy Horton commercials and decided that no one could ever be granted mercy again. People are ready to rise above that; there is widespread condemnation and frustration at the criminal justice system. We can take this first step to dismantle it.

Thank you for your attention and service to Madison,

Sarah Beach

My name is Alicia Shoberg and I am a resident of Fitchburg, working in the city of Madison. I live in County District 27, Supervisor Dorothy Krause.

Supervisor Krause and to whom else it may concern,

I URGE you to support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to halt the $148M jail plan, commit to ending systemic racism in our criminal justice system, and pursue solutions to reduce the number of incarcerated people in Dane County.

If we in Madison/Dane County want to be seen as a leader in our state and our country, we need to make real, tangible changes to our criminal justice system, as well as all other systems and policies that work within the prison industrial complex.
We need to accept our faults and work tirelessly to create a better society for our marginalized communities. We do not need new jail facilities. We need support, facilities, and resources for our vulnerable citizens! We need restorative justice and service-models for our criminal justice systems.

Please, be a leader in this decisive moment for our country and state. We can make real change here, and it starts with the decisions of our local leaders. Please support the Doyle Resolution.

Hi my name is Mara Melter
I live at 1142 jenifer st, madison wi 53703
I fully support and encourage your support for supervisor doyal's resolution. Its extremely important to take these actions seriously. We do not need more money funneled into our prison systems. That budget can be used for far better things in our community.

ADDRESSING SYSTEMIC RACISM IN THE DANE COUNTY CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM AND INVESTING IN ALTERNATIVES TO INCARCERATOIN OUTSIDE OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

Dane County has the opportunity to challenge the systemic racism and racial disparities in our criminal justice system and in our community. Currently, the County has plans to spend $148 million on new jail facilities.

During the COVID-19 pandemic Dane County has shown that it can substantially lower the jail population.

Many previous recommendations for reforming the criminal justice system remain to be implemented.

Violence against people of color by law enforcement both locally and nationally has brought a change in priorities for the community and Dane County Government.

The United States incarcerates more people, most of whom are people of color, than any other nation. Both the United States and Dane County have expanded the scope and role of law enforcement over the years. Dane County has followed the national trend to allow the militarization of law enforcement changing the relationship between police and the community.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that Dane County will immediately halt all planning, design, architecture, and construction of a new jail facility; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that preliminary plans be developed to use the office space in the Public Safety Building for additional jail beds and assessment of remote hospital sites and community based recovery sites to handle mental health needs of residents take place to address inhumane conditions in the current facility, and

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED that Dane County will review and implement recommendations to lower the jail population and minimize the role of law enforcement, including but not limited to:

1. Add representatives of communities of color to the Criminal Justice Council;

2. Implement virtual weekend court to lower jail population and prevent unnecessary incarceration of lower income residents;

3. Eliminate the Huber program and transfer treatment and monitoring functions to the Dane County Human Services Department, as is done in LaCrosse County;

4. Develop sentences that limit incarceration and instead focus on restorative justice that help victims and the community;

5. Dramatically reduce the use of the Dane County jail for the housing of probation and parole holds and urge the state to speed up their own adjudication and eliminate jail time for minor probation and parole offenses;

6. Review charging and sentencing decisions against leading practices nationally in order to reduce the amount of jail time recommended;

7. Lower the Average Length of Stay (ALS) and enforce time standards on in custody cases;

8. Prioritize the writing of tickets instead of jail for minor offenses by local law enforcement;

9. Create inventory of local law enforcement use of force policies throughout the County;

10. Change the incentive system in the criminal justice system from punitive to restorative by providing transparency in the criminal justice system. Publish racial disparity and incarceration statistics on the Dane County website for all actors in the criminal justice system. Begin by publishing incarceration statistics including racial disparity statistics for all Dane County judges.

11. Continue to increase the use of electronic monitoring beyond the current number;

12. Increase the use of restorative courts and implement a mental health court to divert mental health cases.

Dane County Board,

I am a resident of District 12 and a small business owner in District 4. I am fully in support of Elizabeth Doyle's Resolution.

We need to reimagine how we fund projects in Dane County and focus our resources away from jails and imprisonment and invest in black communities which are most disproportionally impacted by State violence and incarceration. The racial makeup of our county compared to the racial demographics in the Dane County Jail is egregious and embarrassing.

The Analysis by The JFA Institute had our county's jail population at 45.9% black as of 4/25/19. The 2010 census had our county at 5.2% black. AGAIN, 5.2% of Dane County residents are black and 45.9% of our jail population is black. Next to the definition of racial disparity, a dictionary editor could easily put, "see Dane County." Doesn't Madison and Dane County have a reputation as being forward thinking and a top place to raise a family? I guess unless you are a person of color.

I've never felt more compelled to make my voice heard. This is a time for bold action and I implore you to be the leaders with a conscience who say no more to the racial and social injustices that continue to harm our fellow humans of color.

Please support Elizabeth Doyle's resolution. Let's move Wisconsin forward for everyone and not continue the cycle of imprisoning people of color.

Dear Lindsey,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Dear County Board members,

I urge you to support Sup. Doyle's resolution to stop the $148 million jail plan.

A year ago, you heard impassioned pleas from members of our community who are most affected by systemic racism and state violence asking you to not fund new jail facilities. You did not listen. Now is your chance to do better.

I live in district 2. I am thankful for the leadership and support of my Supervisor, Heidi Wegleitner, on this issue.

Sincerely,
Lindsey Lund

Hello Dane County Board,

I am a resident of District 12 and I am 100% in support of the Doyle Resolution!!!

We need to divest from cages and imprisonment and invest in black communities by redirecting this $$ to communities that are MOST disproportionally impacted by State violence and incarceration nationally but in particular here in Dane County.

Black Lives Matter! And we can only truly accomplish this by not allowing millions of dollars to continue to be invested in the very system that oppresses them.

Thank you,
Jessica Dufault

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Youbin Kang and I live at 125 N Ingersoll Street, 53703.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Your Dane County Constituent

Dear County Board,

As a Madison resident, I strongly support the resolution to halt the $148M jail plan, commit to ending systemic racism in our criminal justice system, and pursue solutions to reduce the number of incarcerated people in Dane County including non law enforcement crisis response services. This is a critical moment and watershed time for Dane County to show it is ready to do the work around racial justice. This would be such a positive direction in the right step towards implementing real change. Please support this amendment.

Dear Madisen,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Joe Parisi

Hello Joe,

I am Madisen Basey and I live in Stoughton.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Madisen Basey

Hello,

My name is Catherine and I'm one of your constituents. I live at 1115 Chandler St.

I would like to express my support for Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, these funds would do much greater good when reinvested into communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.)

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community. Only when we reinvest in our local community support systems will we build a stronger Madison. We should be cultivating the community we want for ALL -- and that means listening to those most affected by punitive policies and institutions.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Catherine

Hello,

I am writing to request that the full Dane County Board support the resolution proposed by Sup. Doyle regarding the new jail project and related issues of incarceration systems and investment in healthier communities. Change is possible, and these concrete steps are well thought out options for us. These changes are urgent, critical, and are the right strategies to help our community thrive. Please pass this resolution.

Thank you,

Hello Yasmin,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Dear County Executive Parisi,

I am a constituent of Dane County and live at 12 North Butler Street.

I'm writing to express my support for Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Yasmin Schamiloglu

Dane County Highway and other departments are filled with nothing but racist good old boys. Has been that way for years, but nobody ever said much. Even with what happened in the last months, plenty of guys still dropping the n word and making jokes about the minorities we have. Stop down at Country Corner Bar on a Friday, look for the guys from highway, and you'd think it was a KKK rally. Guys walking around saying that "All Lives Matter" bs just to piss people off. Hell...there used to be a guy at the Fish Hatch shop who would have "racist Tuesdays" and you could make all the racist jokes or comments you wanted around him. (But you went and promoted him to be a supervisor out at the landfill. Pretty sure that's why most of the students in Jerry's training program spent so much time doing nothing but picking paper out there I heard.) The training program Jerry stared was a good idea, but didn't train them for what we needed. It didn't help that there were lot of rumors that students were just "given" jobs, and that Jerry changed the tests so they could pass. So most guys never gave them a chance or showed them how to do good work when they got hired. People tried to push for better training for them, but they got pushed down and Jerry got rid the committee that was going to do that. So they came to highway without most of the skill they needed. People hated them before they even got there. Some of them have done pretty well and I call some of them friends, but it was a tough road for them and still is. We've been on crews together and they talk about how people treat them. It's pretty bad sometimes they've said, but can't speak up. It's a mob here and the mob beats you down. Doesn't matter who you are. Supervisors are just as bad though. With everyone talking about listening and making change, maybe it's time to clean out the barn and start over.

I don't know how we can change this but it has to happen. But just like everywhere else in County, if you speak up the County targets you. They do a "investigation" just to say they looked into it, but it's just for show. Nothing changes and it's just paperwork trail to cover their asses. Nobody talks or tells the truth because you get targeted after that by coworkers and supervisors. I can't step forward right now to say who said and did what, but I can say that racism is all over highway, landfill and parks. I'm one person and this is the only way I know how to safely make things change for others. Nobody deserves to be treated the ways those guys have been.

I've been with the County for a long time. Seen lot of things happen and people come and go. I understand that anonymous emails don't go far, but until I'm retired and away from the County, I can't come forward. I don't think anyone else will either. Sure doesn't mean that the problem isn't still there.

Dear Executive Parisi,
I sent you an email earlier today, and am emailing again to further clarify my support for Supervisor Elizabeth Doyle's resolution.
I am a constituent of Dane County in Supervisory District 12. My name is Megan Mrozek and I live at 2022 Elka Lane Apt 7, Madison WI 53704.
I am sure you are receiving a lot of emails following this similar script, and I want to assure you that I whole-heartedly share the sentiments and demands expressed in this email.
I want to express my support for Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. I agree that we must allocate those funds toward community needs for food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.

As your constituent, regarding Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail, please add it to the agenda tonight and support it.

Dear County Executive Parisi,

I am a resident and constituent in Dane County. My name is Sarah Chodorow and I live at 413 Ring St. Tonight Supervisor Doyle is introducing a resolution to divert funding that is currently slated to build a new jail. I am writing to you to express my support of the reallocation of these funds, and to urge you to also support it. The nearly $200 million the county has allocated to a new jail should be spent on initiatives that provide affordable housing, healthcare, and education.
Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. While this was sparked by a global pandemic, our community must prioritize continuing to empty our jail and investing in initiatives that build community resilience. We see that the criminal justice system can operate this way now; we must rise to the occasion and continue in this way, without locking people up.

Despite my support of this resolution, I would also like to express my concern about proposal #11 in this resolution, which indicates a plan to increase use of electronic monitoring. Our current pandemic is such that a decrease in the jail population is urgent. However, I do not support an increase in electronic monitoring. The restrictions placed on individuals on electronic monitoring hold them to impossible standards and predisposes them to reincarceration and an ongoing cycle of legal system involvement. I do not believe that reliance on electronic monitoring paves the way to transforming our legal system, it simply enmeshes people further in a system that does not recognize their humanity.

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community. We must invest in approaches to justice that promote healing rather than caging human beings.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out a number of people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail? We don't.

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community!

Dear Jordyn,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Hello there Mr. Parisi,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Jordyn Riemer and I live at 303 Princeton Ave.

Incarceration does not keep people safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect hose funds into the community. These funds can do much more as investments into communities and as a way to reduce the need for many crimes to occur in the first place.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the new jail.

With highest regards,

Dear Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Anatoly Detwyler, and my address is 333 W Mifflin St, Unit 4070, in Madison.

I firmly and enthusiastically support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. This is an important issue and many in our community are watching keenly. I join many others in the belief that the funds are better used for real and tangible community good, such as food, education, public transportation, parks, and so on.

As your constituent, regarding Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail, I urge you in the strongest possible terms, please add it to the agenda tonight and support it.

I have learned that, due to COVID precautions, the current jail has let out many people, and that it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

In the simplest terms: incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please add & support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Anatoly Detwyler

Dear Supervisor Stubbs,

I am a Dane County constituent in your district. I support Supervisor Elizabeth Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail and instead redirect those funds to community needs that support alternatives to incarceration (i.e., food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).
As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

We know from measures taken during the current Covid pandemic that it is possible to significantly reduce the jail population. We have an opportunity to keep it that way, seek alternatives to incarceration, and redirect the millions of dollars involved in jail expansion to community needs that help keep people out of jail. Let's use this opportunity to make fundamental change. As has been demonstrated time and time again, new jail construction only upholds the status quo and disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Dear Joe,

I am a resident of Dane County District 6, and I live at 1703 Rowland Ave, Madison. I am writing in support of Supervisor Doyle's resolution to stop funding of the new county jail.

It is time that our county invest in our communities of color, and that money could be better spent making our communities safer by directing these funds into the community for things like education, transportation, healthcare, and food support. Having another, larger jail invites filling it, and while filling the jail doesn't make us safer it does disproportionately harm our communities of color. Part of our challenge in reworking our law enforcement departments must include reduced jailing of our citizens, and this has been demonstrated to be possible without sacrificing public safety during the current COVID19 crisis.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to remove funding for the new jail, and support using that money instead to improve lives for our county's citizens.

Sincerely,

Erin Lemley

Dear Mr. Parisi,

I'm a Dane County resident writing to you to ask you to support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to halt the new jail project.

The COVID-19 crisis has taught me a lot about the daily crises that exist in our community. Mutual aid groups have demonstrated that many caring people live here. There are also many, many people who live here who were broke before COVID. Their lives have only gotten harder and more precarious since then. Every day someone needs housing, food for their families, assistance accessing healthcare, etc. Every night is somebody's last night before they lose their hotel room and end up on the street. In a community where this much need exists, it is morally bankrupt to spend hundreds of millions of dollars on a jail.

The COVID crisis has also shown that we do not need to incarcerate 800+ people at a time. With some concerted effort, we can keep the numbers much lower. Let's make the concerted effort a regular practice, ditch this expensive jail project, and start investing our money in programs and projects that will alleviate the hardship in our community. Frankly, a lot of this hardship is what causes criminal activity to flourish. I recently heard Ruth Wilson Gilmore, a prison abolitionist, say, "Where life is precious, life is precious." Where people are cared for and invested in, they can care for and invest in others.

Please help us transform Dane County into a place where life is precious, and let's see what happens next. I'm eager to find out.

Sincerely,

Dayna Long

Dear County Board,
I am from District 2 and I am in full support and 100% behind the Doyle Resolution.

We need to DIVEST from imprisonment and INVEST in the Black community. Period. We need to redirect these funds into the community most impacted by incarceration in the nation, but especially disproportionately here in Dane County.

Black Lives Matter! And how can we demonstrate our support in uplifting the voices and lives of the Black community? By DIVESTING funds from the very institution that targets and incriminates them!

I support the Doyle Resolution!!

DIVEST NOW!

Sincerely,
Jesse

The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Hi,

I'm Rachel Kutner, and I'm a constituent of Dane County living at 2129 E Washington Ave, Madison, WI 53704. I'm writing to support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail.

I believe the money in our community should be spent more constructively, to enrich and uplift members of our community who are struggling and help make our community better through engagement, rather than removal.

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, we should promote the use of these funds to help our community in ways that count - education, nutrition, wellness, fair housing, etc.

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. Let's instead use our funds in ways that can disproportionately help Black and Brown communities instead.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Your Dane County District Constituent

Dear County Executive Parisi,
This is Rek Kwawer, at 2857 Commercial Ave, Madison 53704.
I'm writing to urge you to support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to halt the building of a new jail, and instead, urge you to divert those funds to much-needed human services in Dane County such as housing, food, access to healthcare, etc.
While considering alternatives, I strongly ask that you seek to limit the alternatives which focus on punishment, such as e-monitoring, and instead focus on initiatives like restorative justice, that help strengthen our community rather than just creating new forms of incarceration.
We have the opportunity to fight a racist system of incarceration right here in Dane County, and I hope you will support investing those funds into the services that will actually help people and families.
Thank you,
-Rek Kwawer

Dear Paula,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Hello County Executive Parisi,

I am your constituent in Dane County. I am in the Yahara Landing apartment complex at 1630 Fordem Ave Apt 101.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

I'm reaching out to encourage you to support Supervisor Doyle's proposal to divert funds from the new jail into serving our communities. I'm interested in our community being a leader for our neighbors, the rest of the state, and the country by looking to divest in policing and jails. We can set an example that truly supports people in our community, disproportionately people of color, by putting funds towards housing, healthcare, and restorative justice.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Your Dane County Constituent

The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Sara Stuedemann and I live at 1020 Spaight St. Madison, WI 53703

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,

Sara Stuedemann

Hello County Executive Parisi,

I am a Dane County resident; my name is Elaine Poche and I live at 313 Cardinal Crescent in Monona. I am writing to you today in support of Supervisor Doyle's resolution to immediately halt any further progress on the new jail.

I urge you to speak up in support of it, and support the allocation of those resources towards the community's better access to healthcare, education, food, housing, transportation, etc.

We do not need a new jail; we do not need another high risk covid situation, or anything that disproportionately affects Black, Indigenous, and People of Color. we need reformation to the justice system that includes —as Doyle enumerates— restorative and mental health alternatives to the carceral system.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
El Poche

Hello County Executive Parisi,
I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Amy Hilgendorf and I live at 107 Sutherland Court in Madison.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,

Amy Hilgendorf

Dear Katharine,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Parisi,

Considering that not enough reflection has taken place to determine what the best practice for community safety for Madison would be I ask that the New Jail be tabled until further investigation.

I believe that in addition to reviewing how policing is administered if you were to get rid of plea bargains, review parole holds for no new crimes committed, and allow for signature bonds it would change the need for a new jail while still allowing for the old jail in the City-County Building to be shut down.

Sincerely, Katharine Goray

Dear Joe,

I am one of your neighbors in Dane County District 6. I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to marginalized communities by supporting food security, public transportation, housing, healthcare, education, and other social services.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

The jail has less than 500 people in it—we must keep our incarceration rates low. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Dear Analiese,

My name is Claire Heuckeroth and I an a constituent in Madison, 53703

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail and I am asking you to do the same.

COVID19 is magnifying the dangers of being in Jail for the people who are in there and many are being released. Currently there are less than 500 people in the Dane County Jail. We need to keep it this way and focus instead on using the funds that would have gone to the jail to help our community grow instead. We must invest in food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, and mental health instead. Locking people up does not make our community safer and disproportionately affects black and brown people.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Hello Mr. Parisi

My name is Daniel Levitin, and I live in Madison on West Mifflin Street.

I was one of the people who emailed Supervisor Doyle to encourage her to put forward her resolution, and I email you today to encourage you to support it. We need all the funding we can have for community funding, in such areas as mental health, housing, health, etc. Spending $200 M on a new prison runs clearly against these goals, and I encourage you therefore to support Supervisor Doyle's resolution.

As Supervisor Doyle correctly noted in her statement, Dane County jails have freed a great many people due to the current pandemic. Currently there are fewer than 500 people incarcerated, and we have thus far not seen any great problems as a result. This leads me and others to question whether it was necessary to have folks in prison in the first place. And if the answer, as it seems, is that it is not necessary, then we ought not to build a new jail.

Fundamentally, policing and incarceration has not helped reduce crime. It has however soaked up huge amounts of funding and hurt minoritized communities disproportionally. It is imperative we redirect this money to helping our communities instead. Therefore I request again that you back Supervisor Doyle's resolution.

Sincerely,

Daniel Levitin
447 W Mifflin St., Madison.

Dear Lisa,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Lisa Hepburn and I live at 2402 E. Johnson St.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Lisa Hepburn

Hello County Exec Parisi,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Sally Weideman and I live at 1514 Rutledge St., Madison.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail and hope very much that you will support it. I feel it would be better to direct those funds to helping communities with housing, healthcare, education, food, transportation, etc.

Due to the COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people and it currently has less than 500 people in it. It would be great to keep it that way.Why can't we continue doing this instead of locking people up? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Do we really need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle;s Resolution to not fund the new jail. Thank you very much for the work you are doing for our county.

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Ian Bever and I live at 3501 Cross Hill Dr in Madison.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Ian Bever

Dear Rachel,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Rachel Landsem and I live at 2546 E Dayton St in Madison.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund a new jail for Dane County. We must instead direct those funds to communities and infrastructure for community support.

As your constituent, please support Doyle's resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID-19, the jail is currently only at 500 inhabitants. Our community is just as safe as before, so why would we need a bigger jail? We need to divest from incarceration and invest in communities. Incarceration does not keep us safe and disproportionately harms our Black and Brown neighbors.

Please support Doyle's resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Your constituent,
Rachel Landsem

The time is now to take a strong public stance for basic human decency and civil rights! The time is now to intentionally and actively address systemic racism in our criminal justice and law enforcement systems, as well as our healthcare and socio-economic systems! No more lip service, platitudes, public displays of PR, and committee discussions! There are community organizations that have put in the research and effort over many years, know what their communities need, and have policy ideas ready to go. It is time to listen to the black voices in the community and lift them up into action! Supervisor Doyle's resolution has the support of these community organizations, such as Freedom Inc.

Due to COVID precautions the jail has let out many people, and so it currently has less than 500 people in it. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? Hello,

I am a resident of Dane County, living at 1137 Erin Street #201 in Madison. I fully support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution (2020 Res. 145) to halt the current jail funding plan, and the alternatives to incarceration that it proposes as well.

The problems of severe, persistent, and endemic racial inequality, as well as the inequalities laid bare by the Covid-19 global pandemic are present here in our county, as they are throughout our country. In fact outcomes for black families in our community and state are worse than in most other places in the country (2019 Report). This cannot all be solved by one measure, but surely rethinking how our most vulnerable community members are supported or more commonly criminalized, is a necessary step in this process.

Thank you for your consideration,

W. Keith Sayles

Dear Carol,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Dear Joe,

As a Dane County constituent, I ask that you please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Before the COVID lockdown, I visited the jail regularly to provide yoga practices to the women who are incarcerated in the "public safety" building. My experiences align with the research done by the Derail the Jail coalition a few years ago - many people that our community incarcerates are there for non-violent drug offenses or because they cannot afford bail. This makes our jail a debtor's prison and a drug treatment facility - neither of which are just or compassionate.

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Marcel Bogucki and I live at 128 E Johnson St.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

To Whom It May Concern:

I want to voice my support for Supervisor Doyle's resolution regarding the Dane County jail project. Please halt this project and revisit how we can reduce the spending on a building and increase the spending on our people.

This proposal clearly outlines the ways in which we can support restorative justice in our county. Putting our money toward these efforts shows an effort to implement meaningful change in Dane County. I would encourage you to explore research which shows that investment in restorative justice decreases recidivism and actually improves the experience of the victim of the crime. Furthermore, we should find ways to use the money allocated to this jail project to support county initiatives that get upstream of criminal activity including education, housing, and healthcare. And, find ways to use the money to help those exiting the criminal system transition successfully into jobs, housing, and support networks.

I appreciate your time and thought.

Best,

County Board Members and County Justices,

I am voicing my support of resolution 145, to halt the funding of the new county jail.

-I believe we can find better ways to support our community, proactively instead of punitively.
-I do not want to see further funding of systems that have proven to be overwhelmingly racist in their practices.
-COVID has shown that we can reduce prison/jail populations.

Please listen to the voices of the underprivileged and disenfranchised who will be more significantly impacted by this jail expansion. I am not in this category, but I believe in standing up for equity and equality. I know we can find a much better use of this funding.

With regards,

Redirect these funds to schools where teachers like me can work proactively to ensure that all young people have resources, mentors to look up to, and safe up-to-date learning environments which will lower incarceration rates. Redirect these funds to hire Black / POC teachers and antiracist / ally educators who will challenge our biased curriculum and create restorative justice practices in all school buildings.

We need better schools, not more jails....

Hello,
I am writing to ask for your support for Resolution 145. We need criminal justice reform, not more spending on jails. Our money and effort is better spent in the human services, and by increasing access to services. We have a lot to do in addressing the racial disparities in our justice system, please do not make it worse by funding a new jail.

There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Dear County Executive Parisi,

I am writing to urge you to support Resolution 145. Instead of borrowing $148 million for a new jail, we should instead be focusing on reforms to end the racial disparities in the criminal justice system and the jail. I am concerned about funding being shifted away from human service solutions - I would rather see taxpayer money invested in human services before spending millions on a new jail.

Please do not spend hundreds of millions of dollars of our tax money to continue the same system that has ruined the lives of so many people of color over the decades. Please work instead to reform the system, so that all people of Dane County have the opportunity to flourish.

Thank you!

Dear John,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Good afternoon,

I am writing today to register my strong support of Resolution 145 before the County Board of Supervisors.

We demand that reforms be implemented to end the racial disparities in the criminal justice system. The millions of tax dollars must be shifted to human service solutions and not spent on a new jail. Do not use our money to continue the same system that has ruined the lives of so many people of color over the decades. Do the hard work of reform.

Support Resolution 145. We will be watching your vote to see which side of history you will stand on.

Sincerely,
John Alliet

Greetings, all:

In addition to providing these reports to the City of Madison Mayor's office (see message below and documents attached) we wanted you and your respective teams and collaborators to have them for your reference and to better understand some of the realities faced by nonprofit organizations in our area during COVID19.

Please note that Round 2 of the statewide COVID19 Effects on the Wisconsin Nonprofit Sector is going live today, and can be found here. We at the Center for Community and Nonprofit Studies will be doing outreach to our many nonprofit organization partners, and once the survey closes, we'll be able to generate a second regional report from that data, hopefully with a bigger sample size than in the first round.

Please feel free to share the link above to the survey to any of your nonprofit partners as well. Let us know if you have questions!

Dear Dr. Vakunta,

I am reaching out to you in hopes that you might be able to make use of the reports which your former colleague, Leslie Orrantia, requested from the UW-Madision Center for Community and Nonprofit Studies (the CommNS) earlier this year.

As indicated in the email below, five of the attached documents are brief summaries of conversations the CommNS and UW-Extension held with third sector organizations in April. Attendees from different nonprofit focus areas discussed the impacts of COVID-19 on their work. The other attached document is a report summarizing Dane County nonprofits' responses to a statewide survey, which also focused on the effects of COVID-19.

Mary Beth Collins, the Executive Director of the CommNS, is also cc'd on this message. If you have any questions about these documents or would like to connect further, please let us know!

Thank you for your time.

Best wishes,

Hello Joe,
I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Katharine Constas and I live at 151 S. Marquette St.
I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).
As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.
Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?
Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.
Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.
Sincerely,
Your Dane County Constituent
Katharine Constas

Dear Elected Officials,

A useful reminder from epidemiological modeler Adam Kucharski:

Still one of the best NYT headlines I've seen (from March 8):

You Can't Gaslight a Virus

Epidemiologist Carl Bergstrom:

As I'm sure you recall, over a month ago I warned that if the grossly deficient Forward Dane reopening plan proceeded and nothing were done, we would end up in exactly the situation we're now in.

This graph of new cases in Dane County doesn't include the 125 new cases reported today:

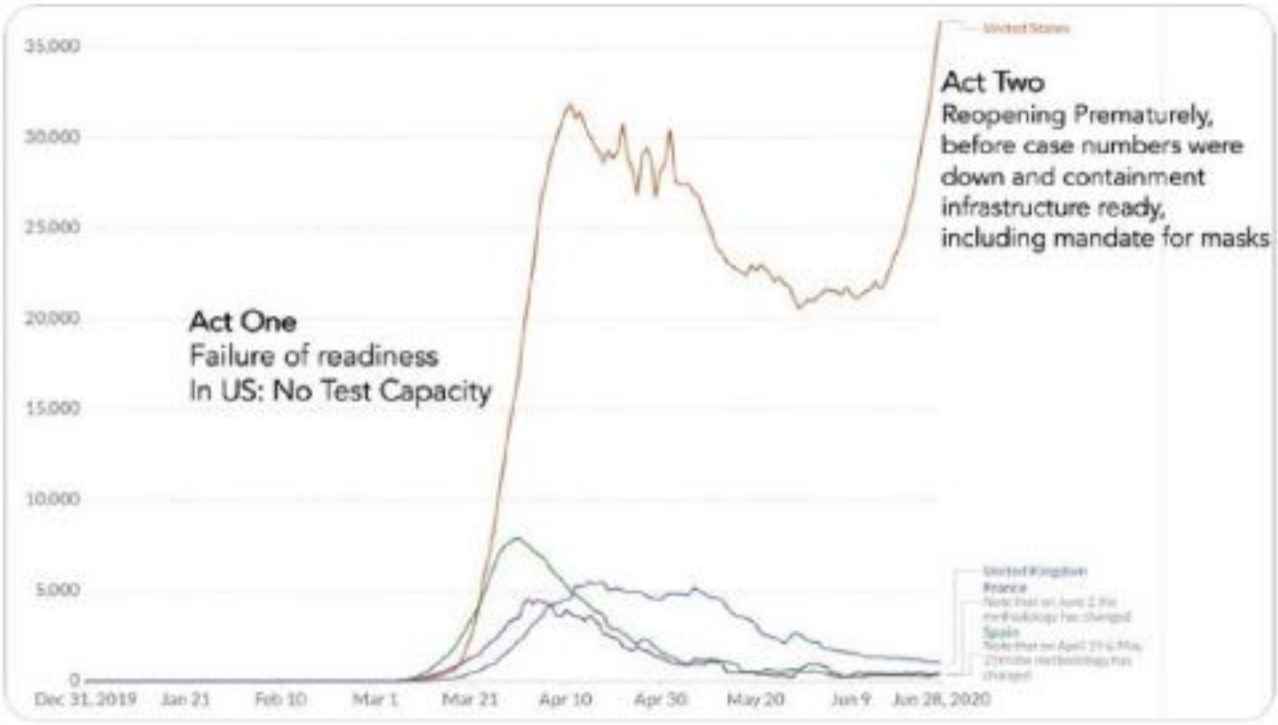

We're in apparent exponential growth. I'll add that the actual number of cases is probably about ten fold greater than the number of detected cases.

A similar scenario is playing out across much of the U.S. The U.S. now has reproduced its March-> April trajectory for new confirmed cases.

I've known for many years that my own, personal denials, have been the source of the majority of my personal, emotional / psychological pain. I never quite "got" how much horrific tragedy, societal chaos and economic destruction could be wreaked by our collective denials.

In much of the U.S. right now, including Dane County, a great deal of spread is occurring among young adults. In Madison, the college student areas are where Covid-19 cases are really skyrocketing the most. Here is part of a chart posted by Rob Chappell and Stephanie Díaz de León on Madison365 (the last column is the percent increase from 6/15 to 6/29).

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 16.03 | N Frances/Univesity Ave/W Johnson Street/State Stree/W Gorham St/W Gilman Street | 1.73 | 19.23 | 17.50 | 1012.5% |
| 16.04 | N Lake/State/Dayton Street/Johnson St | 3.35 | 17.55 | 14.20 | 423.81% |
| 16.05 | W Washington Ave/S Broom St/US 151/N Shore Dr/Proudfit St | 2.12 | 2.12 | 0.00 | 0% |
| 16.06 | W Johnson/S Broom/W Washington/Regent Street/Park Street | 0.83 | 3.17 | 2.34 | 283.33% |

There are also lesser but substantial increases in multiple lower-income areas throughout Dane County.

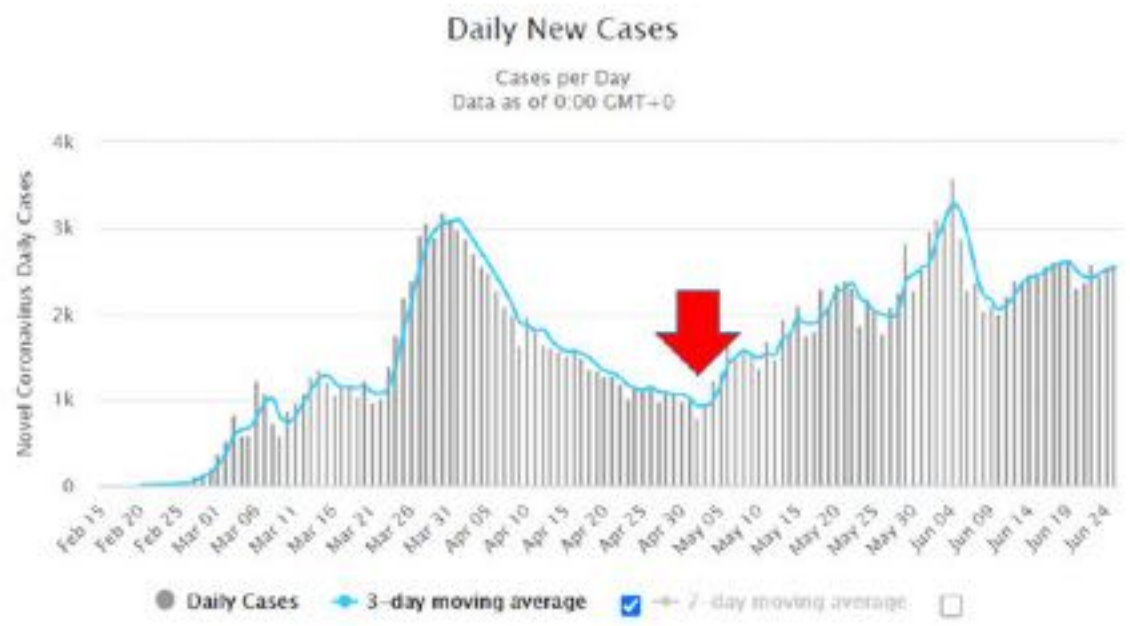

it's important to understand that hospitalizations and deaths are lagging indicators, which can take weeks to rise following an increase in case numbers. In the U.S., we're already at the point where hospitalizations have begun to rise rapidly at the national level, and deaths will soon follow. We appear to be recapitulating a pattern seen in Iran (beginning in early May), and I think also in Germany when Covid-19 first hit there, with Covid-19 spreading very disproportionately in young adults. After case numbers ballooned in young adults (who die relatively infrequently from Covid-19), the virus then diffused into other more vulnerable populations, with deaths shooting up, but with a lag of several weeks relative to the initial rise in case numbers.

Virologist Florian Krammer: "Below is the curve. It starts to go up around May 1st again. But deaths did not go up. People explained to me, that now mostly young people are getting infected so nothing bad would happen. So, here is the graph for the deaths. That one started to rise again around May 25th. This is a solid 3-4 week delay. What happened? First, it takes time to die of COVID-19. Second, cases probably really built up in younger people. But they diffuse into older populations. And then the deaths rose (both graphs below ). Surely everybody - even the person calling me 'dipsh' earlier - would agree that we need to do better than Iran. But looking at what happens in the US, I am not optimistic."

Daily New Cases in Iran

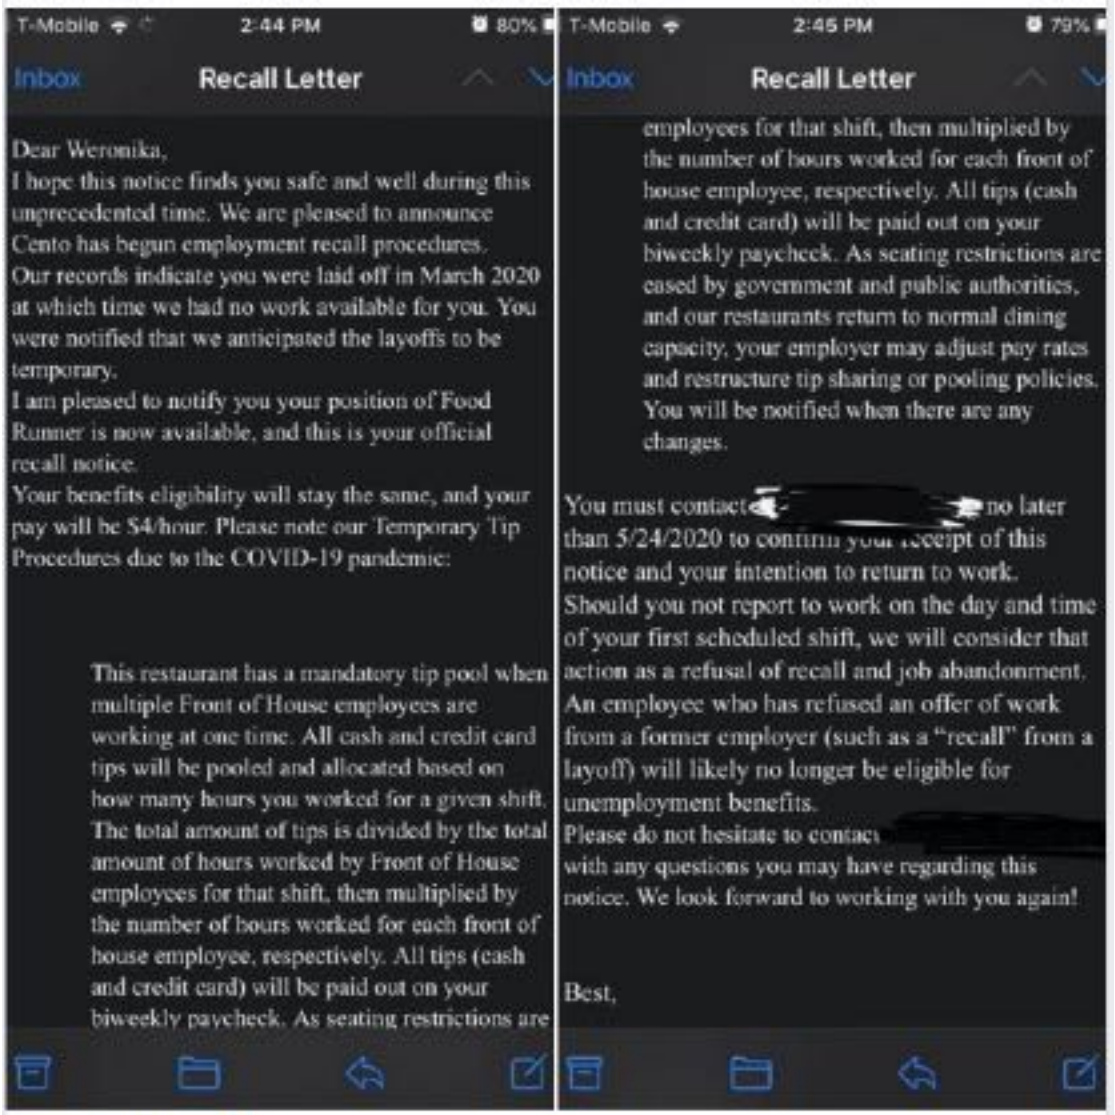

Daily New Deaths in Iran

Again, epidemiologist Carl Bergstrom: "Deaths are a severely lagging indicator for at least three reasons.
1) It takes 2-3 weeks to progress from infection to death.
2) It often takes a week or more for deaths to be registered.
3) If the leading edge of a spike is driven by younger people, you need one or more rounds of transmission to reach a vulnerable population. But you will."

One thing I'll add is that PHMDC doesn't seem to understand the situation the reopening put many workers in, especially lower income workers. It forced a return to work (ending eligibility for unemployment) under conditions that left many terrified. Quite a few people wrote me about this - one example:

> "My roommate works for Food Fight, and she received this from her boss (but from Food Fight) May 24. It's an offer to return to work for a reduced wage of 4 DOLLARS AN HOUR to work IN FOOD SERVICE DURING A PANDEMIC. It will be boosted up by pooled tips, but that most likely means she'll be making minimum wage during all this. They gave her 24 hours to respond or she's fired (after 100+ days of not contacting her).
> She's worked there for 4 years.
> So nice of them to make sure she knows that this letter means she's ineligible for unemployment (unless she returns at $4).
> Food Fight is doubtless treating thousands of employees the same way.
> It's so sad what the Madison people are facing."

A posting from today:

It is quite well established that restaurants/bars cannot reopen safely, at least for interior service. As explained in my initial letter, any prolonged period in an enclosed interior space with multiple people present is unsafe, even given physical distancing, given buildup of aerosols and exposure to infectious doses over time.

Reopening occurred despite the fact that measures sufficient to control the epidemic in the absence of lockdown were never implemented here. That would require something like repeated population-scale testing (as is currently being enacted in Southampton, UK) and a number of contact tracers an order of magnitude higher than currently employed by PHMDC. Note that the current best estimate is that ~40% of cases are asymptomatic, and that proportion is even higher in young adults. An epidemic containment mechanism has to be sufficient to provide control in the face of that invisible contagion.

There's a simple reality here. A virus doesn't care about human political games. It doesn't care if PHMDC can solicit letters of praise from colleagues. The epidemiological facts are straightforward. You can't gaslight a virus.

The question is whether elected officials will take responsibility and act at this point to save lives, or not. Part of that should include mandatory masks and immediate closure of all high-risk venues (restaurants/bars, etc.).

Sincerely,

Dr. Gregory Gelembiuk

On June 5 , 2020 Governor Evers sent state agencies a memo requesting 2022-2023 budget proposals.

State revenues are depleted . Health , education, infrastructure we be the budget's priorities. Future state revenues are expected to be lower. New hiring has ~ halted.

The 2020-2021 budget had $506,000 for mazo beach improvements. This work was halted due to insufficient funding to complete the project as planned , and that future funding would be requested.

One big concern with reopening mazo beach is having enough personel to oversee beach activity. The state is reluctant to spend public money where there is no guarantee that the public will be able to utilize their property .

Little will happen with mazo beach unless the state feels comfortable with the public's ability to maintain inclusiveness on the river front and the 1600 acre marsh.

If the state sees an organization that can help them improve and maintain the area for public use , they will be more likely to revest state money.

Helping Waunakee Families Through Difficult Times

We love being in a community where neighbors step up to help each other! These past few months have been full of numerous heartwarming examples as we all deal with the COVID-19 pandemic.

- More than 160 Waunakee residents signed up for volunteer alerts, wanting to know how they could support relief efforts in the area. Quite a few of these volunteers were matched one-on-one with isolated neighbors to make regular check-in calls and new friendships have resulted from these pairings.
- Neighbors and businesses stepped up with creative fundraising projects including porch portraits, t-shirt sales, plant sales, face mask sales, fish frys,

Neighbor to Neighbor

During the past three months, our Neighbor to Neighbor Crisis Response Fund has benefited twelve local families who have been impacted by job loss due to COVID-19. This fund, powered by donations from the community, allows families to receive direct financial support during an unexpected crisis. Payments can cover rent, utilities, medical expenses, food, and other essential expenses.

and matching gifts from wine bottle sales. We were also humbled that many people donated a portion of their stimulus check, recognizing that there were local families that they could help.

This amazing support from you and others in the community reaches more than 170 local households who are struggling. As the effects of the pandemic continue, more families come to us for assistance every week. It is our honor to work with each of them as we connect them to resources that build hope and empower them to overcome hardships.

Big Waunabowskee Online Auction

Through 8:00 PM on July 2nd

Though we had to cancel our annual Big Waunabowskee Bowl-a-Thon due to COVID, the wonderful items donated by area businesses for the silent auction are instead being made available through our online auction. Items include travel and family experiences, golf packages, dining, home decor, theater tickets, and more.

Place your bids!

Building Connections | Book Discussion

Please join us at 6:30 PM on July 23rd for a virtual discussion of the book So You Want to Talk About Race by Ijeoma Oluo. As part of the Building Connections program series, we will use this work to discuss systemic racism and white privilege. We welcome all voices to engage with these topics as a community.

This title is available as an always-available audiobook, accessible with your library card through OverDrive or Libby. The Waunakee Public Library also has a small number of print copies available in its walk-in Lucky Day collection. For questions on how to access this title, call the library at (608) 849-4217.

Good morning. I feel as long as women's bodies are protected to choose whether or not they have an abortion, our bodies are protected on whether or not we are forced to wear a mask In public. It is no ones choice to infringe on what someone is forced to put on their body. Most of us have enough common sense during all of this to avoid crowds and not bunch together in stores, etc. I understand and back the urging of mask wearing, but am strongly opposed to mandating them. Thank you for your time and have a good holiday weekend. Respectfully, Jim Marshall.

To clarify…our offices will still be closed and employees in Administration will still be working the same schedules that they have been for the last several months. That has not changed.

This email was just to let people know that if you are sending things inter-d or dropping them off, that they should be directed to Room 425/418, not Room 362 or the Annex as they have been since the remodel started in February.

Sorry for any confusion!

Subject: Mask Wearing

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear Mr. Parisi,

I write to ask respectively that you make mask-wearing mandatory in Dane County. As there is irrefutable evidence that wearing masks cuts down significantly on the transmission of COVID-19, such a forward-thinking decision could save hundreds of lives in our county. Requiring masks is the easiest way to minimize viral transmission while allowing us to approach normalcy; when one is masked, many actions that might be dangerous otherwise become significantly less so. And yet, because we don't have a culture of mask-wearing in the United States, many Dane County residents simply haven't gotten to the point where mask-wearing has become habitual. A little push from county leadership could shift our culture in important ways, allowing us to avoid the devastation that COVID-19 has inflicted on other parts of our nation and world.

Transmission is beginning to get out of control in our county, and there is no time to lose. Please show Dane County residents clear and decisive leadership informed by scientific knowledge and motivated by care for human life.

Thank you!

PACIFIC OFFSHORE WIND WEBINAR SERIES

Advancing Offshore Wind in California during Covid

Thursday, July 16, 2020
10:00-11:30am PDT

Presented by Offshore Wind California and INFOCAST

Offshore wind will offer many benefits to California as the state seeks to reach its ambitious clean energy and climate goals. This untapped resource will complement the existing supply of solar and onshore wind, help balance the grid, and provide a major boost to the state's economy.

Federal and state agencies continue to actively plan and conduct stakeholder outreach for the development of a sustainable offshore wind industry for California, notwithstanding delays caused by the coronavirus pandemic.

Please join us for the first in a series of webinars, Advancing Offshore Wind in California during Covid, as top federal and state officials and other experts share updates on development plans.

- What is the status of the three call areas (Humboldt Bay, Morro Bay, and Diablo Canyon) identified by the federal Bureau of Ocean Energy Management (BOEM) in 2018?

- When can we expect lease auctions for offshore wind sites in California?
- What lessons from the development of offshore wind projects on the East Coast can be applied to California?
- How does offshore wind fit into California's renewable energy plans?
- What are the key ocean and wildlife protection issues specific to California that developers will need to address in their project proposals?

Dear All,

I have received your letter outlining some areas of concern and inquiry. I would like to invite you to attend the Board of Health meeting Wednesday evening (7/1) at 5pm. I will be providing the Board with an update on our COVID response.

I appreciate the shared goal of protecting the health and well-being of all Dane County residents.

Regards,
Janel

Hello Joe,

As a former longtime resident and returning visitor to Madison & Dane County in July, I was disappointed to see that the City/County Public Health Department has now limited indoor and outdoor gatherings and has closed bars excepting takeout.

Am I to assume that protests with participants of 25 or greater in number will not be allowed as a result of this order???

COVID-19 UPDATES

DANE COUNTY ISSUES NEW ORDER LIMITING GATHERINGS, BAR AND RESTAURANT ACTIVITY

Public Health Madison & Dane County is issuing order #7, which limits gatherings and prohibits indoor dining and service at bars, effective at 8:00am on July 2nd, 2020.

Below are some of the items that have changed with the order, regarding gatherings, bars and restaurants:

- All indoor gatherings are permitted with 10 individuals or fewer not including employees. Individuals must

PAYCHECK PROTECTION PROGRAM (PPP) DEADLINE EXTENDED

The Senate on Tuesday June 30th passed legislation to extend the deadline for businesses to apply for coronavirus aid under the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP). Under the bill passed by the Senate by unanimous consent, the deadline for applying for PPP loans — which go to businesses with fewer than 500 employees — will now be extended until August 8, 2020.

A business should work with their lender to apply for the Paycheck Protection Program. You can also maintain physical distancing. (Section 2.a.)

- All outdoor gatherings are permitted with 25 individuals or fewer not including employees. Individuals must maintain physical distancing. (Section 2.b.)
- At restaurants (defined in order), indoor dining capacity reduced to 25% of approved seating capacity levels. (Section 5.b)
- Bars (defined in order) may provide takeout (no indoor dining). (Section 5.b)
- Bars and restaurants are permitted to provide outdoor seating, with physical distancing. (Section 5.b)

The order also requires all workplaces to post a Public Health Madison & Dane County workplace requirements fact sheet in a space easily accessible to employees describing the requirements of both the employers and employees to reduce the risk of transmission in the workplace.

Not sure if you have seen this (obviously not), but here is the data for Dane County. At this point way more kids will die from suicide and drug overdoses than Covid. https://cityofmadison.maps.arcgis.com/apps/opsdashboard/index.html#/e22f5ba4f1f94e0bb0b9529dc82db6a3 32 deaths 24 over 70 years of age. That trend stays pretty true state wide as well. Most infections are 20-29 and they have a low hospital rate and 0 deaths. At least in college the kids can stay on campus around their own ages for the most part and not take it home. That would be wise advice to give the kids. Stay on campus like a military school and stay out of the bars, with your mask on. Dane has had 9 deaths since April 28. Again, the economic inequity of athletics and access to high school run health and activity for kids is appalling! As if you care.

Sincerely,

Jason

Subject: Dane County Covid Response

Hello Mr. Parisi & Dane County Health,

I am a resident in Middleton of the County of Dane. After looking at the data I am very dismayed. You drug your feet to move us to Phase II (seemed like you didn't want to). Our numbers are 2.4% positive tests, only 213 total hospitalizations and 32 deaths (9 since April 28). 3 deaths under 60 and 8 under 70. After these young adults downtown ruined our trajectory, you went warp speed to put on the brakes. We should be on track for sports and school! You know we need Phase III to do it and because of a bunch of 20-29-year old's downtown you clamp the entire county. I am not seeing a willingness to use data; this seems more of a political move to stick it to the rest of the state. Why aren't they going crazy? Why aren't they sounding the alarm? We have pay to play sports going on everywhere, I am not hearing about a bunch of shutdowns or outbreaks within teams, but we cannot plan accordingly and let kids work out here at home with responsible accredited coaches and staff? It is another economic inequality for kids. If you can afford it, go play, if not too bad. I shared the data on Student Athletes and Depression last time with you. It is a fact and based on your data that more kids under 20 are going to die from other means of the lockdown than Covid19. Turn to drugs and alcohol and likely some suicides. The data is bearing that out already. We obviously need to take very strong precautions (which we can), but it can be done so it needs to be done. Contact tracing should also matter for the county's sake as well. Age and location of outbreak matters! Stop abusing your office and start using the data as you and everyone else said they would. Waiting for a vaccine is not an option so we need a plan to live with it where kids and businesses can thrive and be successful. Thank you for your time and understanding.

Sincerely,

Jason Pertzborn

Hey Joe
Not a belly up to the bar guy (a retiree) but don't like or agree with the ill advised direction your taking on the hospitality industry. Your killing these businesses.
How bout shutting down the protests and rallies destroying the city of Madison, our reputation and interests of businesses/major events contemplating coming here.
Implement your 25% formula on the protestors as well. Be consistent Joe.
Got a Sheriff advocating stay away from downtown Madison cause it's dangerous and volatile. Are you kidding me. Fix it!!
Simply awful leadership throughout.

Dear Mr. Parisi,

What will happen when students from all over the country, and the world, come to Madison when UW-Madison opens in the fall? It could be that, with all those 'young people' flooding our city the positivity rate, and resulting death rate, will explode here. We will become a disaster zone.

Please allow only online instruction during the pandemic. To do otherwise will allow the bars, etc to fill with young adults, attending UW-Madison in person, who will engage in COVID spreading behaviors and take us over the brink.

Thank you,
Suzanne Hase

That will work. Below you'll find the zoom info. Topics mainly include the new Dane Co. order restrictions and the possibility of requiring face masks. It will just be him for the interview, no other Dane County officials will be on the show.
The interview will be about 7-8 minutes. Just an FYI - since this interview will be taped in our studio, not at my desk, he will not be able to see me but can hear my questions. I'll be speaking to him through a double box, picture attached.

Hi Ariana,

Thanks again for setting this up today, glad we didn't have to do a redo! I was wondering if the Dane County Exec. would be free another interview (same topic) but it would be aired for our statewide political show Capital City Sunday?
I believe he's been on before but since due to COVID-19 we are doing all interviews over Zoom.
Does he have any time Thursday morning to make this work?

Hi Ariana,

For some reason the interview did not convert after I recorded it... therefore we are trying all other options to restore the interview to use on air. Right now not sure we can save it.
If we are unable, could we do another zoom - it would be much quick only about 5 minutes today?

Hi Ariana,

I was wondering if Dane Co. Exec. Joe Parsi would have some time for a zoom interview today? The question I'm wondering is if Dane Co. is considering any mandates/requirements to wear a face mask in public, especially since we're experiencing new surges.
I spoke to an attorney with the Wisconsin Counties Association who tells me they are working on guidance on this issue, but also said it's difficult to determine whether or not counties can legally make masks a requirement.
Let me know if he has some time today, I'm free until 3:30 p.m.
If not doable today, could I get a statement on whether or not the county is talking about this at all?
Thanks!

I am a resident of Dane County. I am wondering why, when the original purpose of lockdowns was to make sure that hospitals were not overwhelmed, which goal was met, why some counties like Dane continue to punish businesses by limiting capacity, when even though testing numbers indicate larger numbers of people are testing positive for Covid, hospitalizations are very low and deaths very low. Most of the people getting positive readings are young people who overwhelmingly recover and often have very mild cases. Shouldn't the hospitalization rate and the death rate be driving the decisions of the Phases rather than just the numbers which of course, we knew would increase when we were let out of our oppressive lockdowns, as well as increased testing, Also young people are often impervious to getting it and then there were the recent protests!

It seems to me that people trying to make a living are often finding the cure worse than the disease. So many people have lost their businesses due to lockdowns, restrictions and then the riots and looting, The more restrictions and backward movement toward reopening causes financial hardship of a large magnitude, depression, anxiety, loneliness, fear. Isn't there a better way to approach this than the one you have chosen? Huge numbers of people don't have the option (maybe like you) of working at home.

My son is an ER nurse in Switzerland. He takes this disease very seriously, as do most of us. However, poverty kills too. Smart to take common sense precautions. Smart to take care of elderly and people with underlying conditions. I don't know if it's smart to scare people again and limit their livelihoods.

"... and Continued Racial Inequities Generated in Part by Past Land Use/Transportation Planning and Decision Making."

Commissioners,
In view of your white-flight oriented transportation priorities in your current, past and future Transportation Improvement Plan, I oppose this attempt to whitewash what amounts to Jim Crow-by-highway-expansion. You need to simply be honest about the racial nastiness that is inherent in whisking wealth out of the city and into the lily-white exurbs.

Below you will find my comment on the state highway plan back in 1998 (on behalf of the Bicycle Federation of Wisconsin when it actually promoted a progressive, inclusive social and environmental agenda; something that is no more). It absolutely continues to hold. It definitely applies to this agenda item.

I have written occasional missives to your commission over the years on the same theme. Below, following my State Highway Analysis of 1998 are links to further writings of mine on the topic of your anti-urban highway obsessions.

Your actions in voting for every highway expansion that comes before you are replicating the Neo-Jim Crow policies of your predecessors. True, here in the north we might not do the in-your-face de jure segregation of the south, no dogs, no water cannon, but wow, you really know how to de facto Jim Crow with the logic of concrete & rebar.

In answer to the question implicit in the title of your agenda item:
Yes, your policies are racist.

If you build only for the well-wheeled, you build for white flight. You use your great big highways to box in & box out poor black people from opportunity in the rest of the community. Witness Darbo-Worthington and Allied Drive surrounded by gigantic highways & inhumane expansions--all of which you approved.

Yes, you are the problem.

You should each resign in shame. Each and every one of you. Immediately.

Sincerely,
Michael Barrett

Wisconsin DOT's Urbanized Countryside
by Michael D. Barrett

Michael served on WisDOT's State Highway Plan External Advisory Group as the Bicycle Federation of Wisconsin's representative. For a year and a half, Michael (MS-Economic and Urban Geography) attempted to educate WisDOT that their continuing highway monopoly increases traffic problems, induces sprawl, threatens our environment, institutionalizes racism, destroys economic opportunity, bankrupts our cities, and divides communities. In short, their practices degrade our quality of life.

Wisconsin Department of Transportation's State Highway Plan proposes a massive highway building spree. Most of the building plans focus on the state's urban areas. The basis for this decision is traffic congestion.
Recent WisDOT presentations show conclusively that most congestion is in Wisconsin's cities. This, of course, begs the question of just what makes a city a city. As an urban historical geographer, I would be happy to provide an answer: Cities are by nature, congested. Yes, that's right, the city is the place where people come together to work, play, volunteer, relax, party, intellectualize, pontificate, babble, do nothing, etc. If the city weren't congested, it wouldn't be a city. It would be the country. This is obvious to most people. But this is not at all clear to the highwayman.
Case in point: Detroit. The State of Michigan's Highway Department embarked on a long and vicious campaign to rid the City of Detroit of its congestion problem. They succeeded. They stabbed that city so many times with so many highways that it finally died. There is no congestion problem in Detroit. There are hardly any people left. Hundreds of entire blocks have no structures whatsoever on them (and these aren't parks).
The prairies are making a comeback on vast acreages - once healthy neighborhoods - radiating out from the Central Business District. The city of Detroit has no congestion problem; the city is now the country.
According to the State Highway Plan, Milwaukee, Madison, La Crosse, Eau Claire, Stevens Point, Green Bay and many other smaller cities must submit to the same fate. Resistance is futile.

The Death Spiral
What does this plan mean for the bicyclist and the pedestrian? In terms of bicycle & walking transportation, destroy the city with highways and you destroy the proximity between a multitude of destinations that makes bicycle and walking feasible as a transportation choice.
....In terms of recreational cycling and walking? Destroy the city with highways and people will flee those ugly highwayscapes, go 60 miles out into sprawland, buy their 35 acre horsey-doggie farmette and put up a 6000 sq. ft. monstrosity. Suddenly, all those peaceful country roads that were once ideal biking habitat become nightmarish narrow arterials, clogged with Suburban-Blazer-Explorer-Trooper-Jeep Grand Cherokees driven by speed-crazed sprawlites (they are always in a hurry because they always have so far to go).
And of course the marketers at Sprawlmart are not far behind - they can smell disposable income at a hundred miles. Suddenly, every country corner has a box store or two, or three on it. Traffic nightmares multiply around the boxes, and hence, the pressures for bringing on the great big highways, and everything the sprawlites moved to get away from. The process repeats itself, much as it has over and over again since WWII. Will WisDOT ever wake up and realize that it cannot build its way out of congestion?

Northern Jim Crow
Indeed, this plan is not about expanding industrial transportation capacity (as WisDOT repeatedly claims with the "just-in-time" buzz-mantra). Rather, it is all about subsidizing a lifestyle choice - a lifestyle choice based on extreme selfishness, property tax dodging and a northern version Jim Crow (oft-euphemized as "white flight"). Public monies - no matter their source - should never be used to subsidize the sorts of anti-community attitudes and racism that lie behind these residential choices. In essence, the continuing expansion of highways, accessible as they are only to the well-wheeled, institutionalizes racism and class divisiveness. And yes, this plan is about commute time levels of service. Free flow exists on all of Wisconsin's highways at all other times.

The Freeloading Exurbanite's Toll on Cities The subsidy for the exurban lifestyle comes at a high cost for the less-well-wheeled and the more civic-minded. Jobs - dispersed across the countryside by an overbuilt highway system - become too distant to be accessed. Communities, even by your own assessment in the plan, become cut off and isolated from one another. Highway induced isolation creates a form of poverty that is no longer a stage in life to work up from, it becomes a permanent condition. Essentially, your huge highways knock out the bottom rungs of the economic ladder. Those of any means whatsoever who live in the city end up with a tax burden totally disproportionate to anything paid by the highway-subsidized commuter. Civic involvement is carried out by fewer and fewer people as most of the people with means spend more and more of their time commuting rather than volunteering.
And despite the best efforts of city administrations, local budgets are increasingly strained by the transportation demands induced by your great big highways. The direct monetary costs that these walls impose on urban neighborhoods are tremendous. And then, of course, these very same neighborhoods are expected to sacrifice yet again by tolerating even more traffic. To add insult to injury, when the traffic becomes intolerable, the locality is expected to spring for the costs of mini-interstates through neighborhoods to feed the highway beast. But that sort of bureaucrat think - "it's not our problem, that is a local problem; we just deal in 'backbone' highways" - so often heard at the State Highway Plan External Advisory Group is exactly what keeps cities on their knees. Clearly the notion of a livable city has not infiltrated the walls of the Hill Farms State Office Building.

Bicycle Thief
Furthermore, WisDOT has insisted that the barriers it has created will remain. The federal money for breaching highway barriers comes in the form of federal "enhancements" monies. However, the highway central committee has made it clear that they will not spend it - all in the hopes that Congress would change the law to allow ped/bike funds to be converted to highway money. That wish was not granted (thanks to the diligent efforts of bicycle, pedestrian and livable community advocates such as BFW and BTA). The law notwithstanding, WisDOT has seen fit to spend enhancements money on highway building projects anyway. The money intended to breach the highway barriers gets used instead to build even more barriers. Bicycle, pedestrian and transit advocates are left dumbfounded as to how WisDOT has gotten away with this.

Lies, Lies, and Damn Lies
At last winter's public forum held on the first version of the State Highway Plan, I presented testimony as to WisDOT's strangulation of public transportation. I was essentially called a liar by a WisDOT bureaucrat who maintained that public spending on public transportation had actually increased faster than on highways. He played with the numbers. The facts are these according to the non-partisan Legislative Audit Bureau: Between 1987 and 1997 the State of Wisconsin's major highway funding was increased by 100%; Highway Bonding was increased by 175%; transit increased by 36%.

If WisDOT needs evidence that these views hold currency, look no further than the popularity of smart-growth politicians such as Dane County Executive Kathy Falk – a politician who has spearheaded the revolt against Great Big Highways. This is a farsighted politicians who clearly understand the interconnectivity of regional systems. She is keenly aware that interconnectivity means much more than just highways; that proximity is the strength of civilization. This highway plan is about divisiveness and isolation.

Might I suggest, The Wealth of Cities for WisDOT's summer reading list?

Michael D. Barrett can be reached at mikeb@urbanthoreau.com.
A draft version of the State Highway Plan was released in June of 1998.
Due to heavy criticism such as this, the plan was ostensibly reworked.
Not much changed in the final version, released in late 1999. However, this and other environmentalist critiques did induce WisDOT to admit that their highways do play a role in fomenting sprawl.

I see you have once again tightened restrictions. You do realize that no matter how many restrictions you put in place, the virus is NOT GOING AWAY. You cannot erradicate it. The only goal should be to not overwhelm the hospitals and health care systems, NO MATTER HOW MANY POSITIVE TESTS THERE ARE.
I would like to remind you that the restrictions were put in place to "flatten the curve". The total area under the curve DOES NOT CHANGE. It either comes all at once or over time. People are going to get this no matter what you do, short of a full quarantine on every citizen. There is NOTHING you can do to stop the spread. All the restrictions do is prolong the outbreak to a level that is manageable. There is not, nor has there been (even at peak) any overrun on the health system. That is the goal, and that should be the only goal. All you are doing by enacting further restrictions is prolonging the pandemic.
How about you start looking at hospitalizations, deaths, and severity of cases rather than just total case number. Total case numbers mean NOTHING if the severity is low with mild or no symptoms. Do your part to protect the vulnerable populations, but let the general public decide for themselves how they can deal with it.

Connect. Engage. Learn.

New interactive virtual learning opportunities paired with coaching and live support

We're partnering with friends across the Midwest to bring you engaging, interactive workshops to help you optimize your personal and organizational performance.

A Systems Approach to Baldrige: building a customized, sustainable operating model based on key systems | cohort facilitated by Pattie Skriba and Joe Kilbride.

This fall 2020, WCPE will launch a cohort of 5-7 organizations who are interested in applying the systems approach to Baldrige. The cohort will engage in 6 monthly workshops 3-4 key leaders from each of the participating organizations. Participating in the cohort will make this unique opportunity more cost-effective

Is your organization looking for an approach to Baldrige that makes it more relevant to leaders, more understandable, and fosters more near-term improvement.

One approach that high-performing organizations have used is a 'systems approach to the Baldrige Framework.' The Baldrige criteria reflects a collection of key systems which creates a blueprint for building a customized, sustainable operating model in an organization.

and allow you to learn from other like-minded organizations.

WCPE is partnering with two recognized Baldrige experts who will lead a series of workshops utilizing a "Systems Approach to Baldrige".

Pattie Skriba and Joe Kilbride will facilitate a cohort of organizations who will learn the criteria, apply it to their organization, and receive coaching. Along the way cohort organizations will have opportunities to apply for recognition by the Wisconsin Forward Award through our new Focused Review award program.

Organizations today must do more with less. Organizations today must solve complex problems they've never faced before. Organizations today must find ways to create meaningful, breakthrough changes that add value for customers and others stakeholders — they must innovate their products, services, processes, and business models to remain relevant, achieve their missions, and indeed just survive these challenging times. So maybe its time you find your "innovation sweet spot."

WCPE has held Systematic Inventive Thinking live workshops in Madison the past, so we are especially pleased to offer one of our most popular workshops "Exploring Innovation Principles & Tools: SIT Spark" in a three-part virtual series: Tuesday mornings July 14, 21, and 28.

SIT is unique in its ability to help companies innovate Inside the Box, using their existing resources and navigating existing constraints. SIT's method is systematic, so you will gain the ability to "Innovate On-Demand" using a proven, disciplined approach to both process innovation and problem solving. Learn skills that will help you deftly troubleshoot issues and identify new opportunities in this time of uncertainty, but will also help you facilitate your organization's productivity and growth once we emerge from this current crisis.

Create a Culture of Productivity: Maximize your time, talent & technology with Jan Lehman, CEO of CTC Productivity
August 12th, 8:30 am - noon

"Jan is great at listening, sorting out the problems and providing practical advice with follow-up steps. I found her coaching to be a great way to boost my personal effectiveness and that of our team."

Organizations today are feeling increasing pressures to improve productivity, eliminate waste, and maximize efficiency. In good times and now in challenging times, as a leader, you have the opportunity and responsibility to encourage and reinforce productivity throughout your organization. But it must start with you.

Jan will share effective communication protocols across multiple platforms, helping you learn how to fully leverage your technology. She'll also share how the technology we are using is evolving and what you need to do now to be prepared for that transition, which has become even more important given virtual or split virtual/in-person work environments.
Join us for a tactical as well as strategic discussion on how to maximize the time, talent, and technology in your organization.

- Learn email and time management techniques that will revolutionize the way your organization operates
- Begin laying the foundation for an effective business communication strategy to drive organization-wide efficiencies
- Gain a high-level understanding of how Microsoft 365 will be a pivotal platform long-term to improve communication, collaboration, and accountability across your organization

There has been a temporary change to the Gym Reimbursement. This change will be effective dating back to March 1st and ending on June 30th.

For the months listed above, we will be accepting:

- Online fitness classes hosted by your gym/fitness center
- Beachbody and/or Peloton classes
- Workouts done on your own

Proof of payment for the gym/fitness center or Online Fitness Program is STILL REQUIRED along with 24 workouts each quarter in order to get the $30 for the quarter. Quarter 1 can be a combination of physical gym visits and your own workout logs. If you cannot print off your workouts from a fitness tracker/watch or online, please use the second sheet of the reimbursement form to fill out the dates. Form is located at this link: https://dcinet.connect2dane.com/beta/category.aspx?id=157

Guidelines:

- At least 150 minutes of moderate-intensity physical activity or 75 minutes of vigorous-intensity physical activity per week.
- Moderate activity includes activities such as brisk walking, dancing, water aerobics, biking slower than 10 mph, etc. Clues that your exercise is at a moderate level: Your breathing quickens, but you are not out of breath. You develop a light sweat after about 10 minutes of activity. You can carry on a conversation, but you cannot sing.
- Vigorous activity includes running, swimming laps, biking faster than 10 mph, hiking, etc. Clues that your exercise is at a vigorous level: Your breathing is deep and rapid. You develop a sweat after only a few minutes of activity. You can't say more than a few words without pausing to breath.

Only regular Dane County Employees can participate in the reimbursements (excludes LTEs & family members).

Importance: High

Good afternoon NWS Milwaukee Partners,

Here is an update regarding a prolonged episode of heat and humidity through the upcoming holiday weekend.

Bottom Line Up Front
Daily heat indices will be in the 90 to 95 degree range. Slightly cooler readings can be expected closer to Lake Michigan due to an onshore flow.

What has changed?
Confidence is high that these very warm and humid conditions will last through the holiday weekend and possibly into Monday as well.

Forecast Information
Where: southern Wisconsin especially away from Lake Michigan
What: Heat and humidity combination leading to daily heat indices between 90 and 95
When: Friday through Monday
Impacts: With prolonged exposure, the combination of the heat and humidity may lead to heat exhaustion or dehydration.

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear Mayor Rhodes-Conway, Executive Parisi, Alders, and Supervisors,

I write today as a Madison resident of the last 35 years. My neighborhood has seen tremendous positive change over the decades and has become a haven of successful locally owned businesses.

I understand the need for stronger measures to prevent increased spread of covid-19 and ask you to make face coverings/masks mandatory rather than closing down restaurant indoor service. Bars that do not serve food are a very different business model than restaurants. The new restaurant/bar restrictions place a huge burden on our independent restaurants, many of which have reopened with missing tables and chairs to provide appropriate spacing, and many of which will end up going out of business—leaving us with empty storefronts that will not be filled for quite a while, as well as more unemployed residents. Very few new businesses will be looking to lease space even after covid-19's high rates of transmission have declined.

I agree with the decision to shut down bars, as alcohol and loud spaces make for sometimes-poor judgment and increased propelling of particles from patrons who are yelling to be heard, especially given the increase of covid-positive test results among younger adults.

Many municipalities in Colorado require masks for all retail and business transactions. Businesses have signs on their doors that read "No Mask, No Service" (or similar) and compliance is high because people want to get the things they need from the grocery, Target/Walmart type stores, and even cannabis dispensaries. People in Asia wear masks commonly when unwell or if an illness is going around and it has become an easy part of their cultures, not something at which to jeer or bully.

The ban on even low-percentage indoor service in restaurants will strip our vibrant city of its unique culture and put many out of business and out of work. Please consider restaurants separately from alcohol-only establishments and make face coverings mandatory immediately.

High-percentage compliance of face covering (along with distancing and sanitation) is the best way to stop the spread of this virus. Shutting restaurants from even a percentage-capacity, where employees wear masks and patrons wear masks except while consuming food, will destroy the small businesses I have been patronizing in my neighborhood.

The ban strikes me as more political than practical. Who do we want to be as a county and as a city? Leaders. Leaders who rely on science rather than the underinformed public opinion of a vocal minority who are whining about their rights to be vectors of infection. People who don't want to follow science by wearing a mask are not constituents you should be mollifying.

Sincerely,
Nancy Mae

Good Afternoon, Everyone.

Portage County implemented a PPE policy as part of its updated COVID-19 policy, and you can find the PPE policy in Section 11 of the attached document. I've also included a vendor policy that we've implemented. The policy was put together by staff (with some help from partners across the state) and reviewed by legal counsel, department heads, and our insurance carrier (Wisconsin County Mutual & Aegis).

I do not know where other counties are at with this conversation, but I know that we here in Portage County have benefited a great deal from the sharing of other documents, insight, and information from other counties over the last several months. So I am forwarding this to you to further the spirit of collaboration that we've had for this unprecedented COVID-19 response.

If there is any silver lining to this situation we all find ourselves in, it's the incredible amount of communication—with an appropriate amount of commiseration—that we've been able to accomplish with each other and via the WCEA/WCA. Thank you all for being a part of that, and I hope you all find the same solace that I do given how we've been able to work through all of these challenges together. It's no small feat that's been placed in front of us, and it's refreshing for me to know that we are all working incredibly hard on behalf of our counties and the state without the rancor that is unfortunately permeating other levels of government.

If you have any questions about the policies, please feel free to contact me.

Respectfully,

Chris

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear County Executive Parisi;

My name is Andrew Briggs. I am a lifelong Madisonian. I am writing to implore you to issue an executive order, or otherwise support a city or county ordinance to require masks or face coverings inside of all retail establishments and offices, as well as outdoors in public places.

Research recently published in the Lancet (https://www.thelancet.com/journals/lancet/article/PIIS0140-6736(20)31142-9/fulltext#%20) shows that face masks are critical in arresting the spread of COVID-19. Unfortunately, the last couple of weeks have also now shown us that relying solely on individual responsibility will not be enough. In addition to mandatory social-distancing orders, we must take the extra step to mandate mask-wearing in public settings.

It is long past time that our local government take decisive action to support the business and individuals that are trying to do their best to be responsible. Without it, this pandemic, and the suffering of citizens and businesses in this city, will only continue to get worse.

Sincerely,
Andrew G. Briggs

Mr. Parisi:
Thank you for (finally) condemning the violence and unlawfulness in downtown Madison this past month.
Please reconsider the order to pull back restaurant and bar capacity.
Such a move is unilateral, fascistic, and unnecessary, especially after so many Dane County small business owners have already suffered while adhering to your previous restrictions.

Who are you to say we have or have not "reached the middle" of the virus's course? And even if we have not, we need to learn to cope with it, not act in fear of it and restrict economic and civic freedom on a whim, whenever the "data" seem to justify it.

Also, after the superspreading protests, anyone who allowed or encouraged them is on very thin ground to impose any further restrictions. On the contrary, each resident should be trusted to determine the level of risk with which they are comfortable.

Thank you--
Sincerely-
John Bergstrom

Yup, I used to argue with Paul Soglin (then not mayor) on his blog about Allied Drive. He at least recognized the importance of public transportation through these sequestered land blocks. With the conversion of Verona Road to a juggernaut, there's little hope that Allied Drive will ever be a vital neighborhood in Madison. Retail isn't sustainable. (When I worked at Nicolet just south of Allied Drive, at the city limits, pedestrians were routinely crossing the highway to buy groceries at the gas station.)

Allied Drive should be converted back to and added to the adjacent current green space, and residents should offered a two year subsidy to afford rent in other parts of the city. No realtor bias tolerated in showing homes and apartments to minorities. The growth east of the belt line was completely unnecessary given the opportunity to shore up Madison's struggling neighborhoods.

Yup, I used to argue with Paul Soglin (then not mayor) on his blog about Allied Drive. He at least recognized the importance of public transportation through these sequestered land blocks. With the conversion of Verona Road to a juggernaut, there's little hope that Allied Drive will ever be a vital neighborhood in Madison. Retail isn't sustainable. (When I worked at Nicolet just south of Allied Drive, at the city limits, pedestrians were routinely crossing the highway to buy groceries at the gas station.)

Allied Drive should be converted back to and added to the adjacent current green space, and residents should offered a two year subsidy to afford rent in other parts of the city. No realtor bias tolerated in showing homes and apartments to minorities. The growth east of the belt line was completely unnecessary given the opportunity to shore up Madison's struggling neighborhoods.

You are right on every point. Glad you hammered Soglin.

I took this thesis to one of the assembly candidates, Heather Driscoll. I invited her to the bike bridge over E Washington at Darbo. I explained all of this. She was dumbfounded. Couldn't fathom that msn could do such a thing. Eventually she got it though. Interesting convo.....

In view of your white-flight oriented transportation priorities in your current, past and future Transportation Improvement Plan, I oppose this attempt to whitewash what amounts to Jim Crow-by-highway-expansion. You need to simply be honest about the racial nastiness that is inherent in whisking wealth out of the city and into the lily-white exurbs.

Below you will find my comment on the state highway plan back in 1998 (on behalf of the Bicycle Federation of Wisconsin when it actually promoted a progressive, inclusive social and environmental agenda; something that is no more). It absolutely continues to hold. It definitely applies to this agenda item.

I have written occasional missives to your commission over the years on the same theme. Below, following my State Highway Analysis of 1998 are links to further writings of mine on the topic of your anti-urban highway obsessions.

Your actions in voting for every highway expansion that comes before you are replicating the Neo-Jim Crow policies of your predecessors. True, here in the north we might not do the in-your-face de jure segregation of the south, no dogs, no water cannon, but wow, you really know how to de facto Jim Crow with the logic of concrete & rebar.

In answer to the question implicit in the title of your agenda item: Yes, your policies are racist.

If you build only for the well-wheeled, you build for white flight. You use your great big highways to box in & box out poor black people from opportunity in the rest of the community. Witness Darbo-Worthington and Allied Drive surrounded by gigantic highways & inhumane expansions--all of which you approved.

Yes, you are the problem.

You should each resign in shame. Each and every one of you. Immediately.

Sincerely,

Michael Barrett

Wisconsin DOT’s Urbanized Countryside

by Michael D. Barrett

Michael served on WisDOT’s State Highway Plan External Advisory Group as the Bicycle Federation of Wisconsin's representative. For a year and a half, Michael (MS-Economic and Urban Geography) attempted to educate WisDOT that their continuing highway monopoly increases traffic problems, induces sprawl, threatens our environment, institutionalizes racism, destroys economic opportunity, bankrupts our cities, and divides communities. In short, their practices degrade our quality of life.

Wisconsin Department of Transportation’s State Highway Plan proposes a massive highway building spree. Most of the building plans focus on the state’s urban areas. The basis for this decision is traffic congestion.

Recent WisDOT presentations show conclusively that most congestion is in Wisconsin’s cities. This, of course, begs the question of just what makes a city a city. As an urban historical geographer, I would be happy to provide an answer: Cities are by nature, congested. Yes, that’s right, the city is the place where people come together to work, play, volunteer, relax, party, intellectualize, pontificate, babble, do nothing, etc. If the city weren't congested, it wouldn't be a city. It would be the country. This is obvious to most people. But this is not at all clear to the highwayman.

Case in point: Detroit. The State of Michigan's Highway Department embarked on a long and vicious campaign to rid the City of Detroit of its congestion problem. They succeeded. They stabbed that city so many times with so many highways that it finally died. There is no congestion problem in Detroit. There are hardly any people left. Hundreds of entire blocks have no structures whatsoever on them (and these aren't parks). The prairies are making a comeback on vast acreages - once healthy neighborhoods - radiating out from the Central Business District. The city of Detroit has no congestion problem; the city is now the country.

According to the State Highway Plan, Milwaukee, Madison, La Crosse, Eau Claire, Stevens Point, Green Bay and many other smaller cities must submit to the same fate. Resistance is futile.

The Death Spiral

What does this plan mean for the bicyclist and the pedestrian? In terms of bicycle & walking transportation, destroy the city with highways and you destroy the proximity between a multitude of destinations that makes bicycle and walking feasible as a transportation choice.

....In terms of recreational cycling and walking? Destroy the city with highways and people will flee those ugly highwayscapes, go 60 miles out into sprawland, buy their 35 acre horsey-doggie farmette and put up a 6000 sq. ft. monstrosity. Suddenly, all those peaceful country roads that were once ideal biking habitat become nightmarish narrow arterials, clogged with Suburban-Blazer-Explorer-Trooper-Jeep Grand Cherokees driven by speed-crazed sprawlites (they are always in a hurry because they always have so far to go).

And of course the marketers at Sprawlmart are not far behind - they can smell disposable income at a hundred miles. Suddenly, every country corner has a box store or two, or three on it. Traffic nightmares multiply around the boxes, and hence, the pressures for bringing on the great big highways, and everything the sprawlites moved to get away from. The process repeats itself, much as it has over and over again since WWII. Will WisDOT ever wake up and realize that it cannot build its way out of congestion?

Northern Jim Crow

Indeed, this plan is not about expanding industrial transportation capacity (as WisDOT repeatedly claims with the "just-in-time" buzz-mantra). Rather, it is all about subsidizing a lifestyle choice - a lifestyle choice based on extreme selfishness, property tax dodging and a northern version Jim Crow (oft-euphemized as "white flight"). Public monies - no matter their source - should never be used to subsidize the sorts of anti-community attitudes and racism that lie behind these residential choices. In essence, the continuing expansion of highways, accessible as they are only to the well-wheeled, institutionalizes racism and class divisiveness. And yes, this plan is about commute time levels of service. Free flow exists on all of Wisconsin's highways at all other times.

The Freeloading Exurbanite's Toll on Cities

> The subsidy for the exurban lifestyle comes at a high cost for the less-well-wheeled and the more civic-minded. Jobs - dispersed across the countryside by an overbuilt highway system - become too distant to be accessed. Communities, even by your own assessment in the plan, become cut off and isolated from one another. Highway induced isolation creates a form of poverty that is no longer a stage in life to work up from, it becomes a permanent condition. Essentially, your huge highways knock out the bottom rungs of the economic ladder.

That wish was not granted (thanks to the diligent efforts of bicycle, pedestrian and livable community advocates such as BFW and BTA). The money intended to breach the highway barriers gets used instead to build even more barriers. Michael D. Barrett can be reached at mikeb@urbanthoreau.com.

A draft version of the State Highway Plan was released in June of 1998. Due to heavy criticism such as this, the plan was ostensibly reworked. Not much changed in the final version, released in late 1999. However, this and other environmentalist critiques did induce WisDOT to admit that their highways do play a role in fomenting sprawl.

Good morning,

Here's an update on expected thunderstorm chances and warm temperatures/high heat index values through the holiday weekend.

Bottom Line Up Front
Dry conditions are expected today, with a few thunderstorms possible west of Madison/I-90 on Friday. July 4th is currently expected to be dry, with thunderstorm chances returning to the entire region on Sunday.

Temperatures away from the immediate Lake Michigan shoreline will be a degree or two on either side of 90 degrees through the weekend. Afternoon heat index values will generally be between 90 and 95 degrees. Nighttime temperatures are expected to fall into the upper 60s to around 70. Warmer nighttime temperatures are likely in the core of urban areas.

What has changed?
No significant changes from the previous forecast.

Forecast Information for Thunderstorms
Where: West of Madison/I-90 Friday, the entire area Sunday
What: Isolated to scattered thunderstorms
When: Thunderstorms will generally occur during the afternoon and early evening hours.
Impacts: Cloud to ground lightning will pose threat to anyone outside or without access to permanent shelter.

Forecast Information for Hot Temperatures
Where: All of southern Wisconsin away from the immediate Lake Michigan shoreline
What: Afternoon highs between 88 and 92, with heat indices between 90 and 95. Overnight lows will be in the upper 60s to around 70, but likely higher within urban cores.
When: Into at least early next week
Impacts: Hot temperatures will present a risk for heat related illness.

The attached PDF contains the latest forecast for maximum heat index each day through Sunday. There are also two safety related graphics which may be used for public or internal messaging regarding the heat.

Joe, protect the integrity of voting by mail. Postal Source has the best in class letter opening solutions that cannot be beat!

All official organizations running ballots should ask themselves the following questions:

Do we have a plan?

What will we do with the loads of ballots that need to be opened?

Are we prepared?

POSTAL SOURCE

Solutions. Start here.

Vote By Mail is not going to be easy. We all know that. The good news is that the experts at Postal Source have been through similar situations like this before and we have the experience to help. We have a long history of helping all sorts of customers through difficult times.

Protect Your Valuable Content

Here's the situation: you have trays full of thousands of ballots. The though of opening them by hand is absolutely out of the question. This is when you consider a letter opener... but not just any letter opener. The Omation line of envelope openers open envelopes at high rates of speed and accuracy. In the industry, it's known to be the best and only opener on the market that won't cut the contents of the envelope.

The Omation's patented process has a unique milling process that sands off the very curve of the envelope, guaranteeing it won't cut the contents. Other openers slice a portion of the envelope off, often cutting the documents inside. Can you imaging having to tape ballots back together? We can't!

To: Parisi, Joseph; Wescott, Joshua
Subject: ADA policy exception

Dear Executive Parisi,
My name is Heidi Hershberger and I am an Economic Support Specialist for Dane County at the Job Center. I have worked with Dane County for almost seven years. My wife and I had a baby in May. She was born with fluid in her lungs and was in the NICU for 8 days. We brought her home, but she is on oxygen.
The Job Center has reopened with staff in the building on a rotating basis. COVID-19 is a virus that attacks the lungs, so I do not want to risk working in the building and exposing my 6-week-old baby, who requires oxygen, to that deadly virus. I applied for an ADA accommodation to continue working from home, but it was denied since it's to accommodate the needs of a family member. However, the policy states that the employer is free to provide flexibilities if it chooses to do so. I requested an exception to this policy as the primary caretaker of a baby with compromised lungs and was denied. I am scheduled to work onsite at the Job Center July 1-July 6, however I will be doing the exact same work that I could do from home. The department allowed me to work from home on 7/1/2020 while they made their decision. Their decision on 7/1/2020 was that they were not giving any exceptions at this time. This schedule will continue on a rotating basis. With the cases in Dane County surging in the last week, I feel like that would put my baby in too high of a risk for me to work from the Job Center rather than work from home. I believe the request for the accommodation is completely reasonable and responsible. I am surprised that the County would be willing to take on the liability of a compromised baby's health so I am appealing this decision to you. If this request is denied, I will have to take time unpaid or use my personal time—both of which would be a hardship for me and my family. Also, this decision is at odds with Dane County tightening restrictions due to COVID-19 just today.
Mr. Parisi, per your words from a June 25th article from the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel: "Our community is facing a real turning point with the now accelerating spread of COVID-19. It's here, it's spreading, it's affecting more young people, and the risk of getting it is no less today than it was in March when the state started Safer at Home."
As a Dane County employee, as a constituent, as a Dane County tax payer, as a parent and primary caretaker of a baby on oxygen, as a fellow human being, I implore you to consider my request of granting an exception to the ADA policy and allowing me to continue successfully working from home.

I appreciate your time and attention in this matter that is very important to my family and me.

Respectfully,

Heidi Hershberger
Economic Support Specialist

Here's been my response to date:

Thanks for your email and concern regarding face coverings. I've attached PHMDC's information sheet on the current decision to not require masks. I'll be sure to share your thoughts with our leadership team.

Thanks,
Ryan

Instead of forwarding to us, you could just using that….you could also erase the last sentence about sharing since your office is considered leadership. Or you could add 'PHMDC leadership' to it and keep it.

Use the bolded headings in the attached one pager as simple speaking point reasons for currently not requiring them. If you want to keep a rough tally on masks calls/emails, I can share with Janel and our legal team.

Sorry you're getting hit hard…we're getting them too. Hang in there!

Locally Sourced, Quality Products Every Thursday for Walk-up Customers and Pre-Orders!

Drive-Thru Pickup Option

The Fitchburg Center Farmers Market will be open every Thursday from 3 – 6p.m. for walk up customers and a drive-thru pickup for preorders.

Local vendors will be featuring fresh produce, bakery items, meats, eggs, cheese, walnuts, plants, hanging baskets, soaps, fiber, organic and gluten free options, and more each week.

Due to the outbreak of COVID-19, the market has adapted to keep everyone safe. Our plans are approved by Dane County Public Health.

We will have producer stands under the Agora Pavilion (5511 East Cheryl Parkway) that comply with recommendations for public safety to allow walk-up purchases (3 p.m. – 6 p.m.).

We are also offering a preorder for pickup at the market drive thru. (Drive-thru hours are 3p.m to 5:30p.m) Customers can go to www.FitchburgMarket.com to see a list of vendors offering preorders for pick-up.

Rules Regarding Pre-Orders

Walnut and Bakery Orders must be in by 4pm Wednesday

Other Vendors Orders must be in by 10am on Thursday

The Drive up will be available from 3 - 5:30 p.m. on Thursdays for preorder only.

Market Pre-order Page

CLICK ON INDIVIDUAL HYPERLINKS FOR VENDORS on Market PreOrder Page (some have web platforms, others take email/phone orders).
Embedded Links are the preference of Vendors themselves - some have online shopping platforms, others email addresses or other means for ordering. This is a learning process for many of our vendors who are not yet proficient with online ordering systems, so your patience is appreciated as we begin this new market model.

Many Vendors will also have tables set up on Market Day but will be restricted to Dane County Public Health guidelines in the interest of public safety.

Good Morning,

In May you received an email asking you to reply by June 15 if you wanted your Centennial ticket purchase refunded. Since we did not hear from you, your purchase of tickets has been converted to a donation to the League of Women Voters of Dane County. If this was not your intention please email me immediately so that I can get a refund sent to you.

Please keep this acknowledgment as a receipt for your tax records.

Thank you for changing your Centennial ticket purchase to a donation. Your generosity is so appreciated during these tough times.Your contribution of $65 was noted for March 2020. As you know, the League of WomenVoters of Dane County, Inc. is a tax-exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3)of the IRS tax code. No goods or services were provided in exchange for your contribution payment. Contributions are tax-deductible.

Again, we appreciate your fundamental assistance in keeping LWVDC a vital organization of committed members dedicated to educating voters. Your donation helps the League of Women Voters of Dane County as it continues to grow in diversity and strength!

New Online Pollinator Habitat Assessment Tool Now Available for Dane County Residents

You can help support insect pollinators, such as bees and butterflies, through habitat you provide on your property or in your gardens. Pollinators need shelter and food to thrive, but how do you know if your property is achieving this potential?

To help promote local habitat for pollinators, the University of Wisconsin-Madison Gratton Lab in the Department of Entomology and the Dane County Environmental Council have launched a new, free online tool to help you assess any site for the quality of its pollinator habitat. Whether you have a single garden bed, a yard or a multi-acre property, the tool helps you to identify the opportunities you have to support pollinators. The assessment tool is suitable to use for any property throughout Wisconsin and neighboring states.

“Pollinators such as honeybees play a critical part in our environment, but can face adversity from challenges like pesticides and climate change,” said Dane County Executive Joe Parisi. “This new tool will be available for anyone in Dane County to use and is one step we can all take to support pollinator habitat.”

The Wisconsin Online Pollinator Habitat Assessment is available at www.pollinators.wisc.edu/habitat and takes less than 20 minutes to complete. It’s a simple evaluation designed to be completed on a smartphone or tablet, so you can walk around a garden or property and observe features like how many species of flowers are blooming at different times of year, and what undisturbed nesting habitat is available to insect pollinators. With descriptive photos and links to resources built in to the tool, it’s an educational resource that can be used by anyone, including families with kids.

One of the major reasons for declining populations of bees, butterflies and other pollinators is the loss of food and nesting habitat across our landscapes to sustain them. While doing your assessment of your site, you will learn about the sorts of features on your property that can help pollinators, such as having native flowering plants that bloom, or dead wood and undisturbed ground for pollinators to create their nests. The tool can help you make a quick evaluation what opportunities you have on your particular site to support pollinators.

Mr. Parisi,

I am writing to request the resignation of Janel Henrich as the Director of Public Health for Madison and Dane County. As a Dane County resident and taxpayer, I am insulted by the deeply condescending and patronizing tone of the following blog posted on the Public Health website: https://www.publichealthmdc.com/blog/protests-are-not-currently-associated-with-dane-countys-rise-in-covid-19-cases

As a taxpayer and voter, I have every right to question whether or not the increase in COVID cases in Dane County in the past two weeks is correlated to large gatherings in excess of Health Department guidelines without a county bureaucrat lecturing me that I am a racist. I have every right to be concerned that large gatherings of people, regardless of whether they are protesting racism or protesting Governor Evers' Stay-At-Home order, may be facilitating the spread of COVID. For Dane County to issue restrictions on public gatherings and enforce those on sporting events, religious events, and family gathering, but refuse to enforce them on protests and riots undermines Dane County government's moral authority to govern. As the County Executive, you have a Constitutional duty under the 15th Amendment to apply the law equally, both to those with whom you sympathize and those with whom you disagree.

I request that you do your duty and I request the favor of a reply.

Sincerely,

Robert P. Palmer

Importance: High

Good afternoon NWS Milwaukee Partners,

Here's an update on expected thunderstorm chances and warm temperatures/high heat index values through the holiday weekend.

Bottom Line Up Front
A few thunderstorms are possible for well inland locations on Friday. July 4th is currently expected to be dry, with small thunderstorm chances returning Sunday mainly northwest of a line from Madison to Sheboygan.

Temperatures away from the immediate Lake Michigan shoreline will be a degree or two on either side of 90 degrees through the weekend. Afternoon heat index values will generally be between 90 and 95 degrees. Nighttime temperatures are expected to fall into the upper 60s to around 70. Warmer nighttime temperatures are likely in the core of urban areas.

What has changed?
No significant changes from the previous forecast.

Forecast Information for Thunderstorms
Where: Well inland locales Friday, mainly northwest of a line from Madison to Sheboygan Sunday
What: Isolated thunderstorms
When: Thunderstorms will generally occur during the afternoon and early evening hours.
Impacts: Cloud to ground lightning will pose threat to anyone outside or without access to permanent shelter.

Forecast Information for Hot Temperatures
Where: All of southern Wisconsin away from the immediate Lake Michigan shoreline
What: Afternoon highs between 88 and 92, with heat indices between 90 and 95. Overnight lows will be in the upper 60s to around 70, but likely higher within urban cores.
When: Into at least early next week
Impacts: Hot temperatures will present a risk for heat related illness.

The attached PDF contains the latest forecast for maximum heat index each day through Sunday. There is also a safety related graphic which may be used for public or internal messaging regarding the heat.

Hello,

Thank you for contacting me in support of mandating the use of face masks in public settings. I agree with you. I, too, believe the time has come for such a requirement. While guidance on this matter has been evolving, it is now clear that masks are one of our most effective tools in slowing the spread of COVID-19.

Public Health Madison Dane County (PHMDC) is currently working to address logistics and concerns related to issuing a face mask mandate, such as availability, access and enforcement, as well as unintended consequences such as racial profiling and the potential for violence occurring when businesses try to enforce the rule on customers who refuse to wear a mask, which we have seen in other areas.

It is my hope PHMDC will soon be in a position that allows them to move forward with this requirement, and I have shared that view with them.

If you would like to contact PHMDC directly, they can be reached at coronavirus@publichealthmdc.com

Dear County Executive Parisi,

I am writing to implore you to take action for the people of Dane County. What I am asking is for you to MANDATE mask wearing in our county.

I can spend time telling you my family story and I am happy to share with you but the fact is, Mask wearing continues to be reported to one of the most important ways to help stop the spread of COVID 19.

With WEDC merely suggesting that businesses follow this guidance, I can personally assure you the it is not happening. Businesses will not comply if they don't have to. My guess is that you are painfully aware of this.

Please use your position and leadership to MANDATE this change. We can't wait.

Don't let Madison or Sun Prairie, where I live, become the next Montgomery, Alabama.

Sincerely,

Shana Beneteau, Sun Prairie, WI

With COVID cases spiking in Dane County when will masks be mandatory? I am sick of waiting for people to "do the right thing". IT ISN'T HAPPENING. Everywhere I go in Dane county there are many people without masks. Many of us have money to spend, but it's going to stay home with us if we don't feel safe. The highest age group for infections is is 20-29 year olds. I realize it will be impossible to make sure they are wearing masks at parties and bars but at least they'll have to wear a mask when they go to Target, the grocery store, Walgreens, restaurants etc. Places where I Would like to go without being fearful of being infected by careless people without masks. We elect officials to create and enforce guidelines to protect us. Without a Mask mandate we are not being protected.

Hi Joe and Josh,

Thank you both for all your work in protecting Dane County residents by developing a safe reopening plan despite the Supreme Court's decision to strike down Governor Evers' safer at home order. But it now appears clear that the COVID rate in Dane County is increasing significantly, mostly due to transmissions among younger people. https://madison.com/ct/news/local/govt-and-politics/steep-spike-in-county-covid-19-cases-driven-by-young-adults/article_5f72752c-5ca0-5362-8c8c-e50d89981c89.html#tracking-source=home-top-story.This is only going to get much more concerning as college students return to UW and other colleges here.

Accordingly, I think it is critical for Dane County to again lead and implement a clear requirement for masks inside public spaces and outside were public distancing is not possible. It is remarkable the effectiveness of such measures in other jurisdictions. See https://www.fastcompany.com/90519909/countries-where-everyone-wears-masks-saw-covid-death-rates-100-times-lower-than-projected and https://www.kshb.com/news/national/coronavirus/coronavirus-model-projects-that-33-000-us-lives-would-be-saved-by-wearing-masks

Your work is incredibly important at this time and I hope that you can take the lead to make sure that we become a county that performs like the Northeastern states and most developed countries by implementing immediately (before our Covid situation quickly gets out of control) mask and other needed requirements. Otherwise I'm afraid we will have hundreds of deaths in our county and will be required to pull back significantly on reopening.

Thank you for your time and service.

Mr. Parisi,

Please strongly consider mandating face masks before the virus gets out of control. It actually feels like it may already be out of control but better late-than-never. I feel very uncomfortable going into stores where people don't wear masks. So, I'm very selective about where I go. I'm spending too much of my money at Amazon and not enough at local retailers. I'd love to keep my money local but I just don't feel safe doing so.

Minimally, please mandate masks in grocery stores, hardware stores and customer areas of car service shops. These are places people need to go to and really don't have a choice. I can make a personal choice if I want to go to a restaurant. But, I can't make a choice about getting my car fixed or getting groceries.

Wearing a mask is the least people can do to protect others and to help get the economy going.

I write to you today with a simple and short plea to require masks in public indoor settings in Madison, Dane County, or the state of Wisconsin. You have the power to do something about it, whether you are a legislator, a staff member, or a member of the media.

Masks will save lives

Masks are not political (three different links)

Masks will save the economy

Masks are now readily available.

And lastly, yes you can breathe wearing a mask.

If your answer is any of the following "I can't do that" "I don't have the power" or lastly, "The court will strike it down" do it anyways. Let the blood be on the courts hands and not yours for trying your best.

Whether it is a state law, a county mandate, an executive order form the governor or simply a public health emergency order, you owe it to both your family and Wisconsin to require masks.

County Exec Parisi,

Masks are a critical tool in combating COVID 19

Unfortunately too many of our neighbors are not doing their part.

As County Exec you must take action and mandate masks especially in all indoor public spaces and large gatherings.

Dane County needs leadership in this matter. It is clear that politely suggesting that our fellow citizens take an interest in this community's health is not working.

Thank you,

Sean Ramsden

Hello,

Thank you for contacting me in support of mandating the use of face masks in public settings. I agree with you. I, too, believe the time has come for such a requirement. While guidance on this matter has been evolving, it is now clear that masks are one of our most effective tools in slowing the spread of COVID-19.

Public Health Madison Dane County (PHMDC) is currently working to address logistics and concerns related to issuing a face mask mandate, such as availability, access and enforcement, as well as unintended consequences such as racial profiling and the potential for violence occurring when businesses try to enforce the rule on customers who refuse to wear a mask, which we have seen in other areas.

It is my hope PHMDC will soon be in a position that allows them to move forward with this requirement, and I have shared that view with them.

With the continuing surge of COVID infections in Dane County why is there no mandatory mask requirement? This should be in place BEFORE the holiday weekend. For heaven's sake - this is a public health emergency, masks are needed to keep us all safe. I am frustrated and angry masks are not required to protect us all. We know masks work what is the hold up?

Dear Mr. Parisi,

I write to ask respectively that you make mask-wearing mandatory in Dane County. As there is irrefutable evidence that wearing masks cuts down significantly on the transmission of COVID-19, such a forward-thinking decision could save hundreds of lives in our county. Requiring masks is the easiest way to minimize viral transmission while allowing us to approach normalcy; when one is masked, many actions that might be dangerous otherwise become significantly less so. And yet, because we don't have a culture of mask-wearing in the United States, many Dane County residents simply haven't gotten to the point where mask-wearing has become habitual. A little push from county leadership could shift our culture in important ways, allowing us to avoid the devastation that COVID-19 has inflicted on other parts of our nation and world.

Transmission is beginning to get out of control in our county, and there is no time to lose. Please show Dane County residents clear and decisive leadership informed by scientific knowledge and motivated by care for human life.

Thank you!

Subject: Wedding Venue Exception

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Hello County Executive Parisi!

I hope this email finds you in good health!

I am sure this is one of many requests in regards to wedding venue exceptions during this Covid-19 era. I am one of many brides during this stressful time. Stressful in the sense of trying to plan a wedding, stressful in the sense of Covid shutting down the world, and lastly, stressful in the sense of planning a wedding during Covid.

One of my friends is also planning a wedding during this time. Not only has she had to reschedule not once, but twice (maybe even a 3rd time come August). She was one of many brides that was locked out of NOAH'S Event Venue and was never refunded their money for their first wedding date in April. They were able to find a new venue location and all new vendors to accommodate their original April wedding date. Then Covid hit. They are now rescheduled again for late August.

Here is where things get murky in the Covid restrictions. It appears that Dane County has some of the most restrictive guidelines when it comes to trying to maintain the spread of Covid cases. But once we step out of the county lines, regulations seem more relaxed. Now, I agree that we need these regulations to help minimize the spread but I also believe that there should be certain exceptions to these rules. For example, religious ceremonies and wedding receptions, some in which are held in buildings with large capacities.

My recollection is foggy, but I do believe there has been progress with changing religious gatherings to a percentage of capacity but there has been too many changes to every guideline that has been put in place- it is hard to keep track of them all.

My intention with this email to you today is to hope that we can continue with progress in lifting restrictions when it comes to wedding venues and events. I understand that this is a stressful point in time for all people including politicians trying to figure out what is best for their community. From personal experience, this is one of the most stressful times of my life. One item that would relieve a lot of stress for brides is knowing there could be some sort of exception for wedding venues. A lot of time, effort and money is put into planning with no guarantees that everything can play out as planned.

I think we are all ready for a little progress and a little less stress.

Thank you for taking the time to read my email.

Thank you,
Ashley

Dear County Executive Parisi;

My name is Andrew Briggs. I am a lifelong Madisonian. I am writing to implore you to issue an executive order, or otherwise support a city or county ordinance to require masks or face coverings inside of all retail establishments and offices, as well as outdoors in public places.

Research recently published in the Lancet (https://www.thelancet.com/journals/lancet/article/PIIS0140-6736(20)31142-9/fulltext#%20) shows that face masks are critical in arresting the spread of COVID-19. It is long past time that our local government take decisive action to support the business and individuals that are trying to do their best to be responsible. Without it, this pandemic, and the suffering of citizens and businesses in this city, will only continue to get worse.

Sincerely,
Andrew G. Briggs

Local Officials and Leaders –

Today, jobs numbers for June far eclipsed economists' expectations. Our Nation's economy has broken another record as 4.8 million jobs were added in June, bringing the economic comeback to 7.5 million jobs added over the past two months. Employment increased significantly for most major sectors, with the largest gains in leisure and hospitality (2.1 million), retail trade (740,000), education and health services (568,000), and manufacturing (356,000). The overall unemployment rate fell by 2.2 points to 11.1%, beating forecasters' expectations by 1.4%. These data show Americans are returning to the workforce, and our nation's economy continues to recover.

And, this economic rebound is lifting up ALL Americans. African Americans gained 404,000 jobs, the second highest gain on record. The highest gain on record occurred just 2 months after President Trump signed the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act into law. The unemployment rate fell by 3.1 percentage points for Hispanic Americans and by 1.4 percentage points for African Americans. Teenagers saw a 6.7 percentage point reduction, and the female unemployment rate fell by 2.8 percentage points. Below, find additional information on today's jobs numbers, including a Fact Sheet (President Trump is Leading the Great American Comeback), a report from the Council of Economic Advisors (A Record 4.8 Million Jobs Created in June, Beating Record Set Last Month), and a media roundup (ICYMI: Historic Economic Revival Underway).

Find remarks from the President on the jobs numbers report here (remarks/press conference). We also want to flag remarks from the President at the White House Spirit of America Showcase highlighting the country's small businesses that embody America's exceptionalism. American small businesses are the backbone of our Nation and President Trump is committed to ensuring that small businesses have the support they need. Small businesses across our country from iconic American brands, to mom and pop shops on Main Street, embody a pioneering spirit that is uniquely American and this showcase will highlight businesses and products that underscore the Spirit of American entrepreneurship, manufacturing, and business. You can find the President's remarks here (remarks/video).

Please do not hesitate to reach out to our office if we can be of assistance. As a reminder, WH IGA is the primary liaison between the White House and the country's State and local elected officials and Tribal Governments.

President Trump Is Leading the Great American Comeback

RECORD JOBS NUMBERS

- The U.S. economy added an incredible 4.8 million jobs in June, the largest monthly increase ever recorded.
- The economy smashed expectations once again, beating estimates by 1.7 million jobs.
- Nearly 2.1 million leisure and hospitality, 740,000 retail, 356,000 manufacturing, and 158,000 construction jobs were added over the month.
- The number of jobs created in May was revised up another 190,000 jobs to 2.7 million jobs.
- The unemployment rate fell to 11.1 percent from 13.3 percent as millions of Americans got back to work, once again beating economists' predictions.
- The unemployment rate fell 1.4 percentage points more than predicted.
- An astounding 7.5 million jobs have been added over the past two months, as we begin to reverse the job losses caused by coronavirus.

LIFTING UP ALL AMERICANS

- Americans of all backgrounds saw huge gains in June as the great American comeback continues.
- Unemployment rates for Hispanic-Americans fell by 3.1 percentage points, women by 2.8 percentage points, and African-Americans by 1.4 percentage points.
- African American employment rose by 404,000 – the second largest gain on record.
- The number of African-American women employed increased by 267,000, the largest gain on record.
- The unemployment rate for Americans with a high school degree and no college dropped 3.2 percentage points.

Council of Economic Advisors: A Record 4.8 Million Jobs Created in June, Beating Record Set Last Month

Our Nation's economy has broken another record as 4.8 million jobs were added in June, bringing the economic comeback to 7.5 million jobs added over the past two months, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' June Employment Situation report.

May and June rank as the two largest monthly jobs gains in history, with June's numbers exceeding expectations once again. In June, nearly every major employment sector enjoyed a gain in jobs, with the leisure and hospitality industry seeing a gain of 2.1 million and retail trade increasing by 740,000. These gains likely reflect the reopening of State economies from May (based on the work week including May 12) through June (based on the work week including June 12).

Millions of Americans have felt the costs of the economic shutdown due to COVID-19, and while the speed of this recovery has far exceeded expectations, jobs have still not recovered the ground lost since the economic shutdown began. From February to April, nearly 22.2 million total jobs were lost. Over the past two months, 7.5 million (33.8 percent) of those jobs have returned. Figure 1 shows that while the leisure and hospitality industry saw the largest gains over the past two months, the industry still has 4.8 million jobs to make up to reach its pre-COVID level.

Additionally, the BLS June Employment Situation report estimates that the overall unemployment rate fell by a record 2.2 percentage points in June to 11.1 percent, and by 3.6 percentage points over the past two months.

The economic comeback has reduced unemployment across the board for several demographic groups. According to the BLS, the unemployment rate fell by 3.1 percentage points for Hispanic Americans and by 1.4 percentage points for Black Americans. In fact, Black Americans enjoyed the second largest employment gain on record, and female Black Americans over age 20 experienced the largest employment gain on record. Additionally, the female unemployment rate fell by 2.7 percentage points, which is larger than the decrease for men for the second straight month. As America's businesses have reopened, teenagers saw a 6.7 percentage point unemployment rate reduction last month, consistent with the large job gains in the leisure and hospitality and retail trade industries.

The successes in the jobs report should provide a source of optimism for all Americans as we look toward the future. For two consecutive months, we have experienced the largest job gains in history, and the resilience of the American people remains strong as we have recovered roughly one-third of the COVID-related job losses from March and April. As we look ahead, we should be mindful of the work that remains, so that the forgotten Americans are forgotten no more.

Recent news shows signs of a historic economic revival in the United States.

CNBC: Record Jobs Gain of 4.8 Million in June Smashes Expectations; Unemployment Rate Falls to 11.1%

"Nonfarm payrolls soared by 4.8 million in June and the unemployment rate fell to 11.1% as the U.S. continued its reopening from the coronavirus pandemic, the Labor Department said Thursday. Economists surveyed by Dow Jones had been expecting a 2.9 million increase and a jobless rate of 12.4%. The report was released a day earlier than usual due to the July Fourth holiday. The jobs growth marked a big leap from the 2.7 million in May, which was revised up by 190,000. The June total is easily the largest single-month gain in U.S. history."

BLOOMBERG: U.S. Consumer Confidence Posts Biggest Increase Since Late 2011

"The Conference Board's index jumped by 12.2 points to 98.1, the biggest one-month gain since late 2011, according to a report Tuesday. The median estimate in a Bloomberg survey of economists had called for a reading of 91.5."

BUSINESS INSIDER: Top US Manufacturing Index Jumped the Most Since 1980 in June As Reopenings Spurred Growth

"A key measure of US manufacturing leaped back into growth territory in June as factories reopened and state economies turned back online. The Institute for Supply Management's manufacturing index surged 9.5 points to 52.6 last month, its biggest increase since 1980. June's increase brings the metric to a 14-month high and pushes it above the key threshold of 50 for the first time since February."

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL: U.S. Retail Sales Rose Record 18% in May

"U.S. shoppers opened their pocketbooks at malls and auto dealerships in May as states eased restrictions to contain the novel coronavirus, boosting retail spending and adding another sign the economy is recovering from earlier lockdowns to contain the pandemic."

BUSINESS INSIDER: Economic Growth 'Increased Substantially' in May as Employment Improved, Chicago Fed Says

"The central bank's National Activity Index leaped to 2.61 last month from -17.89 in April, offering investors the latest hint of a V-shaped economic recovery. The gauge's three-month moving average rose to -6.65 from -7.5."

MARKETWATCH: Philly Fed Manufacturing Index Shows Signs of Improvement in June

"A gauge of manufacturing in the mid-Atlantic region showed conditions were improving, the Philadelphia Fed said Thursday. The regional Fed's business conditions index rose to 27.5 in June from negative 43.1 in the prior month."

REUTERS: Pending Home Sales Jump a Record 44.3% in May

"Contracts to buy U.S. previously owned homes rebounded by the most on record in May, suggesting the housing market was starting to turn around after being hammered by the COVID-19 pandemic along with the rest of the economy. The National Association of Realtors said on Monday its Pending Home Sales Index, based on contracts signed last month, surged 44.3% last month, the largest increase since the series started in 2001, to 99.6."

CNBC: Homebuilder Sentiment Posts Biggest Monthly Surge Ever, a Sign Housing is Rebounding from Coronavirus

"A faster-than-expected turnaround in homebuyer demand, following a sharp drop-off at the start of the coronavirus pandemic, has the nation's homebuilders bullish on their business again. Builder sentiment jumped a striking 21 points

Subject: CARES Act Allotment

Good afternoon,

This week begins the first period that municipalities can start submitting costs to the state for reimbursement from the CARES Act allotment set aside for them by the state Department of Administration (DOA) in the Routes to Recovery program. The initial period runs until July 15th. If you are not ready to submit costs yet, there will be two more opportunities for submissions – September 1st through the 15th and November 7th through the 18th.

A unique code is being sent to each municipal clerk to access the expense reporting system. You can find the portal for the reporting system here: https://covidgovgrant.wi.gov/account/signin?ReturnUrl=%2f

Last week the state DOA sent out the terms and conditions that each municipality must agree to in order to receive reimbursement. It includes items such as maintaining spending records for five years and agreeing that you will provide any records requested by DOA to verify spending. You can find that document here: https://doa.wi.gov/Secretary/RRG-TermsConditions.pdf

The U.S. Treasury Department updated their FAQ last week as well. The state Routes to Recovery program has more restrictions on funding than the U.S. Treasury guidelines, but the FAQ from Treasury does help provide a framework for the type of spending the program allows. It also answers questions others have submitted to the department about what qualifies as eligible spending. For example, it added clarity on helpful topics like what "substantially dedicated" means for employees and gives some examples of the type of employee that could be covered for reimbursement. You can find the updated version here: https://home.treasury.gov/system/files/136/Coronavirus-Relief-Fund-Frequently-Asked-Questions.pdf

Some spending allowed by the federal program is not allowed in the state program. For example, creating a loan or grant program for local businesses is allowed under the federal rules, but not allowed in the state Routes to Recovery funds for local governments because it doesn't allow any sub-award programs.

Examples of allowed expenses in the Routes to Recovery program includes: PPE, deep cleaning of public facilities required because of COVID, items such as sneeze guards to reduce transmission, and payroll expenses for employees substantially dedicated to responding to the COVID emergency. You can find more information on what is allowed under the state Routes to Recovery program in the guidance document issued by DOA here:

There could also be opportunities for municipalities to coordinate purchases for better pricing so please don't hesitate to reach out to my staff about this or any other questions you may have about this program. If you are not on the email list used by the state DOA to send out updates and information about the Routes to Recovery program you can send an email to subcribe-covidgovgrant@lists.wi.gov to get added to that list.

Student Loan Debt

In the U.S., student loan debt is at an all-time high. In 2019, Forbes reported that nearly 45 million borrowers collectively owed more than $1.5 trillion in student loan debt—an amount higher than auto loans and credit card debt combined.

The primary reason is skyrocketing tuition rates. Over the past 20 years, tuition at all types of colleges has more than doubled, and in some cases it's more than tripled.

While college tuition is still considered "good debt," financial planners offer a few cautionary thoughts:

- Not all college degrees offer the same ROI (return on investment). What you study in college will have a huge impact on your earnings. Community colleges and trade schools remain practical options.
- Paying off student loan debt can severely impact your lifestyle, even decades after graduation. This impact is worse for those who drop out of school without earning a degree.
- Student loans are often the path of least resistance when trying to finance an education. However, they're certainly not the only option. You can also:
    - Research and apply for scholarships.
    - Check with your HR Department to see if tuition reimbursement is part of your benefit package.
    - If you work for a university, check to see if employees or dependents are offered free or reduced tuition.
    - Attend school part-time while holding down a full-time job.

Hey Joe,
Happy 4th of July!!!!
You know...the holiday where we celebrate our FREEDOM????

I listened to your press conference with SRC-Madison's mayor, where you noted that people are "ignoring the guidelines" and you are dialing the county back a phase due to an increase in Covid cases.
Yes indeed the confirmed cases are increasing WHICH WAS ANTICIPATED!
Yes these are YOUNG people who are NOT at great risk for complications.
Hospitalizations are NOT increasing.
Deaths are NOT increasing.
Milwaukee County has an increase as well, much bigger numbers, and they have advanced well beyond Dane County in phases. Interesting.

Safer at home was INTENDED to lessen the burden on hospitals and staff. That goal was achieved. Hospitals do NOT have strains right now. PPE needs are being met.
So we let things relax a bit and when the numbers begin to rise as they NORMALLY do with upper respiratory viruses(FARR's Law of epidemiology), you people lose your ever loving minds. Not to mention that a focused Madison bar concern now affects every small business in your county. What the hell?
Yes Covid numbers are up, but not at a concerning level. Herd immunity is progressing well. Your "Backwards Dane" metrics (for <4 cases per day)for a county with half a million people are completely insane.
So you are going to start fining violators of your "guidelines"? That's what media reports say.
How about the protestors who are shoulder to shoulder and SHOUTING for hours and hours and sharing food,etc. Are they going to be fined too for assembly of a group too large?
You are killing the small businesses in this (formerly Great) county who were already struggling. All because of an increase of Covid in a healthy demographic?
Yep, my only conclusion is that you have all lost your ever lovin' minds. Not an ounce of common sense is left here anymore. There can be no other explanation.

I'm exhausted watching the rule of law being ignored at every turn with rioters and then you have a press conference and threaten to start fining business owners who don't have patrons following recommendations. Shame on you ON BOTH COUNTS. This county will never be great like it was. Stand down orders by law enforcement (or leaders?) have ruined so very much.
Law breakers are rewarded in your crazy world.
And guidelines breakers WILL BE PUNISHED!

Just a reminder that your guidelines are just guidelines (they are not laws) and I for one hope they are ignored by freedom loving business owners.
Covid won't ruin our county... but our leaders just might.

As before, I hope you have a lovely holiday weekend and might I recommend some good reading. Perhaps you should start with the constitution, and remember what freedom really is for all.

May God help us all,
Dyanne

Mr. Parisi,

Please strongly consider mandating face masks before the virus gets out of control. It actually feels like it may already be out of control but better late-than-never. I feel very uncomfortable going into stores where people don't wear masks. So, I'm very selective about where I go. I'm spending too much of my money at Amazon and not enough at local retailers. I'd love to keep my money local but I just don't feel safe doing so.

Minimally, please mandate masks in grocery stores, hardware stores and customer areas of car service shops. These are places people need to go to and really don't have a choice. I can make a personal choice if I want to go to a restaurant. But, I can't make a choice about getting my car fixed or getting groceries.

Wearing a mask is the least people can do to protect others and to help get the economy going.

Not much more to update on the data besides we're holding in this steady higher state right now. Fingers crossed the decisions we've made recently will start to bear out in a decreasing case count and not ripple too much through the community or impact healthcare. We'll start to see that within the next couple days, I would imagine.

The Federal "CRAFT" team—COVID Response Assistance Field Team, has been here and gone. I spent a couple hours with them yesterday, connected them with UW Hospital, Carrie Meier from DCEM, and Jennifer Behnke from the Southern WI Regional HealthCare Readiness Coalition to gather feedback from multi-sectors including us and state public health folks. We had an 'out brief' meeting this afternoon with them and Secretary Palm and her team.

Their analysis of the situation here:

- they rarely to almost never see a health department with the data capacity we have which has been so instrumental to our response (the data team is dying!) and our ability as a department to move as quickly as we did after identifying a problem
- impressed with our testing strategy and recognize that more staff capacity is needed to support this on an ongoing, sustainable basis. They know it is imperative to have robust testing to understand the who, what, where, and when's of this illness in Dane County.
- They will be supporting our request (and the state's) that there be a federal extension of Title 32 so that the National Guard can be a resource here and in WI beyond August 21st (and only available for the AEC testing mission to Aug. 7th.)
-They will be advocating for additional and ongoing (past 12/31/20) resources to be made available to the state/to PHMDC.
- They encouraged (my interpretation) the state to support aligning messaging on the critical components of prevention for COVID. (my sidebar opinion-- I don't know if the state is hearing or understanding what this can or should be).

Think that's all for now.

Hello,

I am writing as a resident of Madison to ask that you both Madison (Dane County) and the State of Wisconsin make it a requirement for people to wear masks in all enclosed public spaces as well as while within 6-feet of others outdoors.

I am a licensed massage therapist and I recently reopened my practice. I primarily work with a clientele that would be considered vulnerable due to auto-immune disorders and age. These clients are scared and hesitant to receive bodywork. I can assure them of the very stringent practices I have in place at my clinic. However, I cannot reduce the risk fully because of the lack of control in public places.

It is scary to be in a grocery store or in a public building and have others around me choosing not to wear masks. Even the building I rent a suite in, is a public building and therefore feels it cannot require masks in the small hallways. Handicapped people in the elevator are also afraid, because again, masks are not required.

I think that it is simply an excuse to say that you cannot put this rule in place because you cannot possibly enforce it. 99% of laws are not enforced all of the time, but they are still laws that we keep (like the speed limit, and seat belts). There will always be people who choose to break the rules, however there will be more people who choose to do the right and legal thing if it is a law.

As a small business owner, who had to close for 2.5 months, I am terrified of once again having to close my business due to COVID-19. It doesn't matter if I am being as careful as possible if there are people in the grocery stores and gas stations not wearing masks.

I urge you to protect your citizens, especially small business owners who have been hit hard by this. Please require masks for everyone, everywhere in Wisconsin. This is the only way to save our lives and our local economies.

Thank you,

Laura Novak

Hello,
Thank you for contacting me in support of mandating the use of face masks in public settings. I agree with you. I, too, believe the time has come for such a requirement. While guidance on this matter has been evolving, it is now clear that masks are one of our most effective tools in slowing the spread of COVID-19.
Public Health Madison Dane County (PHMDC) is currently working to address logistics and concerns related to issuing a face mask mandate, such as availability, access and enforcement, as well as unintended consequences such as racial profiling and the potential for violence occurring when businesses try to enforce the rule on customers who refuse to wear a mask, which we have seen in other areas.

It is my hope PHMDC will soon be in a position that allows them to move forward with this requirement, and I have shared that view with them.
If you would like to contact PHMDC directly, they can be reached at coronavirus@publichealthmdc.com
Thank you again for writing to express our shared concern.

Hi Joe and Josh,
Thank you both for all your work in protecting Dane County residents by developing a safe reopening plan despite the Supreme Court's decision to strike down Governor Evers' safer at home order. But it now appears clear that the COVID rate in Dane County is increasing significantly, mostly due to transmissions among younger people. https://madison.com/ct/news/local/govt-and-politics/steep-spike-in-county-covid-19-cases-driven-by-young-adults/article_5f72752c-5ca0-5362-8c8c-e50d89981c89.html#tracking-source=home-top-story.This is only going to get much more concerning as college students return to UW and other colleges here.
Accordingly, I think it is critical for Dane County to again lead and implement a clear requirement for masks inside public spaces and outside were public distancing is not possible. It is remarkable the effectiveness of such measures in other jurisdictions. See https://www.fastcompany.com/90519909/countries-where-everyone-wears-masks-saw-covid-death-rates-100-times-lower-than-projected and https://www.kshb.com/news/national/coronavirus/coronavirus-model-projects-that-33-000-us-lives-would-be-saved-by-wearing-masks
Your work is incredibly important at this time and I hope that you can take the lead to make sure that we become a county that performs like the Northeastern states and most developed countries by implementing immediately (before our Covid situation quickly gets out of control) mask and other needed requirements. Otherwise I'm afraid we will have hundreds of deaths in our county and will be required to pull back significantly on reopening.
Thank you for your time and service.
John

Attachments: 7_3_AM_HeatIndex_Fcst.pdf; ATT00001.htm

Good morning,

Here's the latest forecast information on thunderstorm chances today and early next week, as well as expected warm temperatures and high heat index values through the holiday weekend.

Bottom Line Up Front
Scattered thunderstorms are expected today, mainly from late morning through early evening. Locally heavy rain and lightning can be expected with any storms.

Hot and humid weather will continue into next week. High temperatures will top out in the upper 80s and low 90s, with heat index values in the mid 90s. Overnight lows will be in the upper 60s to around 70, though likely warmer within the core of urban areas.

What has changed?
Chances for thunderstorms have increased for today (Friday).

Forecast Information for Thunderstorms
Where: All of southern Wisconsin
What: Thunderstorms with heavy rain and lightning.
When: Today from late morning through early evening. Chances return Monday, continuing through most of the week.
Impacts: Lightning will pose a threat to those outdoors and without access to permanent shelter.

Forecast Information for Hot Temperatures
Where: All of southern Wisconsin away from the immediate Lake Michigan shoreline.
What: High temperatures in the upper 80s and low 90s. Heat index values in the mid 90s. Overnight lows in the upper 60s to around 70, except warmer in urban cores.
When: Through most of next week.
Impacts: Warm temperatures and high heat index values will pose a risk for heat related illness, especially in vulnerable populations and/or those without access to air conditioning.

Hello, today is Friday, July 3rd. People will die today owing to the lack of universal masking requirements in the City of Madison and across Dane County.

I'm attaching a letter advocating for mask requirements that was signed by over 100 prominent public health experts, including those at UW-Madison. It is sheer arrogance to suggest that Robin Lowney Lankton, Janel Heinrich or anyone at PHMDC knows better than those signing public health experts, or the leaders of the 46 states and 120 countries that have already implemented public mask requirements. That arrogance is killing people-- and as PHMDC's blog noted Wednesday: "Black and Latinx people have tested positive for COVID-19 at disproportionately higher rates than White people in our county."

How many more Black and Latinx people will PHMDC allow to become infected with the coronavirus before you take the extremely basic step of requiring masks in all public indoor spaces?

For your situational awareness (FYSA), MPD has received information that the below event has been rescheduled for today, 07/03...3p-9p. We are staffing MPD accordingly. No need for any assistance from the EOC at this time. Thank you.

We Demand: Free Sire! Free Madison's Political Prisoners!"
WHEN: Today, 7/2 4:30-10:30pm
WHERE: Public Safety Building (111 W Doty St)
HOSTED BY: Party for Socialism and Liberation – Madison
EVENT PAGE: https://www.facebook.com/events/879515509199588
DESCRIPTION: In the span of one week, the Madison Police Department has locked up four Black revolutionary activists on trumped-up charges--or no charges at all.
This is no coincidence. What does it mean when our capitalist government locks up Black anti-capitalist activists? It means regular, working people are winning our fight for liberation, and they're scared--so they'll try to end the movement however they can.
We don't give up! We demand that Sire and Yeshua be released immediately and that ALL charges be dropped against Sire, Yeshua, KG, and Gregg.

Updates:

MPD is aware of information surrounding some of the narratives of the Monona incident that has sparked some calls for protest. WI DCI and Monona PD issued a press release to try to address some of the rumors. Last night, there was a gathering of approximately 20 individuals at James Madison Park for the victim. There were no other activities/protests of note. The City was very busy with several significant calls unrelated to the protests including a shooting at Elver Park and a homicide on the north side.

The MPD/State Command Post is staffed daily. Police resources are bolstered when there's info to suggest more resources may be needed. At this time, I request the EOC remain in stand-down mode. I have contacted several of you with requests while we're in this posture. This method has worked well and I appreciate your continued support. We're all tired, but doing well.

Today's Known Events:

- Edgewood College Protest
  Wednesday 3pm
  An event possibly being organized by Edgewood College students and faculty is calling for planned marches throughout the Monroe St corridor according to the pamphlets shared with MPD.

- "Free Sire! Free ALL Black Political Prisoners"
  Wednesday 5:30pm-8:30pm Location, possibly Rennebohm Park
  Organized by Party for Socialism and Liberation – Madison

- Black Canvas Vigil and March/ "Paint Your Pride"
  Wednesday 5pm-10pm - Location, possibly Capitol
  Call for LGBT+ Community to wear white and to come together for a "hugeee paint ball party". March then an event at the Capitol – State St side

Friday, July 3rd:

- "Police Free School Celebration"
  Aldo Leopold Park
  Hosted by Freedom Inc/Freedom Youth Squad

- Car Wash Fundraiser
  Brittingham Park
  Hosted by Black Umbrella
  -MPD has info of adverstisement of car wash fundraiser with Devonare Johnson's photo on it (subject arrested from the Coopers Tavern, bullhorn/bat incident).

Saturday, July 4th:

- Day of Unity
  State Capitol
  Hosted by Our Country United

Dan

A Compromise Areement with the DNR to open Mazo Beach should start by opening up Conservation Drive to less mobile and handicapped people that were forced by the early parking lot closure to walk an extra mile to visit Mazo Beach at the AT&T crossover of the Wisconsin River.

The legal rights of these less mobile & handicapped people have been ignored much too long at Mazo Beach & Mazo Marshes.

Inexpensive access by all people to Mazo Beach, to the Mazo Marshes and to trails & gravel parking lots are much more important to visitors than expensive and unaffordable concrete curbs, blacktop parking & new buildings especially under Wisconsin's current limited budgets.

1. Conservation Drive should be opened south to an inexpensive sand & gravel parking lot just north of the State Natural Area.

2. From there a grassy & inexpensive east crossover trail to the Lost Lake Trail and to Dog Training and County Y would allow less mobile & handicapped people see some of the Mazo Marshes area that they are now effectively & perhaps illegally excluded from seeing.

3. The DNR's past concern with then illegal, but private gay activities should be ended with their new Supreme Court protections and general out-of-view social acceptance.

4. Given the past history of Mazo Beach, both men and women for sex equality should be required by posted warnings under equal controls to wear minimum shorts or thongs for lower cover and, for equality, with nothing posted about required cover above the belt. Most state parks have no need to warn about clothing and have no warnings posted.

5. A kayak & canoe landing and sand & gravel trail & parking lot across from Ferry Bluff Rock would also show the most popular view in the Mazo Beach area of water, sand, blue skies and the Ferry Bluff.

Friends of Mazo Marshes, with help by me & others, could financially cover a significant part of the cost of this Compromise Agreement if the state would just contribute $35,000 plus the necessary plans & approvals.

Ryan,
Thank you to Madison and Dane County for issuing a new order ahead of this weekend to reduce the number of COVID19 cases, as well as your efforts to encourage compliance. Please stay that course.

Thanks, Ryan, for acknowledging my continued concern. I appreciate the importance of a transparent plan, and I have been following the metrics closely.

I am sorry to see the significant spike in new cases today. The additional information included in the June 22 Snapshot regarding recent trends in cases was helpful, as was the alert included when discussing recent case numbers.

The Forward Dane plan provides no guidance or metrics for reverting to an earlier phase. I remain concerned about the rate of increase in cases and percent positive cases. The prospect of waiting to take action based on a new assessment a week from now seems unnecessary. Please consider taking new actions now reflective of the increased concern expressed in the June 22 Snapshot.

Thanks,
Rick Strickland

Hi Rick,

Thanks for your follow up email and continued concerns, including ideas for new efforts.

Our PHMDC data team continues to assess test results, along with other metrics that you can find here: https://www.publichealthmdc.com/coronavirus/data#movingphases. These metrics will guide future planning.

Leadership will use data to inform decisions within each phase and moving in and out of phases.

Thanks,

Ryan

As you see below, I registered my concern on June 12 about moving to phase 2 in the face of increasing case numbers. Now we exceed more than 20 cases on a daily average--the stop point you wisely set, and the percentage of position cases is rising. Further, youth and younger adults are driving the increase in cases.

We are not immune from the doubling effects of the virus as you know. What is the plan? Move back to phase1? Require wearing of masks in all indoor public spaces? An educational campaign focused on youth and young adults? I am afraid there's an attitude afoot that the pandemic is past, that things can only get better. Viruses don't work that way.

Please consider new efforts to address this changing situation. Thank you.

I am writing to express my concern about moving to Phase 2 when our case numbers are increasing. Why not have extended Phase 1 even one week to check the trend. I think it's going to be more difficult to go back to Phase 1 now if needed.

Subject: RE: Help my small business

Hello,

Thank you for contacting me in support of mandating the use of face masks in public settings. I agree with you. I, too, believe the time has come for such a requirement. While guidance on this matter has been evolving, it is now clear that masks are one of our most effective tools in slowing the spread of COVID-19.

Public Health Madison Dane County (PHMDC) is currently working to address logistics and concerns related to issuing a face mask mandate, such as availability, access and enforcement, as well as unintended consequences such as racial profiling and the potential for violence occurring when businesses try to enforce the rule on customers who refuse to wear a mask, which we have seen in other areas.

It is my hope PHMDC will soon be in a position that allows them to move forward with this requirement, and I have shared that view with them.

If you would like to contact PHMDC directly, they can be reached at coronavirus@publichealthmdc.com

Thank you again for writing to express our shared concern.

Hello,

I am writing as a resident of Madison to ask that you both Madison (Dane County) and the State of Wisconsin make it a requirement for people to wear masks in all enclosed public spaces as well as while within 6-feet of others outdoors.

I am a licensed massage therapist and I recently reopened my practice. I primarily work with a clientele that would be considered vulnerable due to auto-immune disorders and age. These clients are scared and hesitant to receive bodywork. I can assure them of the very stringent practices I have in place at my clinic. However, I cannot reduce the risk fully because of the lack of control in public places.

It is scary to be in a grocery store or in a public building and have others around me choosing not to wear masks. Even the building I rent a suite in, is a public building and therefore feels it cannot require masks in the small hallways. Handicapped people in the elevator are also afraid, because again, masks are not required.

I think that it is simply an excuse to say that you cannot put this rule in place because you cannot possibly enforce it. 99% of laws are not enforced all of the time, but they are still laws that we keep (like the speed limit, and seat belts). There will always be people who choose to break the rules, however there will be more people who choose to do the right and legal thing if it is a law.

As a small business owner, who had to close for 2.5 months, I am terrified of once again having to close my business due to COVID-19. It doesn't matter if I am being as careful as possible if there are people in the grocery stores and gas stations not wearing masks.

I urge you to protect your citizens, especially small business owners who have been hit hard by this. Please require masks for everyone, everywhere in Wisconsin. This is the only way to save our lives and our local economies.

Thank you,

Laura Novak

Hello Again,

Why can't we see the exact record number of testing in Dane County that has been happening & percentage of positive tests vs just a number that says it is higher? Is it because you want to keep us scared?

"Dane County hit another triple digit increase in coronavirus cases, with 117 new cases reported Friday. Today's increase brings the county's total COVID cases to 2,192 with over 40% of all cases in their 20s. Dane County is still at 32 deaths, which has been consistent since June 17th.

Today's new cases continues the trend of most new cases being discovered in younger people with over half – 73 of the new cases – aged in their 20s. The group between 20-29 is now 41.61 percent of all cases in Dane County. Of the the rest, three are under the age of 10, eight are aged 10-19, and nine are in their 30s. There were also five new cases in their 40s, 12 in their 50s, five in their 60s and two new cases in their 80s.

There was no new additional hospitalizations today. As of this morning, only 217 cases have ever been hospitalized in Dane County since the pandemic began."

I know of one of the 32 deaths you count. The person was 95 and had been hospitalized for over a month. He gets Covid and they call it a Covid death. That is misleading.

School & athletics should and must happen & the data bare that out. Other things to understand. More youth will die from suicide and overdoses that covid. I am not scaring you back that is EXACTLY what the data is showing.

Not sure if you have seen this (obviously not), but here is the data for Dane County. At this point way more kids will die from suicide and drug overdoses than Covid. https://cityofmadison.maps.arcgis.com/apps/opsdashboard/index.html#/e22f5ba4f1f94e0bb0b9529dc82db6a3 32 deaths 24 over 70 years of age. That trend stays pretty true state wide as well. Most infections are 20-29 and they have a low hospital rate and 0 deaths. At least in college the kids can stay on campus around their own ages for the most part and not take it home. That would be wise advice to give the kids. Stay on campus like a military school and stay out of the bars, with your mask on. Dane has had 9 deaths since April 28. Again, the economic inequity of athletics and access to high school run health and activity for kids is appalling! As if you care.

Sincerely,

Jason

Hello Mr. Parisi & Dane County Health,

I am a resident in Middleton of the County of Dane. After looking at the data I am very dismayed. You drug your feet to move us to Phase II (seemed like you didn't want to). Our numbers are 2.4% positive tests, only 213 total hospitalizations and 32 deaths (9 since April 28). 3 deaths under 60 and 8 under 70. After these young adults downtown ruined our trajectory, you went warp speed to put on the brakes. We should be on track for sports and school! You know we need Phase III to do it and because of a bunch of 20-29-year old's downtown you clamp the entire county. I am not seeing a willingness to use data; this seems more of a political move to stick it to the rest of the state. Why aren't they going crazy? Why aren't they sounding the alarm? We have pay to play sports going on everywhere, I am not hearing about a bunch of shutdowns or outbreaks within teams, but we cannot plan accordingly and let kids work out here at home with responsible accredited coaches and staff? It is another economic inequality for kids. If you can afford it, go play, if not too bad. I shared the data on Student Athletes and Depression last time with you. It is a fact and based on your data that more kids under 20 are going to die from other means of the lockdown than Covid19. Turn to drugs and alcohol and likely some suicides. The data is bearing that out already. We obviously need to take very strong precautions (which we can), but it can be done so it needs to be done. Contact tracing should also matter for the county's sake as well. Age and location of outbreak matters! Stop abusing your office and start using the data as you and everyone else said they would. Waiting for a vaccine is not an option so we need a plan to live with it where kids and businesses can thrive and be successful. Thank you for your time and understanding.

Sincerely,

Jason Pertzborn

Hello, today is Friday, July 3rd. People will die today owing to the lack of universal masking requirements in the City of Madison and across Dane County.

I'm attaching a letter advocating for mask requirements that was signed by over 100 prominent public health experts, including those at UW-Madison. It is sheer arrogance to suggest that Robin Lowney Lankton, Janel Heinrich or anyone at PHMDC knows better than those signing public health experts, or the leaders of the 46 states and 120 countries that have already implemented public mask requirements. That arrogance is killing people-- and as PHMDC's blog noted Wednesday: "Black and Latinx people have tested positive for COVID-19 at disproportionately higher rates than White people in our county."

How many more Black and Latinx people will PHMDC allow to become infected with the coronavirus before you take the extremely basic step of requiring masks in all public indoor spaces?

John,

The 10 year master plan calls for "significant" state investment in the 300 acre river front property.

The state has already approved $506,000 and additional money is being sought in order to meet the bids that the state received for the project.

I think that we need to look at what is in the best interest of Mazo and the public.

Major improvements to the river front and marsh trails will attract many.... Maybe too many?

Making significant public investment means that the public will demand that there be no surprises.

What does the public expect when they go to devil's lake or governor dodge?

It should be no different at mazo beach/marsh.

Dan

Dan

A Compromise Areement with the DNR to open Mazo Beach should start by opening up Conservation Drive to less mobile and handicapped people that were forced by the early parking lot closure to walk an extra mile to visit Mazo Beach at the AT&T crossover of the Wisconsin River.

The legal rights of these less mobile & handicapped people have been ignored much too long at Mazo Beach & Mazo Marshes.

Inexpensive access by all people to Mazo Beach, to the Mazo Marshes and to trails & gravel parking lots are much more important to visitors than expensive and unaffordable concrete curbs, blacktop parking & new buildings especially under Wisconsin's current limited budgets.

1. Conservation Drive should be opened south to an inexpensive sand & gravel parking lot just north of the State Natural Area.

2. From there a grassy & inexpensive east crossover trail to the Lost Lake Trail and to Dog Training and County Y would allow less mobile & handicapped people see some of the Mazo Marshes area that they are now effectively & perhaps illegally excluded from seeing.

3. The DNR's past concern with then illegal, but private gay activities should be ended with their new Supreme Court protections and general out-of-view social acceptance.

4. Given the past history of Mazo Beach, both men and women for sex equality should be required by posted warnings under equal controls to wear minimum shorts or thongs for lower cover and, for equality, with nothing posted about required cover above the belt. Most state parks have no need to warn about clothing and have no warnings posted.

5. A kayak & canoe landing and sand & gravel trail & parking lot across from Ferry Bluff Rock would also show the most popular view in the Mazo Beach area of water, sand, blue skies and the Ferry Bluff.

Friends of Mazo Marshes, with help by me & others, could financially cover a significant part of the cost of this Compromise Agreement if the state would just contribute $35,000 plus the necessary plans & approvals.

John

If the state sees an organization that can help them improve and maintain the area for public use , they will be more likely to revest state money.

HealthWatch Wisconsin's PULSE

NEWS RELEASE

June 30, 2020

Telecommunications Updates & More

Madison, WI - On June 30, ABC for Health, Inc. launched the Teach, Learn, & Connect (TLC) for Kids Resource library with updates for 2020. The library includes popular, on-demand training and shareable fact sheets to help low income individuals and families - especially those with children and youth with special healthcare needs in the home - secure telecommunications services. The library also includes videos on program changes as Wisconsin adapts to the COVID pandemic.

Telecommunications programs in Wisconsin include Lifeline, a subsidy program for discounted phone or broadband services, and TEPP, assistive technology equipment that makes using the phone more accessible.

TLC for Kids promotes improved awareness for families experiencing a transition in coverage, the loss of a job, or other life-changing event. With a little extra help, families can stay connected to doctors, social workers, public benefit programs, and other community supports.

Lifeline Explained - Phone & Internet Services

Enhanced telecommunication benefits may be available for people living on select tribal lands. We describe eligibility, program rules, and enhanced benefits.

Webpage | Video | Fact Sheet | National Verifier Statewide Providers | Providers by Region

TEPP & TAP Explained - Assistive Technology

The TEPP program is available to make it easier for people with disabilities to have telecommunication devices in their home. Subsidies may be available to decrease the cost of equipment for those who qualify.

Webpage | Video | Fact Sheet

Emergency Telecom Resources During COVID

Lifeline program rules have changed in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Also, the Public Service Commission has made new resources available to assist families across Wisconsin.

COVID-19 Emergency Resources

Brynne McBride, TLC for Kids Project Director and Public Interest Attorney at ABC for Health stressed the importance of these programs.
"The COVID Pandemic has created new barriers for communicating for people across Wisconsin. We need to keep consumers, especially those with children with special health care needs, stay connected to family, care providers, schools, basic food and housing needs, and their health coverage," says McBride. She continues, "Programs like Lifeline help us do just that."
Teach, Learn, & Connect (TLC) for Kids is your place to learn or refresh your understanding of eligibility and program rules for telecommunication assistance programs available in Wisconsin!

Subject: Retirement announcement

Folks;

As many of you know, I've been contemplating retirement for at least a year. I told the boss 6 or so months ago that I thought it would be the second half of 2020; I told him then I wasn't sure if it would be July 1 or Dec 31 (or where in between). I held off some from my original thought (which was to retire mid-July) due to the pandemic and now am holding off a little more to ensure the protests/riot response and planning is in the best shape it can be. So, despite not knowing for sure where the pandemic is going nor if/how the protests/riots might proceed, I have made the decision in order to ensure the County has adequate time to go through the replacement process.

I'll be retiring effective October 1, 2020.

I'm sure I'll pass on reflections and more gratitude prior to my retirement, but let me start now by saying this has been an excellent 11+ years. All of you are outstanding public safety employees and we have an excellent emergency communications system thanks to huge contributions of professionalism from the most senior to the most junior; whether in Ops, Tech Services or Support Services. Thank you!

You'll shortly (today) be seeing an announcement from the 4th floor; announcing the retirement and indicating that a search for a successor is underway. This message and theirs was intended to be concurrent.

Thanks again!

John

Recent Announcements

- June Jobs Report "Smashes Expectations": Thursday, July 2, the Bureau of Labor Statistics released jobs numbers for June that far eclipsed economists' expectations. Our Nation's economy has broken another record as 4.8 million jobs were added in June, bringing the economic comeback to 7.5 million jobs added over the past two months. Employment increased significantly for most major sectors, with the largest gains in leisure and hospitality (2.1 million), retail trade (740,000), education and health services (568,000), and manufacturing (356,000). The overall unemployment rate fell by 2.2 points to 11.1%, beating forecasters' expectations by 1.4%. These data show Americans are returning to the workforce, and our nation's economy continues to recover. Read more here.
- U.S. Department of the Treasury Issues Updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On June 24, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. Among other new guidance, the updated Q/A provides that States, Tribes, and localities can use Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars for the 25% FEMA cost share. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.
- FEMA Releases Guidance on Federal Cost Share for Public Assistance Program: On July 2, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released clear guidance on how FEMA will treat the multiple sources of funding as they relate to the public assistance program and its cost share requirements. Generally, funding from other federal agencies cannot be used to meet the FEMA public assistance non-federal cost share requirement. For COVID-19, however, there are two exceptions: Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) dollars – mentioned above – and Department of House and Urban Development's Community Disaster Block Grant (CDBG-CV_.
- Centers for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC) Publishes New Guidance for K-12 Schools and Higher Education Institutions: On June 30, CDC published new guidance for K-12 schools and higher education institutions as they begin to reopen. The guidance offers considerations for ways in which schools can help protect students, teachers, administrators, and staff and slow the spread of COVID-19. The full guidance for K-12 School Administrators can be found here. The full guidance for Higher Education Administrators can be found here.
- Department of Education Launches New Student-Centered Grant Competition to Spur Short-Term Education Opportunities: U.S. Secretary of Education Betsy DeVos announced a new higher education discretionary grant program designed to provide students the opportunity to develop new skills, provide innovators and inventors the resources to expand existing businesses or build new ones, and encourage institutions of higher education to foster business development and innovation as America begins to recover from COVID-19-related disruptions to education and our economy. The CARES Act provided $307.5 million for discretionary grants, which the Secretary has chosen to divide between two competitions: $127.5 million for the Reimagine Workforce Preparation Grant and $180 million for the Rethink K-12 Education Models Grant.

- Indian Health Service Announces National Expansion of the Community Health: The Indian Health Service is announcing the national expansion of the Community Health Aide Program. The program provides education and training of tribal community health providers to increase access to quality health care, health promotion and disease prevention services. As an expansion of the Alaska Community Health Aide Program, the national CHAP will be consistent with the Alaska model and will foster innovative service delivery for the IHS by augmenting the existing workforce with mid-level paraprofessionals, utilizing culturally competent providers, and providing workforce development opportunities for locally developed staff.

COVID-19: Important Resources for State, Local, and Tribal Officials

- Guidelines for Opening Up America Again: On April 16, President Trump and the White House Coronavirus Task Force unveiled guidelines (download here) for the reopening of America. Developed by the top medical experts from across the Government and based on verifiable metrics regarding the situation on the ground, the guidelines outline a phased return to reopening and include specific steps for State, Local, and Tribal officials to follow in tailoring their response. The guidelines also set clear benchmarks on new cases, testing, and hospital resources for States to meet to proceed toward a phased reopening. In the days and weeks ahead, the Administration plans to continue robust coordination and outreach with State, Local, and Tribal leaders as we collectively work to reopen the country.
- Opening Up America Again Testing Overview and Testing Blueprint: On April 27, President Trump and the White House Coronavirus Task Force unveiled the Opening Up American Again Testing Overview and Testing Blueprint designed to facilitate State development and implementation of the robust testing plans and rapid response programs described in the President's Opening Up America Again Guidelines. The Testing Blueprint sets forth the partnership between Federal, State, local, and tribal governments, along with the private-sector and professional associations, all of which will play important roles in meeting the Nation's testing needs.

Director Tubbs,
PHMDC would like to request an extension of the Wisconsin National Guard COVID 19 support at the Alliant Energy Center, Madison WI to 12/31/2020. As you are aware our numbers of positive cases continue to increase. We are also finding that our communities of color are being disproportionality impacted by COVID 19 and positivity rates in these communities continue to increase at a pace faster than our white communities. The testing that is occurring at the AEC is providing us with valuable data and assisting in being able to best serve Dane County. The National Guard is providing invaluable support at the Alliant Energy Center and elsewhere to help identify positive cases via testing for follow up by our contact tracing team. Thank you for your consideration.

Dane Arts Debuts Video Highlighting Recipients of Dane Arts Need Grant Program, Importance of Art During COVID-19

Today, Dane County Executive Joe Parisi joined the Dane County Arts and Cultural Affairs Commission to debut "Amidst COVID-19, Support Local Artists and Local Voices"—a video created to highlight the many local artists who have benefited from the Dane Arts Need Grant (DANG!) Program during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Since first launching in April, the DANG! Program has allowed over 205 local artists to receive $500 in financial support. The video "Amidst COVID-19, Support Local Artists and Local Voices" shares stories of independent working arts from the first round of DANG! awards and highlights the economic, cultural, creative and community impact of the arts in Dane County, Wisconsin.

"Dane County is committed to supporting local artists and providing opportunities for them to continue working during the COVID-19 pandemic," said County Executive Parisi. "The Dane Arts Need Grant program has helped artists make ends meet and promote their artform in new ways. This video allows their stories and talents to be shared with the Dane County community."

The DANG! program launched April 17 and started out at $15,000. In just two days, funds were exhausted. Dane Arts added $7,500 to support a total of 90 artists. On May 13, County Executive Parisi announced $100,000 in additional funds would go to the program. The funding was allocated to help more local artists continue to develop work throughout the pandemic, which has caused many to lose much needed income from cancelled workshops, performances, and events.

"Dane County Executive Parisi, the County Board, and the Cultural Arts Commission helped address an important need: to provide much needed relief funds for working artists. It has been such a kind gesture under the most trying circumstances," said Mark J. Fraire, Director of Dane Arts. "Artists are important creators and economic drivers and Dane County supports small business owners—our working artists."

Artists could apply to the DANG! program to purchase products that would help them develop an online presence and promote their art form or present a forum through a live feed of music, theater, dance, performance art, history and/or multidisciplinary work. Artists could also use the funds to support the purchase of supplies and/or further develop their skills. Applicants needed to be a working artist with at least two years of activity. Those eligible for the grant program included musicians, dancers, actors/producers, poets/writers, visual artists, performers, and any individual working artist.

An Update on the COVID-19 Pandemic

Since the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic, we've known that this virus was going to be with us for a long time. That knowledge, however, has not made dealing with it any less painful.

We're all understandably tired of this virus and the impact it's had on our lives – physically, emotionally and economically. Unfortunately, however, COVID-19 is still with us, and it's no less dangerous or contagious today than it was back in March.

Recently, we've seen a surge in cases. This surge reminds us we need to remain vigilant and continue to focus on preventing the spread of the virus.

In order to get and keep COVID-19 back under control, we all need to continue practicing strict adherence to public health guidelines. Wearing a mask, staying six feet apart, washing our hands, and avoiding large gatherings all help keep us and our community healthy.

We need to remember and reinvigorate the spirit and approach that brought us success at the beginning of this outbreak. By working together, as a community, we were able to rally together and flatten the curve. We took care of our neighbors, and we got a handle on the spread.

We must all continue to do our part to protect each other and ourselves. We can keep the virus under control, but it will require everyone in our community doing their part and paying attention to public health guidelines.

Getting a handle on the virus will take all of us working together for the greater good. We've done it before, we can do it again.

COVID-19 Information Update 7/3/20

Alliant Energy Center Community Testing Site Update

- Wednesday (7/1) 2,099 people were tested and Thursday (7/2) 2,463 people were tested.
- The total number of people who have been tested at the community test site is 43,993.
- The test site is closed Saturday, July 4.
- The community test site will now be open until at least August 31. Please update any information or posting you have about this date.

Data Byte

In the past week (June 26-July 2), there were 720 new cases of COVID-19 in Dane County. Of those interviewed so far:

- 193 of the 720 reported attending a gathering, party, or meeting with people from outside their household.
- 117 of the 720 were associated with clusters: 90 from bars, 9 from other businesses/workplaces, 4 from daycares, 4 from gyms, 1 from a congregate facility, and 9 from other clusters.

We define a cluster as 1 case in a long term care facility or daycare or 2 or more cases associated with one location or event around the same time.

Remember, our contact tracers are still conducting interviews, so the numbers above will go up as they complete more interviews.

On Monday we'll be releasing our weekly data snapshot, and this weekend you can keep tabs on the latest case count and other key data by visiting our dashboard.

Attachments: HeatIndexForecast_20200703.pdf; ATT00001.htm

Good afternoon,

Here's the latest forecast information on thunderstorm chances this afternoon and early next week, as well as expected warm temperatures and high heat index values through the holiday weekend and into next week.

Bottom Line Up Front
Scattered thunderstorms are expected through late afternoon, primarily along the lake breeze and north of I-94. Locally heavy rain and lightning can be expected with any storms.

Hot and humid weather will continue into next week. High temperatures will top out in the upper 80s and low 90s, with heat index values in the mid 90s. Overnight lows will be in the upper 60s to around 70, though likely warmer within the core of urban areas.

What has changed?
Thunderstorm chances are low for Saturday and Sunday.

Forecast Information for Thunderstorms
Where: All of southern Wisconsin
What: Thunderstorms with heavy rain and lightning
When: Today from through early evening. Chances return Monday, continuing through most of the week.
Impacts: Lightning will pose a threat to those outdoors and without access to permanent shelter.

Forecast Information for Hot Temperatures
Where: All of southern Wisconsin away from the immediate Lake Michigan shoreline
What: High temperatures in the upper 80s and low 90s. Heat index values in the mid 90s. Overnight lows in the upper 60s to around 70, except warmer in urban cores.
When: Through most of next week.
Impacts: Warm temperatures and high heat index values will pose a risk for heat related illness, especially in vulnerable populations and/or those without access to air conditioning.

A few data points to note:

LTCFs--- The good news is that even with the surge of cases over the past couple of weeks, we've only had ten LTCF cases and one death since we developed an internal report (though staff check regularly) three weeks ago, and only four new cases in the past two weeks. Only one of the new cases is a LTCF resident (the rest are staff). The percent of cases throughout the epidemic associated with LTCFs has dropped to 8% (from 18% in the last update).

Disparity data:

White population positivity rate 2.4%

A concerning trend that we're seeing here, similar to what is happening nationwide, is a growing disparity in COVID cases for LatinX folks.

LatinX folks are 3x (percent positivity = 6.8%) more likely to have a positive Covid Result than whites and Black/African Americans are 2x (percent positivity = 3.8%) more likely.

When we see a higher percent positivity, it can mean that the group is under-tested. Per Hopkins, "If a community's positivity is high, it suggests that that community may largely be testing the sickest patients and possibly missing milder or asymptomatic cases. A lower positivity may indicate that a community is including in its testing patients with milder or no symptoms." Per our contact tracing work it doesn't mean that the disparity rate here is telling us that anyone is more or less symptomatic—that seems to be presenting about the same across race/ethnicity.

What we do know is that continued targeted testing and making resources available to those more disparately impacted, in particular communities of color with (vs. the drivers of our epidemic right now—the 18-30 year olds at bars) are important strategies to focus on.

Moving face covering conversations and planning efforts forward. Stay tuned for an update Monday.

Ryan,
I forgot to acknowledge the development of pop-up testing sites in partnership with the Boys and Girls Club and Madison 365. That's a great development.

Is anything underway to address the case concentration in district 16? Pop-up testing on the street?

Best,
Rick Strickland

Thanks, Ryan, for acknowledging my continued concern. I appreciate the importance of a transparent plan, and I have been following the metrics closely.

I am sorry to see the significant spike in new cases today. The additional information included in the June 22 Snapshot regarding recent trends in cases was helpful, as was the alert included when discussing recent case numbers.

The Forward Dane plan provides no guidance or metrics for reverting to an earlier phase. I remain concerned about the rate of increase in cases and percent positive cases. The prospect of waiting to take action based on a new assessment a week from now seems unnecessary. Please consider taking new actions now reflective of the increased concern expressed in the June 22 Snapshot.

Thanks,
Rick Strickland

As you see below, I registered my concern on June 12 about moving to phase 2 in the face of increasing case numbers. Now we exceed more than 20 cases on a daily average--the stop point you wisely set, and the percentage of position cases is rising. Further, youth and younger adults are driving the increase in cases.

We are not immune from the doubling effects of the virus as you know. What is the plan? Move back to phase1? Require wearing of masks in all indoor public spaces? An educational campaign focused on youth and young adults? I am afraid there's an attitude afoot that the pandemic is past, that things can only get better. Viruses don't work that way.

Please consider new efforts to address this changing situation. Thank you.

I am writing to express my concern about moving to Phase 2 when our case numbers are increasing. Why not have extended Phase 1 even one week to check the trend. I think it's going to be more difficult to go back to Phase 1 now if needed.

Subject: Fwd: 7/4, 5:20 AM Update for Thunderstorm Chances and Prolonged Heat
Attachments: Max Heat Indices.pdf; ATT00001.htm

Good Morning,

Here's the latest forecast information on thunderstorm chances today and next week, as well as expected warm temperatures and high heat index values through the holiday weekend and into next week.

Bottom Line Up Front
Isolated thunderstorms are possible for areas mainly northwest of Madison this afternoon into early evening, with lightning being the primary concern. An isolated storm is not out of the question this morning as well. There will then be a chance for storms at times across southern Wisconsin Monday through Friday.

Hot and humid weather will continue into next week. High temperatures will top out in the upper 80s and low 90s through next week. Max heat indices will be in the 90-95 range this weekend and 90-100 range through next week. Overnight lows will be in the upper 60s to the low 70s, though likely warmer within the core of urban areas.

What has changed?
Thunderstorm chances were removed for Sunday for now, though storm chances may be put back in the forecast if confidence increases.

Forecast Information for Thunderstorms
Where: Northwest of Madison this today. All of southern Wisconsin Monday through Friday.
What: Thunderstorms with heavy rain and lightning
When: Today, with chances then returning Monday through Friday
Impacts: Lightning will pose a threat to those outdoors and without access to permanent shelter.

Forecast Information for Hot Temperatures
Where: All of southern Wisconsin away from the immediate Lake Michigan shoreline, though the warmer conditions may reach the lakeshore at times next week.
What: High temperatures in the upper 80s and low 90s. Max heat indices of 90-95 this weekend and 90-100 next week. (See attached slides) Overnight lows in the upper 60s to around 70, except warmer in urban cores.
When: Through most of next week.
Impacts: Warm temperatures and high heat index values will pose a risk for heat related illness, especially in vulnerable populations and/or those without access to air conditioning.

Judging by online feedback so far I am not alone in my outrage at City/County Public Health Director Heinrich's decision to exclude 'MASKS REQUIRED" from her new COVID policy. Reducing protection of the greater good to accommodate a dubious concern over profiling is absurd. Why not eliminate most traffic laws too while we're at it, in case of profiling. Or all liquor licenses.

You, your staff, and Mayor Satya are acting more self-righteous than all the Republican governors who have imposed mask requirements so far. None of you have the spine to protect all the public in this crisis. We all take the heat for rules which unintentionally discriminate against some. Democracy is a fluid process. You had no compunction about instituting a wheel tax on top of the one City of Madison imposed regarding who would be penalized, hurt or inconvenienced. This is a much more pressing risk is it not?

The Farce of Wearing a Mask and Where It Came From

Scott Morefiled

Anytime things go from widely disputed to sudden, virtually-overnight national "scientific consensus," it's probably a good idea to be a wee bit skeptical. So it goes with the forced universal masking issue. We've obviously run quite the gamut on this, from being told not to wear them at all while the pandemic was at its peak -- and everyone and their neighbor was crowding and swapping moisture particles in Lowe's and Walmart aisles across America -- to the now almost cultlike, lockstep message from politicians, the media and every leftist still too frightened to come out of their basement that not wearing masks in every possible setting is pretty much the equivalent to stabbing grandma in the heart.

It's all a farce, of course -- absurd theater forced upon us by people who would have probably believed in witches a few centuries ago. Now that the Karen-caucus has managed to browbeat most Republican lawmakers and even President Trump into some degree of at least verbal submission, they apparently expect the rest of us rubes to take their word for it and follow along. They think if they condescendingly say the words "I wear the mask to protect you and you wear the mask to protect me" enough, everyone will mindlessly obey. And if you don't, they want to use the force of law to punish you severely.

No, the ongoing, relentless, unceasing crusade to force every American to wear masks to "stop the spread" of coronavirus isn't about to end anytime soon, if ever. Even with deaths declining, they keep the pot stirred up with panic porn about spikes in new cases and hospitalizations in southern and western states. Nevermind the fact that the so-called "surge" in hospitalizations in Texas turned out to be, as Fox News medical correspondent Dr. Marc Siegel noted, mostly people getting "elective" surgeries that had long been delayed due to coronavirus. So yeah, if you're a dishonest media hack I guess you could call those "coronavirus-related." However, the reality isn't what the media panic-inducers want to convey, which is probably why you thought the hospitals were getting filled with actual, life-threatening COVID-19 cases until you read this.

As far as whether or not masking actually works to "stop the spread" of coronavirus, I can point to studies (assuming - and this is a big assumption - that Big Tech allows them to remain online), and the masking proponents can as well. We can go back and forth on the potential long-term dangers posed by non-medically trained people wearing, breathing through, touching and constantly fiddling with veritable Petri dishes for several hours a day (I'm right, they're wrong, but whatever ...). We can even debate whether forced-masking is truly an infringement on personal freedoms (it is) or discuss the validity of the view, popular among many go-along-to-get-along Christians these days, that masking is somehow the key to "loving your neighbor" (it's not).

Does masking work? (Maybe.) How well? (Hard to say.) Is it 100 percent safe? (Doubt it. Even assuming you're getting enough oxygen, how can breathing in your own germs all the time be 'safe'?) Does God say one must put on a face diaper to properly "love your neighbor"? (LOL Uh, no.) Should freedom-centric societies force it on their citizens who aren't obviously sick? (Hell no!) Certainly, we can argue over any of those issues and maybe never come to an agreement. I'll admit it has become a politicized issue. Either position can sound convincing when considered without looking at the other side, and people generally have by-and-large made up their minds before even weighing the other side of their own view.

However, what most advocates ignore is one key observation that makes forced universal masking an insane and unnecessary policy choice in most situations, and that is this: even if masking worked, wasn't dangerous at all and was not seen by millions as a pernicious tool of social control, I see no valid reason why we would want to stop the spread of the virus at this point.

There, I said it. The most powerful argument against universal masking is that it could in fact work to slow the spread of coronavirus. Please stay with me. I'm not saying we shouldn't protect those who are vulnerable to the virus. Had we properly protected those in nursing homes, for example, we could have saved half the people who actually have died from this thing. Nevertheless, the facts are these: the virus is spreading at a rapid rate, but deaths have not spiked and have even decreased. The average age of those who are getting it is significantly younger than it was two months ago. And we're not sure about this yet, but it also seems to have mutated into a weaker version that is more transmissible but less lethal than the version we saw in April.

The fact is, for all the suffering COVID-19 has caused among the elderly and immunocompromised, the actual death rate currently stands at less than half a percent and is declining rapidly as antibody studies come to light. The CDC recently estimated that 10 times the known cases have likely had the disease already and recovered. That's probably a lowball estimate, but it equates to upwards of 10 percent of the U.S. population. As young people spread this seemingly milder version around while older folks take precautions, we're ever closer to reaching herd immunity, which one recent study said can be attained with as little as 43 percent contracting the disease. That may still be a few months away, but in all honesty, it could be our only way out of this. They keep talking about vaccines, but no successful coronavirus vaccine has ever been produced and there's little reason to think it will be now, nor that anything they roll out this quickly will be truly safe anyway.

So, if we aren't overwhelming hospitals and people aren't dying in droves, community spread is actually a good thing, especially when most cases are either mild or asymptomatic. Yes, it would take several months to get any degree of herd immunity, but that would surely be better than living forever like we've been living the past three months, no? What's the alternative, living with this virus on the prowl for years, even decades? Masks forever? Endless, rotating shutdowns? The end of mass gatherings and sports? And if Democrats win, God forbid, an ever-encroaching police state hellbent on using this virus to torment us and our liberties until their Bolshevik dreams become a reality?

Dr. Scott Atlas, a senior fellow at Stanford's Hoover Institution and the former chief of neuroradiology at Stanford University Medical Center, also made the case during a recent Fox News appearance: "We like the fact that there's a lot of cases in low-risk populations because that's exactly how we are going to get herd immunity, population immunity. When low-risk people with no significant problem handling this virus, which is basically 99% of people, get this and they become immune ... they block the pathways of connectivity to more contagious, older, sicker people."

Truly, is there any logical reason why those who are elderly, immunocompromised or even frightened about the virus couldn't wear a mask that really protects them, like an n95, and let everyone else live their lives? Like it or not, herd immunity could be our only way out of this mess, our only way back to any sense of normalcy. The quicker that arrives, the safer those truly vulnerable to this epidemic will be.

Masks Don't Work: A Review of Science Relevant to COVID-19 Social Policy

By Denis G. Rancourt, PhD

Masks and respirators do not work.

There have been extensive randomized controlled trial (RCT) studies, and meta-analysis reviews of RCT studies, which all show that masks and respirators do not work to prevent respiratory influenza-like illnesses, or respiratory illnesses believed to be transmitted by droplets and aerosol particles.

Furthermore, the relevant known physics and biology, which I review, are such that masks and respirators should not work. It would be a paradox if masks and respirators worked, given what we know about viral respiratory diseases: The main transmission path is long-residence-time aerosol particles (< 2.5 μm), which are too fine to be blocked, and the minimum-infective dose is smaller than one aerosol particle.

The present paper about masks illustrates the degree to which governments, the mainstream media, and institutional propagandists can decide to operate in a science vacuum, or select only incomplete science that serves their interests. Such recklessness is also certainly the case with the current global lockdown of over 1 billion people, an unprecedented experiment in medical and political history.

Helping Waunakee Families Through Difficult Times

We love being in a community where neighbors step up to help each other! These past few months have been full of numerous heartwarming examples as we all deal with the COVID-19 pandemic.

- More than 160 Waunakee residents signed up for volunteer alerts, wanting to know how they could support relief efforts in the area. Quite a few of these volunteers were matched one-on-one with isolated neighbors to make regular check-in calls and new friendships have resulted from these pairings.
- Neighbors and businesses stepped up with creative fundraising projects including porch portraits, t-shirt sales, plant sales, face mask sales, fish frys,

Neighbor to Neighbor

During the past three months, our Neighbor to Neighbor Crisis Response Fund has benefited twelve local families who have been impacted by job loss due to COVID-19. This fund, powered by donations from the community, allows families to receive direct financial support during an unexpected crisis. Payments can cover rent, utilities, medical expenses, food, and other essential expenses.

and matching gifts from wine bottle sales. We were also humbled that many people donated a portion of their stimulus check, recognizing that there were local families that they could help.

This amazing support from you and others in the community reaches more than 170 local households who are struggling. As the effects of the pandemic continue, more families come to us for assistance every week. It is our honor to work with each of them as we connect them to resources that build hope and empower them to overcome hardships.

Hello

As you know the rate of Covid 19 is going up in Madison and Dane County. I understand the concern about profiling people of color, however preserving life is just as important. It's past time to enact a "mask wearing is mandatory" ordinance if you are out in public. Let's not become Florida, Arizona or Texas! Let's get this rate back down now.
Thank you.

Good afternoon,

Here's the latest forecast information on thunderstorm chances, as well as expected warm temperatures and high heat index values this week.

Bottom Line Up Front
Isolated thunderstorms are possible through early evening, with lightning being the primary concern. There will be a chance for storms at times across southern Wisconsin each day this upcoming week, with the best chances coming Tuesday and again Thursday.

Hot and humid weather will persist through much of this week. High temperatures will top out in the upper 80s and lower 90s each day. Max heat indices (feel like temps) will be in the lower 90s today, and in the mid to upper 90s Tuesday through Thursday. The heat is expected to continue through the rest of the week. Overnight lows will be in the upper 60s and lower 70s, though likely warmer within the core of urban areas.

What has changed?
No significant changes since the last email.

Forecast Information for Thunderstorms
Where: All of southern Wisconsin
What: Thunderstorms with heavy rain and lightning
When: Isolated storms through early evening. Additional chances Monday through Friday, with the best chances Tuesday and Thursday.
Impacts: Lightning will pose a threat to those outdoors and without access to permanent shelter.

Forecast Information for Hot Temperatures
Where: All of southern Wisconsin away from the immediate Lake Michigan shoreline, though the warmer conditions may reach the lakeshore at times this week.
What: High temperatures in the upper 80s and lower 90s. Max heat indices in the lower to mid 90s today through Tuesday and the upper 90s Wednesday and Thursday. (See attached slide) Overnight lows in the upper 60s to around 70°, but can expect it to be warmer in urban areas.
When: Through most of the week.
Impacts: Warm temperatures and high heat index values will pose a risk for heat related illness, especially in vulnerable populations and/or those without access to air conditioning.

Dear Elected official,
I am writing to you because I am appalled by what is happening to our country and our state. I am disgusted that elected officials are not standing up for citizens, you are letting crimes and lawlessness continue without any intervention. I am supportive of the first amendment; people have the right to protest peacefully. Madison officials are allowing the protesters to riot, destroy businesses and terrorize the citizens.
I am a registered nurse I am required to go to work during the covid outbreak. My route home has been blocked on more than one occasion. I expect everyone abide by the same rules for social distancing, if I have to work with a mask on and social distance at work. Then all these protesters should be having the same rules enforced upon them. If I must abide by laws that state officials have passed, then I expect protesters be forced to abide by these rules. If I pay taxes to this state to keep citizens safe, businesses safe and have first responders available then these services should be available, and laws enforced. Otherwise taxes should no longer be collected.
If elected officials refuse to protect every citizen, not just citizens of color or political view, then maybe we don't need to keep voting for you. We can save our money and start carrying guns or militias can protect the people. When is all this chaos going to be forced to stop? When will you stand up and fight for all of us? How much longer are you willing to stand by and do nothing? Do you have any respect for our country and its citizens?
I expect that you do your job and intervene to stop the people illegally destroying private and public property, blocking highways, and terrorizing citizens that are trying to live in our cities. Without law and order we cannot feel safe. We cannot live as free people without enforcement of laws. It is disgraceful to stand by and let this violence escalate. Americans deserve more, we expect more from you. I have called the mayor's office, no response. I have called the governor's office, also not response. You have been elected to do a job, please stand up for all of us. What else can the people do to get you to do your job other than wait for an election to vote for someone who cares about the state?
Respectfully,
Kris Massman

Mr. Parisi,

I have attempted to contact you several times, but it appears the emails sent from mission4veritas@gmail.com are either being blocked or have landed in a spam folder.

As a courtesy, I am re-sending the original document from my personal email account. I would respectfully ask that you read the attached letter and take a moment to respond to at least confirm receipt.

This is a very serious matter that involves Dane County, City of Madison, City of Milwaukee and other municipalities.

Thank you,

Pete Wiemann

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear Mr. Parisi,

I hope this email finds you and all of Dane County safe during this chaotic time. I am writing to you as a former Dane County resident, as well as former Dane County employee at the Dane County Expo Center from 1986-1996 (?).

I have many amazing experiences and memories of the wonderful events hosted by the Dane County Expo Center (Alliant Energy, Veterans Memorial Coliseum, and New Holland Pavilions). During my tenure, we were responsible for bringing the Gold Wing Association to Madison. During the Gold Wing Road Riders Association, the grounds at the Expo Center were utilized in a unique way that had never been done before (on site camping, as well as an on-site convenience store). I feel that Dane County may be missing these creative use opportunities, especially during the times of COVID.

One of the many assets of the Expo Center is the unique parking lots, and land that surrounds the facilities. The use of the parking lots for drive in family movies, or drive in concerts would be an excellent way to boost revenue, and maintain employees who are “behind the scenes” in the ability to collect a paycheck. There could be delivered pre-ordered concessions to each car, further helping in getting the Dane County economy going and growing again.

The biggest resource you have right there in Dane County is Frank Productions. Frank Productions has endless amount of resources, the know how, and local connections to creatively use these assets. Not only that, but they will get it done the right way.

I am certain the residents of Dane County are looking for safe and fun ways to get out of the house.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Kenna Saadeh

Ryan,
I forgot to acknowledge the development of pop-up testing sites in partnership with the Boys and Girls Club and Madison 365. That's a great development.

Is anything underway to address the case concentration in district 16? Pop-up testing on the street?

Best,
Rick Strickland

Thanks, Ryan, for acknowledging my continued concern. I appreciate the importance of a transparent plan, and I have been following the metrics closely.

I am sorry to see the significant spike in new cases today. The additional information included in the June 22 Snapshot regarding recent trends in cases was helpful, as was the alert included when discussing recent case numbers.

The Forward Dane plan provides no guidance or metrics for reverting to an earlier phase. I remain concerned about the rate of increase in cases and percent positive cases. The prospect of waiting to take action based on a new assessment a week from now seems unnecessary. Please consider taking new actions now reflective of the increased concern expressed in the June 22 Snapshot.

Thanks,
Rick Strickland

Hi Rick,

Thanks for your follow up email and continued concerns, including ideas for new efforts.

Our PHMDC data team continues to assess test results, along with other metrics that you can find here: https://www.publichealthmdc.com/coronavirus/data#movingphases. These metrics will guide future planning.

Leadership will use data to inform decisions within each phase and moving in and out of phases.

Thanks,

Ryan

As you see below, I registered my concern on June 12 about moving to phase 2 in the face of increasing case numbers. Now we exceed more than 20 cases on a daily average--the stop point you wisely set, and the percentage of position cases is rising. Further, youth and younger adults are driving the increase in cases.

We are not immune from the doubling effects of the virus as you know. What is the plan? Move back to phase1? Require wearing of masks in all indoor public spaces? An educational campaign focused on youth and young adults? I am afraid there's an attitude afoot that the pandemic is past, that things can only get better. Viruses don't work that way.

Please consider new efforts to address this changing situation. Thank you.

I am writing to express my concern about moving to Phase 2 when our case numbers are increasing. Why not have extended Phase 1 even one week to check the trend. I think it's going to be more difficult to go back to Phase 1 now if needed.

The Wheeler Report

K-12 EDUCATION AND COVID-19 – PART V – GOING FORWARD

As K-12 schools look to the start of the 2020-21 school year they are wrestling with budgeting, staff safety, student safety, PPE purchases, technology, cleaning requirements, and more. The Department of Public Instruction released the general school aids estimates on Wednesday, July 1. While these estimates are what schools should receive through the state budget process, some administrators express concern the state may do a budget repair bill and reduce school funding. Additionally, schools are looking at school opening guidance and trying to determine where in their budgets they are going to pay for PPE, additional technology, additional staffing, and possibly additional busing.

The Assembly Education Committee held a public hearing to discuss the DPI guidance document for opening schools in the fall for COVID-19. Educational stakeholders from around the state testified to the committee on issues they have faced during the shutdown and concerns they have going forward as schools plan to open for face-to-face instruction in September. Schools are asking for more flexibilities, liability assistance, and a commitment by the Legislature to funding in the 2020-21 school year.

Flexibility

In her testimony to the committee, D.C. Everest Area School District Superintendent Dr. Kristine Gilmore said, "Here's where you come in. You can help us do what is right for our communities by removing legislative barriers. Not forever, but for now...This includes items like 3rd Friday counts, Bus Ridership counts, mandates around assessments and attendance. Provide us with immunity from those who ask us to provide school, but then try to tie our hands in litigation. Deal with Wisconsin's inequities – including high quality internet for all citizens. High quality school options for families – no matter where they live. Give us access to retired annuitants (teachers) so we may ask them to work full time during our time of need. We may need virtual teachers for first semester or one year. I believe this group of individuals may be our answer."

Green Bay Area Public School District Superintendent, Dr. Michelle Langenfeld said, "During this unprecedented time, the District is requesting that you waive student teaching and clinical (therapy) hour requirements for pre-service special education teachers, extend the approval of virtual therapy and Medicaid billing, and provide increased funding for special education services. In addition, more financial resources are needed to provide services for not only special education but also for English Language Learners. For the last few years, the District has transferred more than $30 million a year from Fund 10 to Special Education. With the additional costs that will be incurred to educate students during the pandemic, now more than ever the District needs those resources to ensure we meet the needs of all students."

Internet Access

As was highlighted in Part II of our series, schools and businesses across the state struggle with access to broadband, and in some places where broadband exists it is not robust enough to allow multiple users at once. Schools and businesses need access to broadband to move to a virtual platform as necessary.

Florence School District Administrator Ben Niehaus said, "I would hope that Wisconsin, even in the midst of these challenging times, makes it a priority to commit to assuring that broadband access is available and convenient as we've come to expect with other household utilities. There is no argument, this should be a priority first step as we continue into the uncertainty of the months ahead."

Staffing

Lisa Elliot, Superintendent of the School District of Greenfield said, "The impact the virus will have on our workforce for the 2020-21 school year is yet to be seen. It is likely that additional educators and staff will be needed to meet student needs as well as fill in when teachers are out due to illness, needing to care for family members, or because of quarantine. The Legislature could support us in this regard by considering legislation to provide teacher licensing flexibility and removing the barriers to rehiring annuitants."

Dr. Langenfeld said, "Knowing that we will have staff that will be unable to return to school due to health-related concerns and/or who will be out for extended periods of time (either in quarantine or recovering from COVID), it is important the Legislature consider reducing the 74 day WRS requirement before allowing retired educators to return to work to support students. In addition, we need to eliminate barriers to teacher licensure, and ask that the FORT certification requirement be waived."

Third Friday Counts, Enrollment, and Funding

There are five factors used to compute equalized aid for school districts: 1.) pupil membership; 2.) shared cost; 3.) equalized property valuation; 4.) the state's guaranteed valuations; and 5.) the total amount of funding available for distribution. Membership is the number of pupils which can be counted for equalization aid purposes. According to 2019 LFB Informational Paper 24, "For most school districts, membership is the sum of: 1.) the average of the number of pupils enrolled on the third Friday in September and the second Friday in January of the previous school year; and 2.) the full-time equivalent summer enrollment (in the summer prior to the counted year) in academic summer classes or laboratory periods that are for necessary academic purposes, as defined in administrative rule by DPI."

Not only does the Third Friday in September count impact the membership counts for equalized aid, but revenue limits are based directly on membership counts. According to 2019 LFB Information Paper 12, "A three-year rolling average of a school district's pupil enrollment is used to calculate the district's revenue limit. Specifically, the number of pupils is based on the average of a district's enrollment count taken on the third Friday in September for the current and two preceding school years…Districts can include in their enrollment counts 40% of the full-time equivalent (FTE) summer enrollment in academic summer classes or laboratory periods that are for necessary academic purposes, as defined in administrative rule by DPI."

School districts are expressing concerns about the possible negative impacts of low summer school enrollment (by choice or because schools had limited offerings this summer) and/or the absence of students on the Third Friday of September count because some parents are hesitant to send students back to school. School administrators are asking the legislature to hold schools harmless for changes in membership during the pandemic.

State Commitment to Budget

July 1 was the start of the new fiscal year, or the start of the second year of the 2019-2021 state budget. Schools planned their school budget based on the amounts provided for in the budget when it was completed and signed in July 2019. School districts have seen increased budgetary demand in the end of the 2019-20 school year as they moved outside the traditional classroom. Those include things like printing costs, technology costs for students and teachers, food service, and PPE and cleaning supplies. School districts are concerned that with the economic damage done to the state budget during the pandemic the state will adjust the second year of the budget in a 'budget repair bill' and they will be doing more than they normally budget with less than they budgeted for.

Dr. Lisa Olson, Superintendent of Whitnall School District told the committee, "As we enter into the second year of a biennial budget, we typically are aware of the financial commitment from the state. We are hearing there may be a budget repair bill taken up in the legislature and that it would likely mean a decrease to funding for education. This uncertainty significantly impacts our ability to respond and develop a plan to reopen. We need to know that the financial commitment promised for this upcoming school year will be there. The manner in which we reopen as safely and effectively as possible is contingent upon the resources to do so."

Dr. Jill Underly, Superintendent of the Pecatonica School District said, "No matter how you approach it, it is going to take financial resources and an investment from the state and federal government to reopen our economy first by reopening our schools safely."

Liability

When the Legislature passed AB-1038 (2019 Act 185) it provided "immunity from civil liability for health care professionals and providers and employees, agents, or contractors of those professionals or providers for death, injury, or damages caused by actions or omissions taken in provided services to address or in response to a 2019 novel coronavirus."

In June, the Legislative Council published an IssueBrief discussing the financial responsibilities for businesses if a patron becomes ill due to interacting with a business and the use of liability waivers.

During the testimony, several superintendents discussed what liability the schools will have for individuals becoming sick. Niehaus said, “Our legal costs since the onset of the pandemic in HR matters alone are double what these same services were from the beginning of our fiscal year up to the pandemic, as I regularly have to confer for assurance in making critical decisions.”

Special Education Maintenance of Effort

Local Education Agencies (LEA) are required to expend the same amount of local and state funding for special education and related services as it expended in the previous fiscal year. This is referred to as the Maintenance of Effort (MOE). While most schools use IDEA funding, and some have the funds from the 2019-20 to carry into the 2020-21 school year, schools need to pay attention to the amount of local funding used for special education in the new school year as it could impact their MOE requirements.

Thank you

The Wheeler Report would like to take this opportunity to thank all the individuals who made themselves available for interviews, conference calls, and video chats to discuss K-12 education in Wisconsin during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Walking Towards an Anti-Racist Walking Movement

Like many of you, we are digesting the much-needed critique of white-centered urbanism and identifying how we are complicit in that as we walk our walk.

Our mission states that everyone should have safe, equitable, accessible, and enjoyable places to walk and move. Yet, we know the system by which our cities are planned and designed, is built on the foundation of structural racism.

We commit to promoting an anti-racist walking movement with an active interrogation of the power dynamics of mobility justice and dismantling oppression in land use and transportation decision making.

As we continue to listen and learn, our current actions include:

1. Centering Black, Indigenous and people of color's voices on our platform and in our publications, moving out of the way to feature those with the lived experience to lead.
2. Only supporting projects and initiatives that address structural racism and implement anti-racist efforts.
3. Following the direction of BIPOC urbanist and mobility experts to operationalize the steps required to transform systems and promote the actions most likely to create anti-racist walkable environments.

Below are thought-provoking pieces that helped us question the ways we work, and for whom. We invite you to read them to continue listening, learning and seeking necessary discomfort alongside us.

Native Americans and Alaska Natives are almost 5 times more likely to be killed by walking than any other racial or ethnic group in the US. The Tribal Transportation Planning and Pedestrian Safety webinar explores why pedestrian fatalities are so prevalent in tribal communities.

Webinar panelists represented government agencies, research organizations, and the communities of Pueblo of Laguna and Yakama Nation – to provide an overview of the pedestrian fatality/injury data and explore potential solutions to this problem, providing examples of in-depth case studies.

Walking Towards Justice in Indian Country: Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls Webinar

In the US, Native American women are more than twice as likely to experience violence than any other demographic. One in three Native women is sexually assaulted during her life, 67% of these assaults are perpetrated by non-Natives, and many of the abductions take place when the victim is walking along a highway.

Webinar participants will learn how the dark history of colonization, complex jurisdictional issues, and racialized indifference have created the circumstances in which these crimes are regularly perpetrated and rarely prosecuted.

Panelists include civil rights advocates, practitioners, and researchers, as well as US Congresswoman Deb Haaland (NM-1), who introduced federal legislation last year to address this "silent crisis," and author Jessica McDiarmid, who documented numerous personal stories in her book, "Highway of Tears." Join us for this important discussion on August 12th.

Register Today: Responding to COVID-19: A Webinar Series for Local Governments

Serving Small Communities – Summer 2020

The Responding to COVID-19 webinar series presents resources for small units of general local government (UGLGs) related to the COVID-19 pandemic. Specifically, the webinars provide digestible information on how small UGLGs may access public funding, data, and other resources made available due to the pandemic. Register today!

This webinar series will consist of a total of six sessions spread across three topic areas. The topic areas are: housing, health, and economic development. Each topic area will consist of two webinar sessions:

- Session 1: Presenters will provide a broad range of resources relevant for small, distressed UGLGs. During the webinar, presenters will poll participants to determine the topic for the second session.
- Session 2: Presenters will dive into more detail on one or two subtopics as defined by the participants' needs from the first session.

Training Objectives

This webinar series will help small UGLGs to:

- Understand the breadth of relevant and accessible resources available to assist small UGLGs in the ongoing work of support, stabilization, and recovery for their community's needs
- Provide small UGLGs with enough information so they can take that knowledge and turn it into implementable actions
- Connect to tools and resources available for support, stabilization, and recovery

Who Should Attend?

This series is intended for small UGLGs that are looking to access resources and connect with organizations providing support for how to respond to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The series will be of special interest to city managers or mayors, finance directors or treasurers, community planning/development directors, and economic development directors, as well as any active consultants the small UGLG is working with related to housing, health/childcare, and economic development.

Schedule of Deliveries

In the health departments latest orders. It states any gatherings are prohibited in someone's residence. Where in the state statute gives the Dane County Executive or the Health Department to dictate what someone can do in there own home? This county has really exerted their power this time and it really needs to stop. You have no authority to mandate private gatherings. With these orders you all are trampling on people's rights at an alarming pace.
I would like an explanation what and who gave you all this type of authority?

Dear Mayor Rhodes-Conway,

With respect, I've been receiving variations on this response from public health officials for weeks now. Unfortunately, requiring employees to wear masks doesn't protect them from customers. The asymmetric masking requirements currently in place are inequitable and disproportionately risk the health and safety of retail/service workers, which tends to further exacerbate the disproportionate rate of COVID-19 infections being experienced in certain communities.

The City did not conduct an equity review before issuing its first emergency order. All of the existing science suggests that implementing a mask requirement in indoor public spaces immediately can save more lives than not doing so. The emergency has not ended, it has in fact grown worse. I encourage you and PHMDC to act expediently.

For example, people may fear racial profiling or discrimination based on wearing--or not wearing--a face covering. Other may not be able to wear a mask because of a disability. With any policy, we conduct an equity review to assess the impact. Public Health is having conversations with communities of color to discuss the impact of a mandatory mask policy and ways to minimize those effects.

Hello, today is Monday, July 6th. People will die today owing to the lack of universal masking requirements in Dane County.

The science is in; masks save lives. If Janel Heinrich is still unwilling to issue a mask order that protects the health and safety of persons required to interact with the public as part of their jobs, she should resign. Her inaction is killing people, and it is cowardly.

How many more people need to die before Dane County will take this extremely basic step to protect its residents?

Hello Everyone,

Thank you for your time, concerted effort, feedback and partnership during these meetings. Your input is valued, appreciated and will be taken into consideration as Public Health Madison and Dane County works to keep our community safe during this time of COVID-19. I am glad that we all collectively recognize the unintended consequences that a masking policy could bring, while also recognizing that wearing a mask or cloth facial covering is public health best practice. We at PHMDC appreciate and share your concerns about those unintended consequences and will be sure to take the feedback shared on these calls into any decisions we make moving forward. We will also continue to move forward the strategies and suggestions on how to minimize and mitigate the consequences discussed, as they were valuable and have the potential to make large impacts in our community.

If you have any additional questions, comments, concerns or follow up, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you all again for your time and input,

County Executive Joe Parisi,

You may be aware the utility shutoff moratoriums extended due to COVID by the PSC based on a request from Governor Evers are due to end July 25. They may have expected COVID to no longer be a significant issue, but it is and likely will continue to be. Currently, the Public Service Commission has declined to extend the moratoriums, so people can lose their power starting July 25.

It is troubling to put people at risk at any time, but to create added health risks at a time of COVID when we're learning just how stark the vulnerabilities are for people of color, and how much more they have been impacted, is unconscionable. We cannot allow these inequities and injustices to continue if we are to be a civil society.

The Sierra Club is joining with Citizen Action of Wisconsin and other organizations to ask the Public Service Commission to extend the moratoriums until next April, and for utilities to not shut off power to people who need it to stay healthy, safe and connected.

There will be a statewide day of action on July 15 that includes a press conference in Milwaukee to ask for support for workers and wages during the pandemic. July 15 is also the date that utilities can mail shutoff notices to customers, and a goal is to bring attention to the harms this could cause.

I'm wondering if you would be willing to issue a press release or other public announcement on July 15 to request that the PSC extend the moratoriums, and for the utilities to not shut off customer's power if the PSC does not act. I am also contacting the mayors of Madison, Monona, Fitchburg, Middleton and Verona to ask them to issue statements as well.

Thanks,

Don Ferber

ICYMI: WI Office of the Commissioner of Insurance Launches WisCovered.com

"WisCovered.com was created by the Wisconsin Office of the Insurance Commissioner (OCI)... the state agency that educates Wisconsin residents about their insurance options...

WisCovered.com was designed to help you find a health insurance expert. A health insurance expert can help you find a plan that meets your needs and budget. In certain situations, your insurance may be free.

The idea for WisCovered.com was developed as part of Governor Tony Evers' OCI-DHS Health Care Coverage Advisory Council Marketing Task Force*. This task force includes the Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS), many other organizations, insurance companies, and others who want all Wisconsin residents to have access to affordable health insurance."

HealthWatch WI's COVID-19 Resource Library

HealthWatch Wisconsin developed a COVID-19 Resource page for people living in Wisconsin.

On our page, we address common questions about health coverage, care, and community resources during this COVID-19 national emergency, with sections that help identify options for different sets of circumstances.

Good morning Gentlemen,

Sadly, it's been quite some time since we have crossed paths.

I have a question/favor to ask of you both.

Is it still possible for me to submit for consideration for the Marketing Communications Manager position at the Airport? I just learned about the position from one our mutual friends via email overnight. I went to apply and it says the posting is closed.

Since interviewing with you, I have worked more in insurance and finance, continued my consulting business, ran for a statewide office (bucket list), and was working for CUNA laying out digital strategy for a newer product line when COVID-19 blew through our team prompting a series of layoffs.

Attached, is my updated resume for your review/reference/sharing if you are interested in taking a look.

I am hoping it is still possible to be considered for the airport role. It would mean a great deal to me if you would both keep me in mind for future opportunities as well.

I hope you are both healthy and safe.

Moreover, I hope to see you soon!

Best,

Cynthia Kaump

Importance: High

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Good Morning,

With the encouragement of one of your esteemed colleagues, I'm writing to you today to ask for your help in securing a remedy to my friend's concerns. I've been seeking resolution from Dane County Planning and Development for several months.

My friend, Tammy Moodie, owns and operates a horse ranch on 11 + acres in the Town of Sun Prairie in Dane County. I'm writing on her behalf because the county records currently reflect an error in ownership designation on hers and her neighbors' properties. Tammy resides at 3064 Nelson Road, and her neighbors, Josh and Melissa Miller, just around the corner at 3160 Bailey Road. They share a common property line behind their respective homes. Access Dane currently reflects that Tammy is the "owner" of both properties and that the Millers "co-own" both properties. I was told by an agency representative back in March that these designations are just "semantics" and they "don't really mean anything". I respectfully disagree. This is a significant error and presents many possible problems and related liabilities--as you can imagine. As the legal custodian of this record, I'm disappointed in the degree of assistance and sense of urgency shared and shown by county representatives to date. I've conveyed the history of how this problem came to be with several high level managers with Planning and Development, none of whom to date has been able or willing to assist us with a practical, common-sense, or legally-supported solution to rectify these errors.

It's important for you to understand how this matter developed, and I will share as many details as I can in the balance of this note. Before I do, however, I believe it's critical that I provide some brief background for you to consider. Tammy Moodie lost her husband Dan, the "love of her life", tragically and suddenly in January 2013. In addition to losing Dan and suffering the worst kind of tragedy imaginable, she subsequently lost her job and was virtually abandoned by her family. It's my belief that they did not and do not understand the degree of her grief and/or how to support her healing. This has created additional hardship that is difficult to put into words. Simply put, Tammy lives with the effects of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). The additional burden she now carries as a result of a county–sanctioned bureaucratic systems flaw is further and completely undermining her healing process and is devastating beyond description.

Despite living with a broken heart after losing her soulmate, daily companion and confidante, she has tried valiantly to preserve and save the home and property she and Dan shared for nearly 30 years. In fact, it is a home they built together with their own hands. After some recent unwelcome but not unexpected depletion of the homes infrastructure, (e.g., failed furnace, broken water heater and roof replacement etc., etc.), Tammy started to take on financial debt that was beginning to overwhelm her. She was subsequently left with one of the most difficult decisions she would face since losing Dan. She would need to sell off part of the property in order to save her home.

In May 2018, she accepted an offer from the Millers to purchase approximately 4 acres of pasture behind the homes along the shared property line. The buyers agreed to pay Tammy an agreed upon amount for the land with the understanding that all the leg work and related fees in preparation for the sale would be assumed by the buyers. This was done primarily in order to mitigate the effects of the emotional toll we knew this would put on her. The process unfolded over several months with many delays, none of which were the direct or even partial fault of Tammy. She responded timely and appropriately to every request from the respective municipalities, the surveyors, the prospective buyers, and their attorneys. Details of the reasons for delay(s) can be provided upon request, but seem to have the least amount of bearing on the current dilemma.

About one year after the original offer was made, a new Certified Survey Map (CSM) was completed in May of 2019 and signed by all parties, approved by the Town and City of Sun Prairie, and recorded by the County of Dane. CSM 15144 replaced the old CSM which was retired in June of 2019. While it is our belief and contention that the submittal of CSM 15144 by the surveyor was done in good faith in anticipation of a closing on the property sale, it would turn out to have been done prematurely, when the sale fell through a few months later. The recording of that document should not have had any bearing on ownership designation at any time. This I believe is where and when the error occurred.

On or about late August 2019, the prospective buyers shared an ultimatum of conditions that were impossible for Tammy to meet and that were fully outside of her control. So nearly a year and a half after beginning this ordeal, and after a brief discussion with the buyers, she accepted their threat to terminate the offer if closing did not occur on or before September 1st, 2019. This exchange took a tremendous emotional toll on Tammy. The next order of business - take the necessary steps to simply undo the recording of CSM 15144. There had not been a single document shared then or to date that should have resulted in any change in "ownership" of either property in question. No transference documents and no conveyance documents, just CSM 15144 submitted prematurely and in error. Neither party has now or ever has had any legal claim to the other's property.

I worked with the original surveyor to find a resolution to this problem. Dane County Planning and Development was consulted about the best way to handle this situation. It seemed simple enough to me at the time, that the old CSM would simply be restored as the governing document but that request was denied because we were informed that that record was destroyed(?) and no longer available. I was taken aback by that claim, as I am modestly familiar with records retention laws and understand that this record would likely fall into a category of retention requirement of at least 5-7 years. While I have since been made aware of corrections affidavits that could possibly have made CSM 15144 null and void, I'm not sure if this was ever given consideration at the time. The recommendation by the county representatives was to have a new CSM done restoring the property lines and dimensions to those previously known/recorded.

We had already consulted the attorneys for the buyers and been informed that they would not sign a new CSM. We were subsequently advised by the County that they would not need to. The new maps could be re-drawn and, if approved by the Town and City of Sun Prairie, recorded by Dane County. Tammy and I took the necessary steps to work with the surveyors, and assumed the full costs for preparing and recording CSM 15306 in December 2019. We attended several Town planning and full board meetings and secured the necessary approval and signatures. It stood to reason that if the recording of CSM 15144 in May had any impact on "ownership" designations for these properties, then the recording of CSM 15306 should have had similar impact and restored them accordingly. We waited for approximately 3 months for the data base to catch up with the recording of CSM 15306, but it never did--and still has not. The database shows a series of retired documents for both properties, but no formal supporting "current" governing document and still reflects errors and inaccurate legal designations of ownership.

I presented this concern in person to Troy Everson in March of this year and followed up by phone with agency supervisors, Todd Violante and Roger Lane in the Planning and Development office but with no reasonable explanation offered for the error and some impractical advice on how to resolve the matter. I was told things like "we don't typically investigate these types of matters", "CSMs don't convey ownership", "we record hundreds of these documents with little or no concern for detail", "the system is flawed" and finally "it is what it is". Coincidentally, the last of which was a motto my friend Dan lived by. I was informed by one of the high ranking officials that they themselves did not have authority to fix this data error. That implies to me that someone does and can. Perhaps even the person that entered the data in error to begin with. The formal recommendations routinely offered and repeated by county officials took the form of "you'll need to have both parties sign – quit claim deeds", and if the buyers won't sign it, "you'll need to hire an attorney and sue him to force his signature". It is our contention that Tammy cannot legally nor reasonably ask parties to quit legal claims they have no rights to. I'm confounded by the advice and concerned about their recommendation that this matter will require a lawsuit of some or any kind.

I have, however, recently consulted with an attorney and have additional concerns to outline. It is my understanding that every county in the state has at least one if not more staff representatives designated as "real property listers". I believe they are responsible in part, if not in full, for the integrity of the data in the county's data system and that other agency's including but not limited to the State of Wisconsin Department of Revenue (DOR) rely heavily upon this assurance of accurate and legal descriptions of property, owners and/or deed holders. The related tax implications with DOR are likely self-evident. The potential risk to my friend Tammy for being associated with, let alone designated as "owner" of property she does not in fact own is immense. I'm simply asking for assistance here, so that Tammy does not have to carry this burden any longer.

Many individuals in this saga have willingly been able to point fingers and assign blame. The prospective buyers wanted to blame my friend Tammy, the Town wanted to blame the buyers, the County wants to blame the Town and the surveyor. I'm not looking to assign blame. I want accountability. Regardless of what role any of us played in this, the resolution lies with the County. I want Tammy to feel "safe at home". I want to believe that "we're all in this together", not just now but always. I want to believe that we are looking out for one another and that we are willing to remove barriers for those suffering from real and unnecessary on-going hardship and distress.

I was not specific in this note about who said what and when (I can be if needed), as I'm not interested in drawing attention to a single person or group of people. I'm concurring with county officials that it is the system that is flawed and not the people. I simply and respectfully disagree with where the burden lies for fixing this problem. While everyone to date has been relatively polite, I have not found them to be particularly responsive. I know from years of experience that bureaucratic policies and procedures can hinder a person's efforts to be objective and find practical solutions to problems, but I have also seen plenty of evidence where individuals have risen above these dynamics, stepped forward and put people first!! I am hoping to find some among your ranks.

I am available at your convenience to address any questions or concerns. I appreciate the time and attention you are willing to give to this matter. I am grateful for your dedication to public service.

Respectfully,

Alan J. Frank

Hello, today is Tuesday, July 7th. People will die today because of your failure to implement a universal masking requirement in indoor public spaces in Dane County.

Yesterday I received an email from the Mayor that contained all of the same talking points I previously received from Robin Lowney Lankton by way of Alder Tierney. Those are the same talking points PHMDC published in your "not_requiring_masks" PDF, which hasn't been updated since June 10th. Those same talking points were repeated in a Channel 3000 article yesterday, and they still ring hollow.

Your ongoing delay is unacceptable. There has been ample time to conduct an equity analysis already, and your excuses are coming off as disingenuous. That is not just my opinion, it is the opinion of everyone I've spoken to, everyone who commented on that Channel 3000 article, and several hundred people who commented on that article on Reddit. We do not believe you; we believe instead you are being bullied and failing to act out of cowardice.

If you are unable or unwilling to discharge your responsibilities to save lives, you should resign and allow someone able to protect the public health. Your inaction is literally killing people.

The time to act was weeks ago. How many more people will you allow to die before enacting a universal masking requirement in Dane County?

Hi all:

This looks great - thanks to the efforts of Janel's team to bring this to the finish line.

I think given the nature of today's news, I think it may be best to have Janel lead things off. Given that, let me suggest for a speaking order today:

Janel
Joe
Mayor Satya
Rep/Sup Stubbs
Alder Carter

Josh

Public Health Madison & Dane County Releases New Orders Requiring Face Coverings

Effective on Monday, July 13, 2020 at 8:00 am, Public Health Madison & Dane County is issuing Emergency Order #8, which requires that everyone age 5 and older wear a face covering or mask when in in any enclosed building where other people, except for members of the person's own household or living unit, could be present. This requirement applies to all of Dane County.

"Public health research now shows that face coverings are critical to slowing the spread of COVID-19. Given the current number of COVID-19 infections in our county, we need to all be wearing face coverings every time we leave the house," said Janel Heinrich, Director of Public Health Madison & Dane County.

"However, we do not take these orders lightly. We are facing two public health pandemics—COVID-19 and racism. People of color in our county have already experienced racism and discrimination when wearing masks in public, which is unacceptable. It is on every person in our county to do better. People should assume that everyone wearing a mask is doing it to protect you and themselves. If someone is not wearing a mask, assume they are genuinely not able to do so," continued Heinrich.

Per the order, people must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health care settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation. The order also requires individuals to wear face coverings when in someone else's home. Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing of individuals not from the same household or living unit is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.

"Masks and distance are really the two most effective means of slowing the spread of COVID-19," County Executive Joe Parisi said. "Given the recent rapid increases in cases in our county—that happened even before school and university classes resume this fall—it's imperative we take this step now to try and slow the march of COVID through our community. Nothing that's happening right now is easy, or normal, but it's what we must do – come together as a community and put everything we have into keeping one another safe," Parisi added.

If someone can't wear a mask in a business due to a condition or disability, people should ask that business for reasonable accommodation, like a curbside pickup or delivery option. Children ages 2 through 4 are highly encouraged to wear masks in public, children 5 and older are required to wear masks. If your child is not able to wear a mask, only bring them to places where it is necessary they be so that your child does not get or spread COVID-19 to others.

"Science keeps informing our response to this virus. The recent spike in cases showed that asymptomatic cases were on the rise in Dane County and so was community spread with no known source of infection. If people are sick and don't know it, mandatory masking protects all of us," said Madison Mayor Satya Rhodes-Conway.

People can cover their faces a variety of ways to comply with this order. Simply wear a bandana or scarf around your nose and mouth, or create a cloth face covering by either sewing one or using the no-sew method on the CDC website. Medical-grade surgical masks or N95 respirators are not required or necessary.

County government is working to not only provide cloth masks to those in need but also is teaming with community partners to ensure everyone knows of the importance of wearing a mask. More information on how to obtain free masks will be available on the Dane County website soon.

You can read the full order on Public Health Madison & Dane County's website.

In addition to wearing a mask, these actions will help protect yourself and others from COVID-19:

- Stay home if you're sick or feel off. A number of new cases reported going out while symptomatic.
- Stay home if you don't need to go out. Working from home, virtual gatherings, and using curbside or delivery ordering are still the safest and best options to protect yourself and others.
- Stay 6 feet from other people. Respiratory droplets are in the air when other people cough, sneeze, talk, and breathe. Staying 6 feet from others will lower the chances of you coming in contact with the virus from those droplets.
- Assume you have come in contact with COVID-19 if you go out. Currently, just over a third of cases didn't know where they could've gotten COVID-19. Watch for symptoms like fever, cough, shortness of breath, fatigue, body aches, headache, new loss of taste or smell, sore throat, congestion or runny nose, nausea or vomiting, and diarrhea. If you have these symptoms, call your doctor to be tested or visit the community test site. If you are a UW–Madison student, you may also contact University Health Services.

1. I contacted the MPD Police, the Mayors Office and no one knows if citations and/or arrests are being made for people painting on my streets downtown. Not only are they painting on public property, they are covering up important driving information that is on the road for drivers. If I don't get an answer within 24 hours, I will assume it is OK for anyone to go paint on their streets as they choose. I will be painting f*ck Black Lives Matter on my street, as large as the people are painting downtown. If I cannot paint on the street as I choose please have someone contact me within 24 hours with a reason.

Hello all:

Please see the attached news release from Public Health Madison/Dane County.

Public Health, the County Executive, Madison Mayor, and others will be holding a news conference this afternoon to announce a countywide order regarding masking.

We are the first in Wisconsin to announce such an order, which is a result of the recent uptick in Covid-19 positives.

Please note this new order is effective Monday 7/13.

Stay well,

Josh

Public Health Madison & Dane County Releases New Orders Requiring Face Coverings

Effective on Monday, July 13, 2020 at 8:00 am, Public Health Madison & Dane County is issuing Emergency Order #8, which requires that everyone age 5 and older wear a face covering or mask when in in any enclosed building where other people, except for members of the person's own household or living unit, could be present. This requirement applies to all of Dane County.

"Public health research now shows that face coverings are critical to slowing the spread of COVID-19. Given the current number of COVID-19 infections in our county, we need to all be wearing face coverings every time we leave the house," said Janel Heinrich, Director of Public Health Madison & Dane County.

"However, we do not take these orders lightly. We are facing two public health pandemics—COVID-19 and racism. People of color in our county have already experienced racism and discrimination when wearing masks in public, which is unacceptable. It is on every person in our county to do better. People should assume that everyone wearing a mask is doing it to protect you and themselves. If someone is not wearing a mask, assume they are genuinely not able to do so," continued Heinrich.

Per the order, people must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health care settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation. The order also requires individuals to wear face coverings when in someone else's home. Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing of individuals not from the same household or living unit is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.

"Masks and distance are really the two most effective means of slowing the spread of COVID-19," County Executive Joe Parisi said. "Given the recent rapid increases in cases in our county—that happened even before school and university classes resume this fall—it's imperative we take this step now to try and slow the march of COVID through our community. Nothing that's happening right now is easy, or normal, but it's what we must do – come together as a community and put everything we have into keeping one another safe," Parisi added.

If someone can't wear a mask in a business due to a condition or disability, people should ask that business for reasonable accommodation, like a curbside pickup or delivery option. Children ages 2 through 4 are highly encouraged to wear masks in public, children 5 and older are required to wear masks. If your child is not able to wear a mask, only bring them to places where it is necessary they be so that your child does not get or spread COVID-19 to others.

"Science keeps informing our response to this virus. The recent spike in cases showed that asymptomatic cases were on the rise in Dane County and so was community spread with no known source of infection. If people are sick and don't know it, mandatory masking protects all of us," said Madison Mayor Satya Rhodes-Conway.

People can cover their faces a variety of ways to comply with this order. Simply wear a bandana or scarf around your nose and mouth, or create a cloth face covering by either sewing one or using the no-sew method on the CDC website. Medical-grade surgical masks or N95 respirators are not required or necessary. County government is working to not only provide cloth masks to those in need but also is teaming with community partners to ensure everyone knows of the importance of wearing a mask. More information on how to obtain free masks will be available on the Dane County website soon.

You can read the full order on Public Health Madison & Dane County's website.

In addition to wearing a mask, these actions will help protect yourself and others from COVID-19:

- Stay home if you're sick or feel off. A number of new cases reported going out while symptomatic.
- Stay home if you don't need to go out. Working from home, virtual gatherings, and using curbside or delivery ordering are still the safest and best options to protect yourself and others.

- Stay 6 feet from other people. Respiratory droplets are in the air when other people cough, sneeze, talk, and breathe. Staying 6 feet from others will lower the chances of you coming in contact with the virus from those droplets.
- Assume you have come in contact with COVID-19 if you go out. Currently, just over a third of cases didn't know where they could've gotten COVID-19. Watch for symptoms like fever, cough, shortness of breath, fatigue, body aches, headache, new loss of taste or smell, sore throat, congestion or runny nose, nausea or vomiting, and diarrhea. If you have these symptoms, call your doctor to be tested or visit the community test site. If you are a UW–Madison student, you may also contact University Health Services.

Public Health Madison & Dane County Releases New Orders Requiring Face Coverings

Effective on Monday, July 13, 2020 at 8:00 am, Public Health Madison & Dane County is issuing Emergency Order #8, which requires that everyone age 5 and older wear a face covering or mask when in in any enclosed building where other people, except for members of the person's own household or living unit, could be present. This requirement applies to all of Dane County.

"Public health research now shows that face coverings are critical to slowing the spread of COVID-19. Given the current number of COVID-19 infections in our county, we need to all be wearing face coverings every time we leave the house," said Janel Heinrich, Director of Public Health Madison & Dane County.

"However, we do not take these orders lightly. We are facing two public health pandemics—COVID-19 and racism. People of color in our county have already experienced racism and discrimination when wearing masks in public, which is unacceptable. It is on every person in our county to do better. People should assume that everyone wearing a mask is doing it to protect you and themselves. If someone is not wearing a mask, assume they are genuinely not able to do so," continued Heinrich.

Per the order, people must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health care settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation. The order also requires individuals to wear face coverings when in someone else's home. Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing of individuals not from the same household or living unit is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.

"Masks and distance are really the two most effective means of slowing the spread of COVID-19," County Executive Joe Parisi said. "Given the recent rapid increases in cases in our county—that happened even before school and university classes resume this fall—it's imperative we take this step now to try and slow the march of COVID through our community. Nothing that's happening right now is easy, or normal, but it's what we must do – come together as a community and put everything we have into keeping one another safe," Parisi added.

If someone can't wear a mask in a business due to a condition or disability, people should ask that business for reasonable accommodation, like a curbside pickup or delivery option. Children ages 2 through 4 are highly encouraged to wear masks in public, children 5 and older are required to wear masks. If your child is not able to wear a mask, only bring them to places where it is necessary they be so that your child does not get or spread COVID-19 to others.

"Science keeps informing our response to this virus. The recent spike in cases showed that asymptomatic cases were on the rise in Dane County and so was community spread with no known source of infection. If people are sick and don't know it, mandatory masking protects all of us," said Madison Mayor Satya Rhodes-Conway.

People can cover their faces a variety of ways to comply with this order. Simply wear a bandana or scarf around your nose and mouth, or create a cloth face covering by either sewing one or using the no-sew method on the CDC website. Medical-grade surgical masks or N95 respirators are not required or necessary.

County government is working to not only provide cloth masks to those in need but also is teaming with community partners to ensure everyone knows of the importance of wearing a mask. More information on how to obtain free masks will be available on the Dane County website soon.

You can read the full order on Public Health Madison & Dane County's website.

In addition to wearing a mask, these actions will help protect yourself and others from COVID-19:

- Stay home if you're sick or feel off. A number of new cases reported going out while symptomatic.
- Stay home if you don't need to go out. Working from home, virtual gatherings, and using curbside or delivery ordering are still the safest and best options to protect yourself and others.
- Stay 6 feet from other people. Respiratory droplets are in the air when other people cough, sneeze, talk, and breathe. Staying 6 feet from others will lower the chances of you coming in contact with the virus from those droplets.
- Assume you have come in contact with COVID-19 if you go out. Currently, just over a third of cases didn't know where they could've gotten COVID-19. Watch for symptoms like fever, cough, shortness of breath, fatigue, body aches, headache, new loss of taste or smell, sore throat, congestion or runny nose, nausea or vomiting, and diarrhea. If you have these symptoms, call your doctor to be tested or visit the community test site. If you are a UW–Madison student, you may also contact University Health Services.

ACTION ALERT: Tell the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to reject the cruel and inhumane asylum procedures and credible fear rule.

DHS recently proposed a new rule making it even more difficult for LGBTQ+ asylum seekers to find a safe place to call home. The rule raises asylum applications to impossible standards: it prevents asylum seekers from making claims if they take more than 14 days to reach the United States and prevents asylum seekers from seeking protections for gender-based reasons, among other dangerous immigration law changes. These new standards are deliberately harmful and are in opposition to the United States' Refugee Act of 1980 and the United Nations' Convention Against Torture.

The rule will affect all new asylum seekers and likely over 800,000 asylum seekers with pending applications. This could prove fatal to LGBTQ+ people around the world fleeing violence and persecution for their gender identity and sexual orientation.

Homosexuality and/or homosexual conduct is currently criminalized in more than 75 countries, and 13 of those countries implement the death penalty for those who violate these barbaric laws.

Joe Parisi:

In March...we were asked as citizens to essentially stay at home as the scientists said we needed 15 days to control the spread of COVID 19. In March! We're now in July...practically 4 months later and now required to wear masks. Enough is enough. You need people that understand data and how to interpret data. This has never been about the stop of the spread of COVID but about hospitals being able to handle the volume of POTENTIAL patients. We've been living with COVID for 5+ months now. UW Hospital as of last week had 13 patients in the whole hospital with COVID. The hospitals have NEVER been overrun. In fact...they're going broke! Half the staff at hospitals were being laid off!

People are sick and tired of the politics this has turned into! The city of Madison is being ruined. My wife and I just bought a home last week outside of Dane county as we are ready to move. We've had it. There is no reason to live here any more. And I'm hearing that from more and more people!

Question...how are kids under 5 not able to spread the 'disease'...but a 6 year old is? You stated consistently that science will drive your decisions. We've yet to have a scientist speak on behalf of the county! I have an autistic child. There is NO WAY I can get a mask on him. It's a challenge to put water on his head for gods sake.

Power and control...power and control. And let's keep defunding the police as I'm sure they'll be thrilled to go out and enforce this.

I have heart issues. Masks aren't good for me! What do I need to do now?

Time to move. No on move to Madison...period. I talked to half a dozen people this weekend that all said they want to move.

FYI...what happened to our freedoms? I'd like you to answer that.

Also...it would good for you to go ANYWHERE outside of Dane county. Life is pretty close to normal without a mask. In fact...most places are operating very close to normal and things are fine! But no...Dane County is different. It is...all because of politics.

Guess what...time to leave. I've lived in Dane County for almost 25 years.

Hi Carrie and Charles,

I took a look at some updated data and there haven't been any significant changes to add to what I sent earlier in the week. The same trends and increased call volumes apply today. Because there aren't any significant changes, I'm going to hold off putting together a PDF for the execs office. I'll keep an eye on this with the holiday weekend and will report next week.

Hi All,

I wanted to give a few quick data updates from Dane County EMS for this group and to be forwarded to the Exec's office. There haven't been enough changes to warrant a full updated data summary, but I will be putting one together later this week to give a larger summary of our EMS system. In the meantime, I thought I'd give a quick email blurb about a couple of points that stand out to me. I'm looking at Jan 1 – Jun 27 to allow for a full 24 hour submission timeline of data.

CALL VOLUME: Overall call volume is still increasing, and we're just barely behind 2019 call volumes.

RESPIRATORY AND INFECTIOUS DISEASE: Last week saw a slight bump in respiratory and infectious disease cases submitted by EMS agencies. I will monitor and provide updates on whether or not this increase is sustained throughout this week.

CARDIAC ARREST: Cardiac arrest calls have increased by 8% when compared to the same time period in 2019. In addition, June of 2020 has seen a sharp increase in EMS cardiac arrest cases.

As always, please let me know if there are any questions!

Subject: EO #8 needs an exception for child care settings

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

First, I will begin by saying that I am all for a baseline requirement (with some exceptions) for adults to wear facemasks indoors when with those who are not part of their household. I am very concerned about the recent rise of COVID numbers in Dane County. However, today's PHMDC Emergency Order #8 requires this for children over age 5, and contains no exception for child care settings.

Children under five are not the only children who need childcare. Especially with school out of session, children over age five but not old enough to be unsupervised still need child care. And many (probably most) children who need childcare need it 8-10 or more hours a day.

It is cruel to expect children to wear a mask for 8-10 hours a day, and possibly ineffective.

Children will be inordinately affected by this order, as so many adults can work at home or in a place where they can close a door to others. Exceptions for eating and drinking only cover a tiny percentage of the day. It will discourage kids from drinking water during these hot summer months. This, despite the fact that any daycare will now probably take the kids outdoors even more than they already were - if they have the option. However, many child care providers are in a location or situation where time outdoors is limited, especially where they may only have a small outdoor space and classrooms are not supposed to mix - I imagine this is particularly the case for child care providers serving low income populations. Which brings us back to the fact that this order means kids will need to wear masks 10 or more hours a day.

My six year old son, in particular, has autism and sensory issues. I cannot imagine expecting him to wear a mask that long. There are exceptions in the order for disabilities, but his autism is generally mild in most circumstances and I have no idea whether he would qualify for this exception. Plus there are so many kids with autism or other sensory issues who are undiagnosed. Even for kids who would qualify for an exception, it would be incredibly difficult for child care providers to expect some kids in the class to wear a mask but not others. Six year olds are young, immature, and have a hard time with this kind of nuance.

Sensory diagnoses aside, any young kid will find it difficult to properly wear a mask - it's hard to find a mask that fits a little kid well, they slip and need adjusting, etc - kids will likely end up touching their faces and noses more messing with their masks all day.

Any exception for child care settings should cover not just centers, but also in-home care, which may be provided in the child's own home by a babysitter who is not part of the household.

If no exception is made for time in child care, this may mean child care is not an option and parents are in a position of not being able to work. Please add an exception for child care ASAP so that child care providers, summer day camps, etc do not waste time and cause panic announcing the new mask requirement.

I am happy to discuss if it would be helpful.

Thank you.

CDC: After 10-Week Decline In COVID-19 Deaths, It May Soon No Longer Be An Epidemic

JULY 6, 2020 By Allison Schuster

The United States now has so few deaths due to COVID-19 that the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reported Friday it is approaching the threshold for dipping below the level of an epidemic.

The CDC defines an epidemic as an outbreak from which the number of deaths per week exceeds a given percentage of total deaths within the nation. The number of deaths from COVID-19 has steadily declined since hitting its peak in early May after it began spiking in the second week in March.

That threshold death rate for COVID-19 and other diseases such as influenza and pneumonia fluctuates, ranging typically from 5 to 7 percent at the height of flu season. The CDC said the Wuhan flu death rate had, during the last week in June, become equal to the epidemic threshold of 5.9 percent, reaching its lowest point since the end of last year.

The agency warned this is likely to change as more death certificates from recent weeks are processed, but it could mean hopeful news for the upcoming weeks. The total number of deaths due to COVID-19 has been declining for 10 straight weeks, concluding with week 26 that ended June 27. This suggests the United States could be on the verge of not being considered in an epidemic.

"Based on death certificate data, the percentage of deaths attributed to pneumonia, influenza or COVID-19 (PIC) decreased from 9.0% during week 25 to 5.9% during week 26, representing the tenth week of a declining percentage of deaths due to PIC," according to the CDC's website.
Fear over an impending second wave of cases and subsequent deaths due to COVID-19 has generated caution in reopening businesses. In the parts of the country that have reopened, however, death rates haven't widely spiked.

Despite the United States reaching its highest single-day surge of new COVID-19 cases in recent weeks, the death rate continues to remain stagnant, relatively unaffected by the increase in diagnoses. Cases have increased for week 26 in most regions nationally, but still remain lower than peaks in March and April.

While policymakers toy with the idea of a second shutdown, the CDC is reporting a lower death rate even while COVID-19 cases are recently on the rise.

Dear Mayor Rhodes-Conway, County Exec Parisi and Public Health Director Heinrich,

While I honor your sincere intentions to keep the public safe, stop the spread of COVID-19 and deal with intense pressures from all sides... your new COVID-19 order sucked the energy out of me and filled me with nausea... despite my two high honors degrees (from two elite universities) in science and engineering (that would agree with your decision).

However...
needing a whole-being soul-guided perspective, purpose and power to find some semblance sanity and serenity... and sometimes...
stunning synergy and serendipity.

I (and many) see COVID-19 as a massive wake-up call from the Universe...
nudging us humans to reevaluate our passionate pursuits of power and pleasure (through competition, consumption, comfort and control)...
before we destroy life worth living.

I wrote about such pursuits below (to friends on Independence Day)...
and the type of freedom I seek and cherish.

I flash on the words attributed to Ben Franklin:
"Those who would choose safety over liberty deserve neither".

I ask you to challenge We The People of Dane County to explore and model a new and higher form of freedom...
requiring hard humbling inner work and responsibility...
with health and well-being as by-products.

When I saw the below directive re masks and the renewed restrictions from County Health...

Safety First! Wear your Mask

I flashed on one of the most fulfilling and freedom-filled times in my life...
when I lived in this dream come true castle (with a princess)...

built with the motto:

1. Get the job done
2. Have a good time
3. Safety THIRD

Despite being a very high risk project following few formal safety procedures...
they had NO significant injuries.

Why?

Many of us believe that when we are given freedom to choose (vs told what to do)...
plus information to guide our decisions...
we will be motivated to use discernment...
and respect those giving us the choices and information...
as well as others we impact.

Can we apply that to COVID-19?

I personally am far more willing to wear a mask and keep a distance if I am given choices and information (than if told what I MUST do)...
e.g. this interview with a respected public health expert...
and this five minute video with an internationally respected cell biologist...
or this alternative perspective re risks of mandatory masks.

The public health expert says there is much confusion and misunderstanding re COVID-19...
especially re surfaces, outdoors and time of exposure:

> "We've looked very carefully at the data dating back for decades and research about these kinds of respiratory transmitted infections. And clearly, the surfaces play a very, very little role at all in transmission of this."
> "Outdoors has its own natural, in a sense, air conditioning. I often hear people talking about the risk of going to the beach, and ironically, beaches are probably some of the safest places to go to if you're not literally cheek and jowl with someone, just because the wind is blowing all the time."
> "I think people often think of transmission with this virus almost like tag: I get close to somebody who's infected — "Tag! You're now it." It's not at all. It is time related."

The cell biologist says that giving away our power (that can build our immune system) to stress and fear is the bigger problem.

And the alternative perspective presents several arguments and references re masks potentially increasing health risk... and questionable re preventing transmission.

In addition...
many of us believe that COVID-19 has a hidden gift and message (from the Universe)... nudging us (STRONGLY) to wake-up to a higher way of being, doing, relating, resolving, serving, stewarding and DISCERNING.

For me, that involves surrendering my precious pride and ego intellect to a higher power, purpose and perspective (that I call soul)...
using various holistic and spiritual practices to connect, align and inquire (e.g. intentions, meditation, breathwork, dowsing/muscle testing)...
to discern how to best serve and honor both self and others (i.e. win/win)...
at a SOUL level.

That led me to the possibility of STRONGLY impacting health (and reality) through energy fields produced by our thoughts, feelings, attitudes and beliefs (i.e. consciousness)... which gives me HOPE...
that We The People CAN heal and transmute the seemingly hopeless...
IF we have the courage, compassion and humility.

Are we ready and willing for such an evolutionary leap?

I hope so.
Our survival depends on it.

Don Quixote (aka Carl Landsness)

"To dream the now POSSIBLE dream"

"Safety third"

To dream the now possible dream
to face the fierce fear far within
to embrace with strong soul-filled courage
the pain that many call sin

To love what we're tempted to hate
to seek gifts hiding deep or afar
to trust the power within us
to reach the now reachable star

This is our quest
to follow that star
no matter how hopeless
no matter how far

To dance with it all
whether friend, fool or foe
to be willing to love what looks bad
birthing heavenly whole

And we know if we'll only be true

Wearing of masks cause uneven ventilation in the lung through the deformation of lung tissue (the so-called Slinky effect), and uneven perfusion through a combination of the Slinky effect and the zone model of pulmonary perfusion. This effect can cause wearers of masks to suffer serious lung issues and can lead to death from pulmonary failure.

Wearers of masks seldom know that disposable masks means throw them out once removed and not to put them back on. Even cloth masks once lifted or removed need to be washed before they are reused. You should not wear while driving a vehicle as that can cause carbon dioxide reactions in drivers that can cause crashes. Lots of issues with masks and it appears Dane County wants more illness and not less.

Good afternoon:

I just got off the phone with resident David (last name not provided) regarding his grievances after seeing the news on the mandatory mask order that will be put in place on Monday.

David is not accepting of the fact that County officials are making residents abide to this requirement. Per David, in his own research he has found 20+ doctors online who have all voiced facts that uproot this idea that wearing a mask is the answer; these doctors have said that wearing a mask will only lower one's oxygen levels and by doing so increase one's chance to catch COVID. David has vowed to refuse to wear a mask because of the negative impacts these doctors have said it will have on his health.

David was also not happy with the fact that meetings on this mask mandate were not shared publically so individuals like himself could share their views on the proposal. He would appreciate if someone from both PHMDC and Executive Parisi's office would reach out to him regarding his concerns. David can be reached at 608-471-9008.

Thank you,
Niamh McPartlin

Hi Niamh,

Thanks for passing along. As you can expect, we are being inundated with calls and emails right now. But just as an FYI, we (our Direct Public Outreach Team) are not prioritizing calls/emails where folks want to express their frustrations with the new mask order. There are only two of us staff member staffing the coronavirus email and phone line-so we are prioritizing calls/emails that have questions or need clarification about the new and current order, as well as all the other general type questions we are still receiving.

Thanks,
Nina

Subject: Resident inquiry - County's mandatory mask order

Good afternoon:

I just got off the phone with resident David (last name not provided) regarding his grievances after seeing the news on the mandatory mask order that will be put in place on Monday.

David is not accepting of the fact that County officials are making residents abide to this requirement. Per David, in his own research he has found 20+ doctors online who have all voiced facts that uproot this idea that wearing a mask is the answer; these doctors have said that wearing a mask will only lower one's oxygen levels and by doing so increase one's chance to catch COVID. David has vowed to refuse to wear a mask because of the negative impacts these doctors have said it will have on his health.

David was also not happy with the fact that meetings on this mask mandate were not shared publically so individuals like himself could share their views on the proposal. He would appreciate if someone from both PHMDC and Executive Parisi's office would reach out to him regarding his concerns. David can be reached at 608-471-9008.

Thank you,
Niamh McPartlin

My wife and I are elders who are self-isolating except for medical visits or when I need to make a grocery trip. We are not confident we could survive a case of Covid-19 and are distressed that so many others don't seem to care by virtue of their lack of masks and distancing. We wear masks whenever we're out even in the open air and have not seen our families since March 14.

Thank you for ordering all customers to wear masks in indoor public spaces. That, plus 6-foot social distancing, may save our lives.

We expect public health to act in the interest of all.

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

If you want to be a public servant, politics is irrelevant. You should be talking about Vitamins A, C, D3 & mineral Zinc which are the best masks to protect humans from any pathogen. These factors BOOST THE IMMUNE SYSTEM AND PROTECT HUMANS FROM VIRUS. One recent study even showed anti-microbial Vitamin D3 --- which was discovered by UW-Madison --- is actually as effective, or better, than a vaccine.

Virus also will not go away until it has a host. The best way to spread the virus and get rid of it is to allow it to find a host. Less people will die because the situation is remedied quicker.

Masks collect dust, debris, bacteria, virus, mucus and saliva. FILTHY! People are also littering masks everywhere. Consistency lacks logic and seems to be a non-issue.

People should have a great eating system instead of eating junk food all the time. 130 million people in this country are obese; this is where BAD health issues start.

Dr. Fauci did not wear a mask for 3.5 months. He has handled virus conditions in a totally backwards way.

What will you order next? There is no end to the incompetence which runs Dane County. I, and many, many others, will be moving out of Dane County and not patronizing any sports events or businesses therein because of your baseless, unconstitutional orders.

No regards, no respect ---

Subject: face masks in children 5 and over

Dear Mr. Parisi and/or someone who can help,

Although your intentions are good and you are trying your best to adhere to the recommended guidelines, I am concerned with the policy that all children five and over must wear a facemask. I think we can all agree that younger children are not developed enough to understand that touching their face and playing with their mask increases their risk of exposure. I have a daughter who is 6 years old. She attends a daycare with 10 children and 3 teachers. She has tried to wear masks into stores for 5 minutes and she can't do that without playing with it and touching her face. To ask these kids to wear a mask for 8-10 hours per day when they are around the same 10 kids/3 teachers everyday seems impractical. I am a RN in a procedural unit and I wear a mask all day, so I'm not ignorant to the practice of mask wearing. Because of my experience, I see the obstacles, practicality, and health risk to thinking that children would adhere to this. This is a very complex issue, that I'm certain you're trying your best to act on. I think it demands more creative and critical thinking to be successful. Daycare's are already limited to groups of 10 or less. Could this group be exempt? Or could you look at raising the age of the child? I don't know the best answer, I just know that this poses a greater risk to younger children. I sincerely want to thank you for listening to my concern and your time. If you have any questions or need any clarification please do not hesitate to call or email.

Subject: Partner with MREA on the Rise Up Midwest! Call to Action

Dear Joe,
I hope this email finds you well.

My name is Kyle, and I work for the Midwest Renewable Energy Association (MREA). The MREA is a 501(c)(3) non-profit that promotes renewable energy, energy efficiency, and sustainable living through education and demonstration. Together with partners around the Midwest, we work to expand renewable energy adoption through innovative programs, renewable energy training, and educational events.
I'm writing to you today to request your partnership in one of our new initiatives.

Back in late March of 2020, in response to COVID-19 and the associated economic recession, MREA staff pivoted our efforts to outline a strong justification of need for swift and impactful action throughout the Midwest. The resulting effort has led MREA to launch a regional call to action, Rise Up Midwest!, and we are now reaching out to jurisdictions, like yours, across the Midwest to join our coalition of businesses, organizations, and workforce development partners. Our goal is to inspire sweeping change that transitions our energy economy toward becoming more decentralized, efficient, and clean while also putting people back to work. We see a limited window of opportunity, and we also believe the clean energy industry has the capacity to collaborate, create jobs, and be a leading contributor in economic recovery.

We respectfully request your support of Rise Up Midwest! through partnership. Please join our coalition by signing our online form: RiseUpMidwest.org/Partnership-Agreement.

To date, 54 partners have expressed their support of the Rise Up Midwest! Campaign and these belief statements on which it is founded, including the City of Milwaukee | Milwaukee Shines, Jackson County (IA) Energy District, and Panasonic Solar. There is no cost to partner in this effort, and we will use the Dane County name solely in conjunction with the belief statements.
Collaborating and communicating with jurisdictions like Dane County will help us focus our work by speaking with the folks who are taking leadership roles in meeting sustainability, clean energy, and climate action targets at the local level. Our efforts are focused on creating market stability for energy efficiency and distributed generation, so we are working with key partners to showcase successful and scalable energy policies currently used in Midwest states. We are focusing our public education campaign on highlighting these successes and promoting the expansion programs that:

1. Expand Access to Energy Efficiency and Distributed Energy for Households and Small Businesses. This includes highlighting the recent expansion of the MN Solar Rewards program, the Iowa Solar Net Metering Legislation, and advocating for the expansion of the Wisconsin Focus on Energy Program.

2. Increase Advantageous Financing and Reduce Barriers for Local Energy Efficiency and Solar Energy Development. This includes highlighting city actions such as the St. Louis Building Performance Standard, facilitating jurisdiction SolSmart designations, and promoting public-private financing partnerships such as the PACE Wisconsin program.
3. Provide Appropriate, Long-Term Compensation for Solar and Wind Energy. This includes utility programs such as the PV Demand Credit in MN and state commission actions such as the long-term PURPA contracts for wind and solar facilities in Michigan.
4. Support Workforce Development Efforts that Expand Employment Access in Advanced Energy. This includes promoting the IL Solar for All Program and the MN Dept. of Corrections solar training efforts.

You can read about the public education campaign at RiseUpMidwest.org. If you prefer listening as opposed to reading, check out our most recent podcast episode, Get Up and Try featuring Tia Nelson which focuses on building bridges to broaden the climate movement.

If you are also able to contribute as a sponsor or donor it would greatly expand the reach and positive impact of this campaign to and for the Midwest's ratepayers and clean energy businesses.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out. Together with you, we look forward to putting the good folks of the Midwest to work building the clean energy economy of the future.
Thank you for your consideration,

-Kyle

FDA warns of false positives with certain COVID-19 tests

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration alerted clinical laboratories and healthcare providers on Monday about false positive results from one of Becton Dickinson and Co's COVID-19 molecular diagnostic tests.

The test, designed to detect viral nucleic acid from the virus that causes COVID-19, is in use in nearly every state across the U.S. at hundreds of laboratories.

In one study, the manufacturer found about 3% of the results were false positives, according to the FDA.

The health regulator said it was working with Becton Dickinson to resolve the issue.

Becton Dickinson is selling a variety of other types of tests for the coronavirus. The FDA on Monday granted emergency use authorization to the company's COVID-19 antigen test that can be administered at the point of care, with results within 15 minutes.

False Positive Results with BD SARS-CoV-2 Reagents for the BD Max System

Letter to Clinical Laboratory Staff and Health Care Providers from FDA

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is alerting clinical laboratory staff and health care providers of an increased risk of a false positive result with BD SARS-CoV-2 Reagents for the BD Max System test. In one study, the manufacturer found approximately three percent (3%) of results were false positive results.

Recommendations

The FDA recommends clinical laboratory staff and health care providers:

- Consider any positive result presumptive from tests using the BD SARS-CoV-2 Reagents for the BD Max System. Consider confirming with an alternate authorized test.

- Report any issues with using COVID-19 tests to the FDA. See Reporting Problems to the FDA below.

Background

The BD SARS-CoV-2 Reagents for BD Max System test is only authorized for use in laboratories in the United States certified under the Clinical Laboratory Improvement Amendments of 1988 (CLIA) to perform moderate and high complexity tests. The test is designed to detect viral nucleic acid from the virus that causes COVID-19 in upper respiratory specimens, such as nasal swabs. This letter only applies to the BD SARS-CoV-2 Reagents for the BD Max System.

The test received an Emergency Use Authorization on April 8, 2020.

FDA Actions

The FDA is working with Becton, Dickinson and Company (BD) to resolve this issue. The FDA will continue to keep clinical laboratory staff, health care providers, manufacturers, and the public informed of new or additional information.

Reporting Problems to the FDA

The FDA encourages health care providers to report any adverse events or suspected adverse events experienced with tests using the BD SARS-CoV-2 Reagents for the BD Max System.

- Voluntary reports can be submitted through MedWatch, the FDA Safety Information and Adverse Event Reporting program.
- Device manufacturers and user organizations must comply with the applicable Medical Device Reporting (MDR) regulations.
- Health care personnel employed by organizations that are subject to the FDA's user facility reporting requirements should follow the reporting procedures established by their organizations.

Prompt reporting of adverse events can help the FDA identify and better understand the risks associated with medical devices.

Contact Information

If you have questions about this letter, contact COVID19DX@fda.hhs.gov.

Public Health Madison & Dane County Releases New Orders Requiring Face Coverings

Today, Public Health Madison & Dane County released Order #8, which goes into effect on July 13, 2020 at 8:00am. See our news release for more information.

Per the order, people five years of age and older must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health care settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation.

Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.

See our face covering page for information on how to make and care for a mask, how the order is enforced, frequently asked questions, and more. Note we'll be adding to the FAQs in the coming days.

DANE COUNTY IMPLEMENTS MASK REQUIREMENTS

Dane County announced they will now require anyone 5 and older to wear face coverings while in public and private buildings in Dane County. Public Health Madison & Dane County issued Emergency Order #8 which goes into effect on Monday, July 13 at 8 am. The order specifies:

- Every individual, age five (5) and older, in Dane County must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when:
  - In any enclosed building where other people, except for members of the person's own household or living unit, could be present.
  - In line to enter any indoor space.
  - Driving or riding on public transportation or in a paratransit vehicle, a taxi, a private car service vehicle, a ride-sharing vehicle, or any other for hire vehicle.
- Individuals may remove their face coverings under the following circumstances:
  - While they are eating or drinking.
  - When communicating with an individual who is deaf or hard of hearing and communication cannot be achieved through other means.
  - While obtaining a service that requires the temporary removal of the face covering.
  - When necessary to confirm the individual's identity.
  - When federal or state law prohibits wearing a face covering.
- The following individuals are exempt from the requirement to wear a face covering:
  - Individuals for whom wearing a face covering would create a risk to the person related to their work, as determined by government safety guidelines.
  - Individuals with a medical condition, mental health condition, or disability that prevents them from wearing a face covering.

The Emergency Order provides additional information for Dane County businesses by category.

On June 23, DOA sent a letter to Capitol tenants to inform them the Capitol would be reopening to the public on July 13. This morning, prior to the Dane County announcement, Molly Vidal, spokeswoman for the Department of Administration, told The Wheeler Report, “The Capitol is currently scheduled to reopen to the public on July 13.”

SUPREME COURT OPINION

(State of Wisconsin v. Ryan Muth, Washington County Circuit Court, C.J. Roggensack opinion) – Restitutions to Crime Victims

Ryan Muth killed T.K. when driving drunk and causing a car crash. A month after the crash, Muth and his insurance company reached a civil settlement with T.K.’s three adult children. The settlement was $100,000, and each of the three children received a third of the sum. Six months later, Muth pled no contest to one count of homicide by intoxicated use of a vehicle with one or more prior OWI offenses. Muth was sentenced to 13 years of initial confinement followed by 13 years of extended supervision. Four months later in February, the circuit court held a hearing on restitution, at which the three adult children sought compensation for various expenses, including funeral costs. After hearing from the adult children and Muth’s claim that the settlement precluded restitution, the circuit court ordered restitution to the adult children. Muth filed a written objection to all restitution on two grounds: 1.) he claimed the civil settlement precluded the restitution, and 2.) he claimed sons-in-laws were not victims, and therefore the circuit court should not have imposed restitution for their lost wages. The circuit court upheld the restitution order. Muth appealed. The appeals court said the civil settlement did not preclude restitution. However, the appeals court reversed in part and remanded saying the marital property law was inapplicable to Wisconsin’s restitution statute. The Supreme Court affirmed that the civil settlement did not preclude the circuit court from ordering restitution. The Supreme Court reversed the appeals court saying “However, the court of appeals erred by reversing in part and remanding with directions to reduce the amount of restitution… We conclude that the circuit court’s restitution order was a reasonable exercise of discretion under the applicable law and facts presented.”

WisDOT Encourages Timely Disposition of Local Permitting Requests to Ensure Infrastructure Projects Remain on Schedule

We at the Wisconsin Counties Association are committed to working to ensure our state's infrastructure system, truly the foundation of our state, continues to grow and thrive. During the COVID-19 pandemic, WCA has been partnering with the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) to make sure transportation projects remain on schedule and in some instances, accelerated.

Below please find communication from WisDOT Secretary Craig Thompson discussing the local permitting process and the importance of the timely disposition of requests such as Conditional Use permits to ensure infrastructure projects remain on schedule.

Recent Announcements

- June Jobs Report "Smashes Expectations": Thursday, July 2, the Bureau of Labor Statistics released jobs numbers for June that far eclipsed economists' expectations. Our Nation's economy has broken another record as 4.8 million jobs were added in June, bringing the economic comeback to 7.5 million jobs added over the past two months. Employment increased significantly for most major sectors, with the largest gains in leisure and hospitality (2.1 million), retail trade (740,000), education and health services (568,000), and manufacturing (356,000). The overall unemployment rate fell by 2.2 points to 11.1%, beating forecasters' expectations by 1.4%. These data show Americans are returning to the workforce, and our nation's economy continues to recover. Read more here.
- U.S. Department of the Treasury Issues Updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On June 24, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. Among other new guidance, the updated Q/A provides that States, Tribes, and localities can use Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars for the 25% FEMA cost share. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.
- FEMA Releases Guidance on Federal Cost Share for Public Assistance Program: On July 2, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released clear guidance on how FEMA will treat the multiple sources of funding as they relate to the public assistance program and its cost share requirements. Generally, funding from other federal agencies cannot be used to meet the FEMA public assistance non-federal cost share requirement. For COVID-19, however, there are two exceptions: Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) dollars – mentioned above – and Department of House and Urban Development's Community Disaster Block Grant (CDBG-CV_.
- Centers for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC) Publishes New Guidance for K-12 Schools and Higher Education Institutions: On June 30, CDC published new guidance for K-12 schools and higher education institutions as they begin to reopen. The guidance offers considerations for ways in which schools can help protect students, teachers, administrators, and staff and slow the spread of COVID-19. The full guidance for K-12 School Administrators can be found here. The full guidance for Higher Education Administrators can be found here.
- Department of Education Launches New Student-Centered Grant Competition to Spur Short-Term Education Opportunities: U.S. Secretary of Education Betsy DeVos announced a new higher education discretionary grant program designed to provide students the opportunity to develop new skills, provide innovators and inventors the resources to expand existing businesses or build new ones, and encourage institutions of higher education to foster business development and innovation as America begins to recover from COVID-19-related disruptions to education and our economy. The CARES Act provided $307.5 million for discretionary grants, which the Secretary has chosen to divide between two competitions: $127.5 million for the Reimagine Workforce Preparation Grant and $180 million for the Rethink K-12 Education Models Grant.
- Indian Health Service Announces National Expansion of the Community Health: The Indian Health Service is announcing the national expansion of the Community Health Aide Program. The program provides education and training of tribal community health providers to increase access to quality health care, health promotion and disease prevention services. As an expansion of the Alaska Community Health Aide Program, the national CHAP will be consistent with the Alaska model and will foster innovative service delivery for the IHS by augmenting the existing workforce with mid-level paraprofessionals, utilizing culturally competent providers, and providing workforce development opportunities for locally developed staff.

COVID-19: Important Resources for State, Local, and Tribal Officials

- Guidelines for Opening Up America Again: On April 16, President Trump and the White House Coronavirus Task Force unveiled guidelines (download here) for the reopening of America. Developed by the top medical experts from across the Government and based on verifiable metrics regarding the situation on the ground, the guidelines outline a phased return to reopening and include specific steps for State, Local, and Tribal officials to follow in tailoring their response. The guidelines also set clear benchmarks on new cases, testing, and hospital resources for States to meet to proceed toward a phased reopening. In the days and weeks ahead, the Administration plans to continue robust coordination and outreach with State, Local, and Tribal leaders as we collectively work to reopen the country.
- Opening Up America Again Testing Overview and Testing Blueprint: On April 27, President Trump and the White House Coronavirus Task Force unveiled the Opening Up American Again Testing Overview and Testing Blueprint designed to facilitate State development and implementation of the robust testing plans and rapid response programs described in the President's Opening Up America Again Guidelines. The Testing Blueprint sets forth the partnership between Federal, State, local, and tribal governments, along with the private-sector and professional associations, all of which will play important roles in meeting the Nation's testing needs.

I just heard a report that Dane County will be requiring residents to wear respiratory masks in public on Monday 7/6. I will not comply with this order due to Dane County corruption. However, i will be reporting you and Dane County to Federal law enforcement agencies for civil and human rights violations. You do not serve the residents of Dane County, you serve the Democratic Party. Dane County along with the City of Madison are now the number one health, safety, security and general welfare threat to Wisconsin residents. There is no diversity or tolerance on the County Board or City Council just Democrats - the Party of devastation. It is way past time to call out, fight and stop your kind. We the People and Dane County residents will eventually overcome your corruption.

Greetings all,

First I would like to introduce myself, my name is Tim Rogers. Some of those who are on this email I have interviewed for office for being a part of the political system as a Union Leader. As you all know this COVID-19 is a pandemic that had swept this country and the world like no other. I would like to say that I support Governor Evers and his orders as well as Dane County orders. It would be nice if we all could sit down at a table and embrace how devastating this pandemic is. First I would like to say Speaker Voss and a few other Republicans I am ashamed to be from Wisconsin and how one would take an order for the safety of all and basically turn a blind eye. You should be ashamed to have accepted COVID-19 relief loans from the Federal Government, how much are you making as a Wisconsin Representative, are you or anyone getting kick backs from corporations that should not be people? It is also sad that we have a person in the White House and other along side him who don't care about this pandemic. This is something that will be the new norm for this world. There will be no "normal" like there was back in 2019. As for the man in the White House to say lets open schools in the fall…that is not smart in my mind and I am sure that some that I have included in this email would agree. The ones this email went are ones that I know will make a change for us to get our voices heard. Political parties aside why don't we work together. I may be a Democrat and proud to be one. I just wish our elected leaders would stop listening to big money and other influences- I am talking to you Voss and Fitzgerald not just because of what you did under the walker administration but the fact that you listen to what I hate to say as uneducated folks. Granted some are educated but you need to take your own personal interest aside and think about the lives of all. I could go one step further about the Supreme Court of Wisconsin as well as the Supreme Court of the United States where it's created for a non-partisan vote. Not stacked in one parties favor. However, I would like to go back to the point of this email; which is put a mandate on face masks. Put a mandate social distancing, wearing a mask, closing mass gathering places.

So I guess you can say that during this pandemic there has been an uptick in gun violence, there has been an uptick if COVID-19 testing and positive cases as well as death. I suggest that we put an order in just as Governor Evers did back in March to help slow the spread of COVID-19. You may have people who are not happy about the shut down or what have you, but you have to think about the health of everyone. Put our parties aside and do your job as elected officials to be the voice of all. I don't want to single Voss or Fitzgerald out but for the Republican party to bring a lawsuit against the order Governor Evers put out for the safety and health of us all was just not right. Everyone's health is important and the numbers don't lie about what is happening. Especially here in the United States, it's going and is out of control. I can keep going on and on about COVID-19 and other issues but COVID-19 scares me as it should scare you too. I have family members with health issues. I have health issues at 32; granted mine are related to my Military past and genetics. But we all have to work together during this time in our County, State and Country as well as the World. Listen to the health experts such as Dr. Fauci.

It may have been a long shot to reach out to you all and I am sure someone on your staff will or will not respond to me. However, for me voting for some on this email and some not- I voted for you because not only to get my voice heard but you have touched on a lot of issues I care about. Therefore I believe in my kind heart as I care for people regardless of who they are let us work together and get COVID-19 out of here. I know we are waiting for a vaccine but vaccines need to do more harm to the virus than the human body.

Someday I hope to be an elected official for Wisconsin or Dane County. I am happy to be involved in the Labor Union as a Vice President but with all that is happening in our world today please listen to the protests, please listen to the experts on COVID-19. I may not be an expert on COVID-19 but I can tell you as I said before, it's a scary time.

So please put a mandate in to keep people safe like we had back in March. As I said I don't like calling out people or focusing on one person(s) but in this time of our Nations need as well as the need of the world, we are humans, we all need to work together and get along. COVID-19 is real and the numbers are real. I work with people who have had it or been close to someone who has had COVID-19. For companies to make you use your own sick time to get paid when you got infected on the job is just not right. I can tell you everywhere that I have been and during this whole time of COVID-19 a mask has been on my face and hand washing and sanitizing has been regular.

All the best,

Hope to hear from you,

Tim

Joe, I will make this real short. If we feel we are in such a crisis and need to enforce the wearing of masks, which I am fine with if that is the decision, why then wait a week, until Monday at 8 a.m. for it to take effect. Either it is a significant issue or not. Wearing a mask is not the issue, but waiting a week really questions the importance of this decision. If it is that critical, act sooner than later or otherwise it really isn't that critical. Mixed messages. This is where leadership is lacking in many instances in our country.

Thanks for your time.

Subject: I Need My Pool Access - Mask Requirement

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear Executive Parisi,

I usually just show up at the polls and vote when I have something to say, but I cannot let this new mask policy just go through without providing a bit of perspective.

I am 42 years old, and I have a back injury. I broke my L5 vertebra. This is an old injury. However, a few weeks ago, I experienced complete numbness, and extensive pain in my lower extremities, after jogging outside, because the gyms were closed. I usually use a treadmill, and I have never had an issue walking or jogging when I use a treadmill.

I went to a chiropractor and fortunately the numbness and pain has subsided. I will continue to get treatment to improve my health in this regard.

I have always worn a mask out in public, and I will continue to do so. That said, I need my gym, Prairie Athletic Club, to be able to keep their pools open. They have a warm water pool which allows me to get some relief the daily, periodic back and neck pain that I experience.

I have to make a reservation to use their pool, and I am usually the only one, or one of two people there during the time that I typically go to the pool.

I signed up for a membership a little more than a week ago specifically for the therapeutic benefits of the warm water pool, because UW Heath did not have their physical therapy - aquatic therapy program running due to the pandemic. I have yet to go to a physical therapy appointment, because of the restrictions in place due to the pandemic. I can go use the warm water pool at the gym, daily, as part of my therapy program.

With this mask requirement, I may not be able to go to physical therapy in the pool at UW Health or go to the pool at my gym.

This would make my daily quality of life decline due to the daily pain and numbness that I experience. Movement is my treatment plan. Being stuck at home and unable the use the most effective treatment that I can experience would be devastating.

I don't want opiods or other pain medication as part of my treatment. They don't work that well for me, and they decrease my overall ability to function at home and at work.

While I am going to a chiropractor for adjustments, and doing at home therapy, the pool is the best part of my day, because I get to experience decreased pain or no pain at all.

Please find a way to keep the gyms open, specifically the pools, so that I and so many others can continue to gain the therapeutic benefits of movement.

Sincerely,

Rachel Haefner

Mr. Parisi,

Please strongly consider mandating face masks before the virus gets out of control. It actually feels like it may already be out of control but better late-than-never. I feel very uncomfortable going into stores where people don't wear masks. So, I'm very selective about where I go. I'm spending too much of my money at Amazon and not enough at local retailers. I'd love to keep my money local but I just don't feel safe doing so.

Minimally, please mandate masks in grocery stores, hardware stores and customer areas of car service shops. These are places people need to go to and really don't have a choice. I can make a personal choice if I want to go to a restaurant. But, I can't make a choice about getting my car fixed or getting groceries.

Wearing a mask is the least people can do to protect others and to help get the economy going.

Subject: County Supervisors: I ask you to introduce a bill declaring "addiction to ego narcotics" a public health crisis

Dear County Supervisors,

I ask you to introduce a bill declaring "addiction to ego narcotics" (e.g. judgment, blame, punishment, avoidance, arrogance, indulgence, self-righteousness, attachment, guarantee, and victimhood) a pubic health crisis... instead of your proposed bill declaring racism as public health crisis. If you do, I believe that you have a much higher chance of healing and changing the core causes of what many call "racism"... as well as other "isms" seen as harmful by many or most (e.g. sexism and fascism).

Most such "isms" are symptoms of a much bigger issue that some (like Riane Eisler of the Center for Partnership Studies) call the dominator culture (or paradigm). While I hugely empathize with the pain, fear and rage of those feeling harmed by racism, I'm concerned that the common uses of the word "racism" (and "racist") tend to generalize, judge, blame, shame and intimidate in ways that increase or perpetuate the harm (e.g. "You're a racist!"). They often imply wrongness in black/white either/or ways... with little room for gradations, unique situations or perceptions... much less healing, connection, reconciliation or growth.

And when such loaded words are followed with demands and "shoulds"... the chances of connection and healing drop even more. When people are faced with demands or shoulds... they don't have many choices other than submit, rebel or avoid... where everybody eventually pays dearly for... even if appearing to gain a victory in the short term. Marshall Rosenberg of the Center for Nonviolent Communication demonstrates this quite effectively and impactfully in this three hour video.

FULL nonviolent-Communication-Workshop: Marshall Rosenberg (Subtitles)

I'm a walking example of such... where years of avoidance of discomfort and conflict in my marriage and career led to a massive mid-life meltdown (in 88). Only through many intense years of depression and searching have I found some semblance of sanity and serenity... and often... stunning synergy and serendipity.

I ask you to challenge We The People to face and embrace the hard humbling inner work of self-examination, self-improvement, self-discipline and selfless service (vs projecting inner shadows onto others or into abuse).

I personally have found such work well worth the pain...
catalyzing extremely fulfilling ways of being, doing, relating, resolving, serving and stewarding.

nudging us humans to reevaluate our passionate pursuits of power and pleasure (through competition, consumption, comfort and control)...
before we destroy life worth living.

I wrote about such pursuits below (to friends on Independence Day)...
and the type of freedom I seek and cherish.

I flash on the words attributed to Ben Franklin:
"Those who would choose safety over liberty deserve neither".

I ask you to challenge We The People of Dane County to explore and model a new and higher form of freedom...
requiring hard humbling inner work and responsibility...
with health and well-being as by-products.

Subject: The freedom I seek and cherish: soul-guided and soul-SERVING

When I saw the below directive re masks and the renewed restrictions from County Health...

Safety First! Wear your Mask

I flashed on one of the most fulfilling and freedom-filled times in my life...
when I lived in this dream come true castle (with a princess)...

built with the motto:

1. Get the job done
2. Have a good time
3. Safety THIRD

Despite being a very high risk project following few formal safety procedures...
they had NO significant injuries.

Why?

Many of us believe that when we are given freedom to choose (vs told what to do)...
plus information to guide our decisions...
we will be motivated to use discernment...
and respect those giving us the choices and information...
as well as others we impact.

Can we apply that to COVID-19?

I personally am far more willing to wear a mask and keep a distance if I am given choices and information (than if told what I MUST do)...
e.g. this interview with a respected public health expert...
and this five minute video with an internationally respected cell biologist...
or this alternative perspective re risks of mandatory masks.

The public health expert says there is much confusion and misunderstanding re COVID-19...
especially re surfaces, outdoors and time of exposure:

> "We've looked very carefully at the data dating back for decades and research about these kinds of respiratory transmitted infections. And clearly, the surfaces play a very, very little role at all in transmission of this."
> "Outdoors has its own natural, in a sense, air conditioning. I often hear people talking about the risk of going to the beach, and ironically, beaches are probably some of the safest places to go to if you're not literally cheek and jowl with someone, just because the wind is blowing all the time."
> "I think people often think of transmission with this virus almost like tag: I get close to somebody who's infected — "Tag! You're now it." It's not at all. It is time related."

The cell biologist says that giving away our power (that can build our immune system) to stress and fear is the bigger problem.

And the alternative perspective presents several arguments and references re masks potentially increasing health risk... and questionable re preventing transmission.

In addition...
many of us believe that COVID-19 has a hidden gift and message (from the Universe)... nudging us (STRONGLY) to wake-up to a higher way of being, doing, relating, resolving, serving, stewarding and DISCERNING.

For me, that involves surrendering my precious pride and ego intellect to a higher power, purpose and perspective (that I call soul)...
using various holistic and spiritual practices to connect, align and inquire (e.g. intentions, meditation, breathwork, dowsing/muscle testing)...
to discern how to best serve and honor both self and others (i.e. win/win)...
at a SOUL level.

That led me to the possibility of STRONGLY impacting health (and reality) through energy fields produced by our thoughts, feelings, attitudes and beliefs (i.e. consciousness)... which gives me HOPE...
that We The People CAN heal and transmute the seemingly hopeless...
IF we have the courage, compassion and humility.

Are we ready and willing for such an evolutionary leap?

I hope so.
Our survival depends on it.

Don Quixote (aka Carl Landsness)

"To dream the now POSSIBLE dream"

"Safety third"

To dream the now possible dream
to face the fierce fear far within
to embrace with strong soul-filled courage
the pain that many call sin

To love what we're tempted to hate
to seek gifts hiding deep or afar
to trust the power within us
to reach the now reachable star

This is our quest
to follow that star
no matter how hopeless
no matter how far

To dance with it all
whether friend, fool or foe
to be willing to love what looks bad
birthing heavenly whole

And we know if we'll only be true
to this most noble of quests
that our hearts will lay peaceful and calm

when we're laid to our rest

And the world will be better for this that some souls scorned and covered with scars still strove with their last ounce of courage to face that fierce fear far within

Mr. Parisi

I am seriously appalled that your new release of health orders would include or even bring up race! Why would you bring race into this, when your mandate applies to ALL people in Dane County? It is reckless statements like these that cause division.
As a government office, shouldn't you be involved in building bridges and making connections that transcend social divisions, instead of separating us further?

On every page of your website you state:

Healthy People. Healthy Places.

Public Health Services are available to all residents and visitors of Madison and Dane County. Citizenship is not a requirement. We provide services regardless of a person's race, color, gender/gender expression, ability, religion, sexual orientation or place of birth/place of residence

Our Mission

Working with the community to enhance, protect, and promote the health of the environment and the well being of all people.

Yet YOU brought race into this. You personally for allowing this and your department should be ashamed of yourselves, I certainly am.

To Julie and Tom-

As I stated to you, we are still processing applications. With over 5000 applications it does take some time to process everyone's file. It did take longer than we expected. The good news is 90% of applications are being approved by a committee.

Your application was reviewed and approved by the committee on July 8. A notice will be sent out to you in the next week or two. The process is moving forward. I am sorry it is not at the speed you would like to experience. We would like to get funds into everyone's hands as well. But there is a process which we are following. With $10.8M we take this responsibility very seriously.

We will be sending a notice once it is ready to be sent out.

Dear mr. Parisi,

You under color of law for Dane county gave 10.8 million dollars to Dane buy local in may. I immediately filed for a grant for my business Ironman buildings located at 4407 vilas hope rd cottage grove on may 11, 2020.
I was told in an email by a colin Murray that they are working on it and we should hear something in 2 to 3 weeks. Doing the math I should have heard something by second week of June! I haven't heard from colin Murray regarding that original email.
So on July 2, 2020 I contacted Colin Murray again! In that email he told me my request has not been reviewed? As a tax paying citizen who owns a business in Dane county and have generated thousands of sales tax dollars for the county, I should be entitled to this grant money? Where is the transparency for this program? Why hasn't my application been looked at yet? Are you involved in the grant gifts going out? Who is in charge? Is mine and Julia's application being held up because we are suing you in federal district court? We need answers to our questions sir? What kind of program is the 10.8 million dollar tax payer funded program? Where is the oversight? Julia and I need ansers sir and since you are our elected official, the buck should stop at your desk? Please let us know in writing what the status of our application is?

Subject: Upgrading Our Secure Mail System

Good Morning Dane County Recipients,

In the coming weeks, Information Management will be moving from our current Zix secure email encryption to Proofpoint email encryption. We anticipate this to be complete by July 30. This transition will mean some changes in how email is handled.

What will change?

Because we are moving to a new system, external recipients may need to re-enroll their email addresses through the new portal. They will be prompted to do so when they receive their first Proofpoint-encrypted message. In addition, this new encryption system allows Information Management to manage accounts for external recipients. We will be able to better support our email recipients that struggle to open our encrypted messages. This new system also makes it easier for us to connect with other agencies and their email encryption systems. On the other hand, if you start receiving encrypted email notifications from recipients that weren't sending them previously – please reach out to our Help Desk and we will work with them.

The ZixSelect buttons to "Encrypt & Send" in Outlook are being replaced. They are being replaced by the Proofpoint "Send Securely" button. Keep in mind that if your email contains sensitive information that Proofpoint will automatically send it securely just like the Zix system did. Use this button only if you want to guarantee that your email is being encrypted. You can also guarantee encryption by including the word "ppsecure" in the subject line. Information Management will change your Outlook buttons automatically once the transition is complete.

What won't change?

Once transitioned, emails that contain sensitive information (SSNs, HIPAA data, Credit Card numbers, etc.) will continue to be automatically encrypted. Our email server will attempt to make a secure, encrypted connection to external mail servers. If a secure connection can't be made, they will be asked to sign in to our portal to read and reply to any secure email. The new secure mail portal functions very similarly to the current Zix secure mail portal.

Thank you for reading this message. If you have any questions or concerns please contact the Dane County Help Desk. Our contact information is below and we are happy to help.

Dear Joe,

I'm writing to you today because I feel that small businesses are being heavily affected by this new order. I work at Dragonfly Hot Yoga, we have 4 locations in the Madison area and because of the new order requiring masks indoors we have shut our doors once again on Monday July 13th. We haven't even been re-open for a month and we have followed all CDC guidelines to safely open our doors to our clients and staff.
We have measured spaces in our group fitness room that are 6 feet apart, we limited our class sizes to 10 people after order #7 came out July 2nd, but requiring anyone to wear a mask while working out in our room is just unreasonable as it's 95 degrees in the room to begin.
We have revised our cleaning procedures and we use a cleaner that was recommended by the EPA that effectively works against COVID.
Below I have listed reasons why I believe we should be able to operate our business without masks during classes:

1. where are the tracings of COVID cases to gyms or yoga studios? We haven't seen any so why hurt businesses you don't have to?
2. With your current limit of 10 people per class, transmission is not happening in classes. It would make more sense to make it a percentage instead of numbers since the room size varies. We have a tremendous numbers of members cancelling due to not being able to get into classes
3. Double standards- In restaurants, you require people to wear masks to the table and then they can take them off. WHY is the gym any different? Why not require masks UNTIL you get to your mat or your piece of workout equipment which is already VERY socially distanced.
4. Obviously masks cannot and should not be worn while working out and in intense heat because it's dangerous.

I'm sure there have been some unintended consequences to the ruling and this is one of them. Either way, if we don't speak up, you at Public Health and the county don't understand the issues and nothing will change. Based on my points above, please explain WHY "masks at all times" is a rule at health clubs.

Thank you,
Nicole King

Morning,
As a tax payer of this county, I highly suggest that you Mr. Parisi get this Health Order #8 rescinded immediately due to the fact the Health Department does not have the constitutional authority or you as an elected representative to mandate people to wear a mask. This needs to end and as your employer I highly urge you to move on this immediately. I will email everyday until this is rescinded. As a friendly reminder you are able to be recalled as well.
There needs to be accountability with this Health Department and right now I am seeing none. We have rights out here as citizens to which they are walking all over on.

Subject: No New Jail!

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Erica Ramberg and I live at 515 Briar Hill Rd.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.). Supervisor Doyle has given you a chance to be on the right side of history.

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Erica

July 14, 2020 (Also posted in Sociology Shared Dropbox folder)

Dear Sociology Board of Visitor Colleagues,

Thank you for spending an hour on Monday, July 13th, at the virtual Board of Visitors meeting. And thanks to many of you who committed to add financial support Sociology's strategies for addressing race, justice and inequality.

This email is intended as a brief summary of the meeting. Note: There are three bolded items seeking your input.

Attendees by WebEx or phone: Martin Preizler, Beth Garrow, Christine Schwartz, Janet Hankin, Jesus Martinez, Andrew Richter, Lisa Youngers, Kingsley Gobourne, Wes Sparkman, Joe Parisi, Cora Marrett, Laura Sanchez, Tom Weirath, and Tina Hunter and Erin Marie

Unable to attend: Kim Hearn, Alison Horn, Abby Funseth

1. Department of Sociology Updates

Christine Schwartz shared exciting news that five outstanding new people will join the faculty with respective expertise in survey research, and issues of inequality, reproductive health, and genetics.

The department is leading the university in addressing race, inequality and social justice (see item #3). A new webpage is being developed on this topic https://sociology.wisc.edu/race-justice-and-inequality/
Christine asked the Board members to view the link and provide her comments on how it could be improved.

The department is preparing for a hybrid online/classroom teaching approach in the fall consistent with campus-wide policies and practices.

2. Sociology Fund Development update

In Abby's absence, Marty informed the board that the Day of The Badger event, scheduled for October has been postponed. This was intended as a campus-wide celebration and fund raising effort. It was to coincide with our October 9th on campus meeting.

Marty and Beth Garrow have committed a combined $15,000 lead gift to the Department to address issues of race, inequality, and social justice in Sociology. Several members pledged additional amounts during the meeting. THANK You to all who made pledges!! Please contact Abby Funseth for instructions on how to complete the pledge. Marty informed the board that a major matching gift has been made to UW-Madison for scholarships through establishing discretionary funds to address diversity and inclusion, available to the campus immediately. It's possible that the Sociology gift will qualify for a match from this donor. More information will be shared by Abby when it is available.

3. Board discussion---diversity strategies in Sociology: recruiting and sustaining students, faculty and staff.

Christine outlined initial actions the department is taking to increase and sustain diversity among students, faculty and staff:

Christine asked for Board advice on how to attract a diverse staff applicant pool. Please send your ideas, experiences, recommendation to her.

Several board members commented on various aspects of the strategies.

Here is a link to the Chancellor's recent statement addressing campus racial inequalities.
https://chancellor.wisc.edu/blog/addressing-racial-inequities-on-campus/

4. What are the Department's greatest needs of the Board, especially in these challenging times?

Greatest needs continue to be financial support for students with an emphasis on underrepresented students; supporting undergraduate internship experiences and; supporting graduate student conference attendance.

Please provide me with feedback on how to improve the WebEx meeting, so that we can optimize the technology for a productive, enjoyable experience.

Remember to hold Friday, October 9, 2020 on your calendars for our extended virtual meeting.

Take care, stay safe and enjoy the summer.

In these stressful times, we are all looking for ways to help us stay healthy, active and connected as we manage the pandemic and the long-awaited call for racial justice transformations. Author Florence Williams will share with us her research on how nature can help heal us. In The Nature Fix: Why Nature Makes Us Happier, Healthier, and More Creative, Williams investigates the science behind nature's positive effects on the brain. She will present the newest research on the powers of the natural world to improve health, promote reflection and innovation, and strengthen our relationships. Now more than ever, a walk in nature may be just what you need.

Join moderators from America Walks and Outdoors Alliance for Kids in a discussion with Florence Williams, as she presents the key findings from the book and spends time answering all of our questions. Two lucky winners will be sent copies of the book (in a random drawing of all attendees on the webinar).

Attachments: BCR Partners Update 7.14.20.pdf

Hello Partners,
ABC for Health continues to track birth cost recovery policy in Wisconsin. We call the policy the "birth tax," due to the harsh and often unexpected financial impact on unmarried pregnant women and families seeking BadgerCare Plus in Wisconsin. Counties have certain flexibility in implementing this policy and recently some, like Dane County, have abolished the practice. Others, like Milwaukee County, continue to debate the inequities and practice of collecting the Birth Tax.

Update: The Milwaukee County Board Committee on Finance Will Discuss the BCR Resolution This Week
The Resolution requesting the Milwaukee County Department of Child Support Services discontinue the discretionary practice of pursuing birth cost recovery collections in child support cases in Milwaukee County will be before the Finance Committee on Thursday, July 16, 2020, at 9:30am.

The Resolution appears as Item 13 on the Committee's robust agenda.

This meeting will be live-streamed: https://milwaukeecounty.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

Please see the attached Partners Update for more information. This Update will be saved on our Birth Tax website, with past Partner's Updates (under "press, publications & reports") and other useful links.

Good afternoon NWS Milwaukee Partners,

Here is an update regarding the potential for a few strong to severe storms this evening into Wednesday.

Bottom Line Up Front
A cold front moving into western Wisconsin this afternoon will generate a line of strong to severe storms. This line of storms will move into south-central and southern Wisconsin this evening into the overnight hours. The line is expected to slowly weaken as it pushes east with the front stalling over the region tonight. Damaging winds and large hail will be the main threats with storms. Heavy rainfall could lead to localized flooding. More storms will be possible on Wednesday, with the chance focusing a little farther southeast. There will be a small severe threat and localized heavy rainfall once again tomorrow.

What has changed?
The timing of storms has slowed a bit more for this evening into tonight, with storms likely not arriving in the west until mid evening.

Forecast Information
Where: Southwestern and South-Central Wisconsin into tonight and farther southeast across the forecast area Wednesday.
What: Line of strong storms, with a few becoming severe. Damaging winds, large hail, and localized flooding.
When: This evening into tonight and again on Wednesday.
Impacts: Mainly tree and power line damage. Small potential for structural damage. Crop damage possible. Ponding on roads from heavy rainfall.

All,
Attached are our final requirements for schools. This does not indicate if schools will or won't open but the criteria that they need to follow in the event school is open at any point in the 2020-2021 school year (absent vaccine, immunity, treatment).

Please review and respond. Our plan would be to release these to the superintendents/folks on the school call list tomorrow morning and then release this as an update on our Wednesday comms update.

I am continuing to work with the team on data driven criteria to inform bigger decisions about schools.

GOVERNOR CREATES BROADBAND TASK FORCE

Governor Evers signed Executive Order #80 creating the Governor's Task Force on Broadband Access. Evers said, "The COVID-19 pandemic underscored that access to high-speed broadband is a necessity, not a luxury, and folks across our state have had to adapt – from kids and educators shifting to virtual classrooms, workers having to work from home, and even folks using telemedicine to visit with their doctor." Increased access to reliable broadband was highlighted in the WEDC report Wisconsin Tomorrow – An Economy for All. The Task Force members are:

- Brittany Beyer, Executive Director, Grow North Regional Economic Development Corporation
- Marta Bechtol, Executive Director, Educational Communications Board
- Tom Boron, IT Director, Washburn County
- Chad Young, CEO/General Manager, Norvado
- Jean Pauk, Government Affairs Manager, TDS Telecommunications
- Celeste Flynn, Director of Government Affairs, Charter Communications
- Kurt Kiefer, Assistant State Superintendent, Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction
- Theron Rutyna, IT Director, Red Cliff Band of Lake Superior Chippewa
- Brett Schuppner, General Manager, Reedsburg Utility Commission
- Jose Martinez, Vice President, UMOS
- Chris Meyer, Director of Virtual Care and Telehealth, Marshfield Clinic Health System
- Scott VanderSanden, President – AT&T Plains States, AT&T
- Chris Her-Xiong, Executive Director/Principal, Hmong American Peace Academy
- Emily Dittmar, Legislative Director, Wisconsin Educational Media and Technology Association
- Andrew Faust, Senior GIS Analyst, North Central Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission
- Robert Earl Baker III, Founder, RenderTech
- Lori Collins, President/CEO, SonicNet Inc.

- Gail Huycke, Community Development Specialist, UW-Extension Center for Community and Economic Development
- Shannon Clark, CEO & General Manager, Richland Electric Cooperative
- Salvador L. Carranza, Founder, Latino Education Council of Dane County
- State Representative Beth Meyers (D-Bayfield)
- State Representative Jeffrey Mursau (R-Crivitz)
- State Senator Howard Marklein (R-Spring Green)
- State Senator Patty Schachtner (D-Somerset)

The Task Force is directed to do the following:

- Research and recommend forward-looking broadband policies and initiatives that address state broadband goals and needs;

Checking in to remind you about Madison International Speedway, our small, family-owned business. It is located on 50 acres with 10,000 capacity seating, plenty of room to social distance!

You most likely are not as familiar with us as Madison and Dane County associate sports teams/facilities mostly with the Mallards and Forward Madison Soccer. A very interesting distinction between us and the forementioned teams is that our players never make physical contact with each other except for in race cars. Completely different.

Obviously, the city and the county have much invested in those teams and nothing invested in Madison International Speedway. That is because the speedway is owned by my husband, myself and our two children- nope, no city involvement or big investors here. Below is a photo of our kids painting the bleachers of our small family farm, as we like to call it. I'm guessing that doesn't happen much at Breese Stevens Field.

Thanks for taking the time to read my daily email. Really hoping to receive a response one of these days. There is still time for our family to open at a reasonable, safe % of capacity, have a few events and start paying off our mounting debt that no one else is going to cover for us.

They would all arrive and leave at staggered times (much different than MASS GATHERING INDOOR movie theaters).

Interestingly enough, it was the first race Indy Car held WITH FANS, right here in WI! Thousands of race fans social distanced while watching a sport they love. If a facility the size of Road America can safely do that, I'm CERTAIN MIS can do the same.

Our seasonal business has now lost another weekend and we would greatly appreciate any direction in regards to future capacity limits and changes to such within the Forward Dane Order. We are hearing that Illinois will allow facilities such as race tracks and other outdoor sporting events to open at 25% capacity on June 26.

Again, we are open to continuing to work with you all on this, but would greatly appreciate a line of communication so we can plan our next steps with our business. As you can imagine, between the amount of protestors, the release of Emergency Order #4 allowing 25% capacity at churches and speedways throughout the state being open for business without issue, we continue to seek a fair resolution that will allow the survival of our family business.

A response would be greatly appreciated as not knowing continues to create great emotional strain on our family as a whole. Thank you.

Bonnie,

My wife Angie and I own and operate Madison Speedway in rural Rutland township between Oregon and Stoughton. With today's announcement concerning Emergency Order #4 in regards to a 25% capacity limit now allowed at churches vs the previous 50 person limit, is it possible to have an open discussion in regards to % limits versus a number limit for outdoor venues such as ours? Currently we are being held to 50 people with a 250 limit currently set during Phase 3 of the Forward Dane document.

With nearly 50 acres and hosting spectator events each Friday night throughout the summer and the second Thursday of each month, our remaining July, August and September schedule consists of a total of 13 spectator events. Currently, our local Walgreens has a greater capacity than our venue. We are more than willing to work with you all on a plan that will allow us to reopen, the current and future imposed attendance restrictions will likely force us to close our business. Thank you for any insight you can provide.

Wanted to check in to see if there was any further updates on capacity limits and/or Mass Gathering limits for when we are able to move into Phase 3. We have canceled all of our spectator events through June and just want to get an idea of whether 250 is still a solid number looking ahead to phase 3 or if another limit has been discussed. Now that we have another weekend behind us:

Can you explain how a June 27 game for Forward Madison FC at Breese Stevens Field is selling tickets online with no distancing between seats, no policy posted and the ability to buy up to 25 seats. By all indications this should not be allowed according to your order, what's fair for one is fair for all.

Additionally, we were out of town opening our business in La Crosse County over the weekend but have had multiple reports of large gatherings throughout the city and county for music and more including an organized protest. Meanwhile, countless race tracks have opened across the state including in adjacent counties.

We will continue to ask for an open communication about our family owned and operated business as long as we see the inconsistency of your order and how it is applied to businesses like ours. We continue to be closed while other indoor ticket selling businesses are permitted to open under your order while rotating clients throughout the day, 7 days a week, in the same seats and common areas.

We continue to ask for a percentage allowance as you have granted other businesses in our county, businesses that do not have the ability to social distance as we do at our 10,000 seat outdoor 50 acre facility. While the zoo, movie theaters, miniature golf and bowling alleys are allowed to operate at 25%, our business is held to 50 people.

We believe that if you were to make a site visit to our facility it would become clear that your order is incorrect in it's limitation of our ability to operate our business.

Is there somebody else that we need to talk to? This is our family owned and operated business that we have dedicated 27 years plus (since I was 14, and even before) towards building, it is of utmost importance to us that we are allowed to open just as other businesses are being allowed to. We understand that we are a niche business, but we should not be penalized for being one. We have a plan in place and are ready to go.

We do not understand how indoor operations are allowed to open at 25% capacity when we may not be allowed to, many with more interaction and touch points than we have here. For example, the following indoor businesses are allowed to open at 25% during phase 1 (Which I think is great)

-Restaurants and Bars

-Retail

-Gym/Recreational facilities

-Indoor Shopping Malls

-Licensed Swimming Pools

-Indoor Places of Art and Culture (Movie Theaters, going to the races is exactly the same as going to a movie, in every aspect other than we are outside)

-Bowling Alleys

We feel that we are an outdoor place of amusement and activity, if amusement parks, zoos and miniature golf can be open, we surely can be as well. How do any of the above qualify any more than we do? Especially the indoor facilities with numerous points of contact.

Please let us know if there is someone else we need to contact to share our story or when you may be able to provide us more direction. We deserve to know by tomorrow if not before. Thank you for your time.

Thank you for getting back to us. Our conditional use permit places our grandstand capacity at 10,000 people. If we were granted approval to operate our business, I know that we have ample room to allow for proper distancing as well as the ability to follow proper guidelines.

In our Competitor Area

- -Competitors are limited to 6 people total per team.
- -Teams must stay in their own pit area.
- -6' Distance to be required on spotters stand and in pit stands We have painted every other board white and blue to help distance, most stand along top of hill.
- -Drivers meeting will be via public address system, there will be no gathering in pit area.
- -Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.
- -All team members must agree in writing that they will adhere to all policies and restrictions prior to entering the restricted area and will be encouraged to wear face coverings

In our Main Seating Area

-We will limit attendance to 2,000 (20%) spectators for our May 29, June 5, June 11 and June 12 events and then work with health officials to expand capacity limits from that point. At no time in 2020 will we ask for greater than 50% capacity

- Additionally we are prepared to have ushers help direct groups to open areas to ensure distancing in grandstands, forming family seating arrangements of 2-4-6 with 6 feet of spacing between seating groups, utilizing measurement tools as needed.

-All concession stands will be equipped with plexi glass to separate attendees from staff

-Concession lines will be limited to one person per group, queuing areas will also be clearly marked with distancing markings

-Hand Sanitizer (already acquired) will be available throughout the facility at key locations including gates and concession areas

-Two employees will be responsible for monitoring and disinfecting high touch areas as well as rest rooms during each event.

-Use of face coverings highly encouraged

--Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.

We are open to further suggestions, and look forward to working with you. # New U.S. health crisis looms as patients without COVID-19 delay care

A Texas man who waited until his brain tumor was softball-sized; a baby who suffered an ear infection for six days; a heart patient who died: The resurgence of COVID-19 is creating another health crisis as hospitals fill and patients are fearful or unable to get non-emergency care.

With U.S. coronavirus infections reaching new heights, doctors and hospitals say they are also seeing sharp declines in patients seeking routine medical care and screenings - and a rise in those who have delayed care for so long they are far sicker than they otherwise would be.

"I had one lady who had delayed for five days coming in with abdominal pain that was getting worse and worse," said Dr. Diana Fite, who practices emergency medicine in Houston. "When she finally came in, she had a ruptured appendix."

After the pandemic was declared a national emergency in March, many states banned non-essential medical procedures, and the number of patients seeking care for other ailments took a nosedive. Hospitals and medical practices were hit hard financially.

Emergency department use dropped by 42% during the first 10 weeks of the pandemic despite a rise in patients presenting with symptoms of the coronavirus, data from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention show. In the same period, patients seeking care for heart attacks dropped by 23% and stroke care by 20%.

As the initial outbreak leveled off in the weeks that followed, healthcare experts planned to handle primary care differently should infections rise again, making sure minor procedures like cancer screenings were still allowed and assuring patients that hospitals and clinics were safe.

But the recent surge in cases has swamped hospitals in many states, including Texas, Arizona, Florida and parts of California.

CANCER MORTALITY RATES

Texas has again banned many non-emergency procedures, though cancer surgeries are still allowed, and a hospital in California's San Joaquin Valley for several days admitted only COVID-19 patients.

Patients without COVID-19 - either out of fear, confusion or because of difficulty in obtaining the care they need - are again staying home.

The result is a healthcare crisis in the making, said Austin oncologist Dr. Debra Patt, who said she expects mortality rates from cancer to skyrocket in the years after the pandemic because patients have delayed their care.

"They're scared to go in the hospital unless they absolutely have to," said Patt. "And even when the patients are willing, it's hard to get things done."

Patt in recent days treated a man who waited to come in for headaches and dizziness until he had lost 35 pounds and had a softball-sized tumor in his head.

Fite, who is president of the Texas Medical Association, cared for a baby whose parents waited six days before bringing him in with a severe ear infection.

Patt said screening mammograms are down by 90% in Austin, where she specializes in breast cancer and serves as executive vice president of Texas Oncology. That means some tumors will be missed, and women who develop aggressive cancers might not know about it until the disease is more advanced and more likely to be deadly.

"It's an impact we will see on cancer survival for years to come," she said.

Dr. David Fleeger, a colorectal surgeon in Austin and a past president of the Texas Medical Association, said he has had numerous patients cancel colonoscopies in recent days.

"The delays in colonoscopies that are occurring right now ultimately will lead to more cancers and more deaths," he said.

'IN A HOLDING PATTERN'

Patt's patient Helen Knost had to put off surgery for breast cancer in early spring because it was considered non-emergency in Texas and barred at the time, and she was treated instead with the medication Tamoxifen.

"It's very strange to know you have cancer and you're just hanging out with it, just in a holding pattern," said Knost, who did ultimately undergo successful surgery.

In California, doctors at the 150-bed Adventist Lodi Memorial Hospital in the San Joaquin Valley breadbasket were determined that a second surge in coronavirus cases would not bring a repeat of the pandemic's early days, when emergency room visits dropped in half. Emergency medical technicians also reported a 45% rise in the number of heart patients who died before they could be brought to the hospital.

Hospital CEO Daniel Wolcott led a campaign to inform the community that the medical center was open and safe, even speaking to people about it in the grocery store.

But with new COVID-19 cases swamping the hospital, sickening nearly 30 staff members and forcing it to divert non-coronavirus cases to other facilities for several days, Wolcott fears that again patients with heart conditions and other illnesses will stay away.

"We won't know for years how many people lost their lives or lost good years of their lives for fear of coronavirus," he said.

Importance: High

Good morning NWS Milwaukee Health Service/School/Media Partners,

Here is an update regarding the thunderstorms expected throughout the day.

Bottom Line Up Front
A stalled front will be the main focus for continued shower and thunderstorm development today. Scattered thunderstorms are expected this morning with more numerous to widespread thunderstorms expected this afternoon. Main threat with any storms will be gusty winds, lightning, and very heavy rainfall that could lead to flooding. The front will push south late tonight bringing an end to thunderstorm chances.

What has changed?
Increasing confidence that we'll see persistent thunderstorms throughout the day. Lower confidence that any of these storms will be severe.

Forecast Information
Where: All of southern Wisconsin
What: Numerous thunderstorms with some capable of damaging winds, frequent lightning, and very heavy rainfall that could lead to flooding.
When: Highest chances for storms will be during the afternoon and evening hours.
Impacts: Lightning will pose a threat to those outdoors and without access to permanent shelter.

Morning,
As a tax payer of this county, I highly suggest that you Mr. Parisi get this Health Order #8 rescinded immediately due to the fact the Health Department does not have the constitutional authority or you as an elected representative to mandate people to wear a mask. This needs to end and as your employer I highly urge you to move on this immediately. I will email everyday until this is rescinded. As a friendly reminder you are able to be recalled as well.
There needs to be accountability with this Health Department and right now I am seeing none. We have rights out here as citizens to which they are walking all over on.

Thank you,
Derek Statz

Mr Parisi,
When the government implements an order to the general public i.e the mandatory mask order and then provides exemptions, your order becomes nothing more than lip service and shows how serious you take the COVID outbreak.

Explain how everyone has to wear a mask indoors in a business in Dane county and the media is exempt when on air? Is it because of the quality of the broadcast? If that is the case, why were so many remote reports wearing masks initially during the outbreak? (My opinion was too look good because they were protecting themselves and others) Doesn't talking a lot create more of a potential to spread COVID? If it is so hearing impaired can red lips, why are radio broadcasts exempt and there is closed caption on TV?

Is the 911 call center or any dispatch for emergency services exempt .

Are there other Industries that have exemptions?

I look forward to your response

Newsletter | July 2020

This month marks the 30th anniversary of the enactment of the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) signed into law by President George H. W. Bush on July 26, 1990. It was amended in 2009. Did you know that the ADA covers a wide range of areas, including employment, transportation, public services, and telecommunications? We are taking this moment to reflect on how we can ensure our programming reaches people with disabilities in these difficult times. We are especially excited that our Webcast Studio has recently started operations, and we are getting ready to launch fully virtual programming in the fall.

As we have said before, we want our work over the decades to speak for itself. Under every leader and board of directors lineup, regardless of our name -- be it Very Special Arts, VSA or AFA -- we have committed ourselves to art for all people. The arts are a universal and essential language that challenge people to respond to the world, look beyond themselves, and celebrate diversity by building bridges between people, across cultures and through generations. We know that this is more important than ever and we are determined to ensure that the power of the arts are accessible to people seeking equality, respect, and justice. Please tell us how we are doing.

Some things you'll find inside...

- Our Executive Director named to Leadership Team of Any Given Child Madison
- We are accepting Charter Members of our Legacy Circle for planned gifts through December 31, 2020
- Saying goodbye to VSA founder, Jean Kennedy Smith

Our New Webcast Production Studio Begins New Virtual Programming

We are grateful to supporters that made the creation of the ARTS for ALL Wisconsin Webcast Production Studio possible, including a gift from Susan Tirschel in memory of Duane Tirschel, and American Family Insurance.

We christened the studio with the first of four monthly Memory Art Cafes on June 26 in partnership with Madison Museum of Contemporary Art, Alzheimer's & Dementia Alliance of Wisconsin, ADRC of Southwest Wisconsin, and Brookdale Senior Living. Musician Joe McNally (above) played the banjo and encouraged dancing, AFA teaching artist Christy Grace led an art activity in watercolor technique, and MMoCA docent Gil xxxx led a discussion on three artists currently part of the museums collection.

The Webcast Production Studio will replace all in-person programming through the end of the calendar year, which could be extended. When we restart in-person programming, our Studio will continue to produce content to be shared statewide.

Executive Director named to the Leadership Team of Any Given Child Madison

Recently Any Given Child Madison (AGCM) announced that our Executive Director, Christina Martin-Wright, has been named to the Leadership Team.

The Ensuring the Arts for Any Given Child Program is an initiative of the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and is currently in 27 communities across the United States, including the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. In 2014 AGCM received a gift from the estate of Carl M. Hudig to support the goals created by its Community Arts Team, which include to facilitate and foster connections between MMSD, local arts organizations, and teaching artists.

"The Kennedy Center is delighted that Christina Martin-Wright has been appointed to the Any Given Child Madison Leadership Team. Students with disabilities are often left out of arts education opportunities. Her expertise and experience as a respected leader at the intersection of arts and disability will ensure thoughtful and comprehensive inclusion strategies to support arts equity for every child."

-Jeanette McCune, Director, School and Community Programs at the Kennedy Center

AFA Artist Jerome Glenn a highlight of 2020 Disability Pride in Madison

2020 Creative Power award winning artist Jerome Glenn will be featured in this year's all-virtual Disability Pride. The organizers of the event are focusing on black artists with disabilities in 2020, and we are so happy to have Jerome's work included.

Jerome's use of a warm and bright palette in his paintings feels celebratory even when the subject, in contrast, may be dark, challenging, or difficult.

He won the Creative Power award previously in 2014 as well.

See Jerome's AFA Artist Profile here.

Jean Kennedy Smith (1928 - 2020)

Last month we learned that Jean Kennedy Smith, the founder of Very Special Arts (VSA) at the Kennedy Center, had died. We were deeply saddened by the loss, and are honored to continue the good work she began nearly 50 years ago.

Her legacy will survive in our work, and the work of dozens of other organizations that sprung up across the country as a result of her advocacy for people with disabilities.

"I never sat down and said, 'Now I must make a contribution, that one person can make a difference. But I felt I was in a position where I could contribute."

- Jean Kennedy Smith

Our new Legacy Circle ready to accept Charter Members

A healthy and vibrant future depends on the work that we do today. It will be our legacy.

You can be a part of that legacy too.

Did you know that you can make a simple, yet transformational gift through your will or estate that costs you nothing during your lifetime? By making a planned gift, and becoming a Charter Member of our Legacy Circle, you will contribute to our future, and forever be a part of our success.

Our Charter Members are the supporters who join the Legacy Circle by the end of 2020. Once you are a Charter Member, you will always be noted as one because our gratitude for your support and the faith you have in our mission deserves perpetual recognition.

To learn more visit our Legacy Circle web page here.

Sent on behalf of Larry Palm, Executive Chairperson of the Capital Area Regional Planning Commission
July 15, 2020
Mr. Scott McDonell, Dane County Clerk
Room 106A, City-County Building
210 Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd.
Madison, WI 53703-3342
Dear Mr. McDonell:

Statutory Certification

The Capital Area Regional Planning Commission (CARPC), in compliance with Wis. Stat. § 66.0309(14), hereby submits its 2021 budget certification to the Dane County Clerk. As provided by this section of the statute, this certification must be submitted prior to August 1.

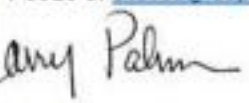

The 2021 budget certification charge is $983,137, which partially represents the local costs of services to be provided by the CARPC, and is revenue for its 2021 budget as approved by the CARPC at its June 11, 2020, meeting with the adoption of CARPC Resolution 2020-08 Approving CARPC 2021 Preliminary Budget and Levy Charge.

Background

If Dane County's total equalized valuation remains unchanged from the 2020 level of $66,490,116,700, the total 2021 budget charge will amount to 0.001479% of total equalized value, considerably less than the 0.003% allowed by statute. This amount provides partial local funding, which assures match money and permits the CARPC to proceed with contracts and grant negotiations with other agencies that help fund the work of the Commission.

We are expecting additional other local funding in 2021 through processing fees for amendments to the Water Quality Plan and sewer extension reviews, and from contracts with other governmental entities for various services.

We will be happy to answer any questions regarding this certification and the CARPC planning program activities for 2021 as part of the detailed budget review process over the next few months. Please refer questions to Stephen Steinhoff, Agency Director, at 608-474-6010 or SteveS@CapitalAreaRPC.org.

Good Morning Mr. Parisi,

As a resident of Dane County, I feel the need to voice my opinion on the 'mask mandate' (Emergency Order #8).

Firstly, I feel that this mask mandate is unconstitutional, as there is nothing in the Wisconsin State Constitution granting the power to implement such a mask mandate. Cities and Counties do not have the authority to violate the State Constitution either. This, in my view, is a tyrannical policy that is effectively saying that I am not capable of making (nor should I have the liberty to make) my own healthcare decisions. Suggesting the wearing of masks is one thing, but forcing people to wear them (removing their bodily autonomy) completely crosses the line and is not moral behavior from the governing authority. Remember, while you have a position of authority here on this Earth, there also exists one in Heaven (God) who gave you this Earthly authority, and that he ultimately has authority over you.

Secondly, I'd like to focus on the logistics/implementation of the mask mandate itself. It is now Day 3 of the unconstitutional mask mandate policy and I've picked up on some things that show how misguided it is to believe that this policy is in any way/shape/form "stopping/preventing the spread of" a virus:

1. Masks have to come off whenever someone needs to eat food or drink some water (one can't eat/drink through a mask). During that time period, a person is breathing into the air as they normally would without a mask on, and the viruses/bacteria within one's body are spreading through the air as they would without a mask.
2. People are constantly touching them (due to itching or getting an itch, needing to be repositioned from time to time, taken off due to eating/drinking, etc.)... This is just further contaminating the mask as well as whatever people are touching, and then people are just breathing in the contamination that is now on their masks.
3. People tend to wear them below their nose (either constantly, or from time to time) so that they can actually breathe decently. This means that viruses/bacteria are being breathed into the air as if one wasn't wearing a mask to begin with.
4. Masks are not airtight, meaning that there are openings (such as below the eyes, sides of one's face, and even below the chin) where air still gets breathed out into the open anyway. This can be seen in videos of people vaping while wearing a mask (and then exhaling with the mask on). Whatever one is breathing out (including viruses/bacteria) is still being breathed out into the open air, even with a mask on. This most definitely applies to COVID, which is an airborne virus and can survive in stagnant air (such as being indoors) for hours.

Masks are meant for woodworking projects, for stopping pollen/dust/hay/other small particulates from being inhaled, and for performing sterile procedures on someone (so that the operation site doesn't get contaminated and so that blood doesn't get into one's mouth/etc)... Masks are NOT meant for "stopping/preventing the spread of" viruses. In fact, viruses are significantly smaller than the pores of N95 masks (rated for +300nm, while viruses are typically much smaller than that), let alone any cloth/surgical mask that is being used to adhere to this tyrannical, immoral, and unconstitutional mask mandate policy.

Thirdly, I'd like to speak about the COVID statistics themselves. First off, "death with covid in system" is not equivalent to "death by covid". In fact, covid does not kill anyone (but rather, it is the pneumonia that develops afterward that kills). Additionally, "possible cases" are not equivalent to "verified cases" and cannot be counted as if they were. So, I also believe that there is mathematical "game playing" going on to inflate the numbers to instill more fear within people about this virus. Part of why I believe this is the case is due to looking at all-cause mortality rates in the USA over the last several years. This 'flu season' was actually rather mild compared to other years, and it didn't spike up until immediately after the "pandemic" was declared (making the CDC and WHO out to be "prophets"). The spike was also very uncharacteristic of natural viral behavior. This spike was very steep and narrow, while natural spikes are much less steep and much more spread out (for example, spread out over 12 weeks rather than only 4 weeks). This unnatural spike seems to be due to senior care center policies (such as in NYC) where a lot of elderly people died all at once due to sick people being brought back into those facilities to infect the whole facility rather than isolated until after they recovered. Places that did not act in such a way saw no "covid-spike" that "hot spots" such as NYC saw... More details can be found in the PDFs of a study that I am attaching to my response.

In conclusion, covid is a rather mild flu at most, and the sensationalism behind this virus (treating it as if it were the black plague) is a hoax and is immoral behavior on part of governing authorities who will have to one day account to God for how they are mistreating the people who they have been granted authority over. I urge you to reconsider supporting the implementation of such 'mask mandate' policies (ie, Emergency Order #8), and other similar policies that are slowly stripping away the remaining liberties/freedoms of Americans.

Thank you, and God bless.

How Offshore Wind Supports California's Renewable Energy and Greenhouse Gas Initiatives

Wednesday, August 5, 2020
10:00-11:30am PDT

Presented by Offshore Wind California and INFOCAST

Energy procurement in California is undergoing dramatic change. SB 100 requires that 100 percent of electricity come from renewable or zero-carbon sources by 2045, and the Integrated Resource Planning (IRP) process is changing to meet these ambitious goals.

In the fall of 2019, offshore wind was for the first time included in the Proposed System Reference Plan. In addition, Resource Adequacy concerns are driving procurements to meet capacity needs and offshore wind can play a role here, too. At the same time, the state is moving aggressively to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from the electricity sector; a sustainable offshore wind industry in the state will serve to significantly reduce GHG emissions.

Please join us for our second webinar, How Offshore Wind Supports California's Renewable Energy and Greenhouse Gas

Initiatives. Top experts will share the latest on the state's IRP process and the most likely pathways to increase renewables and reduce emissions.

Quick update. Unless no significant questions we're going to push out the requirements to the superintendents and not do a blog because it's not a 'decision about schools' but requirements schools need to follow. We'll use the supporting materials should there be inquiry.

All,
Attached are our final requirements for schools. This does not indicate if schools will or won't open but the criteria that they need to follow in the event school is open at any point in the 2020-2021 school year (absent vaccine, immunity, treatment).

Please review and respond. Our plan would be to release these to the superintendents/folks on the school call list tomorrow morning and then release this as an update on our Wednesday comms update.

I am continuing to work with the team on data driven criteria to inform bigger decisions about schools.

Dear Joe,

From the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic, our focus and priority has been and continues to be on the health and safety of our associates, members, and customers. Currently about 65 percent of our more than 5,000 stores and clubs are located in areas where there is some form of government mandate on face coverings.

To help bring consistency across stores and clubs, we will require all shoppers to wear a face covering starting Monday, July 20 – this will give us time to inform customers and members of the changes, post signage and train associates on the new protocols.

In addition to posting clear signage at the front of our stores, we've created the role of Health Ambassador and will station them near the entrance to remind those without a mask of our new face covering requirements. Our ambassadors will receive special training to help make the process as smooth as possible for customers. We know it may not be possible for everyone to wear a face covering, so our associates will also be trained on those exceptions to make the process as easy as possible for everyone.

We know some people have differing opinions on this topic. We also recognize the role we can play to help protect the health and well-being of the communities we serve by following the evolving guidance of health officials like the CDC. We appreciate the understanding and cooperation of our customers and members in wearing face coverings to protect their safety and the safety of our associates.

To read more about this simple step to keep you safe, please visit here, and for more information about Walmart's current full response to COVID-19, please visit here.

As always, please reach out to me with any questions, and know your feedback (good or bad) on this and other issues is appreciated and helpful.

Stay Healthy,

Dane County to Purchase and Hand Out 100,000 Free Face Masks to Local Organizations During the COVID-19 Pandemic

Today, Dane County Executive Joe Parisi joined the Department of Emergency Management and community partners to highlight the community-wide effort now underway to help ensure all Dane County residents have access to face masks during the COVID-19 pandemic.

A number of Dane County departments have teamed together to establish a cloth mask procurement and distribution system. The Departments of Public Health, Emergency Management, Human Services, and the Dane County Library System are working to get masks out to community centers, churches, schools, food pantries, and other settings that can reach underserved communities and those who may be unable to afford masks.

“Dane County has worked with our community partners to set up the most extensive free mask distribution system in the region,” said County Executive Parisi. “We want to keep people safe, especially those already struggling to meet basic needs like food and shelter. This effort will improve local access to masks and help our community slow the spread of COVID-19.”

The Department of Emergency Management is in the process of handing out 100,000 masks to community partners, with about 65,745 of those masks already out in the community. Thus far, Dane County has spent $150,000 on masks to keep residents safe and has partnered with nearly 100 organizations to distribute them.

Dane County is also partnering with Dane County Mask Makers to facilitate small mask orders (10 or less) and individual cloth mask requests. The masks the organization provides are free and come from community donations. To learn more or volunteer, visit www.danecountymaskmakers.com.

Dane County’s face mask distribution effort comes as Public Health Madison & Dane County’s in-door face mask order took effect Monday, July 13. The order requires everyone age 5 and older to wear a face covering or mask when in any enclosed building where other people, except for members of the person’s own household or living unit, could be present.

An assortment of face coverings can be purchased in stores and online. Dane County Mask Makers and Public Health Madison & Dane County also have links to lists of local mask sellers on their websites. Those who can afford to purchase face masks are encouraged to do so to help ensure the continued availability of free face masks in the community.

Good afternoon NWS Milwaukee Health Service/School/Media Partners,

Here is an update regarding the thunderstorms expected throughout the afternoon and evening.

Bottom Line Up Front

More storms will affect southern Wisconsin this afternoon through mid evening. Heavy rainfall is the main threat though some isolated damaging winds are possible as well.

What has changed?

Confidence is still high that more rain and storms will affect southern Wisconsin through the mid evening hours. (see attachment for potential evolution of this scenario)

Forecast Information

Where: All of southern Wisconsin
What: Numerous thunderstorms with some capable of damaging winds, frequent lightning, and very heavy rainfall that could lead to areas of flooding.
When: Highest chances for storms will be during the afternoon and evening hours.
Impacts: Lightning will pose a threat to those outdoors and without access to permanent shelter.

Hi Joe,

Thank you for the response. I will be following along and staying engaged.

I'd appreciate it if you got a bit more specific on your stance on the issue though -- do you or do you not support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to halt funding on the new jail? I appreciate that you share my concerns and pledge to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system (although in my opinion, this would be a complete overhaul of the system as we know it). So if we want to work towards less people subjected to the atrocities of incarceration, funding (and supporting the funding of) a new and larger jail would work directly against that goal.

Do you or do you not support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to halt funding on the new jail?

Thank you,
Andrea Collins

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Andrea Collins and I live at 1218 Rutledge Street #4.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Andrea Collins

Dear Joe:

Madison Gas and Electric (MGE) can help you determine if electric vehicles (EVs) are a good fit for your business and bottom line. Please take a few minutes to answer a brief survey so we can learn more about your fleet and help you identify EV solutions to reduce vehicle maintenance and fuel costs, and meet your sustainability goals. MGE experts are here to help!

Take the survey

If someone else is more familiar with your fleet, please forward this email to them.

Please contact me if you have questions on the survey or MGE programs.

Robert Smalls Rode from Slavery to Congress on a Stolen Confederate Warship

by Hanna Eyobed, age 15

Robert Smalls was born in 1839, son of a slave owner. Growing up, Smalls wasn't aware of the miseries of slavery as he was removed from it. Being the master's son, he was worked less and was allowed inside to play with white children. As he started to grow up, his mother worried he wouldn't understand the dangers of the world for black people. So when Smalls was about 10 years-old his mother made him work in the fields, witness whipping and live among his own people. As he became more familiar with slavery he decided to rebel. Fearing for his safety, his mother asked the owner to send him to Charleston to work.

After a few years of working odd jobs, 15-year-old Robert Smalls was hired as crew on a ship called CSS Planter, which had been refitted as a warship. For the next few years he learned all about the ship, even becoming the wheelman, a position almost as important as captain. He received only one dollar for every fifteen dollars he earned; the rest went to his owner.

COVID-19 "Summer Slide" Will Target Vulnerable Students and Widen Reading Gaps

Education Researchers Expect "Significant Academic Losses in Reading and Mathematics" for Students who Are Already Behind

by Leilani McNeal, age 15, and Leila Fletcher, age 18

No question about it, a worldwide pandemic changed the 2020 school year. What's so far unclear, according to new research, is the fallout. Many education experts say the fallout will be very bad, especially for America's most vulnerable students.

The 2020 school year played out in new and different circumstances. COVID-19 caused school districts around the country to close buildings and pivot where possible to remote learning. And for a number of reasons this causes new concerns among parents and educators.

Academic achievement is the primary mission at Simpson Street Free Press. So, we decided to examine school closings and investigate the ramifications of online learning for students during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic.

A Tale of Two Rosies: The History of an Iconic American Image

by Gabby Shell, age 14

When you think of Rosie the Riveter, the first image that likely comes to mind is a woman with her hair pulled back in a bandana, flexing her muscles, and saying "We Can Do It!" However, this version of Rosie the Riveter, painted by J. Howard Miller, was only on display for two weeks, and few people saw it at the time. On the other hand, Norman Rockwell's version was printed on the cover of the May 1943 edition of the Saturday Evening Post and was seen and shared by millions.

Rare Case of Cross-Species Adoption

Today, Miller's version of Rosie is very well known, having been used by many celebrities and politicians as a way to empower women and say women could do whatever they wanted. This was probably not, however, what the artist intended when creating this piece. The "We Can Do It" slogan was originally meant to refer to the United States winning World War II, not about women joining the workforce, which was something many people were uneasy about back then.

Chinese Immigrants Built the Transcontinental Railroad

Despite Their Vital Role, They Faced Prejudice and Discrimination for Decades

by Christy Zheng, age 17

In June of 1867, Chinese workers constructing the transcontinental railroad returned to their tents and refused to work until their wages were raised to a white man's wage of $40 a month, workdays were shortened to 10 hours, and working conditions improved. That started a labor strike, one of the largest in America history up to that point. For seven days, the Chinese workers remained at the campsite and peacefully protested. It ended with starvation. ## Dr. Charles Drew's Methods of Blood Storage and Transfusion Are Still Saving Lives Today

by Yoanna Hoskins, age 15

Dr. Charles Drew, known as the Father of Blood Banks, was an African-American surgeon who developed innovative methods to store blood plasma for transfusions and established the first grand-scale blood bank in the United States.

Charles Drew was born in Washington D.C. on June 3, 1904. He was the oldest son in a family of five children. As a youth he was very athletic: in elementary school, he medaled in swimming, while in middle and high school, he played a variety of other sports. In 1922, Drew graduated from Dunbar High School, and later became a student at Amherst College on a sports scholarship, where he starred in football and track. [read more]

Have you ever heard of antimatter? Antimatter is composed of antiparticles

Out of all the things a first-year student at Harvard could do during spring break, Manny Medrano, with the help of his professor, spent his making an archaeological breakthrough.

Gary Urton, professor of Pre-Columbian Studies at Harvard University, worked with Medrano to interpret a set of six khipus -- tied strings utilized for record-keeping by the Inca Empire. Matching the khipus to a Spanish census document from the colonial-era, Medrano and Urton revealed the importance of the cords in higher detail than in the past, with findings that could provide a deeper understanding of the Andean civilization's daily life. With the closure of school and the establishment of social distancing, the guarantee of daily provision of nutritional food (breakfast & lunch), in a sanitary and secure environment and paid individuals to provide nurturing & support have been greatly curtailed for all K- 12 students and in far to many instances totally removed for many.

Helping Those Who Help Others is a collaborative project of the 100 Black Men of Madison and the Sable Flames Inc, a non-profit organization of African-American full-time firefighters of Dane County.

Monies for the purchase of non perishable food is a dollar for dollar match from both organizations. The 100 Black Men of Madison identify potential recipients and their nutritional needs.

From that list, both organizations determine which of the candidates will be finalists. Food is then procured by Sable Flame members during the same time period that they purchase groceries for their respective fire houses.

Immediately following the purchase, the food is then delivered by the firefighters to the designated needy families. If funds are available, the current goal is to provide food to 100 low income families within the next 100 days.

REPORT RELEASED ON UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OVERPAYMENTS

The Legislative Audit Bureau released a report on Overpayment of Certain Unemployment Insurance Program Benefits. According to the report, DWD publicly reporter that a malfunction in computer technology resulted in overpayments of program benefits on April 29. Audit Bureau found that DWD likely overpaid program benefits on April 28 as well, resulting in an estimated $21.1 million in program benefit overpayments. The report states that DWD has been focused on paying program benefits to unemployed individuals rather that attempting to recover all overpayments at this time. DWD did provide documentation to Audit Bureau indicating it recovered $19.6 million in duplicate payments made on April 29. As a result of the report, Audit Bureau recommends:

- DWD determine and report on the number of individuals whom it overpaid on April 28 and 29 and the amounts it overpaid them;
- DWD pay individuals the program benefits they were entitled to receive but that they may have been underpaid because of the action taken on April 20, as well as recover any overpayments made on April 28 and April 29 but that it has not yet attempted to recover; and
- DWD modify its policies to require it to verify that the payment files include all benefit payments that should be made on a given day.

Full Report.

Madison International Speedway is our small, family-owned business. It is located on 50 acres with 10,000 capacity seating, plenty of room to social distance!

Today I want to address the wording regarding mass gatherings and how you categorize them. Apparently, MIS is categorized as a mass gathering because (I'm just going to screenshot from one of your generic responses to our many fans who have reached out to you because it is easier):

Kevin's Post

Can you please explain to me how a protest (and I know that you are sick of hearing how protests seem exempt from your emergency orders because to those of us who are not allowed to open their businesses, they appear to be) is NOT a mass gathering. Please run through the thought process with me how protests are NOT PLANNED (they advertise them all over social media), how they DO NOT involve large numbers of people (I have plenty of social media screenshots to contradict that ), and how protest DO NOT clearly set a specific time and place to start?

Madison International Speedway can safely stagger entry and exit times to our facility, we have plenty of room to social distance, and have already set up guidelines and procedures to keep our fans safe. Please let us know if you would like an opportunity to actually view our facility to assess this. We have found ourselves with an abundance of time this summer and our schedule is open.

Thanks for taking the time to read my daily email. Really hoping to receive a response one of these days. There is still time for our family to open at a reasonable, safe % of capacity, have a few events and start paying off our mounting debt that no one else is going to cover for us.

That is because the speedway is owned by my husband, myself and our two children- nope, no city involvement or big investors here. Our seasonal business has now lost another weekend and we would greatly appreciate any direction in regards to future capacity limits and changes to such within the Forward Dane Order. We are hearing that Illinois will allow facilities such as race tracks and other outdoor sporting events to open at 25% capacity on June 26.

Again, we are open to continuing to work with you all on this, but would greatly appreciate a line of communication so we can plan our next steps with our business. As you can imagine, between the amount of protestors, the release of Emergency Order #4 allowing 25% capacity at churches and speedways throughout the state being open for business without issue, we continue to seek a fair resolution that will allow the survival of our family business.

A response would be greatly appreciated as not knowing continues to create great emotional strain on our family as a whole. Thank you.

Bonnie,

My wife Angie and I own and operate Madison Speedway in rural Rutland township between Oregon and Stoughton. With today's announcement concerning Emergency Order #4 in regards to a 25% capacity limit now allowed at churches vs the previous 50 person limit, is it possible to have an open discussion in regards to % limits versus a number limit for outdoor venues such as ours? Currently we are being held to 50 people with a 250 limit currently set during Phase 3 of the Forward Dane document.

With nearly 50 acres and hosting spectator events each Friday night throughout the summer and the second Thursday of each month, our remaining July, August and September schedule consists of a total of 13 spectator events. Currently, our local Walgreens has a greater capacity than our venue. We are more than willing to work with you all on a plan that will allow us to reopen, the current and future imposed attendance restrictions will likely force us to close our business. Thank you for any insight you can provide.

We have canceled all of our spectator events through June and just want to get an idea of whether 250 is still a solid number looking ahead to phase 3 or if another limit has been discussed. Now that we have another weekend behind us:

Can you explain how a June 27 game for Forward Madison FC at Breese Stevens Field is selling tickets online with no distancing between seats, no policy posted and the ability to buy up to 25 seats. By all indications this should not be allowed according to your order, what's fair for one is fair for all.

Additionally, we were out of town opening our business in La Crosse County over the weekend but have had multiple reports of large gatherings throughout the city and county for music and more including an organized protest. Meanwhile, countless race tracks have opened across the state including in adjacent counties.

We will continue to ask for an open communication about our family owned and operated business as long as we see the inconsistency of your order and how it is applied to businesses like ours. We continue to be closed while other indoor ticket selling businesses are permitted to open under your order while rotating clients throughout the day, 7 days a week, in the same seats and common areas.

We continue to ask for a percentage allowance as you have granted other businesses in our county, businesses that do not have the ability to social distance as we do at our 10,000 seat outdoor 50 acre facility. While the zoo, movie theaters, miniature golf and bowling alleys are allowed to operate at 25%, our business is held to 50 people.

We believe that if you were to make a site visit to our facility it would become clear that your order is incorrect in it's limitation of our ability to operate our business.

Order #3 clarifies that as a planned event, races at your facility are considered a mass gathering and therefore per the limits in the order may have up to 50 individuals (excluding employees).

If you have questions about the order or its interpretation, I'm referring you to Marci Paulsen, Assistant City Attorney for Madison, as she represents PHMDC. She is cc-d on this email.

Is there somebody else that we need to talk to? This is our family owned and operated business that we have dedicated 27 years plus (since I was 14, and even before) towards building, it is of utmost importance to us that we are allowed to open just as other businesses are being allowed to. We understand that we are a niche business, but we should not be penalized for being one. We have a plan in place and are ready to go.

We do not understand how indoor operations are allowed to open at 25% capacity when we may not be allowed to, many with more interaction and touch points than we have here. For example, the following indoor businesses are allowed to open at 25% during phase 1 (Which I think is great)

-Restaurants and Bars

-Retail

-Gym/Recreational facilities

-Indoor Shopping Malls

-Licensed Swimming Pools

-Indoor Places of Art and Culture (Movie Theaters, going to the races is exactly the same as going to a movie, in every aspect other than we are outside)

-Bowling Alleys

We feel that we are an outdoor place of amusement and activity, if amusement parks, zoos and miniature golf can be open, we surely can be as well. How do any of the above qualify any more than we do? Especially the indoor facilities with numerous points of contact.

Please let us know if there is someone else we need to contact to share our story or when you may be able to provide us more direction. We deserve to know by tomorrow if not before. Thank you for your time.

Thank you for getting back to us. Our conditional use permit places our grandstand capacity at 10,000 people. If we were granted approval to operate our business, I know that we have ample room to allow for proper distancing as well as the ability to follow proper guidelines.

In our Competitor Area

- -Competitors are limited to 6 people total per team.
- -Teams must stay in their own pit area.
- -6’ Distance to be required on spotters stand and in pit stands We have painted every other board white and blue to help distance, most stand along top of hill.
- -Drivers meeting will be via public address system, there will be no gathering in pit area.
- -Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.
- -All team members must agree in writing that they will adhere to all policies and restrictions prior to entering the restricted area and will be encouraged to wear face coverings

In our Main Seating Area

-We will limit attendance to 2,000 (20%) spectators for our May 29, June 5, June 11 and June 12 events and then work with health officials to expand capacity limits from that point. At no time in 2020 will we ask for greater than 50% capacity

- Additionally we are prepared to have ushers help direct groups to open areas to ensure distancing in grandstands, forming family seating arrangements of 2-4-6 with 6 feet of spacing between seating groups, utilizing measurement tools as needed.

-All concession stands will be equipped with plexi glass to separate attendees from staff

-Concession lines will be limited to one person per group, queuing areas will also be clearly marked with distancing markings

-Hand Sanitizer (already acquired) will be available throughout the facility at key locations including gates and concession areas

-Two employees will be responsible for monitoring and disinfecting high touch areas as well as rest rooms during each event.

-Use of face coverings highly encouraged

--Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.

We are open to further suggestions, and look forward to working with you. Currently, the only weekly race tracks in the state unable to open are Madison International Speedway and Angell Park Speedway in Sun Prairie. Dear Sociology Colleagues,

This article is from the Thursday, July 16 Wisconsin State Journal.

I want to keep the topic of race, social justice, and equality in sharp focus for us. This will be our highest priority in support of the Department of Sociology's goals of assuring and sustaining a safe, strong diverse culture in Sociology is a paramount critical success factor. There is nothing more important for the BoV to support and we can do this in a variety of ways. Achieving these goals will positively cascade to every other goal of the department. I also believe that the department can be a best practices role model for the rest of the UW-Madison campus and other university sociology programs.

To this end, I'm adding a "Race, Social Justice and Equality" Folder in the Sociology BoV Shared Dropbox File. You can share your ideas, documents, recommendations etc. by placing them in the file. (Please let me know if you have difficulty accessing the file/folder).

Please also share your ideas, thoughts, suggestions etc. directly with Christine.

Thank you,

Marty

UW-MADISON NEW INITIATIVES

Blank targets racial climate

But some students see list of recycled ideas

TAMIA FOWLKES
tfowlkes@madison.com

UW-Madison Chancellor Rebecca Blank has unveiled a series of changes aimed at improving the racial climate on campus, including a mandatory cultural competency workshop for new undergraduate students and a $10 million fundraising campaign to recruit and hire more students and employees of color. Some students of color said they appreciated the efforts, but doubted they would move the needle in changing an entrenched campus culture at a predominantly white institution.

“I’m not against any of the things (Blank’s) doing, but when students are in classrooms and they are feeling unsafe what can they do?” said recent UW-Madison graduate Synovia Knox, who said she was spit on by a white student in her residence hall in her first year on campus.

Knox said her mom, a 1979 UW-Madison graduate, also remembers a “horrible” campus climate for Black students in which just two in a group of 13 Black women from Milwaukee graduated. The others, she said, went home because of a lack of support.

Blank announced the efforts in a blog post last week, a few weeks after protests erupted across the country over police brutality and evolved into a national conversation about systemic racism and inequality in other aspects of society, including higher education.

Students see several initiatives on the list as continuing programs already in existence.

For example, the Our Wisconsin workshop, a cultural competency training, began as an optional pilot program in 2016, with 1,000 students participating. University officials said at the time that the university planned to eventually expand it to all first-year students in the future.

Participation has grown to about 85% of new students, Blank said at a faculty committee meeting on Monday. Mandating the training for all new undergraduate students on campus, a population of nearly 7,500 students, Blank hopes, will encourage students to examine their biases and identify tactics to confront them.

Faculty recruitment

Another initiative continues the “TOP” program, which encourages the recruitment of professors of color. Through the program, UW-Madison was able to hire more than 60 faculty members of color last year.

About three-quarters of UW-Madison faculty are white, according to the latest university data. That’s a slight improvement from a decade ago, when 82% of professors identified as white.

To increase diversity among professors and students on campus, Blank set a goal to raise at least $10 million that would go toward recruitment of both faculty and students of color.

In response to some critics who see the latest efforts as lacking new ideas to address longstanding problems, university spokeswoman Meredith McGlone said the chancellor’s announcement contains both new and increased commitments. Continuing and expanding programs that have shown success is important, even as the university moves forward with new efforts, she said.

More endeavors

Other efforts Blank announced include:

„ Requiring all search committee members to receive implicit bias training, which helps individuals recognize how stereotypes prevalent in society can influence evaluations of job candidates.

„ Starting an “exceptional service support” award to recognize faculty who go above and beyond advising and supporting students in ways that add to their workload. Black faculty, for instance, are disproportionately called upon by Black students for mentorship and guidance. Awardees could receive a reduced course load to accommodate student support efforts.

„ Dedicating $1 million in research funding in the next academic year to support research projects examining racial inequality in America.

„ Establishing a new Office of Inclusion Education to provide more opportunities for students to learn about their biases and to create a more welcoming campus climate for all students.

In addition to Blank’s latest announcement, the university recently started a series of public forums to discuss race on campus.

‘Takes a toll’

At one of those events, recent graduate Payton Wade talked about the challenge of confronting racism on campus. She was the first to speak out when a student- produced video to promote Homecoming last fall excluded her historically Black sorority’s footage despite featuring members of other student groups, nearly all of whom were all white.

“Being a student is already a challenging task, and having to deal with the stress of people talkingabout you for speaking out against something that you believe in is very difficult,” Wade said at the event. “I dealt with backlash on the internet, people saying I didn’t deserve to go to UW-Madison or that I should just go to a different school, and it takes a toll on you mentally.”

Cheryl Gittens, UW-Madison’s interim chief diversity officer, said she recognizes students’ discomfort and fear about returning to campus during a national reckoning over race and a looming presidential election.

“We want students to realize that we do not have to deem a space for you to be safe, but the campus should be safe for you because it is your campus,” she said in an interview. “We just need to figure out the ways to do that, and some of that is through education.”

Morning,
As a tax payer of this county, I highly suggest that you Mr. Parisi get this Health Order #8 rescinded immediately due to the fact the Health Department does not have the constitutional authority or you as an elected representative to mandate people to wear a mask. This needs to end and as your employer I highly urge you to move on this immediately. I will email everyday until this is rescinded. As a friendly reminder you are able to be recalled as well.
There needs to be accountability with this Health Department and right now I am seeing none. We have rights out here as citizens to which they are walking all over on.

Thank you,

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT:

DANE COUNTY ANNOUNCES PARTNERSHIP TO INVESTIGATE

MENTAL HEALTH FIRST RESPONDERS

Today Dane County officials announced that Policy Research, Inc. (PRI) will assist the county to identify the requirements of a pilot program to provide a non-law enforcement response to some mental health emergency calls involving individuals in crisis. PRI is a nationally recognized expert in behavioral health services and criminal justice. The Dane County Criminal Justice Council is a partner in the Safety and Justice Challenge, as funded by the MacArthur Foundation. Funding for the technical assistance is provided by the Safety and Justice Challenge.

A model which is gaining traction throughout the country has been used in Eugene, Oregon for over three decades. The “CAHOOTS” initiative is an emergency response with a team of medical and crisis workers for those experiencing a mental health issue, instead of a law enforcement response. This approach relies on a medic and behavioral health professional or peer specialist to stabilize an individual and, if needed, provide transport to a facility for further de-escalation.

PRI will assist Dane County with the identification of operational process necessary to plan for a pilot program. They will help to identify needed partnerships from local governments, criminal justice officials, and from the health care system.

“We are happy to provide technical assistance to Dane County to develop a non-law enforcement response to individuals as part of a continuum of services and supports necessary to safely meet the needs of individuals in mental health crisis,” said Regina Huerter, Senior Project Associate with Policy Research, Inc. “This work is a natural outgrowth of our ongoing partnership with Dane County.”

“This approach has been studied and endorsed by the Behavioral Health Subcommittee of the Criminal Justice Council," said County Executive Joe Parisi. “We continually work to improve the effectiveness of our response to individuals in crisis in an effort to avoid incarceration. We are fortunate to have the assistance of a national partner in this work.”

Local interest in this approach to deflect or divert individuals from unnecessary involvement in the criminal justice system is growing. At its meeting earlier this week, the Madison Common Council approved a resolution in support of the mental health first responder model and urged the County Criminal Justice Council to work with the City of Madison on a pilot project.

This initiative is one of 14 criminal justice reform actions identified by County Board Chair Analiese Eicher and Supervisor Shelia Stubbs last month.

“Building a fairer, more just community will require sustained and multi-faceted work,” said Dane County Board Chair Analiese Eicher (District 3, Sun Prairie). “As local government leaders, we must listen to the community and invite partnership in solutions. The mental health first responder model would be a step forward. I believe, with the assistance of PRI, this can be a win in the next six months, to be followed by layer upon layer of additional positive action across the criminal justice system over the next one, three, and five years. However, it will take partnerships that span our local cities, communities, health care and corporations to become a reality.”

The 13 member Dane County Criminal Justice Council is a collaborative body created in Dane County ordinance to collaborate and improve public safety, racial equity and data driven decisions. For more information please visit cjc.countyofdane.com

PRI is a national leader in behavioral health technical assistance provision and has served as the catalyst for systems change. They provide technical assistance to guide policy and practice change. PRI assists with the implementation of evidence-based treatment and support services for people with behavioral health and/or addiction disorders, particularly those who have experienced homelessness or who have been in contact with the criminal or juvenile justice systems.

What is Virtual Training?

Virtual training is instructor-led training in a virtual classroom. You will experience the same high-quality learning with expert instructors and updated content that NGVi has been delivering since 1989 -- from the comfort of your own space.

How Does It Work?

Technicians participate in real time over the internet through our virtual classroom platform on designated class dates. Class times include multiples breaks and an allotted lunch time.

Prior to accessing the virtual classroom, technicians must complete the pre-requisite NGV Essentials and Safety Practices, which is delivered on-demand through our e-learning platform.

| CLASS | DATE | TIME | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Level 2: CNG Fuel System Inspector Training | Sep 16-17 | 8 AM - 2 PM PST | Register Here |
| Level 2: CNG Fuel System Inspector Training | Oct 7-8 | 8 AM - 2 PM PST | Register Here |
| Level 3: Heavy-Duty NGV Maintenance and Diagnostics Training | Oct 20-21 | 8 AM - 2 PM PST | Register Here |
| Level 2: CNG Fuel System Inspector Training | Nov 18-19 | 8 AM - 2 PM PST | Register Here |

Additionally, NGVi is offering its CNG Fuel System Inspector Certification Online Exam that allows you to become an NGVi-certified CNG Fuel System Inspector.

CNG Fuel System Inspector Certification Online Exam

NGVi's CNG Fuel System Inspector Certification Online Exam delivers a rigorous, independent assessment of the knowledge, competency, and application of skills necessary for technicians to properly conduct CNG fuel system inspections, according to all applicable codes, standards, and industry best practices.

Participants who pass the certification exam will be designated as NGVi-Certified CNG Fuel System Inspectors. They will receive a certificant number, identification card and certification document. The certification is valid for a period of five years.

COVID-19
The Novel Coronavirus

- As of this morning, there are 3,071 people who have tested positive for coronavirus in Dane County. Of those, 1,919 individuals have recovered.

- Starting today, people must wear a face covering that covers their nose and mouth when in public, which includes in businesses, health care settings, waiting in line, and on public transportation.
- Exceptions are made for certain activities such as eating at a restaurant, but during those activities, 6 feet distancing is required at all times. Some people are also exempted if they have a physical, mental, or developmental condition that prevents them from wearing a mask.
- See Public Health Madison & Dane County's face covering webpage for more information.
- Visit Public Health's Data Dashboard for the latest on COVID-19 case counts, hospitalizations, deaths, tests by date, and more.

Masks and distance are really the two most effective means of slowing the spread of COVID-19. Given the recent rapid increases in cases in our county, it's imperative we take this step now to try and slow the spread of COVID-19 through our community. Nothing that's happening right now is easy or normal, but it's what we must do – come together as a community and put everything we have into keeping one another safe.

We've doubled our partnership with Second Harvest to $6 million, which will increase deliveries to Dane County food pantries through the end of October and help even more residents and local food producers

We are partnering with Badger Prairie Needs Network to build a 1,000 sq ft expansion of their cold storage facility and address shortages in frozen food storage during the COVID-19 pandemic

Dane County launched a more than $10 million emergency package to prevent evictions and help stabilize housing for families during this uncertain time

We've purchased 3,500 COVID-19 test kits for first repsonders belonging to police, fire, and EMS departments in Dane County who seek reassurance after a potential coronavirus exposure

Last week, I joined Ruben Anthony, President and CEO of the Urban League of Greater Madison, to announce that $100,000 in county funds will go to the Urban League for planning assistance to create an economic development hub for the South Park Street corridor and support minority-owned businesses.

The project will be modeled after the Sherman Phoenix project in Milwaukee, an entrepreneurial hub in the Sherman Park neighborhood providing high-quality commercial space and support for small businesses.

We are excited to partner with the Urban League of Greater Madison in this effort to locate a space where the talent and potential of entrepreneurs can flourish.

Conservation & Environmental News

We recently unveiled new technology that is being tested to vacuum out hazardous blue-green algae blooms and decaying plants near local beaches to keep them safe and healthy.

To help promote pollinator habitat, UW-Madison's Gratton Lab and the Dane County Environmental Council have launched a new, free online tool for Dane County residents to use.

In June, our first-in-the-nation renewable natural gas (RNG) offloading station at the Dane County Landfill received its first load of RNG from a manure digester in the Yahara Watershed.

We're moving forward on our historic 160-acre restoration project to expand the Pheasant Branch Conservancy. Saving this property from development and restoring it to prairie will prevent the runoff of nearly 5 million gallons of water from entering the Yahara Lakes each year.

Our sediment removal project in the Yahara Chain of Lakes is underway! We hope to remove more than 3,000 dump truck loads of sediment during the first phase of the initiative. This will help improve water flow, flood storage capacity, and fish and wildlife habitat. Check out our video to get a closer look!

Hello, Greg

I am writing to you as the duly elected Vice-President and Chief Steward of EGR 1871, Dane County Professional Employees. You are levelling very serious charges here, and I hope you have incontrovertible proof of Mr. Rainford's alleged misconduct. I have known Neil personally for years and have always known him to be unfailingly professional. Part of Neil's job, at the direction of the Employee Group Representatives for whom he works, is to actively protect the rights of employees in disciplinary actions. Mounting an affirmative defense to make sure employees accused of civil service violations maintain their rights of just cause and due process is in no way "belligerently attacking managers." I would hate to think that management's displeasure at not being able to run roughshod over employees' rights would result in what appears to be a smear campaign against our chosen representative.

Please be very careful about any accusations you make. I would remind you that Chapter 18.06 of the Dane County Civil Service Ordinance grants employees "the right, without interference, restraint, coercion or domination, of self organization and to form, join or assist in the creation and maintenance of one employee group's representative." If you have objective, unbiased evidence of this alleged misconduct, present it, so it can be reviewed. If you do not have such evidence, then EGR 1871 and our fellow EGRs will have no choice but to interpret this as employer interference in our right to self-organize.

EGR 1871 renews our, and our fellow EGR's, request to meet with Executive Parisi, as an interested stakeholder under Chapter 18, Dane County Code to discuss not only proposed Employee Benefit Handbook changes, but also the deteriorating state of labor relations that has occurred in recent months. So far, we have been unable to schedule that meeting.

Dear Alyssa,
Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Alyssa Ryanjoy and I live at 1028 E Dayton Street in Madison.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Parisi,

I want to express my support for Supervisor Doyle's resolution 145 to stop the building of a new jail.

I would like to see processes implemented to end the racial disparities in the criminal justice system and see funding go to human service solutions instead of spending millions on a new jail. Please do not spend millions of dollars of our tax money to continue the same system that has ruined the lives of so many people of color over the decades.

Thank you!

Hello,

I am writing to encourage you all to support resolution 145 to immediately halt construction on the $148 million jail.

As COVID-19 continues to ravage our community- leaving People of Color disproportionately unable to work despite no longer qualifying for unemployment, and disproportionately without housing as evictions resume- it is preposterous and absurd to believe that it is still ok to put this amount of money into incarcerating more Black people. This money should be used to uplift the community, not to degrade it.

We have experts in our community who have put a tremendous amount of thought and care into considering alternatives for incarceration and policing. Dane County Time Bank has done incredible work promoting transformative justice and exploring models for transformative justice. You need to begin listening to our local experts like Damita Brown and M. Adams. You are being given one more opportunity to show the Dane County community that you care about Black Life. Please, follow Supervisor Doyle and Supervisor Wegleitner's lead and show your support for this resolution.

Thank you,

Dear County Executive Parisi:

Through the important work of Just Dane, I have learned that County Supervisor Doyle has drafted County Board Resolution 145 which will halt the plan to build a new County Jail. I urge you to vote for this resolution.

I whole-heartedly agree with Just Dane when they write that "Budgeting is a reflection of the values of a community. Let's stop funding a racially biased criminal justice system and invest in treatment and restorative justice." Let's use the money that would have gone into a jail to develop human system programs that support young people so that we give them opportunities to thrive and to become contributing citizens to society. It's time to end the system that too easily incarcerates people of color -- and instead do the hard work of reform. I was shocked to read that "This is the worst county in the worst state in the worst nation in the world for people of color." Madison should be a leader in these reforms and be the best county for people of color! Please vote yes on the resolution!

Sincerely,
Karla Schmidt

Subject: SNW Wicawak (Squaw) Bay Today
Attachments: no wake July 16 2020 [squaw bay].pdf

Good morning,
Yesterday rainfall increased all lake levels to rise. The rise in water levels prompted consideration of slow no wake for Wicawak (Squaw) Bay. Attached is the declaration that can be signed electronically. If you could electronically sign and then reply so the next person can sign that would be appreciated. Our goal is to have SNW in effect by noon today if possible.

Current Water Level Data:

| | Current Water Level | Water Level Below 100 year |
|---|---|---|
| Lake Mendota | 851.35 | 17 inch |
| Lake Monona | 846.78 | 11 inch |
| Lake Waubesa | 846.38 | 7 inch |
| Lake Kegonsa | 843.97 | 15 inch |

Due to current lake levels, our recommendation is to consider a Slow No Wake (SNW) declaration for Wicawak Bay (Squaw Bay).

We have consulted with the Dane County Sheriff Marine and Trail Enforcement.

We also recommend the declaration to rescind SNW when water levels are at or below the following water elevations for 5 consecutive days.
Squaw Bay (Lake Monona): 846.40

During high water levels, it is important for property owners on all lakes to prevent their piers from floating and creating navigational hazards by securely fastening the pier sections to the frame, adding weight, or removing the pier from the water.

Thank you,
John

Hi Dave, Jeff, and Analiese,

We crossed the threshold for slow no wake on Wicawak (previously Squaw) Bay from last night's rain. It looks like we are supposed to get more rain today and boat traffic should be minimal so we are going to hold off for issuing SNW until tomorrow. Depending on how much rain we get, it could add additional lakes to be included in the SNW orders. For the orders, Dave Gault is helping to draft them and they require a signature from sheriff, county board chair, and county executive. Due to social distancing we are going to email the document for electronic signatures. I wanted to prepare you for tomorrow and if you have any questions/thoughts, please let us know.

Subject: SNW Wicawak (Squaw) Bay Today

Good morning,
Yesterday rainfall increased all lake levels to rise. The rise in water levels prompted consideration of slow no wake for Wicawak (Squaw) Bay. Attached is the declaration that can be signed electronically. If you could electronically sign and then reply so the next person can sign that would be appreciated. Our goal is to have SNW in effect by noon today if possible.

Current Water Level Data:

| | Current Water Level | Water Level Below 100 year |
|---|---|---|
| Lake Mendota | 851.35 | 17 inch |
| Lake Monona | 846.78 | 11 inch |
| Lake Waubesa | 846.38 | 7 inch |
| Lake Kegonsa | 843.97 | 15 inch |

Due to current lake levels, our recommendation is to consider a Slow No Wake (SNW) declaration for Wicawak Bay (Squaw Bay).

We have consulted with the Dane County Sheriff Marine and Trail Enforcement.

We also recommend the declaration to rescind SNW when water levels are at or below the following water elevations for 5 consecutive days.
Squaw Bay (Lake Monona): 846.40

During high water levels, it is important for property owners on all lakes to prevent their piers from floating and creating navigational hazards by securely fastening the pier sections to the frame, adding weight, or removing the pier from the water.

Thank you,
John

Hi Dave, Jeff, and Analiese,
We crossed the threshold for slow no wake on Wicawak (previously Squaw) Bay from last night's rain. It looks like we are supposed to get more rain today and boat traffic should be minimal so we are going to hold off for issuing SNW until tomorrow. Depending on how much rain we get, it could add additional lakes to be included in the SNW orders. For the orders, Dave Gault is helping to draft them and they require a signature from sheriff, county board chair, and county executive. Due to social distancing we are going to email the document for electronic signatures. I wanted to prepare you for tomorrow and if you have any questions/thoughts, please let us know.
Thank you,
John

Good Morning,

I write this to you in search of information regarding the September Ironman Race. Has Dane county or the city of Madison made a decision weather to allow this race to proceed. I have looked at your state, county, and city guidelines and find myself in a position of uncertainty. Ironman does not appear to be making any decisions unless told by the local officials that a race is a go or no go. I as well as 3000 other athletes that live or will be traveling to your area the 1st week of September are increasingly anxious for a decision. As a 2 time finisher of this race nothing would make me happier to get to come back to Madison and Dane county for the 3rd time, but understand the times that we are in.

Any insight that you might be able to give would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you

Recent Rains Prompt First Slow No Wake Orders of Season on Lake Monona's Wicawak Bay

Due to recent rainfall, Dane County is placing a Slow No Wake order on Lake Monona's Wicawak Bay (previously known as Squaw Bay). The restrictions for watercraft to slow down will take effect at 12:00pm today.

Slow No Wake restrictions will be rescinded on Wicawak Bay when water levels are at or below the necessary water elevation for five consecutive days. Deputies from the Dane County Sheriff's Office Marine and Trail Division will be enforcing the Slow No Wake restrictions.

The Dane County Department of Land and Water Resources continue to monitor levels on the entire Yahara Chain of Lakes. Levels have come up as a result of recent rains and high groundwater levels. Dane County's aquatic plant harvesters are in the water, maximizing flow out of the Yahara Chain. At this time, there is not a danger of lake related flooding.

During high water levels, it is important for property owners on all lakes to prevent their piers from floating and creating navigational hazards by securely fastening the pier sections to the frame, adding weight, or removing the pier from the water.

For more information about Slow No Wake, please visit https://lwrd.countyofdane.com/slownowake. For questions regarding Slow No Wake, call the Land and Water Resources Department at 608-224-3730.

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

I applaud you for inacting the mandatory mask requirement for Dane County. But I do not understand why TV news broadcasters are exempt. If they cannot wear a cloth face mask because hard of hearing people need to be able to read their lips (even though there is closed captioning available) and/or see their facial expressions why are they not at least required to wear a face shield. People could still read their lips and see their facial expressions. This exemption just opens it up for other people to say they need the same exemption - what about employers or teachers who have hard of hearing employees or students - they are wearing face shields!

As a very concerned citizen we need to make it impossible for anyone or any business to not abide by the mandate if we ever want to get back to "normal" .

Good Afternoon Joe,

Just wanted to thank you and Emergency Management for the invitation to the press conference yesterday. While it may seem like a small thing, it actually means a lot to be a part of something like that and especially the kind words at the beginning of the presser. Being on the PPE front since March has provided plenty of challenges along the way and actually continues to provide surprises on almost a daily basis but to hear confirmation that the efforts are appreciated, goes a long way! So thank you! I was glad to be a part of the community mask purchases knowing that it certainly has a positive impact for communities and the battle against COVID.

The Emergency Management team has been great to work with (Carrie, Courtney, Rick, etc.). Other departments have pitched in since March providing assistance in picking up supplies when a larger truck was needed (Highway and Parks). This is truly a team effort and will continue to be.

Subject: FW: 7/15 - 2:20 PM Update on Weekend Heat and Thunderstorm Potential
Attachments: HeatIndexSaturday.png

Importance: High

Good afternoon NWS Milwaukee Partners,

Here is an update regarding the potential for heat and thunderstorms over the weekend.

Bottom Line Up Front
A hot day is likely Saturday and potentially as well Sunday depending on the trends with storms Saturday night. Heat indices near 100 are expected Saturday (see attachment).

A couple rounds of strong to severe storms are possible Friday night into Saturday morning and another one later Saturday night into Sunday morning.

What has changed?
Confidence is increasing in...

1) Heat indices near 100 Saturday.
2) A round of strong or severe storms Friday night into Saturday morning.
3) Another round of storms later Saturday night into Sunday morning.

There is lesser confidence in high heat indices for Sunday. This will depend on sky and precipitation trends from the storms Saturday night into Sunday morning.

Forecast Information
Where: southern WI
What: High heat indices, especially Saturday. A couple rounds of strong/severe storms.
When: This weekend.
Impacts: Heat stress for those working outside. Elderly and young are more susceptible to heat related illnesses as well as those without access to air conditioning. Don't forget about pets. With the storms...tree limbs blown down, isolated power outages and structural damage. Temporary outdoor structures will be susceptible to these conditions.

NEWS AND UPDATES

JUSTgrants
JUSTICE GRANTS SYSTEM

New grants and payment management systems to be rolled out in October 2020 by the Department of Justice (DOJ) grant making components - the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS Office), the Office of Justice Programs (OJP), and the Office on Violence Against Women (OVW). This e-newsletter will provide regular updates and share information to assist everyone transition to these new systems.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The transition to the Justice Grants System (JustGrants) and the Automated Standard Application for Payments (ASAP) is just months away.
Beginning on October 15, JustGrants will replace the Grants Management System (GMS) currently used by OJP and OVW, as well as the NexGen system used by the COPS Office. At the same time, ASAP will replace the Grants Payment Request System (GPRS).

Automated Standard Application for Payments (ASAP)

ASAP registration will take place throughout July and August. Enrollment emails will be sent to your organization's SAM Electronic Business Point of Contact (E-Biz POC). Once you have received your invitation, refer to the ASAP Registration Checklist for the next steps to take. You have 45 days to complete all of the enrollment steps; if you have not completed all steps within the 45-day timeframe, you will need to start from the beginning.

Grants Management and Payment Systems

The current systems—GMS, NexGen, and GPRS—will be discontinued beginning September 22, 2020. At this time, data and attachments for all current active awards from GMS and NexGen will be migrated to JustGrants. This includes all open, active awards and any awards that have not been programmatically and fiscally closed.
Once migrated, all award management activities will take place in JustGrants beginning on October 15, 2020. Users will not have access to GMS, NexGen, or GPRS after September 22.

Key Transition Activities

In the weeks leading up to the October 15 transition, there are a number of actions current award recipients will need to take. Key dates for these actions are provided at the links below:
For COPS Office key dates and actions, click here.
For OJP key dates and actions, click here.
For OVW key dates and actions, click here.

RESOURCES

Justice Grants Website: Find more information on the transition to JustGrants, including key dates, news updates, and resources and training opportunities for applicants and recipients of DOJ grant awards and other forms of federal financial assistance.
DOJ Grants Financial Guide: Learn about the laws, rules, and regulations that affect the financial and administrative management of DOJ awards.
ASAP Training Opportunities: Access trainings and additional resources regarding the ASAP system.

DATES TO REMEMBER

July–August 2020 — Current grantees receive instructions on how to enroll in the ASAP system.

Early August 2020 — Current grantees receive instructions on how to access the JustGrants external dashboard and register in the system.

August 21, 2020 — JustGrants will open for external grantee organizations to enroll users.

August–October 2020 — Training will be available to external users through web-based e-learning courses, job aids, and virtual Q&A sessions. Additional information will be forthcoming.

September 22, 2020 — Legacy systems, including GMS, NexGen, and GPRS, are discontinued.

September 23–October 14, 2020 — Final data migration and "cutover" activities from the legacy systems to JustGrants occur.

October 15, 2020 — JustGrants is launched and grantees begin using the ASAP system.

Hey,

Just wanted to send as an FYI. Below is a list from the Superintendent call on current reopening plans as of today. This is not a full list but seeing a shift more towards considering starting virtual and some are re-surveying parents and staff.

Where are we at for reopen plans?
Belleville - We were ready to present hybrid plans only to the board next week before the changes yesterday. We are re-surveying parents and staff again today.
Wisconsin Heights - all virtual option and in-person option, going to board on 7/27 (feeling less optimistic about in-person instruction)
Oregon- Waiting for survey results before making a decision but leaning heavily toward virtual with phase in of youngest children and those who require individual services/therapies, fully online all year for those who request it, choices outlined for Board on 7/13
Mount Horeb - All virtual route for those who want it; hybrid (two days a week)
Lodi-- shared options with the Board on Monday, have a Board retreat next week to discuss. I find it hard to fathom that we come back in person, but there will be a push from community to come some in person
MCPASD (Middleton & Cross Plains)- all virtual first quarter (seeking Board approval 7/20)

Monona Grove - Presenting plan to Board on July 27. Heavily leaning toward all-virtual 1st quarter. MG Staff message and survey Columbus - Virtual for those who choose; Cohort blended 4 days/wk 4k-5; 2 days/wk 6-12 - presented to Board on Monday night 7/13 - given recent changes, thinking going to re-survey.
McFarland--Choices to be outlined to board on July 20th with vote (direction) on August 3rd
Marshall - Began the afternoon planning in-person and virtual choice for families. PHMDC changed my thoughts to needing to start 100% virtual. (not sure what they mean by this) Meeting with the BOE on July 22.
New Glarius - Have 3 options; trying to come up with metrics to use to go between plans. Board vote on August 3.

Subject: Yahara Lake Levels 2020 RES 201 before EANR

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

This is a follow up to the July 16 EANR meeting, where I registered my objection to resolution 2020 RES 102 directing Dane County to manage summer Yahara lake levels towards the middle of DNR ordered summer ranges VERSUS what was directed via resolution 2018 RES 227 that directed management towards DNR ordered summer minimum levels.

As background, I have lived adjacent to Lake Mendota for about 40 years and have a great deal of experience with water levels and boating - therefore most of my concerns pertain to Mendota. I have degrees in environmental sciences and worked as a professional scientist for over 30 years. I followed the Lake Level Task force efforts after the 2018 flood. I watched John Reimer's presentation to the Lakes and Watershed Commission at the May meeting upon which 2020 RES 102 seems to be based. And I also listened to the concerns of two members of the public at that meeting.

I am a Mendota shoreland owner who does not appreciate high water levels. We need to operate Lake Mendota at a lower levels to protect Mendota's shoreline and near shore habitat and to improve Mendota's ability to serve as a buffer against downstream flooding given that we have had and expect to have more frequent and intense summer rain.

The main reason for 2020 RES 102 seems to be that some believe low lake levels impair boating, boat lift usage, and boat launching. I believe those concerns are unfounded and could be solved by safe boat operation – that is knowing where shallow depths exist where one should slow down and raise boat motors. Also, boat lift heights can be adjusted and lift feet removed to in part deal with low lake levels. Lakeside property owners need to realize water depths next to their property and not purchase boats that require deeper water. For launching, some boat ramps like those at Marshall Park can accommodate larger boats. There is plenty of deep-water area for boaters.

Another reason to continue operating under 2018 RES 227 is that the management actions, mainly dredging, to increase outflow from the lakes has not been completed and we will not truly know the effectiveness of those actions until a period after they are completed.

Also, the two scenarios presented to the Lakes and Watershed Commission on May 28 to justify 2020 RES 102 was vastly oversimplified and unrealistic. Rarely do we just get 1 rain event and the amount of rainfall was not specified. The scenarios need to examine sequential rain events and large rain events.

In examining the two scenarios, I think they did indicate that a benefit to manage Mendota towards the DNR ordered summer minimum is more stable lake levels. The analysis was also insufficient as it did not examine how frequently flooding would occur under the two scenarios. Even a 3" buffer in Mendota will provide storage to reduce the risk or frequency of exceeding the maximums or flood conditions – sometimes it will help.

More consistent lake levels benefit nearshore species of fish, and lake dependent wildlife and birds that rely on nearshore areas for nesting, foraging, and refuge. High lake levels outside of the normal seasonal patterns may inundate adjacent wetlands and drown nests. Also, I believe that more consistent lake levels will help boaters learn how to safely operate.

This year since March 22, Lake Mendota's has been above the DNR ordered summer minimum. And since May 19th, Mendota has been above the ordered summer maximum. Recently Mendota rose almost 5 inches in just 7 days. So LOW lake levels in Mendota have not been a concern this year nor many years back. As of July 16th, Mendota was 15 inches above the DNR ordered summer maximum. So, it is not the time to take chances and target a higher level - all it takes is another rainy week or one large rain event and Mendota will approach flood levels.

Perhaps it would be logical to modified the resolution to require Lake Mendota levels to be targeted in summer to the MINIMUM summer level, but the other lakes could be targeted towards the mid-range to accommodate downstream lakes' more shallow nature.

Thank you for your work and for considering my comments.

Subject: Let's moderate the mask order

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

N.B.: Please forward a copy of this to the Mayor of the City of Madison; I do not have her direct e-mail address handy.

Dear Joe Parisi, DC public health staff.

Hello!

After having spent a number of days living with the masking order, I now ask that you moderate it.

Yes, masks can do a great deal to prevent transmission of any number of diseases by trapping pathogen-containing droplets that may spew forth from the dental orifice of an infected person who is coughing, sneezing, yelling, singing, or breathing hard, but this beneficial effect is relevant only if one is in proximity to other people, or perhaps surfaces that get touched by many people (such as elevator buttons).

However, not only does it do ZERO good for someone who is sitting at his desk staring into his computer terminal with no-one, or almost no-one, around and certainly no-one in proximity, it it probably has bad effects. I know in my case, and some other cases I observed, it provides motivation for drinking (in the literal sense) and snacking more frequently, so one can remove the accursed mask which makes isolation even more painful, and perhaps represents a health risk after hours of wearing as well, to be able to breathe freely.

I direct your attention to Dr. Steven Clark's blog.

https://stevensclark.typepad.com/coronavirus_news_and_view/

a brief extract:

"Also, be aware that extended use of the respirators can lead to reduced oxygen levels in the blood. One report a few weeks ago told of a nurse who passed out after wearing her mask for several hours. Therefore, only wear them when you are in a crowded situation or in a room, like an elevator that has been recently occupied by many people. Do not wear them in your home, car or outside when you are well separated from others."

So, let's moderate the order regarding masks worn in semi-public places, such as offices, or in other situations wherein one does not frequently come in close proximity to other people. Also, small private groups should be allowed to evaluate, among the group members, if anyone has likely been exposed in a relevant timeframe, and decide for themselves if insisting on a mask is a good idea.

Thank you.

Madison International Speedway will continue to ask for an open communication about our family owned and operated business as long as we see the inconsistency of your order and how it is applied to businesses like ours. We continue to be closed while other indoor ticket selling businesses are permitted to open under your order while rotating clients throughout the day, 7 days a week, in the same seats and common areas.

We continue to ask for a percentage allowance as you have granted other businesses in our county, businesses that do not have the ability to social distance as we do at our 10,000 seat outdoor 50 acre facility. While the zoo, movie theaters, miniature golf and bowling alleys are allowed to operate at 50%, our business is held to 25 people.

We believe that if you were to make a site visit to our facility it would become clear that your order is incorrect in it's limitation of our ability to operate our business.

Again, the clock is ticking and still no response from your department; not only disrespectful to our family business, fans, drivers, sponsors and vendors but completely unprofessional.

Can you please explain to me how a protest (and I know that you are sick of hearing how protests seem exempt from your emergency orders because to those of us who are not allowed to open their businesses, they appear to be) is NOT a mass gathering. Please run through the thought process with me how protests are NOT PLANNED (they advertise them all over social media), how they DO NOT involve large numbers of people (I have plenty of social media screenshots to contradict that ), and how protest DO NOT clearly set a specific time and place to start?

Madison International Speedway can safely stagger entry and exit times to our facility, we have plenty of room to social distance, and have already set up guidelines and procedures to keep our fans safe. Please let us know if you would like an opportunity to actually view our facility to assess this. We have found ourselves with an abundance of time this summer and our schedule is open.

Thanks for taking the time to read my daily email. Really hoping to receive a response one of these days. There is still time for our family to open at a reasonable, safe % of capacity, have a few events and start paying off our mounting debt that no one else is going to cover for us.

Our seasonal business has now lost another weekend and we would greatly appreciate any direction in regards to future capacity limits and changes to such within the Forward Dane Order. We are hearing that Illinois will allow facilities such as race tracks and other outdoor sporting events to open at 25% capacity on June 26.

Again, we are open to continuing to work with you all on this, but would greatly appreciate a line of communication so we can plan our next steps with our business. As you can imagine, between the amount of protestors, the release of Emergency Order #4 allowing 25% capacity at churches and speedways throughout the state being open for business without issue, we continue to seek a fair resolution that will allow the survival of our family business.

A response would be greatly appreciated as not knowing continues to create great emotional strain on our family as a whole. Thank you.

Bonnie,

My wife Angie and I own and operate Madison Speedway in rural Rutland township between Oregon and Stoughton. With today's announcement concerning Emergency Order #4 in regards to a 25% capacity limit now allowed at churches vs the previous 50 person limit, is it possible to have an open discussion in regards to % limits versus a number limit for outdoor venues such as ours? Currently we are being held to 50 people with a 250 limit currently set during Phase 3 of the Forward Dane document.

With nearly 50 acres and hosting spectator events each Friday night throughout the summer and the second Thursday of each month, our remaining July, August and September schedule consists of a total of 13 spectator events. Currently, our local Walgreens has a greater capacity than our venue. We are more than willing to work with you all on a plan that will allow us to reopen, the current and future imposed attendance restrictions will likely force us to close our business. Thank you for any insight you can provide.

Wanted to check in to see if there was any further updates on capacity limits and/or Mass Gathering limits for when we are able to move into Phase 3. We have canceled all of our spectator events through June and just want to get an idea of whether 250 is still a solid number looking ahead to phase 3 or if another limit has been discussed. Now that we have another weekend behind us:

Can you explain how a June 27 game for Forward Madison FC at Breese Stevens Field is selling tickets online with no distancing between seats, no policy posted and the ability to buy up to 25 seats. By all indications this should not be allowed according to your order, what's fair for one is fair for all.

Additionally, we were out of town opening our business in La Crosse County over the weekend but have had multiple reports of large gatherings throughout the city and county for music and more including an organized protest. Meanwhile, countless race tracks have opened across the state including in adjacent counties.

We will continue to ask for an open communication about our family owned and operated business as long as we see the inconsistency of your order and how it is applied to businesses like ours. We continue to be closed while other indoor ticket selling businesses are permitted to open under your order while rotating clients throughout the day, 7 days a week, in the same seats and common areas.

We continue to ask for a percentage allowance as you have granted other businesses in our county, businesses that do not have the ability to social distance as we do at our 10,000 seat outdoor 50 acre facility. While the zoo, movie theaters, miniature golf and bowling alleys are allowed to operate at 25%, our business is held to 50 people.

We believe that if you were to make a site visit to our facility it would become clear that your order is incorrect in it's limitation of our ability to operate our business.

Is there somebody else that we need to talk to? This is our family owned and operated business that we have dedicated 27 years plus (since I was 14, and even before) towards building, it is of utmost importance to us that we are allowed to open just as other businesses are being allowed to. We understand that we are a niche business, but we should not be penalized for being one. We have a plan in place and are ready to go.

We do not understand how indoor operations are allowed to open at 25% capacity when we may not be allowed to, many with more interaction and touch points than we have here. For example, the following indoor businesses are allowed to open at 25% during phase 1 (Which I think is great)

-Restaurants and Bars

-Retail

-Gym/Recreational facilities

-Indoor Shopping Malls

-Licensed Swimming Pools

-Indoor Places of Art and Culture (Movie Theaters, going to the races is exactly the same as going to a movie, in every aspect other than we are outside)

-Bowling Alleys

We feel that we are an outdoor place of amusement and activity, if amusement parks, zoos and miniature golf can be open, we surely can be as well. How do any of the above qualify any more than we do? Especially the indoor facilities with numerous points of contact.

Please let us know if there is someone else we need to contact to share our story or when you may be able to provide us more direction. We deserve to know by tomorrow if not before. Thank you for your time.

Thank you for getting back to us. Our conditional use permit places our grandstand capacity at 10,000 people. If we were granted approval to operate our business, I know that we have ample room to allow for proper distancing as well as the ability to follow proper guidelines.

In our Competitor Area

- -Competitors are limited to 6 people total per team.
- -Teams must stay in their own pit area.
- -6’ Distance to be required on spotters stand and in pit stands We have painted every other board white and blue to help distance, most stand along top of hill.
- -Drivers meeting will be via public address system, there will be no gathering in pit area.
- -Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.
- -All team members must agree in writing that they will adhere to all policies and restrictions prior to entering the restricted area and will be encouraged to wear face coverings

In our Main Seating Area

-We will limit attendance to 2,000 (20%) spectators for our May 29, June 5, June 11 and June 12 events and then work with health officials to expand capacity limits from that point. At no time in 2020 will we ask for greater than 50% capacity

- Additionally we are prepared to have ushers help direct groups to open areas to ensure distancing in grandstands, forming family seating arrangements of 2-4-6 with 6 feet of spacing between seating groups, utilizing measurement tools as needed.

-All concession stands will be equipped with plexi glass to separate attendees from staff

-Concession lines will be limited to one person per group, queuing areas will also be clearly marked with distancing markings

-Hand Sanitizer (already acquired) will be available throughout the facility at key locations including gates and concession areas

-Two employees will be responsible for monitoring and disinfecting high touch areas as well as rest rooms during each event.

-Use of face coverings highly encouraged

--Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.

We are open to further suggestions, and look forward to working with you. Currently, the only weekly race tracks in the state unable to open are Madison International Speedway and Angell Park Speedway in Sun Prairie. I've read your mask mandate. I am perplexed. The mandate states that African Americans do not have to abide by this mandate. Is this because Dane County hates blacks so much they hope they die from the Covid Virus that you are promoting them not to wear masks? Or, is it racists towards non blacks because you are taking their civil liberties away from them, but not blacks. It is so confusing, but obviously one or the other. It looks like something that would have been written over 100 years ago.

Support Walkable Communities

20 years strong AMERICA WALKS

MIKE MCGINN STEPS IN TO LEAD AMERICA WALKS

The America Walks Board of Directors welcomes Mike McGinn as our new Executive Director and thanks Kate Kraft for eight years of outstanding leadership. Kate and the rest of the America Walks team have built a network of walking champions and change agents with more than 35,000 individuals and several hundred local and state organizations.

The walking movement stands at a crossroads with a global pandemic that has brought into sharper focus the fundamental need for safe places to walk, bike, and move as well as racial inequities that pervade our society. America Walks is committed to meet this moment by building a stronger collective voice that elevates walkable places as a societal priority and addresses the systems that deny access to safe public spaces based on race. We will expand our efforts to work with local and state change agents, engage a wider range of partners, and lift up local successes as examples for the nation.

We selected Mike because of his experiences as a community organizer in the walking movement and as elected official of a large city. He got his start in Seattle politics as a neighborhood activist pushing for walkability and, as the City's mayor, he worked to add new voices to City decision-making and gained deep insight into how influence is gained and wielded to make change. Most recently, Mike has worked to help Feet First, Washington State's walking advocacy organization, expand their sphere of influence across Washington state. His many years of advocating for sustainable cities and environmental justice give him perspective to expand America Walks partnerships.

America Walks board members and staff are excited to begin working with Mike and with you, our partners and allies, to make the most of this critical moment to elevate the national walking movement.

We invite you to join us on July 29th, at 11am PST / 2pm EST for a "Meet Mike" virtual meet and greet to learn more about Mike and his vision as the new Executive Director.

Sincerely,
America Walks Board of Directors

A Word from America Walks' New Executive Director Mike McGinn

I am thrilled to be the new Executive Director of America Walks – founded in 1996 to support local advocacy for walkable communities.

Both the coronavirus pandemic and the nationwide protests against police brutality emphasize the need to transform our places to make them truly safe for everyone. In an era of social distancing, the traditional advocacy focus on infrastructure – how much street space do we provide for walking, transit and public life – is more important than ever. But that focus is not enough to truly provide safety.. We also must take on the attitudes, policies and practices that exclude or unduly injure or kill black and brown people in public spaces. Put simply, sidewalks cannot make a walkable community in the absence of racial justice.

Racism in land use and transportation have always been present – this moment of public consciousness presents the opportunity to transform attitudes and policies. It is the commitment of America Walks to be an anti-racist organization and we will be asking for your help in that work.

We are in a time where it feels like crises are layered on top of each other. My own engagement with walking advocacy 25 years ago started for simple public safety reasons. I thought I should be able to walk with my kids to the local grocery store without risking their lives. Today, pedestrian deaths from automobiles have gone up 53% in the last decade.

One cannot meet climate targets without addressing emissions from transportation – 30% of all emissions nationwide. That means allowing more people to live in communities where they can meet their daily needs with walking, biking and transit. And of course one doesn't have to scratch too far beneath the surface to see that how we built our streets and communities have profound economic, racial and social justice impacts.

Those realizations led me to start a non-profit, Great City, focused on place based advocacy for the environment, equity and social justice. It then led me to run for and win the job of mayor of Seattle. I've seen the entrenched power that frustrates progress – indeed that has increased inequality and injustice and that threatens us with a climate catastrophe.

But I have also seen how passionate individuals can organize with others to create change. How people can grow from their first halting steps into public life into dedicated community builders. That was my story, and that's what draws me to America Walks. It was explicitly founded to support local advocates working to create walkable communities.

One may question whether organizing is enough in the face of all our challenges. But I will submit to you that our cascading crises are not going to be solved by a clever policy change, or electing your favorite in the next election (although please work on those!). We are talking about culture change – and that requires people across this country speaking to one another, changing minds and building public demand for truly inclusive and just communities. That takes organizing. And America Walks has the opportunity to work with local advocates and leaders across the county to empower those advocates. To recruit new volunteers to the cause and train them. To collaborate with other national organizations that share our values around inclusive communities.

It's a big mission, and a worthy one. And I am really excited to be on this journey, at this time, with folks who believe we can make a difference. I hope you'll help us with this work.

Morning,
As a tax payer of this county, I highly suggest that you Mr. Parisi get this Health Order #8 rescinded immediately due to the fact the Health Department does not have the constitutional authority or you as an elected representative to mandate people to wear a mask. This needs to end and as your employer I highly urge you to move on this immediately. I will email everyday until this is rescinded. As a friendly reminder you are able to be recalled as well.
There needs to be accountability with this Health Department and right now I am seeing none. We have rights out here as citizens to which they are walking all over on.

Thank you,
Derek Statz

Dane County Extension Educators continue to closely monitor the impact COVID-19 is having on our community. They have adapted programming and developed new resources to meet the needs of individuals, families, farms, businesses and nonprofits. This newsletter includes just a few of the programs and resources our educators are currently working on. We hope you find this information helpful. As always, we are here to serve the Dane County community.

Please check our website often for the latest on program updates and new resources.

Stay safe and healthy,

Construyendo Caminos

As part of his work on higher education and career pathways, Javier Neira Youth Development Educator, has developed Construyendo Caminos (Building Pathways) a video series on the UW-Madison, Division of Extension's YouTube channel. This series is created for our Spanish speaking population in Wisconsin and brings experts in different subjects to talk about the importance of each step on building their pathway to education and career success.

In the first season, the series explores the K-12 system; the difference between colleges and universities; financial aid, scholarships and youth programs which save money for youth and their families; career exploration and networking. There will be testimonials from students, experts, and role models in different communities across Wisconsin. Their stories coupled with research-based knowledge about success in higher education and career attainment for Latinx communities will make the series compelling and up to date.

The 4-H Summer Showcase is Here!

The Dane County Fair has been cancelled for 2020 but there are many new opportunities for youth to celebrate and share their 4-H project work with others this summer. Lisa Curley, 4-H Program Coordinator, has partnered with the Dane County Fair staff and 4-H volunteers to develop the Dane County 4-H Summer Showcase. The showcase includes a series of events that has something for everyone.

4-H Virtual Dance – 4-Hers will be donning their 4-H apparel on Saturday, July 18 at 7pm! Join 4-H members from all over Dane County by Zoom! We have an awesome DJ, prizes and surprises.

Zoom Rooms – In this Zoom Room event, youth will have a chance to talk in small groups about their projects with other youth in Dane County 4-H. This is an informal opportunity for youth to learn from one another!

Online 4-H Project Work Gallery – Dane County 4-H members will share a picture and description of their projects on the Dane County 4-H website. This is a way for youth to share their accomplishments and reflect on what they have learned this year in 4-H.

Baked Potato Challenge – Missing your fair favorite...the 4-H baked potato? We do and challenge you to make one at home. Make a baked potato, load the potatoes with your favorite ingredients, and upload a picture of your loaded baked potato. This event is open to everyone. Impress us with your creations and you could win a prize – the categories include: pork lovers potato, most artistic potato, best use of dairy products potato, and other potatorific categories.

4-H Virtual Talent Showcase – Youth will prepare a video performing a talent today to be featured on the Dane County 4-H website! All talents welcome – sing, tell a story, play an instrument, read a poem, juggle, perform tricks on your horse... Videos will be collected through July 31 and will be highlighted on the Dane County 4-H website.

4-H Virtual Dog Showcase – 4-H members with dogs will share 1) a video of their dog doing a trick, 2) a picture of their dog in a costume, and/or 3) a unique photo of their dog.

4-H Cookbook – 4-Hers are making an online cookbook featuring delicious recipes.

Support for Non-profit Organizations Goes Virtual

Dane County Extension has long provided non-profit organizations with strategic planning, program planning, facilitation, and evaluation support. This support has continued through the coronavirus pandemic, with modifications for a virtual environment. Our programs to support non-profits have expanded to address the unique circumstances that organizations are operating under at this time.

When COVID-19 hit, our office responded by increasing access to information and by developing training activities to support operating in a virtual environment. Our first response was to develop an information hub as part of the Dane County Community Development Web-site. The hub provides easy access to resources available to non-profit organizations specifically related to COVID-19, including Federal grant and loan programs, emergency grants, and webinars with information on how to continue non-profit operations in a virtual environment.

Network of Pollinator Educational Gardens Established

Dane County Extension has been working with local non-profit organizations or units of government to plan, design, and install pollinator educational gardens in both rural and urban public spaces that welcome and serve diverse groups. This program that began in 2017 will conclude in 2020 with a total of sixteen long-term gardens dedicated to pollinator education and each supported by a local Friends group. The gardens are located geographically throughout the county with several in the Madison central area. They will provide a long-term sustainable educational outreach network throughout the county to diverse populations.

For every garden partnership agreements were developed and signed whereby the partner provides long-term garden maintenance and ongoing educational outreach commitment. In return, the gardens sites received plants, permanent bilingual educational outdoor interpretive signage (that has been researched and developed to accompany the gardens), plant signage and design assistance.

These gardens are established at: Henry Vilas Zoo (in two locations), Dane County Fen Oak Resource Center, City of Madison Washington Manor Park, Schumacher Farm Park, Village of Cross Plains – Zander Park, City of Sun Prairie near public library, Lakeview Hill County Park, Indian Lake Park, Stewart Lake Park (in wooded location), Prairie Moraine Park, and McCarthy Youth and Conservation Park. We hope you enjoy them.

For more information about the pollinator gardens contact Mindy Habecker, Natural Resources Educator, at habecker@countyofdane.com.

New Online Pollinator Habitat Assessment Tool Available

You can help support insect pollinators, such as bees and butterflies, through habitat you provide on your property or in your gardens. Pollinators need shelter and food to thrive, but how do you know if your property is achieving this potential?

To help promote local habitat for pollinators, the University of Wisconsin-Madison Gratton Lab in the Department of Entomology and the Dane County Environmental Council have launched a new, free online tool to help you assess any site for the quality of its pollinator habitat. Whether you have a single garden bed, a yard or a multi-acre property, the tool helps you to identify the opportunities you have to support pollinators. The assessment tool is suitable to use for any property throughout Wisconsin and neighboring states.

“Pollinators such as honeybees play a critical part in our environment, but can face adversity from challenges like pesticides and climate change,” said Dane County Executive Joe Parisi. “This new tool will be available for anyone in Dane County to use and is one step we can all take to support pollinator habitat.”

New Partnership for Ag in the Classroom Program

Dane County Extension is excited to partner with the Dane County Farm Bureau to offer the Ag in the Classroom program. The goal of Ag in the Classroom is to increase teachers and K-12 students understanding of how their food is produced, increase awareness of the role of agriculture in the economy and society, increase safety of youth on the farm, and introduce youth to career opportunities in agriculture.

Alissa Grenawalt has been hired as the Ag in the Classroom Educational Program Coordinator. Alissa hales from Beloit, WI, where she grew up on her family's beef and crop farm in the southwest corner of Rock County and she earned her BS and MS degrees in Animal Science and Agriculture Industries from UW Platteville.

In this new position, Grenawalt will teach Ag in the Classroom educational programs in Dane County schools and coordinate farm safety educational events. She will work closely with Dane County schools, Extension educators and other Ag related organizations to build partnerships, improve on farm safety and promote agriculture awareness and understanding in Dane County.

To learn more about the Ag in the Classroom program, you can contact Grenawalt by e-mailing her at grenawalt.alissa@countyofdane.com

COVID-19 Response Plan Template Developed for Fruit & Vegetable Farms

Dane County Extension, FairShare CSA Coalition and the University of Minnesota Extension are pleased to announce a COVID-19 template and FAQ about COVID -19 for fruit and vegetable farms

The template plan can be accessed here: COVID-19 template for fruit and vegetable farms

- The google document you can download as a Word file, or copy into your own google drive, and then edit and print.
- There are a series of prompts to help you identify risks across the farm and an array of suggested practices you could use to minimize those risks.
- It is designed to make it easy to delete the things you are not doing and/or to add in additional steps you are taking.

- As new information becomes available, the content will be updated but the link will not change, so that you have access to the latest information easily.

In the FAQ about COVID-19 for fruit and vegetable farms, gardens, and markets you will find specific issues, that fruit and vegetable farmers are asking about in relation to COVID-19.

Food Councils Collaborate to Address Increasing Food Insecurity

The COVID-19 crisis is contributing to increases in food insecurity among families in Dane County and across the nation. Market opportunities and supply chains have been compromised for our producers and food businesses. Food workers have seen losses in employment. The ability to safely access fresh, culturally appropriate food has become even more burdensome for some of our most vulnerable communities. These conditions exacerbate the weaknesses and inequities that already exist in our food system, and shine a light on the areas we need to strengthen and improve.

These issues need undivided attention, and so the Dane County Food Council and the Madison Food Policy Council are collaborating to strategize policies and initiatives that will strengthen communities and local food systems across Dane County. Claire Mance, Healthy Communities Coordinator and Jess Guffey Calkins, Food Systems Educator, serve in advisory roles with the food councils.

Good Afternoon Joe,

Just wanted to thank you and Emergency Management for the invitation to the press conference yesterday. While it may seem like a small thing, it actually means a lot to be a part of something like that and especially the kind words at the beginning of the presser. Being on the PPE front since March has provided plenty of challenges along the way and actually continues to provide surprises on almost a daily basis but to hear confirmation that the efforts are appreciated, goes a long way! So thank you! I was glad to be a part of the community mask purchases knowing that it certainly has a positive impact for communities and the battle against COVID.

The Emergency Management team has been great to work with (Carrie, Courtney, Rick, etc.). Other departments have pitched in since March providing assistance in picking up supplies when a larger truck was needed (Highway and Parks). This is truly a team effort and will continue to be.

Thank you,

Dear Jason,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Dear County Executive Paris:

I write to express my support for recently introduced legislation: 2020 Res 145 that would halt Dane County's jail plan, commit to ending systemic racism in our criminal justice system, and pursue solutions to reduce the number of incarcerated people in Dane County including non-law enforcement crisis response services. The current pandemic has shown we do not need to lock up so many people in Dane County.

I hope you will support 2020 Res 145 as well.

Hi Mr. Parisi,

I am in total favor of reviewing how we incarcerate people at the jail and eliminating the need for a new jail. I do want to raise a concern about mass supervision. Here is an article by Michelle Alexander, author of the New Jim Crow.

Thank you for considering, Katharine Goray

Dear Representative Parisi,

I am a Madison resident writing in support of resolution 145, to halt the construction of the planned addition to the Dane County Jail. Diverting these funds from the construction of another jail facility, and instead putting them into programs which promote racial and economic equity, will go a long way towards addressing longstanding problems in our community. Thank you for your consideration.

Best,
Matthew

Hello,
My name is Mary Cartier and I live at 2106 Center Ave in Madison. I encourage you to support Resolution 145 to defund the new jail project. I believe that we should fund more human services that support and restore communities rather than break families and communities apart through funding more mass incarceration. Dane County has the highest racial disparities in the county, in the worst state for people of color. We have an opportunity to change that, please vote to change governmental spending and support our communities of color. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me.

Thank you!

Dear Lee
Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Joe Parisi

I am writing today to register my strong support of Resolution 145 before the County Board of Supervisors.

We demand that reforms be implemented to end the racial disparities in the criminal justice system. The millions of tax dollars must be shifted to human service solutions and not spent on a new jail. Do not use our money to continue the same system that has ruined the lives of so many people of color over the decades. Do the hard work of reform.

Support Resolution 145. We will be watching your vote to see which side of history you will stand on.

Sincerely,
Lee Alliet

Another lovely Friday night to race at MIS! Tonight would have been BUCK NIGHT with $1 concessions, how fun! Our fans would be socially distancing easily. They would all arrive and leave at staggered times (much different than MASS GATHERING INDOOR movie theaters whom are allowed 50% capacity).

But I digress, we've been over these crucial details ALL WEEK with more radio silence from your department. At least the Henry Villas Zoo can be open on this lovely Friday from 9:30am-4:30pm with 50% capacity (doing some loose math 400ppl/hr over 7 hrs = 2800 ppl ALL DAY LONG). MIS has been continuously asking since March for a 20% capacity (max 2000 ppl with many less touch points as the zoo).

And I see Madison Public Pools are allowed to open this week. WOW. I'll leave this topic for next week's emails.

Have a great weekend. Our family is going to venture to neighboring, less restrictive, small business friendly Counties to support OPEN race tracks.

Can you please explain to me how a protest (and I know that you are sick of hearing how protests seem exempt from your emergency orders because to those of us who are not allowed to open their businesses, they appear to be) is NOT a mass gathering. Please run through the thought process with me how protests are NOT PLANNED (they advertise them all over social media), how they DO NOT involve large numbers of people (I have plenty of social media screenshots to contradict that ), and how protest DO NOT clearly set a specific time and place to start?

Madison International Speedway can safely stagger entry and exit times to our facility, we have plenty of room to social distance, and have already set up guidelines and procedures to keep our fans safe. Please let us know if you would like an opportunity to actually view our facility to assess this. We have found ourselves with an abundance of time this summer and our schedule is open.

Thanks for taking the time to read my daily email. Really hoping to receive a response one of these days. There is still time for our family to open at a reasonable, safe % of capacity, have a few events and start paying off our mounting debt that no one else is going to cover for us.

Every weekly track in the state is open other than the two in Dane County. We should be allowed to open at a % of capacity (20% to start?), with a reviewed and agreed upon plan in place. In order to have that plan, your side needs to begin to communicate with us. Thank you for your time, we look forward to your timely response.

Our seasonal business has now lost another weekend and we would greatly appreciate any direction in regards to future capacity limits and changes to such within the Forward Dane Order. We are hearing that Illinois will allow facilities such as race tracks and other outdoor sporting events to open at 25% capacity on June 26.

Again, we are open to continuing to work with you all on this, but would greatly appreciate a line of communication so we can plan our next steps with our business. As you can imagine, between the amount of protestors, the release of Emergency Order #4 allowing 25% capacity at churches and speedways throughout the state being open for business without issue, we continue to seek a fair resolution that will allow the survival of our family business.

A response would be greatly appreciated as not knowing continues to create great emotional strain on our family as a whole. Thank you.

My wife Angie and I own and operate Madison Speedway in rural Rutland township between Oregon and Stoughton. With today's announcement concerning Emergency Order #4 in regards to a 25% capacity limit now allowed at churches vs the previous 50 person limit, is it possible to have an open discussion in regards to % limits versus a number limit for outdoor venues such as ours? Currently we are being held to 50 people with a 250 limit currently set during Phase 3 of the Forward Dane document.

With nearly 50 acres and hosting spectator events each Friday night throughout the summer and the second Thursday of each month, our remaining July, August and September schedule consists of a total of 13 spectator events. Currently, our local Walgreens has a greater capacity than our venue. We are more than willing to work with you all on a plan that will allow us to reopen, the current and future imposed attendance restrictions will likely force us to close our business. Thank you for any insight you can provide.

Is there somebody else that we need to talk to? This is our family owned and operated business that we have dedicated 27 years plus (since I was 14, and even before) towards building, it is of utmost importance to us that we are allowed to open just as other businesses are being allowed to. We understand that we are a niche business, but we should not be penalized for being one. We have a plan in place and are ready to go.

We do not understand how indoor operations are allowed to open at 25% capacity when we may not be allowed to, many with more interaction and touch points than we have here. For example, the following indoor businesses are allowed to open at 25% during phase 1 (Which I think is great)

-Restaurants and Bars

-Retail

-Gym/Recreational facilities

-Indoor Shopping Malls

-Licensed Swimming Pools

-Indoor Places of Art and Culture (Movie Theaters, going to the races is exactly the same as going to a movie, in every aspect other than we are outside)

-Bowling Alleys

We feel that we are an outdoor place of amusement and activity, if amusement parks, zoos and miniature golf can be open, we surely can be as well. How do any of the above qualify any more than we do? Especially the indoor facilities with numerous points of contact.

Please let us know if there is someone else we need to contact to share our story or when you may be able to provide us more direction. We deserve to know by tomorrow if not before. Thank you for your time.

Thank you for getting back to us. Our conditional use permit places our grandstand capacity at 10,000 people. If we were granted approval to operate our business, I know that we have ample room to allow for proper distancing as well as the ability to follow proper guidelines.

In our Competitor Area

- -Competitors are limited to 6 people total per team.
- -Teams must stay in their own pit area.
- -6’ Distance to be required on spotters stand and in pit stands We have painted every other board white and blue to help distance, most stand along top of hill.
- -Drivers meeting will be via public address system, there will be no gathering in pit area.
- -Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.
- -All team members must agree in writing that they will adhere to all policies and restrictions prior to entering the restricted area and will be encouraged to wear face coverings

In our Main Seating Area

-We will limit attendance to 2,000 (20%)

spectators for our May 29, June 5, June 11 and June 12 events and then work with health officials to expand capacity limits from that point. At no time in 2020 will we ask for greater than 50% capacity

- Additionally we are prepared to have ushers help direct groups to open areas to ensure distancing in grandstands, forming family seating arrangements of 2-4-6 with 6 feet of spacing between seating groups, utilizing measurement tools as needed.

-All concession stands will be equipped with plexi glass to separate attendees from staff

-Concession lines will be limited to one person per group, queuing areas will also be clearly marked with distancing markings

-Hand Sanitizer (already acquired) will be available throughout the facility at key locations including gates and concession areas

-Two employees will be responsible for monitoring and disinfecting high touch areas as well as rest rooms during each event.

-Use of face coverings highly encouraged

--Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.

We are open to further suggestions, and look forward to working with you. Currently, the only weekly race tracks in the state unable to open are Madison International Speedway and Angell Park Speedway in Sun Prairie. All others have indicated their intentions of opening in the coming weeks, some have already held events with others opening this weekend.

This is a follow up to the July 16 EANR meeting, where I registered my objection to resolution 2020 RES 102 directing Dane County to manage summer Yahara lake levels towards the middle of DNR ordered summer ranges VERSUS what was directed via resolution 2018 RES 227 that directed management towards DNR ordered summer minimum levels.

As background, I have lived adjacent to Lake Mendota for about 40 years and have a great deal of experience with water levels and boating - therefore most of my concerns pertain to Mendota. I have degrees in environmental sciences and worked as a professional scientist for over 30 years. I followed the Lake Level Task force efforts after the 2018 flood. I watched John Reimer's presentation to the Lakes and Watershed Commission at the May meeting upon which 2020 RES 102 seems to be based. And I also listened to the concerns of two members of the public at that meeting.

I am a Mendota shoreland owner who does not appreciate high water levels. We need to operate Lake Mendota at a lower levels to protect Mendota's shoreline and near shore habitat and to improve Mendota's ability to serve as a buffer against downstream flooding given that we have had and expect to have more frequent and intense summer rain.

The main reason for 2020 RES 102 seems to be that some believe low lake levels impair boating, boat lift usage, and boat launching. I believe those concerns are unfounded and could be solved by safe boat operation – that is knowing where shallow depths exist where one should slow down and raise boat motors. Also, boat lift heights can be adjusted and lift feet removed to in part deal with low lake levels. Lakeside property owners need to realize water depths next to their property and not purchase boats that require deeper water. For launching, some boat ramps like those at Marshall Park can accommodate larger boats. There is plenty of deep-water area for boaters.

Another reason to continue operating under 2018 RES 227 is that the management actions, mainly dredging, to increase outflow from the lakes has not been completed and we will not truly know the effectiveness of those actions until a period after they are completed.

Also, the two scenarios presented to the Lakes and Watershed Commission on May 28 to justify 2020 RES 102 was vastly oversimplified and unrealistic. Rarely do we just get 1 rain event and the amount of rainfall was not specified. The scenarios need to examine sequential rain events and large rain events.

In examining the two scenarios, I think they did indicate that a benefit to manage Mendota towards the DNR ordered summer minimum is more stable lake levels. The analysis was also insufficient as it did not examine how frequently flooding would occur under the two scenarios. Even a 3" buffer in Mendota will provide storage to reduce the risk or frequency of exceeding the maximums or flood conditions – sometimes it will help.

More consistent lake levels benefit nearshore species of fish, and lake dependent wildlife and birds that rely on nearshore areas for nesting, foraging, and refuge. High lake levels outside of the normal seasonal patterns may inundate adjacent wetlands and drown nests. Also, I believe that more consistent lake levels will help boaters learn how to safely operate.

This year since March 22, Lake Mendota's has been above the DNR ordered summer minimum. And since May 19th, Mendota has been above the ordered summer maximum. Recently Mendota rose almost 5 inches in just 7 days. So LOW lake levels in Mendota have not been a concern this year nor many years back. As of July 16th, Mendota was 15 inches above the DNR ordered summer maximum. So, it is not the time to take chances and target a higher level - all it takes is another rainy week or one large rain event and Mendota will approach flood levels.

Perhaps it would be logical to modified the resolution to require Lake Mendota levels to be targeted in summer to the MINIMUM summer level, but the other lakes could be targeted towards the mid-range to accommodate downstream lakes' more shallow nature.

Thank you for your work and for considering my comments.

Subject: RE: STAR program for Dane County

Dear Jessie,

Thank you for contacting me regarding the creation of a mental health response team in Dane County modeled after the STAR program in Denver, Colorado.

I share your interest in creating a mental health "ambulance" that could be dispatched along, or in lieu of, law enforcement to respond to cases where there is a suspected mental health crisis or where the complaint likely doesn't necessitate arrest or incarceration. Please find a recent press release which details the Criminal Justice Council's partnership with Policy Research, Inc. to explore the establishment of a program modeled after CAHOOTS from Oregon, which is similar to the STAR program.

https://countyofdane.com/PressDetail/10667

This concept has been of interest to me for several years. As you know, Dane County partners with Journey Mental Health to assist law enforcement, upon request, to address acute mental health situations. There is strong interest in the community for expanding the involvement of mental health professionals beyond serious emergencies. The CAHOOTS model will enhance responses to emergencies and complaints in an effort to connect people with help and avoid incarceration or unnecessary involvement with the criminal justice system.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Joe Parisi

Hello Mr. Parisi,

I am emailing you regarding the STAR program in Denver, Colorado. This initiative teams trained mental health providers with paramedics to answer low-risk 911 dispatch calls in the community. They have only had to call in police less than 1% of the time for backup. In addition, this allows police to allocate their time and efforts to more serious matters and not with mental health calls that could be handled by a trained mental health professional.

I think it would be beneficial to adopt a similar program here in Madison and through Dane County. As a mental health provider through Journey Mental Health Center, I know firsthand the importance of using trained skills, like verbal de-escalation, to help individuals going through a mental health crisis. I work in one of the community support programs and have experience going into the homes of many clients in our community.

Here is a YouTube video link regarding the STAR program: https://youtu.be/vCmTcS5YvOQ

I hope you will consider this program for our community.

Thank you,

NY TIMES interview
Kat Grande, our in-house data guru and team lead, and I will be having a conversation with Julie Bosman—a reporter from the NYTImes working on a story about the way this is a "pandemic of numbers" on Monday at 11.

Data, data, data,
At our internal ICS meeting this morning, Kat released some new stats.

Our average cases over the last 7 days has decreased in the past 3 weeks or so from 107 cases/day to 80 cases per day in this last 7day run. And, our R-value (the transmission of illness-impact of 1 person infecting other people), which reached a high of about 1.51 3 weeks ago has now decreased to below 1. Yay!
But, we still have 28% community spread and are considered a high activity level (Burden) county according to DHS. Combined, this means we are a high burden County with a shrinking trajectory. What this means is: the measures we have put in place are working to control illness in Dane County, and we need to keep it up!

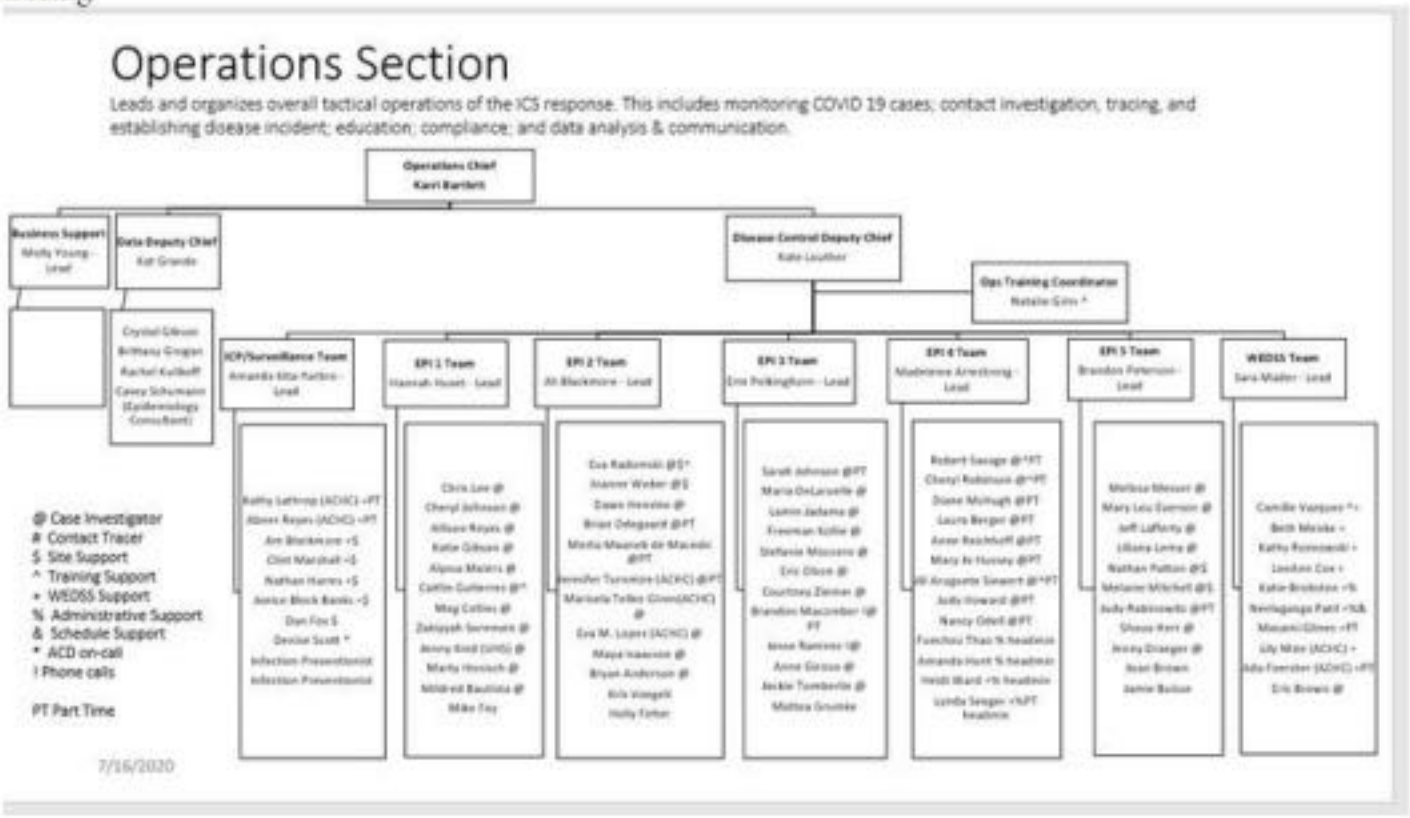

And… a few other data points…
School aged children, symptoms and risk:

- From the beginning of the epidemic through July 11, 205 youth age 5-18 tested positive for COVID-19 (7% of all cases).
- Black, Hispanic, and female youth are overrepresented in COVID cases compared to their representation in the overall Dane County population
- 60% of the youth had documented symptoms, compared to 76% for ages 19+
- The youth were more likely to be infected by someone in their household (55% compared to 27% for ages 19+)
- 10% associated with an outbreak/cluster (this includes daycares, children of adults associated with a workplace exposure and a handful of 18 year olds associated with a bar, fraternity, or a UW athletic team exposure)

Pre-June 1 vs. Post June 1
Rate of increase of COVID in the 18-24 white, non -Hispanic year old age group increased 1,522 % vs all other white, Non-hispanic age groups which saw a 147% increase.
From 6/27-7/10 we had 1,378 new COVID cases. 52% were 18-25. We are not seeing (yet?) transmission / impact on other parts of the community but it is something that we are paying attention to. I have asked the data team for a 'deep-dive' on this topic.

Contact Tracing:

From June 27-July 10 we had 1,366 cases. 1,047 (77%) have had full interviews.
For entire epidemic: 80% interview completion
For month of June: 87% interview completion
In comparison, New York state is around 86%. 48% in Louisiana, 60% in Boston.
And, see below for a snapshot of our current Operations Section—largely comprised of the contact tracing team. We're at almost 100 team members in that unit alone (with 67 focused on case/contact tracing today) with more in the queue that we're hiring as well as the 60 that University Health Services is hiring for contact tracing.

Dear Joe --

As a Madison resident at 646 Gately Ter., I would like you to know our family is in full support of 202 Res 145 and any overall efforts to reduce the number of incarcerated people in jails in the county, especially in light of the typical disproportionate number of BIPOC citizens that are represented in these numbers.

Growing up originally in Memphis, TN, I have seen all too frequently how the justice system in general can be a never-ending circular dance for those who are under-resourced, under-educated, or not-connected. The cycle is one of economics, and it is extremely difficult to get out from under the justice system when you make $12/hr and have to negotiate court fees, lawyer fees, fines, and other small things that pile up for many people even if just dealing with a small traffic incident or driving without a license, for example.

I am in full support of any efforts we can make to redirect funds to improving educational opportunities, community support networks for non-felony incidents, etc., to reduce pulling citizens into a hard-to-escape justice system and ultimately to reduce the numbers of BIPOC citizens who disproportionately find themselves incarcerated for non-felony incidents.

Thanks for your work on behalf of the county.

With kind regards --

Hello, Partners-
ABC for Health continues to track birth cost recovery policy in Wisconsin. We call the policy the "birth tax," due to the harsh and often unexpected financial impact on unmarried pregnant women and families seeking BadgerCare Plus in Wisconsin. Counties have certain flexibility in implementing this policy and recently some, like Dane County, have abolished the practice. Others, like Milwaukee County, continue to debate the inequities and practice of collecting the Birth Tax.

Update: Milwaukee County Board Committee on Finance Rejects the BCR Resolution
The Resolution requesting the Milwaukee County Department of Child Support Services discontinue the discretionary practice of pursuing birth cost recovery collections in child support cases in Milwaukee County was before the Finance Committee on Thursday, July 16, 2020.

In a disappointing move, Committee Chairman Jason Haas made a motion to reject the Resolution, stating that to abolish Birth Cost Recovery "would be disastrous to child support services." The Committee members present voted unanimously to reject the Resolution.

Please see the attached Partners Update for more information, and anticipated next steps for this Resolution. This Update will be saved on our Birth Tax website, with past Partner's Updates (under "press, publications & reports") and other useful links.

Thank you,
Brynne

COVID-19 Information Update 7/17/20

Alliant Energy Center Community Testing Site Update

- Wednesday (7/15) 1807 people were tested and Thursday (7/16) 2477 people were tested.
- The total number of people who have been tested at the community test site is 67,641.
- In collaboration with the National Guard, we implemented an online registration system that has dramatically improved wait times. After about 9:30am, we've rarely had a wait time over 10 minutes in the past week.

Mask Signage Required at Entrances

We are requiring that businesses place Public Health's sign, which says that masks are required, on the entrances of their building(s). This requirement is effective immediately and is included under section 4(i) of Emergency Order #8. Emergency Order #8 requires that people wear masks when in an enclosed space with people outside their household, including inside businesses.

Data Byte

In the past week (July 10 – July 16), there were 565 new cases of COVID-19 in Dane County. Of the 372 with a complete interview so far:

- 46 (12%) were associated with clusters: 17 from workplaces, 11 from bars/restaurants, 7 from childcare, 5 from housing for college-aged people, 3 from congregate facilities, 1 from a gym, and 2 from other clusters. We define a cluster as 1 case in a long term care facility or daycare or 2 or more cases associated with one location or event around the same time.
- 146 (39%) reported attending a gathering, party, or meeting with people from outside their household.
- We love this tool from Georgia Tech which shows you the probability that a gathering of a certain size will have someone with COVID-19 at it: https://b.gatech.edu/2Oz1UHx. Right now, in Dane County, in a gathering of 10 people, there is a 20% chance at least one attendee has COVID-19. For a gathering of 25, it's a 45% chance, and for a gathering of 100, it's 91%. The bottom line is no gathering can be completely risk-free. If you must gather, take steps to reduce your risk like physically distancing and wearing a mask: https://bit.ly/3hPceZx.
- Remember, our contact tracers are still conducting interviews, so the numbers above will go up as they complete more interviews.

LEG COUNCIL INTERIM RESEARCH

The Legislative Council Interim Research Report on Pollinator Health scope statement:

- This report will present options for legislation to support Wisconsin pollinators, based on stakeholder input, relevant scientific literature, and approaches taken by other states and at the federal level. Noting the bipartisan recognition of the importance of pollinators to the state's agricultural, economic, and ecological health, the report will review and present a range of approaches for legislative consideration, including options that: provide incentives for pollinator research, monitoring, and awareness; promote pollinator habitat and beekeeping; and encourage pollinator-friendly agricultural practices. The report will primarily focus on nonregulatory approaches to supporting pollinator health in Wisconsin.

Dear County Board, Mr. Parisi, Mr. Ozanne and Mr. Levin,

Regardless of your political affiliation, please support 2020 Res 145. Please at least skim the information and then heed the UFAS plea below.

Few of us do much, in the grand scheme of things, to make the world a better place.

But supporting this is something you — unlike the rest of us — have to power to do.

And I recall voting for all of you in the hope you would give determined support to initiatives precisely like this one.

Thank you in advance,
Mary McCoy

Why I argue you should support this resolution, regardless of your political affiliation:

Nationally and locally, the Movement for Black Lives calls for "investments in the education, health and safety of Black people, instead of investments in the criminalizing, caging, and harming of Black people." We have an opportunity to do just that, here in Dane County.

The recently-introduced 2020 Res 145 would halt Dane County's controversial $148M jail plan ($227M with interest), commit to ending systemic racism in our criminal justice system, and pursue solutions to reduce the number of incarcerated people in Dane County including non-law enforcement crisis response services. Black people are vastly over-represented in Dane County's jail population. Freedom Inc and Urban Triage are among the groups supporting 2020 Res 145.

2020 Res 145 also addresses how to stop using jail facilities in the City-County Building (jail supporters often point to these unsafe facilities). The expensive proposed jail would include 922 beds -- more than we needed before the pandemic. Changes made in response to the pandemic -- which can and should be continued -- reduced the jail population by 40 percent, to 441 people.

DATCP ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FOR COVID-19 FOOD SECURITY NETWORK SUPPORT GRANTS

The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP) is inviting food banks and pantries to apply for COVID-19 Food Security Network Support Grants now until 5:00 PM on July 22, 2020.

Earlier this month, the department released a Request for Proposals (RFP) for an estimated $5 million in grants to help with costs incurred by food banks and pantries related to COVID-19. Applications can be completed online at FoodSecurity.wi.gov.

Grant funds will be distributed through a competitive review process, and will be awarded for costs that are related to COVID-19 and are incurred between March 1, 2020-December 30, 2020. Pantries are strongly encouraged to work through their respective food banks to ensure their needs are represented and demonstrate partnerships, rather than submit their own separate application. Payments are estimated to be issued beginning in mid-August.

The COVID-19 Food Security Network Grants are made possible by funding provided by Governor Tony Evers through the federal Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act. This first round of grants will go toward food banks and pantries to support the adaptations they have made in response to COVID-19. An RFP for a second round of grants will be released later in July and will focus on helping the food security network strengthen partnerships to bring Wisconsin agricultural products to Wisconsin residents in need.

The full RFP, application with instructions, and Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) can be found at FoodSecurity.wi.gov. Questions should be emailed to DATCPFoodSecurityInitiative@wisconsin.gov.

Subject: Fwd: 7/18, 4:15 AM Update on Excessive Heat and Severe Thunderstorm Potential
Attachments: 7_18_AM_WxUpdate.pdf; ATT00001.htm

Good morning,

Here is an update concerning the potential for strong to severe thunderstorms this evening into tonight, as well as excessive heat during the day today.

Bottom Line Up Front
A Heat Advisory remains in effect for the entire area from 1 PM this afternoon through 8 PM this evening. Temperatures will top out in the low to mid 90s, with heat index values between 100 and 105.

A complex of thunderstorms is expected to form to our northwest late this afternoon, eventually spreading southeast into the area late this evening into the overnight hours. Damaging wind gusts and locally heavy rain will be the primary threats.

What has changed?
No major changes. Overall forecast confidence remains high regarding temperatures and heat indices. There remains a fair amount of uncertainty regarding the exact timing of the thunderstorms as they move into the area, however.

Forecast Information Regarding Excessive Heat
Where: All of southern and southeastern Wisconsin
What: Excessive heat, with heat index values between 100 and 105.
When: Temperatures will be hottest during the afternoon and early evening. A Heat Advisory is in effect from 1 PM through 8 PM for the entire area.
Impacts: High heat index values will pose an increased risk for heat related illnesses.

Forecast Information Regarding Severe Thunderstorm Potential
Where: All of southern and southeastern Wisconsin, with the highest risk for damaging wind gusts occurring north of I-94.
What: Severe thunderstorms, with damaging winds and locally heavy rain.
When: A line of storms is expected to move into the area from the north or northwest during the late evening hours. There is still a fair amount of uncertainty regarding the timing, however.
Impacts: Strong wind gusts may result in tree and powerline damage, and isolated structural damage. Those camping over the weekend will be at particular risk from any severe thunderstorms.

Subject: Fwd: 07/18/2020 - 3 PM: Update on Severe Thunderstorm Potential

Good Afternoon NWS Milwaukee Partners,

Here is an update concerning the potential for strong to severe thunderstorms this evening into tonight.

Bottom Line Up Front

- Still expecting a complex of thunderstorms to develop to our northwest later this afternoon, eventually spreading southeast into our area late this evening/overnight.
    - Damaging wind gusts and locally heavy rain will be the primary threats.
- Could see a few scattered storms develop this afternoon ahead of the evening storms.

What has changed?

- Storms this morning persisted and pushed through most of the area limiting heat indices across southern WI, but still could see some higher heat indices this afternoon.
- There remains a fair amount of uncertainty regarding the exact timing and severity of the thunderstorms as they move into our area. However, still expecting to see some storms with gusty winds and heavy rain push through the area sometime later this evening into the overnight hours .

Forecast Information Regarding Severe Thunderstorm Potential
Where: All of southern and southeastern WI, with the highest risk for damaging wind gusts occurring north of I-94.
What: Severe thunderstorms, with damaging winds and locally heavy rain.

Subject: RE: Onboarding E-Verify and other payroll updates

In checking the E-Verify website this morning, this I9 exception has NOT been extended. All documents provided for completion of section 2 of the I9 will need to be seen in person. For the employees whose forms you obtained electronically, please review the originals no later than August 31, 2020 and update the I9 document.

Please read the information below:

1. I9 form exception: The exceptions for completing the I9 form in the email below have been extended to June 19th. If they are not extended beyond June 19th the original rules will apply where you will need to see the documents in person within the first three days of employment. For the employees whose forms you obtained electronically, please review the originals no later than July 31, 2020 and update the I9 document.

2. Electronic forms: The only forms that should be sent as hardcopies are the originals of the manually signed I-9 and the documentation for the I-9. All other forms, such as Employee Action Forms, Separation Notices and letters of resignation need to be sent electronically. Once you have sent the forms electronically, please do not send the hardcopy also. Payroll changes may not be made on a timely basis if not sent electronically.
Managers, please notify your payroll clerks when you make hiring decisions so they can complete paperwork on a timely basis.*

3. E-Verify results: When printing the I-9 E-Verify results, please be sure to open the "Case Details" so that you can see the employee's name on the form before printing.

4. Submitting paperwork on a timely basis: Please submit the necessary paperwork as soon as you know of a change in an employee's payroll status.

5. Updated Forms and electronic signatures for supervisors and payroll clerks: The Employee Action Form and the Separation Notice posted on dcinet have been updated so that you can now type your "signature" in the form and we are able to edit the forms. If the form needs to be "signed" by the supervisor, the payroll clerk should save the form as a pdf, forward to the supervisor and once the supervisor "signs" the form, it can again be saved and sent electronically to Renee Endres. By everyone "signing" electronically rather than manually signing it, it's doesn't need to be scanned and the information can be edited by Payroll and Employee Relations.

Any questions, please let me know.

Managers and Payroll Clerks:
If you are viewing the documents for the I9 via email, fax, picture etc… due to teleworking (you haven't physically seen the documents), you need to make that note in the "Additional Information" in the I9 (section 2 or 3). When you return to work and they actually view the document(s) in person you will also need to go back into the I-9 and document that in the same area. A reminder that if you are teleworking and using this temporary I9 process Employee Relations does need a copy of your teleworking agreement for your personnel file.

Newsletter | July 2020

View as Webpage

This month marks the 30th anniversary of the enactment of the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) signed into law by President George H. W. Bush on July 26, 1990. It was amended in 2009. Did you know that the ADA covers a wide range of areas, including employment, transportation, public services, and telecommunications? We are taking this moment to reflect on how we can ensure our programming reaches people with disabilities in these difficult times. We are especially excited that our Webcast Studio has recently started operations, and we are getting ready to launch fully virtual programming in the fall.

As we have said before, we want our work over the decades to speak for itself. Under every leader and board of directors lineup, regardless of our name -- be it Very Special Arts, VSA or AFA -- we have committed ourselves to art for all people. The arts are a universal and essential language that challenge people to respond to the world, look beyond themselves, and celebrate diversity by building bridges between people, across cultures and through generations. We know that this is more important than ever and we are determined to ensure that the power of the arts are accessible to people seeking equality, respect, and justice. Please tell us how we are doing.

Some things you'll find inside...

- Our Executive Director named to Leadership Team of Any Given Child Madison
- We are accepting Charter Members of our Legacy Circle for planned gifts through December 31, 2020
- Saying goodbye to VSA founder, Jean Kennedy Smith

Our New Webcast Production Studio Begins New Virtual Programming

We are grateful to supporters that made the creation of the ARTS for ALL Wisconsin Webcast Production Studio possible, including a gift from Susan Tirschel in memory of Duane Tirschel, and American Family Insurance.

We christened the studio with the first of four monthly Memory Art Cafes on June 26 in partnership with Madison Museum of Contemporary Art, Alzheimer's & Dementia Alliance of Wisconsin, ADRC of Southwest Wisconsin, and Brookdale Senior Living. Musician Joe McNally (above) played the banjo and encouraged dancing, AFA teaching artist Christy Grace led an art activity in watercolor technique, and MMoCA docent Gil xxxx led a discussion on three artists currently part of the museums collection.

The Webcast Production Studio will replace all in-person programming through the end of the calendar year, which could be extended. When we restart in-person programming, our Studio will continue to produce content to be shared statewide.

Executive Director named to the Leadership Team of Any Given Child Madison

Recently Any Given Child Madison (AGCM) announced that our Executive Director, Christina Martin-Wright, has been named to the Leadership Team.

The Ensuring the Arts for Any Given Child Program is an initiative of the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and is currently in 27 communities across the United States, including the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. In 2014 AGCM received a gift from the estate of Carl M. Hudig to support the goals created by its Community Arts Team, which include to facilitate and foster connections between MMSD, local arts organizations, and teaching artists.

"The Kennedy Center is delighted that Christina Martin-Wright has been appointed to the Any Given Child Madison Leadership Team. Students with disabilities are often left out of arts education opportunities. Her expertise and experience as a respected leader at the intersection of arts and disability will ensure thoughtful and comprehensive inclusion strategies to support arts equity for every child."

-Jeanette McCune, Director, School and Community Programs at the Kennedy Center

AFA Artist Jerome Glenn a highlight of 2020 Disability Pride in Madison

2020 Creative Power award winning artist Jerome Glenn will be featured in this year's all-virtual Disability Pride. The organizers of the event are focusing on black artists with disabilities in 2020, and we are so happy to have Jerome's work included.

Jerome's use of a warm and bright palette in his paintings feels celebratory even when the subject, in contrast, may be dark, challenging, or difficult.

He won the Creative Power award previously in 2014 as well.

See Jerome's AFA Artist Profile here.

Jean Kennedy Smith (1928 - 2020)

Last month we learned that Jean Kennedy Smith, the founder of Very Special Arts (VSA) at the Kennedy Center, had died. We were deeply saddened by the loss, and are honored to continue the good work she began nearly 50 years ago.

Her legacy will survive in our work, and the work of dozens of other organizations that sprung up across the country as a result of her advocacy for people with disabilities.

"I never sat down and said, 'Now I must make a contribution, that one person can make a difference. But I felt I was in a position where I could contribute."

- Jean Kennedy Smith

Our new Legacy Circle ready to accept Charter Members

A healthy and vibrant future depends on the work that we do today. It will be our legacy.

You can be a part of that legacy too.

Did you know that you can make a simple, yet transformational gift through your will or estate that costs you nothing during your lifetime? By making a planned gift, and becoming a Charter Member of our Legacy Circle, you will contribute to our future, and forever be a part of our success.

Our Charter Members are the supporters who join the Legacy Circle by the end of 2020. Once you are a Charter Member, you will always be noted as one because our gratitude for your support and the faith you have in our mission deserves perpetual recognition.

To learn more visit our Legacy Circle web page here.

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Morning,
As a tax payer of this county, I highly suggest that you Mr. Parisi get this Health Order #8 rescinded immediately due to the fact the Health Department does not have the constitutional authority or you as an elected representative to mandate people to wear a mask. This needs to end and as your employer I highly urge you to move on this immediately. I will email everyday until this is rescinded. As a friendly reminder you are able to be recalled as well.
There needs to be accountability with this Health Department and right now I am seeing none. We have rights out here as citizens to which they are walking all over on.

Thank you,
Derek Statz

With Creestah Jackson

We hope you can join us for our next episode on Thursday, July 23rd at 1pm PST | 3pm CST | 4pm EST!

You can register for future episodes here. In the meantime, we would like to give our gratitude to Creestah Jackson for joining our latest episode of SHIFT the Narrative.

You can find the book Creestah suggested here:
"Burnout: The Secret to Unlocking the Stress Cycle" by Emily and Amelia Nagoski

Creestah also forwarded the following graphic as a reference for self-care:

You can also visit our website at seedingsovereignty.org/shift-the-narrative to rewatch this and every episode at your leisure.

Christine and I look forward to our next episode where we will be discussing issues surrounding Indigenous voter engagement and what that means to People of the World Majority. We want to talk to you about your political engagement and what your expectations are for not only the 2020 Presidential Election, but your local and state governments.

We'll also be letting you know what we are up to turn out the vote for Indigenous folx in 2020 and beyond!

Make sure you register to get in the conversation!

Please email any questions or comments to sa@seedingsovereignty.org

Joe
Thanks for the conversation with TEC 19 last week.
Here is some of the data I have been looking at. Dane County has been doing a very good job fighting COVID 19.

The point I would like to make is the question: Why is the speed limit on the interstate 70 miles per hour? Why not 90 or 100 miles per hour?
The answer of course is too many people would die.
But if people dying is all we look at, why not make the speed limit 20 or 30 miles per hour so no one dies?
Everything of course is a balance between our liberties and our deaths.

You of course are in that tough position to make those decisions.
Take Care

The number 1 spewer of CO2 in Dane County is the deathmobile. Dane County's CO2 spew is skyrocketing at FOUR TIMES population growth, all thanks to more deathmobiling.

Why?

County Executive Parisi's budgets betray the truth of his policies: it's all expanded highways promoting more car traffic, more spew and more sprawl.

And you do nothing—zero, zilch—to support transit.

Your anemic support for bicycling and walking throttles pent up demand for active transportation in this health-oriented county.

Your plan is no plan. It is just a showboat behind a smokescreen.

Good Morning Joe:

I hope this email finds you well. My name is Ellen Tracy and I am the Honeywell PPE Solutions Specialist covering Wisconsin. I live locally in the Milwaukee area, and have been in contact with many universities, hospitals, municipalities, emergency agencies, governments and utilities across Wisconsin area to assist them with their PPE needs. I'm reaching out today with an exciting new product that may be of some interest to you...Honeywell Safety Packs.

Honeywell Safety Packs come in an easy-to-open, resealable bag that are made to provide easy access to PPE for students, visitors, employees and consumers. Each resealable bag has the option to be custom branded (no additional cost!), and has the potential to contain a surgical mask or modular mask, nonlatex gloves, hand sanitizing wipes, optional earplugs and more. These packs can be purchased to be handed out to students/visitors/workers and/or sold in shops for anyone who would like to purchase them.

Please review the attached data sheet and sales deck and feel free to reach out to me if you would like more information or have any questions. I look forward to hearing from you. Thank you!

Hi Scott –

I did see this – I sent to Josh and Dave last night when I saw it. Mr. Barrett wasn't on my list – I'm not sure how he got the invitation. He's not registered for this event BUT after he sent this out we did get some other registrations from folks not on our invite list – perhaps because he included the link to the sign up form. (See list below.)

At this point I've not sent the login information to anyone so there's an opportunity to follow up with these folks before including them in the meeting – let me know your thoughts on that. (I'm remembering that last time Jen had to field queries from extra folks who wanted to attend...she said no to folks from entities not on our invitation list I think.)

elderly owner concerns.

From: Dolores Zach
Date: July 20, 2020 at 1:04:06 PM CDT
To: health@publichealthmdc.com
Subject: Cherokee condominium association Madison north

To whom it may concern:
I've been a Cherokee condominium owner and resident for 25 years.
During that time, cherokee has gone through several changes. During those previous years Cherokee management has done at best, a fair job of assuring resident/owner safety. That was until the current one week old Dane County executive order mandated that those outside of their actual living environment (in this case, ones independently owned condo door entrance) that condominium owners must wear a mask within the shared living space that's occupied and shared by other owners/legal residents and maintenance personnel.

As it was previously outlined by the county executives office those shared living/indoor common areas include the following: Condominium front door & adjacent vestibule area/garage door/garage overhead door entrances, condominium hallways, common areas adjacent to each independently owned condominium and staircases/stairwells.

To that end, I was recently informed that Cherokee management and Cherokees Board is not going to 'get involved with policing' and whether or not condo owners and or, legal residents are actually complying with the actual order.

The problem is this.
It's fairly clear that nearly every single Cherokee resident considers the entire building or what is the entire shared living environment 'building' (garage included) as their actual living environment. Thus, the one reason why no one (I believe there's only a few of us out here who are actually wearing masks in the common areas) else is wearing masks in this entire building! Compounding the problem is the fact that Cherokee management and it's Board are also refusing to issue notices to each condo owner/legal resident which outline the Dane County order that masks must be worn as soon as you leave your actual living environment. Any appropriate notice should also outline that ones actual building entrances, enclosed and secured common areas and garage areas shared by others is not considered that condo owner/legal residents' living area. That masks must be worn to protect others.

I believe that Cherokee management and the Cherokee board are in direct violation of the Dane County Executive order and are potentially negligent for failing to act by not at least issuing

NOTICE to each condominium owner/legal resident.

I also believe that the Cherokee Country Club (private) pool area are also in direct violation of the county executive order and the mandate that limits patrons in the actual pool and pool area. Any reasonable person can identify that the number of people in that specific pool between 12-4 pm is at best, an incubator for covid19 and those who are quite possibly asymptomatic.

In closing,
These are most definitely unprecedented times in Madison and Wisconsin.
Cherokee Condominium management bares the burden and the responsibility to communicate timely, accurate detailed information as to each owner/legal resident responsibility and what each condo owner/legal resident is expected to do. For Cherokee management to simply issue an verbal declaration that 'they're not getting involved' is at minimum a direct violation to the County Executive order mandating masks in shared living areas and enclosed (shared) garage areas and pool limits.

*I would prefer that my name not be shared with Cherokee management because I fear reprisal/retaliation and harassment by management and other residents who obviously don't support the county executives order.

*We're all in this together.
I'm not asking for Cherokee to police the buildings. But I do believe they have a responsibility to protect residents from others who could very well be asymtomatic!
I'm simply shocked that Cherokee refuses to issue any type of appropriate timely notice (to each owner) that outlines that masks must be worn within the shared living spaces of each individual enclosed building common areas and garages on Cherokee grounds.
But no such notices have been issued. People are coming and going everywhere within the common areas without wearing a mask.

Sincerely,
Dolores Zach

Hi Joe,

Just checking in about this. Do you or do you not support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to halt funding on the new jail?

Thank you,

I appreciate that you share my concerns and pledge to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system (although in my opinion, this would be a complete overhaul of the system as we know it). So if we want to work towards less people subjected to the atrocities of incarceration, funding (and supporting the funding of) a new and larger jail would work directly against that goal.

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Andrea Collins and I live at 1218 Rutledge Street #4.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Andrea Collins

To whom it may concern:
I've been a Cherokee condominium owner and resident for 25 years.
During that time, cherokee has gone through several changes. During those previous years Cherokee management has done at best, a fair job of assuring resident/owner safety. That was until the current one week old Dane County executive order mandated that those outside of their actual living environment (in this case, ones independently owned condo door entrance) that condominium owners must wear a mask within the shared living space that's occupied and shared by other owners/legal residents and maintenance personnel.

As it was previously outlined by the county executives office those shared living/indoor common areas include the following: Condominium front door & adjacent vestibule area/garage door/garage overhead door entrances, condominium hallways, common areas adjacent to each independently owned condominium and staircases/stairwells.

To that end, I was recently informed that Cherokee management and Cherokees Board is not going to 'get involved with policing' and whether or not condo owners and or, legal residents are actually complying with the actual order.

The problem is this.
It's fairly clear that nearly every single Cherokee resident considers the entire building or what is the entire shared living environment 'building' (garage included) as their actual living environment. Thus, the one reason why no one (I believe there's only a few of us out here who are actually wearing masks in the common areas) else is wearing masks in this entire building!
Compounding the problem is the fact that Cherokee management and it's Board are also refusing to issue notices to each condo owner/legal resident which outline the Dane County order that masks must be worn as soon as you leave your actual living environment. Any appropriate notice should also outline that ones actual building entrances, enclosed and secured common areas and garage areas shared by others is not considered that condo owner/legal residents' living area. That masks must be worn to protect others.

I believe that Cherokee management and the Cherokee board are in direct violation of the Dane County Executive order and are potentially negligent for failing to act by not at least issuing NOTICE to each condominium owner/legal resident.

I also believe that the Cherokee Country Club (private) pool area are also in direct violation of the county executive order and the mandate that limits patrons in the actual pool and pool area. Any reasonable person can identify that the number of people in that specific pool between 12-4 pm is at best, an incubator for covid19 and those who are quite possibly asymptomatic.

In closing,
These are most definitely unprecedented times in Madison and Wisconsin.
Cherokee Condominium management bares the burden and the responsibility to communicate timely, accurate detailed information as to each owner/legal resident responsibility and what each condo owner/legal resident is expected to do. For Cherokee management to simply issue an verbal declaration that 'they're not getting involved' is at minimum a direct violation to the County Executive order mandating masks in shared living areas and enclosed (shared) garage areas and pool limits.

*I would prefer that my name not be shared with Cherokee management because I fear reprisal/retaliation and harassment by management and other residents who obviously don't support the county executives order.

*We're all in this together.
I'm not asking for Cherokee to police the buildings. But I do believe they have a responsibility to protect residents from others who could very well be asymtomatic!
I'm simply shocked that Cherokee refuses to issue any type of appropriate timely notice (to each owner) that outlines that masks must be worn within the shared living spaces of each individual enclosed building common areas and garages on Cherokee grounds.
But no such notices have been issued. People are coming and going everywhere within the common areas without wearing a mask.

Sincerely,
Dolores Zach

Happy Monday!

Wow, what a weekend. We were able to attend THREE races at our neighboring tracks by just crossing a county line or two. Fans were socially distanced, concessions were safely maintained and executed... all the things MIS is capable and willing to do to open!

I also see pools were allowed to open. Wow. 250 ppl in 1 pool but our 10,000 capacity seating is allowed 25. Again, explain to my bankrupting business how that makes sense. Inconsistencies and ignorance, that's how.

Please re-designate Madison International Speedway as OUTDOOR ENTERTAINMENT AND AMUSEMENT so that our business can open and our family can try to pay our enormous debts.

Another lovely Friday night to race at MIS! Tonight would have been BUCK NIGHT with $1 concessions, how fun! Our fans would be socially distancing easily. They would all arrive and leave at staggered times (much different than MASS GATHERING INDOOR movie theaters whom are allowed 50% capacity).

But I digress, we've been over these crucial details ALL WEEK with more radio silence from your department. At least the Henry Villas Zoo can be open on this lovely Friday from 9:30am-4:30pm with 50% capacity (doing some loose math 400ppl/hr over 7 hrs = 2800 ppl ALL DAY LONG). MIS has been continuously asking since March for a 20% capacity (max 2000 ppl with many less touch points as the zoo).

And I see Madison Public Pools are allowed to open this week. WOW. I'll leave this topic for next week's emails.

Have a great weekend. Our family is going to venture to neighboring, less restrictive, small business friendly Counties to support OPEN race tracks.

Can you please explain to me how a protest (and I know that you are sick of hearing how protests seem exempt from your emergency orders because to those of us who are not allowed to open their businesses, they appear to be) is NOT a mass gathering. Please run through the thought process with me how protests are NOT PLANNED (they advertise them all over social media), how they DO NOT involve large numbers of people (I have plenty of social media screenshots to contradict that ), and how protest DO NOT clearly set a specific time and place to start?

Madison International Speedway can safely stagger entry and exit times to our facility, we have plenty of room to social distance, and have already set up guidelines and procedures to keep our fans safe. Please let us know if you would like an opportunity to actually view our facility to assess this. We have found ourselves with an abundance of time this summer and our schedule is open.

Thanks for taking the time to read my daily email. Really hoping to receive a response one of these days. There is still time for our family to open at a reasonable, safe % of capacity, have a few events and start paying off our mounting debt that no one else is going to cover for us.

Every weekly track in the state is open other than the two in Dane County. We should be allowed to open at a % of capacity (20% to start?), with a reviewed and agreed upon plan in place. Our seasonal business has now lost another weekend and we would greatly appreciate any direction in regards to future capacity limits and changes to such within the Forward Dane Order. We are hearing that Illinois will allow facilities such as race tracks and other outdoor sporting events to open at 25% capacity on June 26.

Again, we are open to continuing to work with you all on this, but would greatly appreciate a line of communication so we can plan our next steps with our business. As you can imagine, between the amount of protestors, the release of Emergency Order #4 allowing 25% capacity at churches and speedways throughout the state being open for business without issue, we continue to seek a fair resolution that will allow the survival of our family business.

A response would be greatly appreciated as not knowing continues to create great emotional strain on our family as a whole. Thank you.

My wife Angie and I own and operate Madison Speedway in rural Rutland township between Oregon and Stoughton. With today's announcement concerning Emergency Order #4 in regards to a 25% capacity limit now allowed at churches vs the previous 50 person limit, is it possible to have an open discussion in regards to % limits versus a number limit for outdoor venues such as ours? Currently we are being held to 50 people with a 250 limit currently set during Phase 3 of the Forward Dane document.

With nearly 50 acres and hosting spectator events each Friday night throughout the summer and the second Thursday of each month, our remaining July, August and September schedule consists of a total of 13 spectator events. Currently, our local Walgreens has a greater capacity than our venue. We are more than willing to work with you all on a plan that will allow us to reopen, the current and future imposed attendance restrictions will likely force us to close our business. Thank you for any insight you can provide.

Hi Gregg,

Sorry I missed your call earlier; I did receive your voicemail and do have updated news for you. PHMDC just released the emergency order #3 that will be effective 5/26/2020, which implements Phase 1: https://publichealthmdc.com/documents/2020-05-22_Order_3.pdf.

Order #3 clarifies that as a planned event, races at your facility are considered a mass gathering and therefore per the limits in the order may have up to 50 individuals (excluding employees).

If you have questions about the order or its interpretation, I'm referring you to Marci Paulsen, Assistant City Attorney for Madison, as she represents PHMDC. She is cc-d on this email.

Regarding the preinspections for next week, Eric Olson will be the one to do them. He is on vacation this week but is back on Tuesday and will reach out then to schedule them.

Thank you,

Is there somebody else that we need to talk to? This is our family owned and operated business that we have dedicated 27 years plus (since I was 14, and even before) towards building, it is of utmost importance to us that we are allowed to open just as other businesses are being allowed to. We understand that we are a niche business, but we should not be penalized for being one. We have a plan in place and are ready to go.

We do not understand how indoor operations are allowed to open at 25% capacity when we may not be allowed to, many with more interaction and touch points than we have here. For example, the following indoor businesses are allowed to open at 25% during phase 1 (Which I think is great)

-Restaurants and Bars

-Retail

-Gym/Recreational facilities

-Indoor Shopping Malls

-Licensed Swimming Pools

-Indoor Places of Art and Culture (Movie Theaters, going to the races is exactly the same as going to a movie, in every aspect other than we are outside)

-Bowling Alleys

We feel that we are an outdoor place of amusement and activity, if amusement parks, zoos and miniature golf can be open, we surely can be as well. How do any of the above qualify any more than we do? Especially the indoor facilities with numerous points of contact.

Please let us know if there is someone else we need to contact to share our story or when you may be able to provide us more direction. We deserve to know by tomorrow if not before. Thank you for your time.

Thank you for getting back to us. Our conditional use permit places our grandstand capacity at 10,000 people. If we were granted approval to operate our business, I know that we have ample room to allow for proper distancing as well as the ability to follow proper guidelines.

In our Competitor Area

- -Competitors are limited to 6 people total per team.
- -Teams must stay in their own pit area.
- -6’ Distance to be required on spotters stand and in pit stands We have painted every other board white and blue to help distance, most stand along top of hill.
- -Drivers meeting will be via public address system, there will be no gathering in pit area.
- -Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.
- -All team members must agree in writing that they will adhere to all policies and restrictions prior to entering the restricted area and will be encouraged to wear face coverings

In our Main Seating Area

-We will limit attendance to 2,000 (20%)

spectators for our May 29, June 5, June 11 and June 12 events and then work with health officials to expand capacity limits from that point. At no time in 2020 will we ask for greater than 50% capacity

- Additionally we are prepared to have ushers help direct groups to open areas to ensure distancing in grandstands, forming family seating arrangements of 2-4-6 with 6 feet of spacing between seating groups, utilizing measurement tools as needed.

-All concession stands will be equipped with plexi glass to separate attendees from staff

-Concession lines will be limited to one person per group, queuing areas will also be clearly marked with distancing markings

-Hand Sanitizer (already acquired) will be available throughout the facility at key locations including gates and concession areas

-Two employees will be responsible for monitoring and disinfecting high touch areas as well as rest rooms during each event.

-Use of face coverings highly encouraged

--Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.

We are open to further suggestions, and look forward to working with you. Currently, the only weekly race tracks in the state unable to open are Madison International Speedway and Angell Park Speedway in Sun Prairie. All others have indicated their intentions of opening in the coming weeks, some have already held events with others opening this weekend.

Dear Ella,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Dear County Executive Parisi,

My name is Ella Nowicki and I am writing to urge you to support 2020 Resolution 145 from County Supervisor Doyle. I ask you to work to reduce incarceration--especially during this pandemic which puts incarcerated peoples' lives at risk--by supporting Resolution 145, which will help address systemic racism in the criminal justice system.

Resolution 145 would:
1.) Press pause on plans for a new jail;
2.) Add voices of people of color to the Criminal Justice Council; and
3.) Propose implementing meaningful reforms that could reduce the need for beds in the jail, hopefully to prevent the construction of a new jail in the first place.

I know that funding the jail was a long and contentious process and I understand that it is difficult to revisit plans that are already in motion, but I think the current moment demands that we reconsider the decision to fund a new jail. COVID-19 has shown that there are hundreds of people in jail who don't need to be, that these people's lives are at risk unjustly, and that both incarceration and the pandemic disproportionately affects Black people. The population of the Dane County Jail has gone from 746 on March 10, to 441 on April 19, raising the question of why a $148 million, 922-bed jail is needed. There is also increasingly broad public support for serious criminal justice reforms to reduce racial disparities. These conditions may cause the public to reconsider the need for a jail, so I think it is necessary and worthwhile to bring this discussion back to the Board of Supervisors. The pandemic is a new development in debates about incarceration and the citizens of Dane County have the right to have our opinions heard given this new information and data; opinions may have changed, so it is only fair to reopen the discussion.

Before proceeding with planning and construction efforts, we need to press pause and ask what is in the best interest of our communities, especially communities of color. We have the opportunity to think creatively and compassionately about reform efforts that can make Dane County a safer and more just place to live for all community members, and we need to exhaustively explore and fund these efforts to keep our jail population to a minimum before we build a new one.

Please express support for Resolution 145.

Thank you,

Ella Nowicki

Dear County Executive Joe Parisi

I'm a Dane County resident who is deeply concerned about racial equity in Dane county. I'm asking you to support 2020 Res 145 which would reduce the number of incarcerated people in Dane County including non-law enforcement crisis response services. This is especially important given that Black people are vastly over-represented in Dane County's jail population.

Thank you for your consideration and your service to our community.

Dear County Executive Parisi, District Attorney Ozanne, County Board Supervisors, and Circuit Court Judges (by way of Chief Deputy Clerk of Court Widish),

$148 million is a lot of money. $227 million (anticipated cost with interest) is even more. To sink such an amount into a carceral system we have come as a community to understand as failing year after year to deliver on the goals it purports to hold is not just irresponsible; it is indefensible.

Furthermore, given the disproportionate rate at which the carceral system jails people of color, and especially Black people, it is long past time our leaders think differently about how we can best serve the justice needs of our community. $227 million in a new jail would represent a lack of imagination, a lack of care for that inequality, and a lack of responsibility to serve all Dane County residents with the sense of duty to one's community that likely drew each of you, at least in part, to your respective public service positions.

You have an opportunity in 2020 Res 145 to take nearly a quarter of a billion dollars and show what it looks like to think differently and compassionately about serving justice in our county. You could make a state and even national example of doing so, and goodness knows we need and are being called to develop such models more than ever.

Please support 2020 Res 145, and thank you in advance for your thoughtful consideration of this matter.

Sincerely,
Serena Larkin

Supervisor Schwellenbach,

I live in your district, at 7030 Fawn Lane, and wish to voice my support for Resolution 145. Dane County is a wonderful place to live, with thriving cities, beautiful scenery, wonderful schools, and a strong economy...for some.

The racial disparity in Dane County, and furthermore, in Wisconsin is a crisis and an embarrassment considering how great the county is for the rest of us. I hope you consider methods to help keep families together so that home life for future generations isn't wrought with financial burden, logistical nightmares, and bitter anger towards 'the system' as the fruits of those labors are showing in today's America.

Hello, The future of a more equitable, less systematically racist Madison, and Dane County is in your hands. Please support investments in the education, health and safety of Black people, instead of investments in the criminalizing, caging, and harming of Black people. Please halt the plan to spend $148 M on the jail project and instead divert that money to help pull people out of poverty. Black people are vastly over-represented in Dane County's jail population, this is not the way forward.

Good Afternoon,

I am a Dane County citizen and I would like to register my support of 2020 Res 145.

Both nationally and locally, the Movement for Black Lives calls for "investments in the education, health and safety of Black people, instead of investments in the criminalizing, caging, and harming of Black people." We have an opportunity to do just that, here in Dane County.

The recently-introduced 2020 Res 145 would halt Dane County's controversial $148M jail plan ($227M with interest), commit to ending systemic racism in our criminal justice system, and pursue solutions to reduce the number of incarcerated people in Dane County including non-law enforcement crisis response services. Black people are vastly over-represented in Dane County's jail population.

Thank you for registering my support,
-Elizabeth Jesse

Dear Robert,

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

I write in strong support of 2020 Res 145, and urge you to vote for this resolution to halt Dane County's jail plan, to commit to ending systemic racism in our criminal justice system, and to pursue solutions to reduce the number of incarcerated people in Dane County including non-law enforcement crisis response services. Our country, our county and our city have stood up and said Enough! to anti-Black racism in the US, especially in our criminal justice system. As you well know, African Americans are vastly over-represented in Dane county in our prison population. It is time to reduce our investment in police and jails and reinvest in critical social services for our underserved communities of color.

Dear Dane County Board, County Executive, and District Attorney:

I am writing to voice my strong support for 2020 Res 145. We need fewer people in jails, and building a new jail is not a good way to accomplish the goal of having fewer people in jails.

As a nation, we comprise 5% of the world's population but 25% of the world's prison population (coincidentally, also 25% of the world's COVID-19 cases). This is not the industry I want my nation to be known for internationally. The unsafe conditions in our jail facilities and the unjust way in which our criminal justice system dispenses so-called justice are issues that concern me, too.

Dear Executive Parisi,

I support Dane County resolution 145 and I urge you to do the same, to fight the racial disparities in the criminal justice system and shift funding from the building of new jail to human service solutions. Please do not spend hundreds of millions of dollars of our tax money to continue the same system that has ruined the lives of so many people of color over the decades. Do the hard work of reform.

Dear Supervisors, dear County Executive:
I am writing in support of 2020 Res 145, "Addressing systemic racism in the Dane County criminal justice system and investing in alternatives to incarceration outside of law enforcement."
Many of you have asserted that "Black Lives Matter" and we need to end racism. Stopping the new jail, diverting funding away from policing and incarceration, and endorsing the other measures of 2020 Res 145 can be a meaningful step of turning talk into action.
Respectfully,

Dear County Board, Mr. Parisi, Mr. Ozanne and Mr. Levin,

Regardless of your political affiliation, please support 2020 Res 145. Please at least skim the information and then heed the UFAS plea below.

Few of us do much, in the grand scheme of things, to make the world a better place.

But supporting this is something you — unlike the rest of us — have to power to do.

And I recall voting for all of you in the hope you would give determined support to initiatives precisely like this one.

Thank you in advance,

Why I argue you should support this resolution, regardless of your political affiliation:

Nationally and locally, the Movement for Black Lives calls for "investments in the education, health and safety of Black people, instead of investments in the criminalizing, caging, and harming of Black people." We have an opportunity to do just that, here in Dane County.

The recently-introduced 2020 Res 145 would halt Dane County's controversial $148M jail plan ($227M with interest), commit to ending systemic racism in our criminal justice system, and pursue solutions to reduce the number of incarcerated people in Dane County including non-law enforcement crisis response services. Black people are vastly over-represented in Dane County's jail population. Freedom Inc and Urban Triage are among the groups supporting 2020 Res 145.

2020 Res 145 also addresses how to stop using jail facilities in the City-County Building (jail supporters often point to these unsafe facilities). The expensive proposed jail would include 922 beds -- more than we needed before the pandemic. Changes made in response to the pandemic -- which can and should be continued -- reduced the jail population by 40 percent, to 441 people.

Dear Joe --

As a Madison resident at 646 Gately Ter., I would like you to know our family is in full support of 202 Res 145 and any overall efforts to reduce the number of incarcerated people in jails in the county, especially in light of the typical disproportionate number of BIPOC citizens that are represented in these numbers.

Growing up originally in Memphis, TN, I have seen all too frequently how the justice system in general can be a never-ending circular dance for those who are under-resourced, under-educated, or not-connected. The cycle is one of economics, and it is extremely difficult to get out from under the justice system when you make $12/hr and have to negotiate court fees, lawyer fees, fines, and other small things that pile up for many people even if just dealing with a small traffic incident or driving without a license, for example.

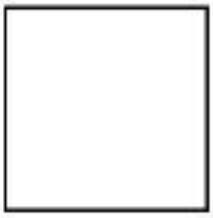

I am in full support of any efforts we can make to redirect funds to improving educational opportunities, community support networks for non-felony incidents, etc., to reduce pulling citizens into a hard-to-escape justice system and ultimately to reduce the numbers of BIPOC citizens who disproportionately find themselves incarcerated for non-felony incidents.

Thanks for your work on behalf of the county.

With kind regards --

Bertram Lyons

Hello County Executive Parisi,

I am writing to you as a resident of Dane County District 6 (Yogesh Chawla), asking that you support Resolution 145, which will halt the $148M ($227M with interest) jail plan, commit to ending systematic racism in our criminal justice system, and pursue solutions to reduce the number of incarcerated people in Dane County including non-law enforcement crisis response services.

Black people are vastly over-represented in Dane Country's jail population, and the answer cannot be to build more ways and systems to incarcerate people. The answer to society's problems can no longer be to throw human lives away. We need better solutions, which requires time, money, and thought.

I strongly support Resolution 145 and ask that you also support this resolution so that we can better use and deploy our resources to improve our justice system.

Thank you,

Good afternoon Patrick:

I appreciate your note and I hope you're staying safe and well during these times.

While these are challenging times on many fronts, I'm not entirely sure I accept the premise the relationship between AFSCME Dane County and the county's administration is contentious. After several consecutive years of wage increases, a continuation of a premium free county health insurance plan, and brand new retirement enhancers added in just the past 18 months, the county continued its worker friendly policies with its approach to the current Covid-19 pandemic. In every case possible, hundreds of county employees were sent home with pay very early on in the pandemic and with the exception of the tourism funded Alliant Energy Center, the county has not laid off a single general purpose revenue funded position - this despite we are projecting a decline in sales tax collections by nearly $25 million this year. In the good years our first priority was always the employees. We have not in a similar vein shared the burden and challenge of what has become an incredibly difficult 2020.

That said, we are aware there are some pending disciplinary proceedings and proposed changes to the employee handbook by the Department of Administration that have raised concerns. I need to also point out - the very framework and template you speak of that's held up as a model for other local units of government - affords all parties a very clear process for conflict resolution. The matters of disagreement can go before an independent hearing officer - a process by which both AFSCME Dane County and the County created in partnership. It's our recommendation the very process we created now be utilized. If we aren't willing to use what we created why would we ask others to utilize the standard we appropriately hold so highly? There's back and forth, give and take in every relationship and while the work is certainly sometimes difficult, any one challenging moment or conversation does not define the entirety of a relationship.

Shortly after your email was received, the county received communication from a law firm retained by the AFSCME Dane County. Given that, more formal responses on these matters from this point forward I think are best to come from Dane County's Corporation Counsel.

Best wishes,

Josh

County Executive Parisi,

The relationship between AFSCME Dane County locals and your administration is growing increasingly contentious. As the Executive Director of AFSCME Wisconsin I am registering my concerns with you directly in hopes of reversing the path we are on.

I have attached a letter that Greg Brockmeyer sent to the presidents of the AFSCME-affiliated Dane County employee groups and members of the Dane County Board Personnel & Finance Committee. This correspondence is an escalation of the deteriorating relationship between your administration and AFSCME-represented Dane County employees. I hope that by drawing your attention to it, you will take the steps necessary to reset our relationship.

In the interest of full transparency, as an organization, we hold up "the Dane County Way" as a template for Wisconsin's progressive municipal employers to duplicate. This is a template that ensures workers have a real voice in the workplace while ensuring that the essential work that citizens demand is accomplished. To have attacks on this model coming from members of your administration, while we're holding Dane County up as an example of how to do things right, is ironic to say the least.

To be clear: I expect all AFSCME staff to strenuously advocate for workers while being as respectful as warranted by the situation. As far as I can tell, Mr. Rainford did just that. Mr. Brockmeyer's offense with workers' chosen representative and the fulfilment of their duty to their members surprises me since it is a cornerstone of the union management relationship.

I ask again that you take the steps necessary to reset this relationship and that your administration immediately withdraw its anti-union assaults on the underpinnings of the employee groups. As of the writing of this letter, you have yet to meet with Mr. Rainford and AFSCME representatives to discuss our serious concerns. I urge you to find time to make that happen.

As I understand it, you asked Mr. Rainford and our union leaders to avoid taking issues with your administration public and work collaboratively to resolve issues in the past. We have tried to comply, however the actions of your administration are making that request increasingly impossible. Yesterday's letter, as well as the various attacks on the foundations of the employee groups, constitute classic union-busting tactics that we cannot ignore. These issues must be resolved immediately. Our members are on the front line of the coronavirus pandemic, and deserve to have Dane County live up to its promise of being a strong, labor supportive, employer.

I appreciate your consideration in this matter.

Thank you,

PLEASE DISTRIBUTE TO RENTAL HOUSING PROVIDERS AND MANAGERS

MONTHLY SURVEY THROUGH 2020

Dane County and the state of Wisconsin have both announced rental assistance programs using federal CARES Act resources for tenants experiencing Covid19-related income loss.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this survey is to gain real-time understanding of the impact of COVID-19 on renters and landlords/property owners in the City of Madison and Dane County. This information will help city, county, and non-profit agencies plan and evaluate ongoing housing assistance program needs.

CONFIDENTIALITY

All answers are confidential and no personal or property information will be collected or identifiable. Please do not identify tenants by name or list the address of your property/properties. Individual survey responses will not be published; only combined data from all survey responses will be published.

TIME TO COMPLETE SURVEY

This survey will take approximately 6-8 minutes to complete. If you're a property owner with multiple LLCs, estimated time may be greater.

ANSWERING THE SURVEY

The person who answers this survey (respondent) should be an owner of rental properties, a property manager, or an employee of a property management company and have knowledge of the current status of units they own or manage.

Answer each question to the best of your knowledge with the information you have available today ONLY about properties you own or manage that are located in the City of Madison or within Dane County, Wisconsin.

We will ask you to respond to this survey for the next few months to track changes in rent difficulties over time.

CONTACT INFORMATION

This survey is a partnership between the City of Madison, Dane County and the University of Wisconsin - Madison.

The survey is being conducted by Prof. Kurt Paulsen at the UW-Madison. If you have any questions about the survey, you can email Prof. Paulsen at kpaulsen@wisc.edu, Linette Rhodes with the City of Madison at LRhodes@cityofmadison.com or Olivia Parry with Dane County at Parry@countyofdane.com.

Thank you for your participation in this survey.

JULY 2020 SURVEY LINK

PLEASE RESPOND BY JULY 26, 2020

Thank you for your response.

I sincerely hope that you are in favor of Resolution 145.

After familiarizing myself a bit with the method of organization on the Dane County website, it appears that resolution 145 is still in committee but I do not see a set date the next time that this topic is being discussed by the Personnel Committee.

Good Day Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Natalie Kingsfield and I live at 401 Kedzie St, Madison, WI 53704.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Your Dane County Constituent

Hello everyone-

Attached are some draft confidential materials we will use for the budget briefing tomorrow. The goal is primarily to help you understand our approach to the GPR cut and to ensure your comfort with our methodology so we will work from the "request summary" document. I've also attached a selection of options papers to give you a flavor for some of the assumptions that went into the approach and to highlight a few areas where your feedback would be helpful. If we have time, we will cover that as well.

Many, many thanks to Chad and Edjuana for getting us to this point. I feel good about the budget from the standpoint of balancing needs, reflecting priorities and doing so in a way that adds additional transparency in this difficult year. This is a proposal of "shared pain" between stakeholders that is based on data, and protecting our core services.

Dear County Executive Parisi, District Attorney Ozanne, County Board Supervisors, and Circuit Court Judges (by way of Chief Deputy Clerk of Court Widish),

$148 million is a lot of money. $227 million (anticipated cost with interest) is even more. To sink such an amount into a carceral system we have come as a community to understand as failing year after year to deliver on the goals it purports to hold is not just irresponsible; it is indefensible.

Furthermore, given the disproportionate rate at which the carceral system jails people of color, and especially Black people, it is long past time our leaders think differently about how we can best serve the justice needs of our community. $227 million in a new jail would represent a lack of imagination, a lack of care for that inequality, and a lack of responsibility to serve all Dane County residents with the sense of duty to one's community that likely drew each of you, at least in part, to your respective public service positions.

You have an opportunity in 2020 Res 145 to take nearly a quarter of a billion dollars and show what it looks like to think differently and compassionately about serving justice in our county. You could make a state and even national example of doing so, and goodness knows we need and are being called to develop such models more than ever.

Please support 2020 Res 145, and thank you in advance for your thoughtful consideration of this matter.

Sincerely,

Serena Larkin

Hello,

I just want to send my gratitude and applause to the Sun Prairie and Madison school districts for making a socially sensible decision on reopening the schools. I know there is no good decision. And I recognise the disparities and the great inequalities that will be brought to light even more than before--however, science doesn't lie.

Lets hope our country's systemic failure to support parents and childcare (and a million other things) is now recognized by those who matter and a change is made! I applaud the efforts made by our school board and directors and Dr. Saron in making this incredibly hard decision.

Please do not waiver, and keep schools shut for the first quarter as announced today; with a safe and gradual reopening.

With Gratitude,
Kaitlin Hansen, Sun Prairie resident, parent, and human rights advocate

I was hoping to see if there were any opportunities within the courthouse that I could take advantage of in order to secure the fact that I do want to go down that career path. Obviously, I know that there would be a delay on everything because of Covid, but I was hoping to prepare something for once regulations are able to ease up. Hi Joe,
Recognition as a Top Workplace is a proven way to strengthen your employer brand and set your organization apart from competitors.
Organizations named as Top Workplaces see these differentiators from average workplaces:
- 48% higher employee engagement
- 43% higher employee retention

Now's your chance to get recognized on The Wisconsin State Journal Top Workplaces list.
Do you have 15 minutes to talk on either Tuesday or Wednesday?

Good morning NWS Milwaukee Health Service/School/Media Partners,

Here is an update regarding the chances for thunderstorms this afternoon and evening.

Bottom Line Up Front
Scattered thunderstorms are expected this afternoon and evening. Cloud to ground lightning and gusty winds are the main concerns. Any threat for stronger storms is contingent upon whether clouds clear out. Can't rule out a strong storm or two but severe thunderstorms are not expected.

What has changed?
Higher confidence in scattered thunderstorms occurring this afternoon and evening with the overall threat for severe weather remaining low.

Forecast Information
Where: All of southern WI
What: Scattered thunderstorms with cloud to ground lightning and gusty winds.
When: This afternoon and evening.
Impacts: Cloud to ground lightning. Gusty winds possibly affecting temporary shelters.

Subject: draft Wednesday Press Conference Outline

Given Congress and the White House are starting work in earnest this week on another potential federal "CARES" bill, we thought the Wednesday media update could be focused on a couple things:

1. We need to keep testing going at the Alliant Energy Center supported by the National Guard. As of now, that contract expires August 7th.
2. We have successfully utilized CARES funding to stabilize emergency housing and food needs across the community and prevent small businesses from closing. That said, given the current trajectory of COVID our community needs additional federal support to meet basic needs as the pandemic continues to impact the physical and economic health of our community.

Testing

Over 70,711 people have been tested at the Community Testing Site at the Alliant Energy Center. Additional neighborhood testing sites have been established with CARES funds to ensure communities of color and those in poverty have access to testing. These partners include Meadowood, Boys and Girls Club, and others. Why is this important? Hispanic or Latinx people who tested positive made up 17% of cases and 10% of hospitalizations while accounting for just 6% of the population, and Black people made up 13% of cases and 23% of hospitalizations, and account for 6% of the population.

Eviction Prevention:

As of late last week:

- Applications received: 5534
- Rental Assistance Authorized: $4,677,665.93
- 84.5% of over the $4.6 million in applications processed went to non-white households - 42% Black, 27% Latinx/Hispanic
- Close to $10 million in requests have been received so far
- Over 88% of applicants report job/income loss
- TRC had over 1100 requests for housing counseling, mediation and assistance with applications
- Approximately 40% are in the eviction process

In this first month of the program, the Tenant Resource Call center received over 10,000 calls, 1000s of emails and over 5000 applications. At this time, TRC will need to stop taking requests for future rental assistance and shift focus on the current applications within the system and those that will likely be submitted in the coming week for those with active eviction cases that have been filed. The application process will not be shut down at this time but TRC will be prioritizing households that are at the highest risk of homelessness (specifically those with an eviction filing or a stipulation that is in default).

Emergency Food Assistance:

2nd Harvest ordered $901,000 worth of food in June. $581,000 of this was ordered through Dane County vendors. $156,000 purchased produce grown in Dane County (the bulk of this was through Garden-to-Be and Elderberry Farms. Garden-to-Be aggregates food from Dane County Hmong growers and it's expected more food will be bought from more Hmong gardens in July.

49% of the food ordering done last month was for meat with UW Provisions being the primary source of meat ordered.

178,000 pounds of food was distributed to 57 Dane County partner agencies in June. The three largest distribution points: Badger Prairie Needs Network received over 8,000 pounds, the River Food Pantry over 29,000 pounds, and Middleton Outreach Ministry Food Pantry took over 11,000 pounds.

Second Harvest will continue to run out of the AEC until at least the New Year. We have reached a contract extension with them running through 12/31/2020.

Of perhaps greater note, Second Harvest is projecting a 61% increase in local food insecurity by the end of August - latest sign that we are in it for the long haul on all things Covid.

As of now, our local food purchasing contract with Second Harvest runs through the end of October, we will obviously have to review that in time depending on projected/actual emergency food needs.

Dane County Small Business Pandemic Assistance Fund

Seven rounds of funding totaling $8.4M has been awarded to 2095 Dane County businesses. It looks like we will have a total of 11 rounds when we complete the process. Rounds 8-11 are "smaller" rounds. The average grant to this point has been just over $4,000 per business. 27% of the funds have gone to Dane County minority owned businesses. 55% went to women owned businesses. Based on DBL projections, there may be enough funds to cover everyone who applied, with a grant of some form. Grant applications closed June 15th but DBL continues to receive 2 requests: can businesses still apply and given COVID expenses are continuing, could more money please be made available? Several businesses have told DBL they would be out of business if it weren't for this grant program. Most business owners are very appreciative.

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

As a tax payer of this county, I highly suggest that you Mr. Parisi get this Health Order #8 rescinded immediately due to the fact the Health Department does not have the constitutional authority or you as an elected representative to mandate people to wear a mask. This needs to end and as your employer I highly urge you to move on this immediately. I will email everyday until this is rescinded. As a friendly reminder you are able to be recalled as well.
There needs to be accountability with this Health Department and right now I am seeing none. We have rights out here as citizens to which they are walking all over on.

County Awards 2020 Dane County Environmental Council Grants

$18,513 Awarded for 19 Projects to Help with Local Environmental Conservation, Restoration, and Education Efforts

Dane County approved $18,513 in grant awards through the Dane County Environmental Council's Community Partners and Capital Equipment programs, Dane County Executive Joe Parisi announced today.

"Congratulations to this year's recipients of the Dane County Environmental Council Grants," said County Executive Parisi. "Through these partnerships, we are able to continue improving and conserving the county's outdoor spaces, while also creating opportunities to educate and inspire the next generation to care for our natural resources."

The grants will fund 19 environmental conservation, restoration, and education projects across the county. Dane County Environmental Council grants award funding to a diverse group of community organizations, school districts, and municipalities.

Examples of this year's projects include prairie and savanna restoration, environmental education, trail improvements, equipment purchases to manage invasive species, and monitor water quality. All of the projects must take place in Dane County and provide a benefit to Dane County natural resources and residents. A full listing of grant recipients can be found below.

Funding for Environmental Council grants is provided through Dane County's Land and Water Legacy Initiative as well as generous donations from local businesses, including the American Transmission Company and Madison Gas & Electric Foundations. Grant recipients also provide matching funds in order to complete their projects.

The Dane County Environmental Council is a six-member panel appointed by County Executive Parisi and confirmed by the County Board. The Council assists groups in recognizing and protecting natural areas in Dane County and assumes an educational role in the awareness, conservation and protection of the environment.

EHLERS
PUBLIC FINANCE ADVISORS

Building Communities.
It's what we do.

July 21, 2020

Dear Clients & Communities,

To better serve all of you and stay connected during this time when so many of us continue to work remotely, we are upgrading our telecommunications systems.

This system conversion will begin at 6:00 p.m. CDT this evening and we expect it to be complete by approximately 8:00 a.m. CDT tomorrow morning (July 22nd). During this time, our telephone system will be unavailable. While we're confident we'll be "back in business" first thing tomorrow, should you have any difficulties reaching us, please email your Ehlers advisor or reply to this email and we will respond as quickly as possible.

Thank you for your patience and flexibility.

Sincerely,

Your Ehlers Team

Drive-Thru Pickup Option

The Fitchburg Center Farmers Market will be open every Thursday from 3 – 6p.m. for walk up customers and a drive-thru pickup for preorders.

Local vendors will be featuring fresh produce, bakery items, meats, eggs, cheese, walnuts, plants, hanging baskets, soaps, fiber, organic and gluten free options, and more each week.

Due to the outbreak of COVID-19, the market has adapted to keep everyone safe. Our plans are approved by Dane County Public Health.

We will have producer stands under the Agora Pavilion (5511 East Cheryl Parkway) that comply with recommendations for public safety to allow walk-up purchases (3 p.m. – 6 p.m.).

We are also offering a preorder for pickup at the market drive thru. (Drive-thru hours are 3p.m to 5:30p.m) Customers can go to www.FitchburgMarket.com to see a list of vendors offering preorders for pick-up.

Rules Regarding Pre-Orders

Walnut and Bakery Orders must be in by 4pm Wednesday

Other Vendors Orders must be in by 10am on Thursday

The Drive up will be available from 3 - 5:30 p.m. on Thursdays for preorder only.

Market Pre-order Page

CLICK ON INDIVIDUAL HYPERLINKS FOR VENDORS on Market PreOrder Page (some have web platforms, others take email/phone orders).
Embedded Links are the preference of Vendors themselves - some have online shopping platforms, others email addresses or other means for ordering. This is a learning process for many of our vendors who are not yet proficient with online ordering systems, so your patience is appreciated as we begin this new market model.

Many Vendors will also have tables set up on Market Day but will be restricted to Dane County Public Health guidelines in the interest of public safety.

Subject: Supporting Resolution 145

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear County Executive Parisi,

My name is Hannah Eldridge and I live at 2626 Park Place.

I am writing to urge you to support Supervisor Doyle's resolution (resolution 145) to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

We have the chance to learn from the COVID pandemic, during which the jail has released many of its inhabitants: we must keep it that way. If we don't need to jail people now, why do we need to do so next month or next year? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

I know that there are serious safety concerns regarding the existing jail structure. Resolution 145 addresses safety measures and, because it advises taking them now, rather than when the new jail would be ready in 5 years, would make the jail inhabitants safer sooner than building a new jail.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

With best wishes,
Hannah Eldridge

Urban League of Greater Madison

We Mourn the Loss of Two Drum Majors for Peace

America just lost two of its iconic heroes: Reverend C.T. Vivian and Congressman John Lewis. These two Giants, like the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., were drum majors for Justice and peace. They both put their bodies on the line to ensure that the pursuit of Justice was not tarnished by violence. Their decisions to demonstrate peacefully shined a light on the systemic injustices that Black people faced across the nation. Their use of non-violent tactics was instrumental in advancing the movement toward Justice. The social Justice gains over our country over the last five plus decades came on the backs of their physical sacrifices.

I, along with the rest of the Urban of Greater Madison team, mourn the loss of these two heroes!

CT Vivian was a part of the first nonviolent protest in the 1940's. He taught others in the Civil Rights Movement the tactics and more so, the value of non-violent protest. Dr. Martin Luther King referred to him as "the best preacher" that he knew. That was a tremendous accolade coming from one of America's most noted orators. Many here in Madison got the opportunity to meet and hear Reverend Vivian during Madison's 2012 Martin Luther King , Jr. observance at the Overture Center and he was dynamic.

Reverend Vivian founded the Nashville Christian Leadership Conference an affiliate of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). He led civil rights sit-ins, organized Freedom Riders, marches, and voter's registration movements. His Civil Rights work spanned across six decades. On many occasions, he was the subject of violence and excessive use of force by the police. A recorded attack of him by police in Selma was one of the things that sparked the march across the Edmund Pettus Bridge. Vivian also created a college readiness program to help care for children kicked out of school for protesting racism. C.T. Vivian received a medal of Freedom in 2013 from President Barak Obama.

Congressman John Lewis played a very visible and active role in America's Civil Rights Movement. From the March on Washington to crossing of the Edmund Pettus Bridge, Congressman Lewis put his body on the line and dedicated his life to the pursuit of Justice by peaceful means. He is an American hero not just a hero to Black Americans. Many have referred to him as the conscious of congress. He often said "when you see something is not going right you have a moral obligation to say something and do something. "

In 1961 John Lewis, a 21 years old Freedom Rider, helped integrate public transit. He was also the Chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). Additionally, he was the youngest person to speak at the March on Washington in 1963. He was just 23 years old at the time. John was a leader in the March in Selma and crossed the Edmund Pettus Bridge during "Bloody Sunday" in 1965. During this march Young John Lewis suffered a skull fracture as result of being attacked by the police. Despite all that he endured; he was often heard saying "we have come too far to turn back now."

John Lewis served on the city council in Atlanta, Georgia and in 1986 he was elected to Congress. In 2015, he got a chance to march arm in arm across the Edmund Pettus Bridge with President Barack Obama and thousands of other peaceful marchers to acknowledge the 50th anniversary of "Bloody Sunday" and the march for freedom. Lewis was awarded the presidential Medal of Freedom in 2011 by President Barack Obama.

Congressman Lewis' lifetime of work appealed to the conscious of all Americans!

In the spirit of these two great leaders, I hope that we all will continue to work together to advance this nation and address our differences in a peaceful manner. I hope that we all can be motivated from their lived examples and be inspired to pursue Justice and peace across the board in organizations across the nation, especially policing organization, and in street protests. These times require all Americans to pull together as one nation and to leverage and celebrate the strength of being the most diverse nation on the planet.

Dear Mary,
Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.
Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx
I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.
I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Dear County Board, Mr. Parisi, Mr. Ozanne and Mr. Levin,
Regardless of your political affiliation, please support 2020 Res 145. Please at least skim the information and then heed the UFAS plea below.
Few of us do much, in the grand scheme of things, to make the world a better place.
But supporting this is something you — unlike the rest of us — have to power to do.
And I recall voting for all of you in the hope you would give determined support to initiatives precisely like this one.
Thank you in advance,

Why I argue you should support this resolution, regardless of your political affiliation:
Nationally and locally, the Movement for Black Lives calls for "investments in the education, health and safety of Black people, instead of investments in the criminalizing, caging, and harming of Black people." We have an opportunity to do just that, here in Dane County.
The recently-introduced 2020 Res 145 would halt Dane County's controversial $148M jail plan ($227M with interest), commit to ending systemic racism in our criminal justice system, and pursue solutions to reduce the number of incarcerated people in Dane County including non-law enforcement crisis response services. Black people are vastly over-represented in Dane County's jail population. Freedom Inc and Urban Triage are among the groups supporting 2020 Res 145.
2020 Res 145 also addresses how to stop using jail facilities in the City-County Building (jail supporters often point to these unsafe facilities). The expensive proposed jail would include 922 beds -- more than we needed before the pandemic. Changes made in response to the pandemic -- which can and should be continued -- reduced the jail population by 40 percent, to 441 people.

Subject: Sun Prairie Schools

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Good Morning, Mr. Parisi

My name is Andy Johnson, Sun Prairie resident and father of four. I wrote to you previously, but you did not reply. I am writing an unrelated email in response to the decision by Sun Prairie Schools not opening for in-person instruction in fall, which has been attributed to lack of guidance and the worry that at any given time you could shut down all in-person instruction in Dane County. In a conversation with Dr. Brad Saron, I asked what we could do to get Sun Prairie schools open and one of the things he indicated was to write you an email with points I raised in our conversation.

In this city and all over the world, there are people that are as comfortable as reasonably possible with the covid-19 pandemic. We want to send our kids to school. We have weighed the risks of the disease with the risks of staying away from the disease and want the high quality education Sun Prairie has to offer in-person. There are teachers that, with precautions, would also choose to teach in-person. There are also people that are uncomfortable, afraid, and even terrified of the current state of the world. They have also weighed the risks and feel the risks outweigh other risks to their health and safety. Both ways of thinking are okay, and parents should do what is best for their children. However, there is a third group that doesn't have the luxury of choice in this sense. They do not have a contingency plan for a lack of school. They simply do not have the means in their household to not send their kids to school. Their feelings, unlike the other groups, don't really matter as they face a single course of action that fits their family. I am not part of that group, but I write this letter mainly on their behalf. This group is disproportionately made up of single parents and minorities. This group is more likely to be facing poverty, isolation, depression, suicide, and physical, mental, sexual, and substance abuse. They are more scared, and in their situation, rightfully so, of these things than the pandemic. While education is a great purpose of public education, it is also a necessity for many working families to make ends meet as it provides free childcare and, in many cases, free meals.

I think it is also worth noting the dramatic actions that will take place with schools not being open. Those who want it will find other schooling, which is privatized. People with means have the means to move on and WILL. I am already seeing feelers for pop-up schools. It is easy in this state to open them. This will drive down public school numbers, participation by those with means, and likely scores in those schools. The ones who bear the brunt of this are the group I mentioned above. We need to focus on getting 50% of students back in school 100% of the time and go from there. Even if those comfortable/forced are less than 50%, we have to aid that number. It is MUCH higher than the covid number.

I also request that you stop looking at people as virus spreaders. You are a hammer and see us as nails. We are real people with real lives that must go on for years. We have to look at the real short-term and long-term effects of decisions that you make. What may prevent a few deaths now will cause many more later....and if we all get exposed at some point, those few might have died anyways and our sacrificing for who knows how long will be for naught. We can make responsible choices if we can trust your guidance, which frankly needs to be better and less political.

Andy Johnson

Dear County Board Supervisor Levin, County Board Chair Eicher, and County Executive Parisi:

I am writing in strong support of County Board Supervisor Doyle's 2020 Resolution 145, "Addressing Systemic Racism in the Dane County Criminal Justice System and Investing in Alternatives to Incarceration Outside of Law Enforcement."

As a mentor to several young people in the area whose lives have been intertwined with law enforcement and corrections, I have seen first-hand how minor offenses snowball into increasingly insurmountable problems that wreak havoc on people's lives and abilities to "get ahead". As a social work professor, I am informed about issues such as smart decarceration, eliminating cash bail (which I wish Doyle's resolution addressed), and the research showing that investing in prevention disrupts the need for deeper-end system involvement.

Imagine if we truly invested in our citizens to ensure criminal activity doesn't seem like the only option for people in dire circumstances, struggling to get by. And imagine if we truly tried to rehabilitate rather than just punish those who commit crimes. Our communities would be safer and our citizens more productive, which in turn would strengthen our economy and make Madison a more attractive place for people and companies to move to. I am hoping to see bold leadership in our region that embraces and commits to these goals. This starts with dismantling the jail and prison system in its current form to ensure that many of the problems that lead people there are dealt with by more appropriate systems, that no one is held in jail simply due to inability to post bail (paupers' prison), and that surveillance mechanisms for low-level and non-violent offenders released on parole are not overly onerous so as to all but ensure re-entry in the jail or prison system. This should be accompanied by the investments outlined in Doyle's resolution and hopefully extended to other areas of prevention, such as enhancing the economic safety net and investing in child maltreatment prevention programming (child maltreatment is one of the strongest predictors of later entry into the criminal justice system).

Thank you for your time.

Many of our staff from Madison went and assisted our LaCrosse team to conduct an event at State Operated Wisconsin State Fair Park last night. Between sanitation stations, added and spread out bleachers, a disinfecting crew and additional measures, this outdoor Motorsports event, like countless others held in Wisconsin since May, went off without issue. We again ask that Madison International Speedway and Angell Park Speedway be allowed to open at a percentage of capacity as other similar businesses in Dane County have been allowed to do.

But I digress, we've been over these crucial details ALL WEEK with more radio silence from your department. At least the Henry Villas Zoo can be open on this lovely Friday from 9:30am-4:30pm with 50% capacity (doing some loose math 400ppl/hr over 7 hrs = 2800 ppl ALL DAY LONG). MIS has been continuously asking since March for a 20% capacity (max 2000 ppl with many less touch points as the zoo).

And I see Madison Public Pools are allowed to open this week. WOW. I'll leave this topic for next week's emails.

Have a great weekend. Our family is going to venture to neighboring, less restrictive, small business friendly Counties to support OPEN race tracks.

Today I want to address the wording regarding mass gatherings and how you categorize them. Apparently, MIS is categorized as a mass gathering because (I’m just going to screenshot from one of your generic responses to our many fans who have reached out to you because it is easier):

Kevin's Post

Can you please explain to me how a protest (and I know that you are sick of hearing how protests seem exempt from your emergency orders because to those of us who are not allowed to open their businesses, they appear to be) is NOT a mass gathering. Please run through the thought process with me how protests are NOT PLANNED (they advertise them all over social media), how they DO NOT involve large numbers of people (I have plenty of social media screenshots to contradict that ), and how protest DO NOT clearly set a specific time and place to start?

Madison International Speedway can safely stagger entry and exit times to our facility, we have plenty of room to social distance, and have already set up guidelines and procedures to keep our fans safe. Please let us know if you would like an opportunity to actually view our facility to assess this. We have found ourselves with an abundance of time this summer and our schedule is open.

Thanks for taking the time to read my daily email. Really hoping to receive a response one of these days. There is still time for our family to open at a reasonable, safe % of capacity, have a few events and start paying off our mounting debt that no one else is going to cover for us.

Obviously, the city and the county have much invested in those teams and nothing invested in Madison International Speedway. That is because the speedway is owned by my husband, myself and our two children- nope, no city involvement or big investors here. Below is a photo of our kids painting the bleachers of our small family farm, as we like to call it. I'm guessing that doesn't happen much at Breese Stevens Field.

McKarns is pushing for PHMDC to consider the speedway a "Place of Amusement and Activity" similar to a zoo or mo...

Every weekly track in the state is open other than the two in Dane County. We should be allowed to open at a % of capacity (20% to start?), with a reviewed and agreed upon plan in place. In order to have that plan, your side needs to begin to communicate with us. Thank you for your time, we look forward to your timely response.

Our seasonal business has now lost another weekend and we would greatly appreciate any direction in regards to future capacity limits and changes to such within the Forward Dane Order. We are hearing that Illinois will allow facilities such as race tracks and other outdoor sporting events to open at 25% capacity on June 26.

Again, we are open to continuing to work with you all on this, but would greatly appreciate a line of communication so we can plan our next steps with our business. As you can imagine, between the amount of protestors, the release of Emergency Order #4 allowing 25% capacity at churches and speedways throughout the state being open for business without issue, we continue to seek a fair resolution that will allow the survival of our family business.

A response would be greatly appreciated as not knowing continues to create great emotional strain on our family as a whole. Thank you.

Bonnie,

My wife Angie and I own and operate Madison Speedway in rural Rutland township between Oregon and Stoughton. With today's announcement concerning Emergency Order #4 in regards to a 25% capacity limit now allowed at churches vs the previous 50 person limit, is it possible to have an open discussion in regards to % limits versus a number limit for outdoor venues such as ours? Currently we are being held to 50 people with a 250 limit currently set during Phase 3 of the Forward Dane document.

With nearly 50 acres and hosting spectator events each Friday night throughout the summer and the second Thursday of each month, our remaining July, August and September schedule consists of a total of 13 spectator events. Currently, our local Walgreens has a greater capacity than our venue. We are more than willing to work with you all on a plan that will allow us to reopen, the current and future imposed attendance restrictions will likely force us to close our business. Thank you for any insight you can provide.

Wanted to check in to see if there was any further updates on capacity limits and/or Mass Gathering limits for when we are able to move into Phase 3. We have canceled all of our spectator events through June and just want to get an idea of whether 250 is still a solid number looking ahead to phase 3 or if another limit has been discussed. Now that we have another weekend behind us:

Can you explain how a June 27 game for Forward Madison FC at Breese Stevens Field is selling tickets online with no distancing between seats, no policy posted and the ability to buy up to 25 seats. By all indications this should not be allowed according to your order, what's fair for one is fair for all.

Additionally, we were out of town opening our business in La Crosse County over the weekend but have had multiple reports of large gatherings throughout the city and county for music and more including an organized protest. Meanwhile, countless race tracks have opened across the state including in adjacent counties.

We will continue to ask for an open communication about our family owned and operated business as long as we see the inconsistency of your order and how it is applied to businesses like ours. We continue to be closed while other indoor ticket selling businesses are permitted to open under your order while rotating clients throughout the day, 7 days a week, in the same seats and common areas.

We continue to ask for a percentage allowance as you have granted other businesses in our county, businesses that do not have the ability to social distance as we do at our 10,000 seat outdoor 50 acre facility. While the zoo, movie theaters, miniature golf and bowling alleys are allowed to operate at 25%, our business is held to 50 people.

We believe that if you were to make a site visit to our facility it would become clear that your order is incorrect in it's limitation of our ability to operate our business.

Further clarification on the email sent below:

What the email means is: Employee Relation is going back to the original way of processing FMLA requests.

The HC certifications is the Healthcare Provider Certification.
For a short period of time during COVID we were not requiring the Healthcare Provider Certification form (this is the form the doctor fills out).

If you were approved for an FMLA at any time from March to June and had your FMLA approved – you do not have to do anything to update as of this date.
If you were approved for an EFMLEA at any time from March to June and your EFMLEA was approved – you do not have to do anything.

The email was sent out to update the information sent to employees regarding the COVID 19 instructions.

Hello Partners-

ABC for Health continues to track birth cost recovery policy in Wisconsin. We call the policy the "birth tax," due to the harsh and often unexpected financial impact on unmarried pregnant women and families seeking BadgerCare Plus in Wisconsin. Counties have certain flexibility in implementing this policy and recently some, like Dane County, have abolished the practice. Others, like Milwaukee County, continue to debate the inequities and practice of collecting the Birth Tax.

Update: Milwaukee County Board Will Vote on the Birth Tax Resolution Thursday
The Resolution requesting the Milwaukee County Department of Child Support Services discontinue the discretionary practice of pursuing birth cost recovery collections in child support cases in Milwaukee County will go back before the full Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors for the second time on Thursday, July 23, 2020 at 9:30am. You can watch the meeting via live stream.

Please see the attached Partners Update for more information, including a link to the meeting agenda.

This Update will be saved on our Birth Tax website, with past Partner's Updates (under "press, publications & reports") and other useful links.

As a tax payer of this county, I highly suggest that you Mr. Parisi get this Health Order #8 rescinded immediately due to the fact the Health Department does not have the constitutional authority or you as an elected representative to mandate people to wear a mask. This needs to end and as your employer I highly urge you to move on this immediately. I will email everyday until this is rescinded. As a friendly reminder you are able to be recalled as well.
There needs to be accountability with this Health Department and right now I am seeing none. We have rights out here as citizens to which they are walking all over on.

Thank you,

Thanks, this is very helpful! I will plan on monitoring those meetings.

I also noticed the Criminal Justice Council has a meeting tomorrow, is there a reason why the resolution is not on that agenda?

Thanks,
Melanie

Dear Executive Parisi,

I support Dane County resolution 145 and I urge you to do the same, to fight the racial disparities in the criminal justice system and shift funding from the building of new jail to human service solutions. Please do not spend hundreds of millions of dollars of our tax money to continue the same system that has ruined the lives of so many people of color over the decades. Do the hard work of reform.

Dane County Calls on Federal Government to Bolster CARES Funding for Local COVID-19 Response Efforts as Pandemic Continues

Community Need for COVID-19 Testing, Eviction Prevention, Emergency Food Assistance, and Small Business Funding Remains High and Federal Support is Running Low

Today, Dane County Executive Joe Parisi joined community partners at the Alliant Energy Center to call on the federal government to bolster CARES funding for local COVID-19 response efforts. Dane County and its partners have successfully utilized CARES funding to stabilize emergency housing and food needs across the community and prevent small businesses from closing. However, given the current trajectory of COVID-19, additional federal support is needed to meet basic needs as the pandemic continues to impact the physical and economic health of the Dane County community.

“As the COVID-19 pandemic carries on, there will be a continued need for support from the federal government to help our community with testing, eviction prevention, emergency food assistance, and small business funding,” said County Executive Joe Parisi. “This pandemic is far from over, and we need all systems of support working together to address our community’s needs during this unprecedented time.”

County Executive Parisi is calling on the federal government to keep COVID-19 testing going at the Alliant Energy Center. The contract is set to expire August 7. Over 70,000 people have been tested for COVID-19 at the Alliant Energy Center’s community testing site. Through community partnerships, additional neighborhood testing sites have been established with CARES funds to ensure communities of color and those in poverty have access to testing. Hispanic or Latinx people who tested positive made up 17% of cases and 10% of hospitalizations, while accounting for just 6% of the population. African Americans made up 13% of cases and 23% of hospitalizations, and account for just 6% of the population. The continuation of these community testing efforts is vital in limiting the spread of COVID-19 and ensuring all Dane County residents have access to coronavirus testing.

In mid-June, Dane County partnered with the Tenant Resource Center to launch a more than $10 million emergency package to prevent evictions. In this first month of the program, the Tenant Resource Center received over 10,000 calls, thousands of emails, and over 5,000 applications. As of late last week, over 5,500 applications had been received and $4,677,665 in rental assistance was authorized. 84.5% of the funding went to non-white households (42% Black, 27% Latinx/Hispanic). Close to $10 million in requests have been received so far, with over 88% of applicants reporting job/income loss. The Tenant Resource Center had over 1,100 requests for housing counseling, mediation, and assistance with applications. Approximately 40% are in the eviction process.

“The work of the Tenant Resource Center is to advocate for housing justice by informing tenants and landlords of their rights and responsibilities under Wisconsin state law in addition to supporting individuals throughout the eviction process,” said Robin Sereno, Executive Director of the Tenant Resource Center. “We take this work seriously and to heart. To date, we have been able to support over 7,000 community members with rental assistance; thereby stabilizing their housing as a result of the CARES program partnership. We are committed to continuing this important work as long as it is needed because we know that housing is a human right.”

At this time, Dane County and the Tenant Resource Center’s eviction prevention program will need to stop taking requests for future rental assistance. The program will shift its focus onto the current applications within the system and those that will likely be submitted in the coming week for those with active eviction cases that have been filed. The Tenant Resource Center will not be shutting the program's application process down at this time, but will be prioritizing households that are at the highest risk of homelessness (specifically those with an eviction filing or a stipulation that is in default).

Near the beginning of May, County Executive Parisi announced a total of $10.8 million would be used to fund the Dane County Small Business Pandemic Support Grant Program. Through Dane County's partnership with Dane Buy Local, seven rounds of funding totaling $8.4 million has already been awarded, helping nearly 3,000 Dane County businesses. Dane Buy Local projects a total of 11 rounds will be needed to complete the grant process. The average grant amount has been just over $4,000 per business. 27% of the funds have gone to Dane County minority owned businesses, and 55% have gone to women owned businesses. Based on Dane Buy Local's projections, there may be enough funds to cover every qualifying business that applied with a grant of some form.

"CARES funding, provided to local businesses through a Dane County grant program, was essential for small business survival during the first few months of the pandemic. Without these funds, many more businesses would have closed. But as the pandemic drags on through the summer, fall, and winter, businesses are once again in need of cash support," said Colin Murray, Executive Director of Dane Buy Local. "During normal times, local small businesses not only make Dane County an enviable place to live and visit, they also provide good jobs and economic strength. They can and will do so again for many years to come, but they're in need of further assistance so they may survive through and beyond the upcoming months of the pandemic. Now's the time for the federal government to act by providing additional financial support at the local level. If these businesses are helped to remain open and keep people employed, they'll drive the return to local and national economic vitality."

Several businesses have told Dane Buy Local they would be out of business if it were not for the grant program. Grant applications closed June 15, but Dane Buy Local continues to receive questions about whether businesses can still apply and if more money could be made available as COVID-19 expenses mount.

Late last month, County Executive Parisi signed a resolution that doubled funding for Dane County and Second Harvest's COVID-19 emergency food assistance program to $6 million, which will increase deliveries to Dane County food pantries through the end of October and help even more Dane County residents and local food producers make ends meet during this challenging time. Second Harvest ordered $901,000 worth of food in June, with $581,000 of those funds being ordered through Dane County vendors. $156,000 was used to purchase produce grown in Dane County, with the bulk of it coming from Garden-to-Be and Elderberry Farms. Garden-to-Be aggregates food from Dane County Hmong growers, and it is expected more food will be bought from more Hmong gardens in July.

178,000 pounds of food was distributed to 57 Dane County partner agencies in June. The three largest distribution points include the Badger Prairie Needs Network (received over 8,000 pounds), the River Food Pantry (received over 29,000 pounds), and Middleton Outreach Ministry Food Pantry (received over 11,000 pounds). Second Harvest will continue to use the Alliant Energy Center as a packing facility until at least the end of the year, following a new contract extension. The organization is projecting a 61% increase in local food insecurity by the end of August, the latest sign that the impact of COVID-19 is far from over.

County Executive Parisi,

While I appreciate Josh's note - I want to be clear - he was included as a courtesy. I am not seeking to establish a dialogue with your Chief of Staff. I am requesting a meeting between you and AFSCME. Josh's disconnected minimizing of how contentious the relationship between your administration and my membership is only further underscores the necessity for this meeting to happen.

In his response, he asked that AFSCME work within the established framework of our relationship to resolve our issues. That's exactly what we are trying to do. We are asking for a conversation with you about your administration's proposed changes to the employee handbook per DCO18.24 (4) (d). We hope that this meeting will help reset the relationship between the County and the Employee Groups and avoid a much more public dispute.

Reference was made to concerns over AFSCME's use of our attorney to file a complaint with the Personnel and Finance committee. This was necessary to respond to Mr. Brockmeyer's letter filed with Personnel and Finance regarding AFSCME staffer Neil Rainford. Still, after reviewing the audio of the hearings referenced, I find Mr. Brockmeyer's charges to be ridiculous and offensive; as a rule AFSCME discourages members and staff from representing themselves. Therefore, I decided to utilize our retained counsel to respond to the allegations regarding Mr. Rainford.

Every day since this public health pandemic and economic crisis began, public employees rise to each challenge and risk their health and safety to keep Dane County moving. While we appreciate certain measures your administration enacted to keep employees safe, the best way to keep workers safe is by listening to them. After all the sacrifices public employees have made, Dane County residents deserve a County Executive who respects workers not just in words, but in action.

Good afternoon Patrick:

I appreciate your note and I hope you're staying safe and well during these times.

While these are challenging times on many fronts, I'm not entirely sure I accept the premise the relationship between AFSCME Dane County and the county's administration is contentious. After several consecutive years of wage increases, a continuation of a premium free county health insurance plan, and brand new retirement enhancers added in just the past 18 months, the county continued its worker friendly policies with its approach to the current Covid-19 pandemic. In every case possible, hundreds of county employees were sent home with pay very early on in the pandemic and with the exception of the tourism funded Alliant Energy Center, the county has not laid off a single general purpose revenue funded position - this despite we are projecting a decline in sales tax collections by nearly $25 million this year. In the good years our first priority was always the employees. We have not in a similar vein shared the burden and challenge of what has become an incredibly difficult 2020.

That said, we are aware there are some pending disciplinary proceedings and proposed changes to the employee handbook by the Department of Administration that have raised concerns. I need to also point out - the very framework and template you speak of that's held up as a model for other local units of government - affords all parties a very clear process for conflict resolution. The matters of disagreement can go before an independent hearing officer - a process by which both AFSCME Dane County and the County created in partnership. It's our recommendation the very process we created now be utilized. If we aren't willing to use what we created why would we ask others to utilize the standard we appropriately hold so highly? There's back and forth, give and take in every relationship and while the work is certainly sometimes difficult, any one challenging moment or conversation does not define the entirety of a relationship.

Shortly after your email was received, the county received communication from a law firm retained by the AFSCME Dane County. Given that, more formal responses on these matters from this point forward I think are best to come from Dane County's Corporation Counsel.

Best wishes,

Josh

County Executive Parisi,

The relationship between AFSCME Dane County locals and your administration is growing increasingly contentious. As the Executive Director of AFSCME Wisconsin I am registering my concerns with you directly in hopes of reversing the path we are on.

I have attached a letter that Greg Brockmeyer sent to the presidents of the AFSCME-affiliated Dane County employee groups and members of the Dane County Board Personnel & Finance Committee. This correspondence is an escalation of the deteriorating relationship between your administration and AFSCME-represented Dane County employees. I hope that by drawing your attention to it, you will take the steps necessary to reset our relationship.

In the interest of full transparency, as an organization, we hold up "the Dane County Way" as a template for Wisconsin's progressive municipal employers to duplicate. This is a template that ensures workers have a real voice in the workplace while ensuring that the essential work that citizens demand is accomplished. To have attacks on this model coming from members of your administration, while we're holding Dane County up as an example of how to do things right, is ironic to say the least.

To be clear: I expect all AFSCME staff to strenuously advocate for workers while being as respectful as warranted by the situation. As far as I can tell, Mr. Rainford did just that. Mr. Brockmeyer's offense with workers' chosen representative and the fulfilment of their duty to their members surprises me since it is a cornerstone of the union management relationship.

I ask again that you take the steps necessary to reset this relationship and that your administration immediately withdraw its anti-union assaults on the underpinnings of the employee groups. As of the writing of this letter, you have yet to meet with Mr. Rainford and AFSCME representatives to discuss our serious concerns. I urge you to find time to make that happen.

As I understand it, you asked Mr. Rainford and our union leaders to avoid taking issues with your administration public and work collaboratively to resolve issues in the past. We have tried to comply, however the actions of your administration are making that request increasingly impossible. Yesterday's letter, as well as the various attacks on the foundations of the employee groups, constitute classic union-busting tactics that we cannot ignore. These issues must be resolved immediately. Our members are on the front line of the coronavirus pandemic, and deserve to have Dane County live up to its promise of being a strong, labor supportive, employer.

I appreciate your consideration in this matter.

Good afternoon Department Heads:

Back in June, the Department of Administration shared a memo (attached) regarding the Best Practices for Reopening County Buildings and Facilities.

One provision of that memo was that staff needed to be trained on health and safety protocols before returning to a worksite. (Please note: the masking provisions of that memo have been superseded by Public Health's order requiring masks and the County APM on Masks/Cloth Face Coverings). Risk Management worked with Public Health to prepare the attached PowerPoint presentation that offers some basic information and tips for making a safer return to work.

Department Heads are encouraged to use this PowerPoint to review basic health and safety protocols with your staff. In addition, each department will need to train their employees on any department-specific policies that we did not cover.

Please do not hesitate to call or email with any questions, Dan Lowndes 608-215-0234on

Subject: MASK MANDATE

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear Mr. Parisi:

I am sure you are getting a lot of emails in regards to mask mandating. Some for it and some against it. I am writing you to let you know that I am against a state wide mandate and here are my reasons why. First the media is not helping at all in regards to the information they report therefore instead of watching and listening to the news I have decided to do research and keep statistics myself. Upon my research I find that the masks alone will not stop or reduce Covid-19 nor does it keep people from getting it.

On the CDC.gov site they state "The spread of COVID-19 can be reduced when cloth face coverings are used along with other preventive measures. Some of these preventive measures are:

- Wear face covering correctly
  - Don't put the face covering around your neck or up on your forehead
  - Don't touch the face covering, and if you do, wash your hands or use hand sanitizer to disinfect.
- When removing face covering:
  - Handle only by the ear loops or ties
  - Fold outside corners together
  - Be careful not to touch your eyes, nose and mouth when removing and wash hands immediately after removing.
- Wash hands often with soap & water for at least 20 seconds. It is especially important to wash:
  - Before eating/preparing food
  - Before touching face
  - After using the restroom (still see people not wash hands after using public bathroom)
  - After leaving a public place
  - After touching animals or pets (never see this happening)
  - After blowing your nose, coughing or sneezing
  - After changing a diaper
  - After caring for someone sick
- Avoid close contact. The cloth face cover is not a substitute for social distancing per the CDC. Those who wear masks do not follow social distancing and I believe it is because they are lead to believe they are safe since they have on a mask. Masks on their own will not stop the spread of the virus.
- Clean and disinfect frequently including but not limiting to tables, doorknobs, light switches, countertops, desks, phones, keyboards, toilets, faucets, sinks. COVID-19 can live for hours or days on a surface. It may be possible that a person can get COVID-19 by touching a surface or object that has the virus on it and then touching their own mouth, nose or eyes per the CDC.

Now unless the State Leaders can mandate all the above, masks will NOT be effective. It will affect those with other health and phobia issues. Mandating masks will be unfair to the deaf who read lips. It is very hard to hear and understand people with masks on. People are not disposing the masks correctly nor washing their masks after each use. So by mandating masks how will that reduce the virus? I had seen an older gentleman wearing his facemask the other day, he decided to light up a cigarette so he moved his facemask down below his chin (a no no per CDC). While smoking he dropped the cigarette on the ground, proceeded to pick up the cigarette and put in his mouth. How is that taking preventive measures? So if he tested positive to COVID-19, what was the cause; because he was around me who wasn't wearing a mask? Putting the cigarette in mouth after picking it up from the ground or having his mask below his chin rather than on his face?

On the WHO website they state "Masks should be used as part of a comprehensive strategy of measures to suppress transmission and save lives; the use of a mask alone is not sufficient to provide an adequate level of protection against COVID-19." In regards to non-medical, fabric masks they state "there has been limited evidence on their effectiveness and WHO does not recommend their widespread use among the public for control of COVID-19. At the present time, the widespread use of masks everywhere is not supported by high-quality scientific evidence, and there are potential benefits and harms to consider. Masks on their own will not protect you from COVID-19."

My statistics have shown that the percentages have gone down for my county and the State of Wisconsin so why mandate masks now? It should have been done back when the Safer At Home order was issued. Here is what I have:

For the State of Wisconsin the percentage of positive cases is 5.54% of total tested as of 7/21/2020 (per the CDC website) and the percentage of deaths based on the total positive cases is at 1.929% as of 7/21/2020. This percentage has gone down every day for the last 32 days. Unfortunately people will catch the virus as they do the flu and never were masks mandated for the flu. Unfortunately people will pass away with Covid-19 but not necessarily because of Covid-19 yet they are included in the numbers. There are deaths every year due to the flu. Every death is unfortunate and devastating. However for the areas that might be going up should not be the cause for the whole state to require wearing masks. It should be decided by the cities or counties individually. Many businesses are already making it their store policy and that should be enough.

Now for my County, I live in Green County and the numbers are very minimal and we have had State of Illinois individuals coming up here for over 2 months since their state mandated masks and yet their numbers go up. For Green County, WI we have had 118 positive cases out of 4173 total tested. The percentage of positive cases of total tested is 2.828% as of 7/21/2020. The percentage has gone down 9 of the last 10 days and 21 of the last 32 days. We unfortunately have had 1 death labeled as Covid-19. With that death the individual had underlying health conditions and family stated the person actually passed away from cancer but since they also had Covid-19 it is counted as a Covid-19 death.

The CDC and WHO as well as Mr. Fauci do not know all the facts on this virus and are trying to suggest the best things they think might work but cannot prove they work. So please reconsider on a statewide mask requirement. It is not in the best interest of us people.

Thank you for your time.

Dee Goepfert

Subject: RE: Draft Masking Statement

COVID-19 threatens our families, our communities, and our livelihoods. The fastest path to reducing the spread of COVID-19 and re-opening our economy is through an indoor masking requirement. Masking reduces illness, prevents suffering and saves lives. In light of this, asking someone to wear a mask for a few months in order to stave off a deadly pandemic doesn't strike me as an unreasonable request, but rather an opportunity to help reduce suffering in our community. The vast majority of people in Dane County understand this and support the masking policy. Those who don't agree have a right to express their opinions.

Covid didn't have to spread this far, this fast. And it certainly didn't happen by accident. States that held out and fought the science on wearing masks are now seeing extraordinary caseloads, full hospitals, growing death tolls, and degrees of sickness among all ages that was sadly preventable.

Subject: Draft Masking Statement

Dane County Executive Joe Parisi issued the following statement regarding a anti-masking rally planned for downtown Madison today:

"There are times through the course of history when we as a people have needed to come together and make sacrifices for a greater good to confront a common challenge. Right now is one of those times. Covid-19 is testing all of us. As it spreads, more of our friends and family members are at risk of infection - a highly contagious sickness we still don't fully know the long term consequences of.

"Nothing that anyone is being asked to do right now is desired, convenient, or easy. Wearing a mask isn't about politics or taking away rights. It's about ensuring we as a people have our health to enjoy the many freedoms of liberty. It's about us as a people - the imperative we all have to selflessly look out for one another, as residents of Dane County and fellow Wisconsinites.

Every individual who falls ill subsequently comes into contact with family members. Those who are sickest then contact emergency responders and health care workers who all have families too. In turn, individual decisions to not follow the now endless guidance and studies of the health benefits of masks are truly compromising the well-being of others. Taking care of one another is just as fundamentally American as our values of life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness.

"Covid didn't have to spread this far, this fast. And it certainly didn't happen by accident. States that held out and fought the science on wearing masks are now seeing extraordinary caseloads, full hospitals, growing death tolls, and degrees of sickness among all ages that was sadly preventable. I'm hopeful all of those in positions of elected leadership will act in the name of prevention and not wait until this virus fans out even further and sickens more of us. I'm grateful more Wisconsin communities are stepping forward to show leadership on this issue. Waiting to act only afford this virus the ability to gain a stronger foothold. Masks are the right science, right policy, and the right means of preventing ourselves and those around us from falling victim to Covid-19.

Subject: Fwd: SPASD plan for kids with IEPs

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing tonight to ask for details on plans for handling the provisions of IEPs for children in the Sun Prairie Area School District this fall. This is an issue near and dear to my heart as my daughter has severe disabilities and needs direct 1 on 1 interactions as written in her IEP.

I would like to ask not only what the District's plan is to engage students like my daughter, Ciera Christopherson, in her learning but also to provide some direct suggestions. Ciera is unable to walk, talk or eat and her communication is quite limited at this time. However, she is very intelligent and most people who know her believe a large part of her troubles are not that she is incapable of learning or doing, but that she has a hard time communicating back to the rest of us what she has learned in a manner that we can understand due to her disabilities.

Ciera requires hand over hand interactions for many things along with direct 1 v 1 care for her school provided therapies. I did not previously contact you during the spring semester of last year as I knew how hard the transition was on everyone but now 4 months have gone by and there has been plenty of time to plan and create a course of action. In the spring, families had to come up with plans to provide the direct care for kids like Ciera. They had to be not only the teacher like the parents of able bodied/non-IEP kids but also, more importantly, they had to be the Occupational Therapist, the Physical Therapist, the Speech/Language Therapist, the Adaptive PhyEd Teacher, the Special Ed Teacher and the Vision Teacher. For Ciera, this occurred all while the District was billing Medicaid for these services as if she was in school. For a child like Ciera, many parents already know how to make adaptations for their disabled child so the provisions provided by the IEP team during distance learning really were not that helpful.

My daughter has so many medical issues that she has a full time home nurse. Her home nurse took on the extra duties that the District failed to provide as direct contact 1v1 care during distance learning which allowed Ciera's father, Chad, and I to remain employed in our professional realm jobs. Other families are not so blessed. This was no easy feat for the nurse who is already responsible for Ciera's numerous medical cares. Additionally, it presented a very stressful environment for us as parents when we had to ask the nurse to perform the jobs of 6 others while telling her that she would receive no additional payment beyond her regular wage and that she still would need to perform her regular duties for our child. There are many families who do not have skilled nursing to help provide this direct one on one care for their disabled children. I fear how far behind those kids were pushed and how much further they will fall if they are not allowed to have direct 1v1 contact with their therapists and special Ed teams in the 2020-2021 school year.

So, now I pose the question to all of you... could you model the format of local clinical staff who provide therapeutic interventions for disabled IEP children who require direct hands on 1v1 instruction into an exception for in-person learning at SPASD?

Below are some parameters being used by local clinicians:

-Staff are masked
-All persons entering the building are temperature checked and not allowed to enter if temp is 100.4 or greater
-Only a single caregiver is allowed in the building with a child if needed but must be masked, no mask, no entry please find another caregiver
-Children wear masks only if able to tolerate (many disabled kids will not be able to tolerate)
-Stagger arrival/departure times so less interactions between multiple people
-Designate areas of instruction/therapy for individual kids and their IEP staff to use while the child is in school; no other kids use that area. As the bulk of kids will not be in school at all, there may be plenty of available space in the child's school for keeping kids socially distanced and safe, even if they can see each other without physical contact (which for some may be motivating).
-Dedicated equipment (if possible) that is only used by a single child per day and that is thoroughly cleaned once a child leaves the facility and before that child or another child uses the same equipment on another day

We cannot afford to let go of my or Chad's jobs to become our daughter's school IEP providers. It is also not appropriate for us to have to ask my daughter's nurse to take on these duties without additional compensation when the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act tells us that our children deserve accomodations to help them be the most successful students that they can be.

I want to mention that I am not supportive of sending IEP teams into homes at this time. I think not enough of the environment can be controlled by the District. I also want to mention that I do not expect all parents will want to send their medically fragile or disabled children into a school, even with limited staff/students present. I do, however, believe that parents should be offered the choice as a fulfillment of the IDEA act.

Thank you for your kind attention to this very critical matter. The continued progress of our disabled students needs this option. My daughter needs this option.

I look forward to hearing from you.
Warmly,
Cheri Pasch
Mother of Ciera Christopherson, Kindergartener at Horizon Elementary

Attachments: Request to Fill Vacant Position (fillable form).pdf

Hiring Managers & Payroll Clerks:

In an effort to continue to improve the recruitment process and eliminate some steps, please note the following changes:

1) For New Requisitions in NEOGOV: do NOT complete or attach a Request to Fill Vacancy (RTFV) form to the requisition.
   a) Instead, in the requisition, you must complete the section labeled: Justification for Hire/Recruitment shown below:

   b) In the Justification for Hire/Recruitment section, please include:
      i. Vacancy Date
      ii. Reason for Vacancy (e.g., Retired, Resigned, Separated)
      iii. Name of Incumbent
      iv. Importance of filling position (e.g., negative operational impact of not filling position)

      Examples: 1) V: 8/23/20, John Employee – Retire/Resign. 2) V: 7/31/20 - Jane Employee – Separate. Position is primary departmental contact and includes payroll duties.

   c) If a position is Exempt from the Hiring Freeze (see list below), in the Justification for Hire/Recruitment box only provide items listed in (1b) (i), (ii) & (iii) above, and the word 'EXEMPT' – there is no need for further justification.

2020 Hiring Freeze Exemptions - 6/29/20 (No Request to Fill Vacancy Form Required)

JustDane Commitment to Racial Justice

July 22, 2020

As the COVID-19 pandemic began to take hold in the United States, another pandemic raged on. As the COVID pandemic began to take the lives of a disproportionate number of people of color in the face of government inaction, another pandemic continued its 400+ year history of taking the lives of people of color, also in the face of government inaction.

- Ahmaud Arbery of Georgia was killed by white supremacist vigilantes in Georgia, one of them a former law enforcement officer but it took months for any arrests to be made.
- As COVID cases grew, killing a disproportionate number of people of color – Breonna Taylor was murdered in her apartment by police in Kentucky and George Floyd was murdered by a white police officer in Minneapolis.
- A white woman called the police on bird watcher Christian Cooper in Central Park, making sure to use race in her phone call to the police. Cooper's alleged offense? He asked her to leash her dog in accordance with City law. Amy Cooper, the woman who called the police on Christian Cooper, felt entitled to use her privilege and intimidation to control a black man.

For almost 50 years JustDane (formerly Madison-area Urban Ministry) has focused on social justice, racism, poverty, economic justice, criminal justice system reform and restorative justice and also holds the community responsible for the circumstances we allow to exist. We have fought to educate the community on the intersectionality of inequity.

We have not always done this work perfectly and sometimes we have not done it well. We recognize that, as an organization that grew out of several predominantly white Christian congregations in the early 1970's we have benefited from systems of white supremacy and systemic racism. We recognize that we have been and continue to be on a journey to become an anti-racist organization.

In the aftermath of George Floyd's murder, we asked our Board and Staff, what do we need to say? What should we do? What can we do both internally as an organization and within the community? We are an organization that has worked hard to embody the ideas of racial justice in our staffing, in our programs and in our advocacy. What are our next steps?

We agreed that we wanted to make a public pledge, a commitment that reflected our values, the experiences and feelings of our Staff and Board. It is important to us that we commit to anti-racist work both internally as an organization and externally within the community.

With that in mind, as an employer JustDane pledges the following:

- We will be an organization that validates the experiences of our staff of color holding space and place for our staff of color to grieve, to express their anger, their frustration, and to ask how we, as an organization and as an employer, can be helpful.
- We will continue to put in place organizational policies focused on equity and that recognize the impact of systemic racism and racial disparities at every policy level. We recognize that employment practices are racial justice issues and we commit to employment and hiring policies and practices that are anti-racist.
- We will value the work of every employee and will put in place a policy that caps the wage gap between the highest and lowest wage so that our entire staff move forward together.
- We will continue our policy of providing paid vacation and sick time for all employees, full and part-time.
- We will continue our policy of working with employees who wish to further their education, offering flexible scheduling and accommodations.
- We commit to ongoing, required training for both Staff and Board members in the areas of white privilege, systemic racism, implicit bias, trauma, focusing on how to become allies and co-conspirators in the movement for racial justice. We will recognize that for many of us this work is a lifelong journey.

As an organization within the community JustDane pledges that:

- We will use its social capital to speak out against white supremacy and racism in all its forms, honoring our organizational value of courage.
- We will use our social capital to promote and support Black owned businesses and non-profits and to continue to expand our collaborations and partnerships with organizations working for racial justice.
- JustDane will continue to advocate for public policies, procedures and ordinances that dismantle systems of oppression, including white supremacy and racism.
- JustDane will continue to advocate for budgets that reflect our organizational values, including divestment from incarceration and investment in our communities, strengthening neighborhoods, families and our broader community.
- We will engage in and facilitate conversations and actions among our supporters and colleagues, that examine both our organizational and community policies, committing to the dismantling of over 400 years of racism.

In his 1960 book "Why We Can't Wait," The Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. warned of a new tactic that had had emerged to replace old strategies and ways of thwarting racial justice, that of tokenism.

He pointed out that tokenism was a promise to pay rather than payment: "A judge here and a judge there: an executive behind a polished desk in a carpeted office..." He stated that "those who argue in favor of tokenism point out that we must begin somewhere; that it is unwise to spurn any breakthrough, no matter how limited." He pointed out though that tokenism is an end in itself, that "Its purpose is not to begin a process, but instead to end the process of protest and pressure."

Reflecting on his words we are reminded of the myriad of task forces, committees, commissions and studies on racial disparities created in Dane County and Madison. The reports with recommendations that followed were then placed on shelves with little if any action taken to implement the recommendations. Such actions have been tokenism, actions taken to end a process, too often a political ploy to appear to be addressing systemic racism and oppression.

The statements of elected officials and policy makers in the days to come must be more than a token, it is well past time for payment to be made, no more placeholders, reforms must come. JustDane pledges to call out tokenism in policy and politics when we recognize it. We pledge that we will work to implement not only our own promises but to continue to hold our community accountable for real and transparent systemic change, for payment due.

All,

Below is the information you will need to connect to the remote Criminal Justice Council meeting today. I strongly encourage you to sign in about 15 minutes early.

County Staff, please note GoToMeeting works best from outside of Citrix. You can join the meeting from either your home laptop/computer or on your iPad.

To login, select the link below, enter in your name, and the meeting password when prompted. You will be put on "hold" until the host joins.

Please join my meeting from your computer, tablet or smartphone.
https://global.gotomeeting.com/join/493854133

This meeting is locked with a password: CJC0723

I would like to stress that the link and password should NOT be shared with others outside of those on this email chain.

CJC participants—when you join, please turn ON your webcam.

Non-CJC participants---when you join, please mute yourself and turn OFF your webcam.

If members of the public or media would like to listen, they can via the phone number listed on top of the agenda.

I also attached a document that will be discussed during the criminal justice reform package discussion.

I will be around between now and then to help with questions.

Best,

Lindsay

Dear Dane County Employee:

I think we are all at a point where we could all use some good news. In these uncertain times, there's no shortage of things to think about and yes, sometimes even worry about. This has just been an incredibly challenging year for everyone.

Given that, and all of the sacrifices I know each and every one of you has made in the midst of the current global pandemic, I wanted to take an opportunity to do a couple of things. First, let me again say "thank you." Many of you have found yourselves on the front lines of a once in a generation health pandemic. All of you have experienced the impact of that pandemic on your homes and families, whether through health or economic hardship.
Now for the good news - I'm hoping this helps reduce at least one of the fears or anxieties that is understandably in the back of a lot of minds right now (frankly in all workplaces). Like private businesses, units of government have been hit hard by Covid. This pandemic took an extraordinary toll on one of the primary sources of income for county government, the sales tax we collect when people make purchases. We will lose many, many millions of dollars this year. This money pays for wages, programs, and services.

Very early on we recognized what challenge this would pose to our finances. I asked our budget team to begin developing scenarios for how we could best insulate you - our county workforce - from these losses. My priority was to protect the wage and benefit gains the county was able to provide in recent years - we had come so far together. I'd like to report that as of today, I have every reason to believe we are going to be successful.

What does that mean? In short, it is highly unlikely we will need to implement across the board wage cuts or furloughs in 2021. I believe we can weather this storm without adversely affecting those who have worked the hardest to help us through this challenging period. I will be working over the next several weeks to finish preparing my county budget for next year and will keep you posted on these developments, as I know these decisions directly impact people's livelihoods. Given the financial losses experienced to date in the midst of this historic pandemic, being able to protect what we have heading into next year is no small feat. It speaks to our years of careful budgeting practices - an accomplishment we achieved together.

Additionally, I want to remind those workers deemed most critical in the county's emergency Covid response, of your eligibility for two weeks of Emergency Covid Leave under a program we created this spring. Public health employees, highway workers, 911 communicators, child protective service workers, and those caring for our most vulnerable at Badger Prairie Nursing Home (among others) are eligible for two weeks of paid leave. Even if it's not used before the end of this year, it will be paid out in full to you in December. If you have a question about the eligibility of your position for this Emergency Covid Leave, please feel free to contact our Employee Advocate Manager, Shannon Maier in the Division of Employee Relations within the Department of Administration.

Please stay well, stay safe, and thank you for all you do each day.

I send this reply knowing full well that when employees thank their boss for thanking them, it might not sound sincere.

That said: Thank You !

Fellow Wisconsinite Douglas MacArthur was quoted as saying, “A true leader has the confidence to stand alone, the courage to make tough decisions, and the compassion to listen to the needs of others." If that does not describe you, I don't know what does. You have provided sound leadership through very rough seas and I appreciate everything you and your staff do every day for the people of Dane County.

Now for the good news - I'm hoping this helps reduce at least one of the fears or anxieties that is understandably in the back of a lot of minds right now (frankly in all workplaces). Like private businesses, units of government have been hit hard by Covid. This pandemic took an extraordinary toll on one of the primary sources of income for county government, the sales tax we collect when people make purchases. We will lose many, many millions of dollars this year. This money pays for wages, programs, and services.

Very early on we recognized what challenge this would pose to our finances. I asked our budget team to begin developing scenarios for how we could best insulate you - our county workforce - from these losses. My priority was to protect the wage and benefit gains the county was able to provide in recent years - we had come so far together. I'd like to report that as of today, I have every reason to believe we are going to be successful.

What does that mean? In short, it is highly unlikely we will need to implement across the board wage cuts or furloughs in 2021. I believe we can weather this storm without adversely affecting those who have worked the hardest to help us through this challenging period. I will be working over the next several weeks to finish preparing my county budget for next year and will keep you posted on these developments, as I know these decisions directly impact people's livelihoods. Given the financial losses experienced to date in the midst of this historic pandemic, being able to protect what we have heading into next year is no small feat. It speaks to our years of careful budgeting practices - an accomplishment we achieved together.

Additionally, I want to remind those workers deemed most critical in the county's emergency Covid response, of your eligibility for two weeks of Emergency Covid Leave under a program we created this spring. Public health employees, highway workers, 911 communicators, child protective service workers, and those caring for our most vulnerable at Badger Prairie Nursing Home (among others) are eligible for two weeks of paid leave. Even if it's not used before the end of this year, it will be paid out in full to you in December. If you have a question about the eligibility of your position for this Emergency Covid Leave, please feel free to contact our Employee Advocate Manager, Shannon Maier in the Division of Employee Relations within the Department of Administration.

Please stay well, stay safe, and thank you for all you do each day.

Dear Dane County Employee:

I think we are all at a point where we could all use some good news. In these uncertain times, there's no shortage of things to think about and yes, sometimes even worry about. This has just been an incredibly challenging year for everyone.

Given that, and all of the sacrifices I know each and every one of you has made in the midst of the current global pandemic, I wanted to take an opportunity to do a couple of things. First, let me again say "thank you." Many of you have found yourselves on the front lines of a once in a generation health pandemic. All of you have experienced the impact of that pandemic on your homes and families, whether through health or economic hardship.

Good Afternoon,
I was wondering what is the reasoning behind not letting Madison Speedway and Angel Park open for racing? You have pools, malls, big box stores, restaurants and bars all still open and requiring masks. The outdoor racing venues have more than enough space for social distancing and for one night a week it is absolutely baffling how they are not allowed to earn an income and keep from going under. Both have easy to regulate main gates for a proper head count, wide open seating and parking facilities. How is it the every other track in the state is open and managed to be compliant with their local protocol? This seem like a large peace of discrimination being handed down to these Dane County businesses. They have both done so much for the local folks and been around longer than most of the people in the county at this point. People NEED some sign of hope and we are all smart enough to wear a mask and would gladly do so to enjoy a little entertainment as well as keeping these to businesses open to the fans in the area.

Thank you.

WisDOT's Local Roads Program Web Tool, LRIPWeb, Now Easier to Use

LRIPWeb, the web-based tool that allows communities to manage their Local Roads Improvement Program (LRIP) dollars and public road projects, has been improved.

The enhanced LRIPWeb was released on June 22, 2020. It was developed by the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) in response to feedback from LRIP partners, and is a more intuitive and efficient tool.

NEW FEATURES ENHANCE USER EXPERIENCE

While retaining the LRIPWeb format that users are familiar with, some of the changes based on stakeholder feedback that were incorporated into LRIPWeb to enhance the user experience are:

- An accordion style format that guides the user through the process, allowing easier navigation both backwards and forwards, with subtle color coding to indicate the completed steps, all on one screen.

- On-screen instructions were reworked to be more intuitive, with the goal of reducing the number of returned applications and reimbursement requests.
- Quick access buttons were added in the header of some screens which allow the user a "short-cut" to project documents and shared comments with one click.
- To assist with correspondence between LRIPWeb users, each screen allows the user to enter shared comments that become "pop-up" notices for the next user as the request is promoted or demoted through the application and opened from their work queue.
- The mapping function has been improved and provides the user an instant on-screen map of the selected road section(s) and a dynamic road section diagram to assist the user with road width calculation.
- Users are now allowed to enter separate improvement criteria for multiple road sections within the same project application, and the SMA will now list all the road improvement information.
- The secure Transportation Assistance System (TAS) log-in allows the application to prefill information for you, including the names and addresses of your local officials and your name and title, based on your unique email address, enabling you to simply check a box as confirmation of your electronic signature.

---

LEARN MORE

LRIP program participants can learn more about the enhancements through videos, webinars and other educational materials on the LRIP website at: WisconsinDOT.gov/LRIP.

For additional questions, please contact Patrick Vander Sanden, WisDOT LRIP Program Manager at 608.266.0775 or via email.

Hello Partners,
ABC for Health continues to track birth cost recovery policy in Wisconsin. We call the policy the "birth tax," due to the harsh and often unexpected financial impact on unmarried pregnant women and families seeking BadgerCare Plus in Wisconsin. Counties have certain flexibility in implementing this policy and recently some, like Dane County, have abolished the practice. Others, like Milwaukee County, continue to debate the inequities and practice of collecting the Birth Tax.

Update: The Resolution To End the Birth Tax Lives For Another Day
The Resolution requesting the Milwaukee County Department of Child Support Services discontinue the discretionary practice of pursuing birth cost recovery collections in child support cases in Milwaukee County went back before the full Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors for the second time on Thursday, July 23, 2020.

The Resolution appeared as item 14 on the robust Board Agenda. It returned to the Board with its mixed history in Committees: a recommendation of adoption from the Health and Human Needs Committee in May, and a recommendation of rejection from the Finance Committee in July.

After discussion on July 23, the County Board did not vote for or against the Resolution. Instead, they acted on a motion to refer the Resolution to the Committee on Audit. That motion was approved with an 18-0 vote.

Please see the attached Partners Update for more information, including notes on the Board's discussion of the Resolution and anticipated next steps.

This Update will be saved on our Birth Tax website, with past Partner's Updates (under "press, publications & reports") and other useful links.

Thank you,

EVERS ANNOUNCES FUNDING FOR K-12 SCHOOLS

Governor Evers announced 155 local education agencies (LEAs) are eligible for funding through the Governor's Emergency Education Relief Fund. According to the release, "Based on recommendations from the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction (DPI) and in consultation with State Superintendent Carolyn Stanford Taylor, the governor outlined eligibility criteria for schools most significantly impacted by COVID-19 based on economic disadvantage, access to personal computing devices, access to internet, and students' score on the English Language Arts Assessment. Wisconsin's three tribal schools will also receive the same per pupil payment as the 155 LEAs. The GEER Fund is in addition to the $174.8 million that Wisconsin received through the Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief Fund (ESSER Fund)." (Map)(GEER Eligible Schools).

Hello,

In keeping up with dog park news across the country, I came across an article noting the implementation of a new dog park in Dane County.

We design, manufacture, and offer specialty dog park equipment (the first company in the US to do so!), including recreation level agility components, fire hydrants, waste stations, surfacing, shade shelters, pet fountains, and everything else to make your dog park a community destination. All our agility equipment is manufactured with heavy duty, rust-resistant materials suitable for all weather conditions, so it's incredibly durable and guaranteed not to rust.

We also provide guidance through the entire process from concept to creation. With our large offering of dog park solutions and friendly customer service, we make it easy and fun to outfit your park.

Would you be interested in additional information on what we offer? I'd be happy to mail a catalog out to have something tangible for when the time is right to outfit your park.

If someone else is spearheading this project, funding, and/or park amenities, we would appreciate it if you would please forward this email to them.

Thank you in advance for your time and consideration!

Good afternoon,

I wanted to refer to a previous email today to try to understand your thought process for designating MIS as a mass gathering instead of OUTDOOR ENTERTAINMENT AND AMUSEMENT like we asked from day 1. Please do not give me the generic "set time and set departure" lines we've been fed the last 3 months as INDOOR movie theaters and organized protests throw that argument out the window).

As the email above shows, as of 3 months ago you were not clear on how to categorize Madison International Speedway yet you never asked for our input, you never visited our facility to see how we CAN safely open and accommodate our fans and drivers (like all other race tracks in the state have done), and worst of all, failed to have any open communication with the dozens and dozens of emails and requests we've sent all your staff.

And let's get real, THE MINUTE, you allowed pools/splash pads to open (some with 250 ppl) Madison International Speedway and Angell Park Speedway should have been allowed a percentage of capacity - not held at the ridiculous mass gathering of 25 people. I am aware that you are not familiar with race tracks but those numbers are not conducive to opening our doors and paying the bills.

Please, make the right, reasonable, and long overdue decision to designate MIS and Angell Park Speedway as OUTDOOR ENTERTAINMENT AND AMUSEMENT to allow us to operate safely as well as try to generate some income to pay our ever surmounting debts. As public officials THE LEAST you could do is return a call or email to come to a safe compromise.

Wow, what a weekend. We were able to attend THREE races at our neighboring tracks by just crossing a county line or two. Fans were socially distanced, concessions were safely maintained and executed... all the things MIS is capable and willing to do to open!

I also see pools were allowed to open. Wow. 250 ppl in 1 pool but our 10,000 capacity seating is allowed 25. Again, explain to my bankrupting business how that makes sense. Inconsistencies and ignorance, that's how.

Please re-designate Madison International Speedway as OUTDOOR ENTERTAINMENT AND AMUSEMENT so that our business can open and our family can try to pay our enormous debts.

Another lovely Friday night to race at MIS! Tonight would have been BUCK NIGHT with $1 concessions, how fun! Our fans would be socially distancing easily. They would all arrive and leave at staggered times (much different than MASS GATHERING INDOOR movie theaters whom are allowed 50% capacity).

But I digress, we've been over these crucial details ALL WEEK with more radio silence from your department. At least the Henry Villas Zoo can be open on this lovely Friday from 9:30am-4:30pm with 50% capacity (doing some loose math 400ppl/hr over 7 hrs = 2800 ppl ALL DAY LONG). MIS has been continuously asking since March for a 20% capacity (max 2000 ppl with many less touch points as the zoo).

And I see Madison Public Pools are allowed to open this week. WOW. I'll leave this topic for next week's emails.

Have a great weekend. Our family is going to venture to neighboring, less restrictive, small business friendly Counties to support OPEN race tracks.

Kevin's Post

Can you please explain to me how a protest (and I know that you are sick of hearing how protests seem exempt from your emergency orders because to those of us who are not allowed to open their businesses, they appear to be) is NOT a mass gathering. Please run through the thought process with me how protests are NOT PLANNED (they advertise them all over social media), how they DO NOT involve large numbers of people (I have plenty of social media screenshots to contradict that ), and how protest DO NOT clearly set a specific time and place to start?

Madison International Speedway can safely stagger entry and exit times to our facility, we have plenty of room to social distance, and have already set up guidelines and procedures to keep our fans safe. Please let us know if you would like an opportunity to actually view our facility to assess this. We have found ourselves with an abundance of time this summer and our schedule is open.

Thanks for taking the time to read my daily email. Really hoping to receive a response one of these days. There is still time for our family to open at a reasonable, safe % of capacity, have a few events and start paying off our mounting debt that no one else is going to cover for us.

Every weekly track in the state is open other than the two in Dane County. We should be allowed to open at a % of capacity (20% to start?), with a reviewed and agreed upon plan in place. Our seasonal business has now lost another weekend and we would greatly appreciate any direction in regards to future capacity limits and changes to such within the Forward Dane Order. We are hearing that Illinois will allow facilities such as race tracks and other outdoor sporting events to open at 25% capacity on June 26.

Again, we are open to continuing to work with you all on this, but would greatly appreciate a line of communication so we can plan our next steps with our business. As you can imagine, between the amount of protestors, the release of Emergency Order #4 allowing 25% capacity at churches and speedways throughout the state being open for business without issue, we continue to seek a fair resolution that will allow the survival of our family business.

A response would be greatly appreciated as not knowing continues to create great emotional strain on our family as a whole. Thank you.

My wife Angie and I own and operate Madison Speedway in rural Rutland township between Oregon and Stoughton. With today's announcement concerning Emergency Order #4 in regards to a 25% capacity limit now allowed at churches vs the previous 50 person limit, is it possible to have an open discussion in regards to % limits versus a number limit for outdoor venues such as ours? Currently we are being held to 50 people with a 250 limit currently set during Phase 3 of the Forward Dane document.

With nearly 50 acres and hosting spectator events each Friday night throughout the summer and the second Thursday of each month, our remaining July, August and September schedule consists of a total of 13 spectator events. Currently, our local Walgreens has a greater capacity than our venue. We are more than willing to work with you all on a plan that will allow us to reopen, the current and future imposed attendance restrictions will likely force us to close our business. Thank you for any insight you can provide.

Wanted to check in to see if there was any further updates on capacity limits and/or Mass Gathering limits for when we are able to move into Phase 3. We have canceled all of our spectator events through June and just want to get an idea of whether 250 is still a solid number looking ahead to phase 3 or if another limit has been discussed. Thank you for any info you may be able to provide.

Now that we have another weekend behind us:

Can you explain how a June 27 game for Forward Madison FC at Breese Stevens Field is selling tickets online with no distancing between seats, no policy posted and the ability to buy up to 25 seats. By all indications this should not be allowed according to your order, what's fair for one is fair for all.

Additionally, we were out of town opening our business in La Crosse County over the weekend but have had multiple reports of large gatherings throughout the city and county for music and more including an organized protest. Meanwhile, countless race tracks have opened across the state including in adjacent counties.

We will continue to ask for an open communication about our family owned and operated business as long as we see the inconsistency of your order and how it is applied to businesses like ours. We continue to be closed while other indoor ticket selling businesses are permitted to open under your order while rotating clients throughout the day, 7 days a week, in the same seats and common areas.

We continue to ask for a percentage allowance as you have granted other businesses in our county, businesses that do not have the ability to social distance as we do at our 10,000 seat outdoor 50 acre facility. While the zoo, movie theaters, miniature golf and bowling alleys are allowed to operate at 25%, our business is held to 50 people.

We believe that if you were to make a site visit to our facility it would become clear that your order is incorrect in it's limitation of our ability to operate our business.

Order #3 clarifies that as a planned event, races at your facility are considered a mass gathering and therefore per the limits in the order may have up to 50 individuals (excluding employees).

If you have questions about the order or its interpretation, I'm referring you to Marci Paulsen, Assistant City Attorney for Madison, as she represents PHMDC. She is cc-d on this email.

Regarding the preinspections for next week, Eric Olson will be the one to do them. He is on vacation this week but is back on Tuesday and will reach out then to schedule them.

Is there somebody else that we need to talk to? This is our family owned and operated business that we have dedicated 27 years plus (since I was 14, and even before) towards building, it is of utmost importance to us that we are allowed to open just as other businesses are being allowed to. We understand that we are a niche business, but we should not be penalized for being one. We have a plan in place and are ready to go.

We do not understand how indoor operations are allowed to open at 25% capacity when we may not be allowed to, many with more interaction and touch points than we have here. For example, the following indoor businesses are allowed to open at 25% during phase 1 (Which I think is great)

-Restaurants and Bars

-Retail

-Gym/Recreational facilities

-Indoor Shopping Malls

-Licensed Swimming Pools

-Indoor Places of Art and Culture (Movie Theaters, going to the races is exactly the same as going to a movie, in every aspect other than we are outside)

-Bowling Alleys

We feel that we are an outdoor place of amusement and activity, if amusement parks, zoos and miniature golf can be open, we surely can be as well. How do any of the above qualify any more than we do? Especially the indoor facilities with numerous points of contact.

Please let us know if there is someone else we need to contact to share our story or when you may be able to provide us more direction. We deserve to know by tomorrow if not before. Thank you for your time.

Thank you for getting back to us. Our conditional use permit places our grandstand capacity at 10,000 people. If we were granted approval to operate our business, I know that we have ample room to allow for proper distancing as well as the ability to follow proper guidelines.

In our Competitor Area

- -Competitors are limited to 6 people total per team.
- -Teams must stay in their own pit area.
- -6’ Distance to be required on spotters stand and in pit stands We have painted every other board white and blue to help distance, most stand along top of hill.
- -Drivers meeting will be via public address system, there will be no gathering in pit area.
- -Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.
- -All team members must agree in writing that they will adhere to all policies and restrictions prior to entering the restricted area and will be encouraged to wear face coverings

In our Main Seating Area

-We will limit attendance to 2,000 (20%)

spectators for our May 29, June 5, June 11 and June 12 events and then work with health officials to expand capacity limits from that point. At no time in 2020 will we ask for greater than 50% capacity

- Additionally we are prepared to have ushers help direct groups to open areas to ensure distancing in grandstands, forming family seating arrangements of 2-4-6 with 6 feet of spacing between seating groups, utilizing measurement tools as needed.

-All concession stands will be equipped with plexi glass to separate attendees from staff

-Concession lines will be limited to one person per group, queuing areas will also be clearly marked with distancing markings

-Hand Sanitizer (already acquired) will be available throughout the facility at key locations including gates and concession areas

-Two employees will be responsible for monitoring and disinfecting high touch areas as well as rest rooms during each event.

-Use of face coverings highly encouraged

--Anyone experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 will not be allowed to attend.

We are open to further suggestions, and look forward to working with you. Currently, the only weekly race tracks in the state unable to open are Madison International Speedway and Angell Park Speedway in Sun Prairie. All others have indicated their intentions of opening in the coming weeks, some have already held events with others opening this weekend.

Attachments: MKX-Tab2_07_24_2020_331_43L.png

Good morning NWS Milwaukee Health Service/School/Media Partners,

Here is an update regarding the weekend heat and Sunday/Monday storm chances.

Bottom Line Up Front
Warm and humid weekend is on tap. Sunday will be more humid that Saturday, but should have more cloud cover/rain chances. If skies are sunny and clear Sunday, then we could be warmer than currently advertised and may need a Heat Advisory. Storms are possible Sunday afternoon through Monday morning, but widespread severe weather is not expected. Moreso a localized possibility of heavy rain/severe weather Sunday afternoon/evening.

What has changed?
Increased confidence in it being a warm/humid weekend, but not to our threshold for an advisory (100F Peak Heat Index), yet.

Forecast Information
Where: All of Southern Wisconsin
What: Heat Index values in the mid to upper 90s, localized severe storms/heavy rain
When: Heat-Saturday and Sunday. Storms-Sunday afternoon into Monday morning
Impacts: Couple days of heat could cause some health issues.

> Given that, and all of the sacrifices I know each and every one of you has made in the midst of the current global pandemic, I wanted to take an opportunity to do a couple of things. First, let me again say "thank you." Many of you have found yourselves on the front lines of a once in a generation health pandemic. All of you have experienced the impact of that pandemic on your homes and families, whether through health or economic hardship.
> Now for the good news - I'm hoping this helps reduce at least one of the fears or anxieties that is understandably in the back of a lot of minds right now (frankly in all workplaces). Like private businesses, units of government have been hit hard by Covid. This pandemic took an extraordinary toll on one of the primary sources of income for county government, the sales tax we collect when people make purchases. We will lose many, many millions of dollars this year. This money pays for wages, programs, and services.
> Very early on we recognized what challenge this would pose to our finances. I asked our budget team to begin developing scenarios for how we could best insulate you - our county workforce - from these losses. I'd like to report that as of today, I have every reason to believe we are going to be successful.
> What does that mean? In short, it is highly unlikely we will need to implement across the board wage cuts or furloughs in 2021. I believe we can weather this storm without adversely affecting those who have worked the hardest to help us through this challenging period. I will be working over the next several weeks to finish preparing my county budget for next year and will keep you posted on these developments, as I know these decisions directly impact people's livelihoods.
> Given the financial losses experienced to date in the midst of this historic pandemic, being able to protect what we have heading into next year is no small feat. It speaks to our years of careful budgeting practices - an accomplishment we achieved together.
> Additionally, I want to remind those workers deemed most critical in the county's emergency Covid response, of your eligibility for two weeks of Emergency Covid Leave under a program we created this spring. Public health employees, highway workers, 911 communicators, child protective service workers, and those caring for our most vulnerable at Badger Prairie Nursing Home (among others) are eligible for two weeks of paid leave. Even if it's not used before the end of this year, it will be paid out in full to you in December. If you have a question about the eligibility of your position for this Emergency Covid Leave, please feel free to contact our Employee Advocate Manager, Shannon Maier in the Division of Employee Relations within the Department of Administration.

Please stay well, stay safe, and thank you for all you do each day.

DANE COUNTY CRIMINAL JUSTICE COUNCIL CHANGES LEADERSHIP, HEARS REPORT ON IMPACT OF JAIL POPULATION REDUCTION ON COVID-19 INCIDENCE

At their meeting yesterday, the Dane County Criminal Justice Council approved a change in leadership. County Board Chair Analiese Eicher was voted in unanimously as the new Chair of the Criminal Justice Council (CJC). District Attorney Ismael Ozanne was nominated as Vice Chair and continues in his long-standing role as Vice Chair.

“This next year will provide an opportunity to break through past barriers, reimagine, and build on the past decade of cross-system collaboration to make real headway and push even further” said County Board Chair Analiese Eicher. “I also want to thank and acknowledge County Executive Parisi on his leadership of the CJC over the last several years”.

The Criminal Justice Council (CJC) is comprised of the County Executive, the Sheriff, the District Attorney, the Presiding Judge, the Clerk of Courts, and the County Board Chair, as well as local law enforcement, the Public Defender, Wisconsin Department of Corrections and other key stakeholders that work collaboratively on criminal justice reform initiatives.

“The CJC allows the leaders in Dane County a forum for communication, collaboration and systems change,” said District Attorney Ozanne. “I look forward to working on issues of fairness, public safety and racial equity in our criminal justice system while keeping victims in the forefront of these discussions.”

The change in leadership follows a 14-point proposal to work on criminal justice reform to improve equitable access to justice that Chair Eicher and Representative Stubbs announced a few weeks ago. The proposal was presented to the CJC at Thursday’s meeting and highlighted recommendations drawn from past community and stakeholder task forces, committees and ad hoc groups.

The CJC also received a report from Professor John Eason on an analysis he completed to determine the impact of jail population reduction on the incidence of COVID-19 in the jail as well as the projection of COVID-19 infection if the reduction had not occurred.

Professor Eason is currently an Associate Professor of Sociology at UW-Madison. Eason previously served as Assistant Professor in the School of Criminology and Criminal Justice at Arizona State University, as well as Assistant to Associate Professor of Sociology at Texas A&M University. His primary research interests link race, health, punishment, and inequality to community processes.

His early research has shown that the jail infection rate would have been substantially higher had decreases in the jail population not occurred. Professor Eason will continue his research through May 2021.

“Working with the CJC to look at data and policy can bring the power of academia to the practical application of justice in Dane County” said Eason. “I am excited to work with CJC members bridging the gap between government and the UW“.

The Criminal Justice Council will convene again in August, agendas, research and reports can be found here: cjc.countyofdane.com.

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

To Whom This may Concern at the Dane County Health Dept. I understand that you have issued a monetary fine to Halbachs in Middleton for there no mask compliance. Thank you!. My concern is now several days or more have gone by, and nothing is being done to take/suspend the business licence away from Halbachs as mentioned in your local press interviews, as Halbachs continues to not follow the Dane county Mask requirement mandate.

I have made several calls and left messages to Dane County Health over the last 3 weeks with no response. Unexceptable!

I am considering taking major legal action with all involved here, as at this point the mask requirement laws put into place for Dane county, are not being followed on either side, referencing to Halbachs and the Dane county health dept in place to administer compliance under governor Evers mandate on wearing masks in Dane county.

Please advise as to what is being done about this, and how they (Halbachs) will be held accountable then stopped and made compliant! Based on your response I then can move forward on my end with a local and national press release, and have my attorney introduce the legal actions i will be taking going forward..

Look forward to your responses!

Thank you

Dave

Hi Lisa/Tom (Martin),

It's been over a week since I first emailed the office. Because I didn't receive any response by the business office at anytime regarding my concerns I decided to call the office where you and I spoke Lisa.
During that conversation Lisa I outlined that residents (here) were not wearing masks in the common areas in the building and the enclosed (shared) garage space.
This is cause for concern.
Not only should the actual residents being wearing masks in all common areas within the building/buildings but shouldn't all cherokee staff be wearing masks when in the owners/residents building(s) and garage(s)? I would believe yes.
Lisa I previously outlined in my email (last week) that city of Madison and Dane county health officials have made it clear that any and all shared living areas (Condominiums included) that owners and legal residents need to be wearing masks when not inside their actual living space.
*The entire building and garage is not their entire living space.
Your response to my concerns were simply, 'we're not going to get involved with policing the buildings at Cherokee'.

Well, that's not exactly what I was attempting to communicate or was asking Lisa.
My apologies Lisa if I came across in a way that made it seem as though I was asking for management 'policing' of the buildings. I'm 91 now. I'm doing my part to stay safe and to remain as healthy as possible. But now, it's seems awfully clear that Cherokee owners, specifically those in 1434 and 1438 Wheeler court are with the belief that the entire building and garage areas is both their home and their actual living space!
It is not. Anyone entering a condo vestibule, hallway, common area, stairs or garage are required to wear a mask.

I believe Cherokee management has at minimum, a moral obligation to reiterate a simple reminder (in writing) that the Dane County Executives order mandating that masks must be worn by all (Cherokee residents) when residents are in and around all common areas within the building or anytime they're outside their actual living space/apartment. To date, no such reminder or notice has ever been issued by Cherokee management.

Cherokee is normally good with dropping notices at condo doors (Cherokee News included). Why something as important as this hasn't been issued to each condo owner is perplexing.

Lisa, a 'word' processed/printed reminder for every owner should also include that family members or friends who may be visiting need to be wearing masks in all common areas as well. Including the garage.
I believe that this reminder/reiteration should be processed with clarity so that each individual condo owner understands that the vestibules, hallways, stairs and garages are not their actual living spaces and these notices should be dropped off at each and every residents actual door entrance to their apartment. From that point on, it's up to each condo owner/legal resident to what's expected. Also, I'm sure many people who used email no longer use email or have never even used email.
It seems clear to me when walking or driving the area out here that 99.99% of Cherokee residents are clearly with the belief that the entire building of which they reside is, their actual living space.
I believe it's cherokees responsibility to communicate that this isn't the case.
An actual physical notice/reminder at each residents door is hardly 'policing' Lisa.
This is all I've asked and I'm continuing to ask Cherokee management to do.

It's about being in-tuned to the facts and that of the extent of this unprecedented crisis before us. It's also about be morally responsible.
Thank you.

Please verify receipt what, if anything, Cherokee is planning on doing

One City Hires David Stephan As Chief Operating Officer

Co-Founder Vivek Ramakrishnan to attend Stanford Business School

July 24, 2020

Greetings Greater Madison and One City Community,

We are excited to share two significant transitions in the One City Schools Community.

First, Mr. Vivek Ramakrishnan, a 2012 graduate of Madison West High School, 2016 graduate of Columbia University in New York, and co-founder of One City Schools, will be leaving his position as Director of Operations and Strategy to pursue an MBA at Stanford University's School of Business this fall. He leaves next week to spend time with his family in Seattle before beginning classes next month in California.

Vivek has been an extraordinary leader at One City. He I first met when he was a high school senior. Vivek happened to be the first of 67 people that spoke at the now legendary Madison Metropolitan School District Board of Education meeting where on the evening of December 19, 2011, the Board voted 5-2 to deny the Urban League of Greater Madison's proposal to establish Madison Preparatory Academy, a 6th – 12th grade public charter school. At the time, I was the President and CEO of the Urban League, and was pushing Madison to confront its persistent racial disparities in education, employment, business investment and community development.

Vivek kicked off the public comment period that evening with a strong and compelling statement of support for Madison Prep, while wearing his West High Hockey Jersey. Besides developing a close friendship with my sons, Jabari and Sekani, who attended West High with him, Vivek later came to work for me as a summer intern at the Urban League where he researched opportunities to expand child care options for families in South Madison. He then assisted me with writing the concept paper for establishing One City Schools, in the midst of his busy schedule as a student at Columbia.

After graduating from college and spending two years teaching high school mathematics and financial education at Freedom Prep Academy Charter Schools in Memphis, Tennessee, Vivek joined One City's executive team in 2018 as we prepared to open our independent public charter school. Everyone who has gotten to know Vivek during his tenure with One City has seen this outstanding young leader grow in confidence and impact on our schools, children, families and his hometown.

In just two years, Vivek helped open One City Expeditionary Elementary School and strengthen operations across both of our schools. He oversaw facility operations, purchasing, compliance, human resources, food operations and school safety and security. He developed strong working relationships with our families, board members and community partners, and was deeply involved in our school finance, budgeting, capital campaign and fundraising efforts. He also led negotiations to secure the lease for the temporary space where our elementary school is located.

As Vivek leaves for Stanford, he will continue to serve as a Business Advisor to me and our new Chief Operating Officer. He will also co-chair our Board's Facilities Committee as we work to secure a new permanent home for our growing elementary school.

INTRODUCING OUR NEW COO: DAVID STEPHAN

With Vivek transitioning to the West Coast, we are very excited to announce that we have hired Mr. David Stephan to serve as our Chief Operating Officer. David joined our team on June 22, 2020 and has already begun overseeing and guiding the development of our school health, food, compliance, human resources and operations planning efforts for the upcoming 2020-21 school year. He is also working closely with Vivek and our Board on our new facility project.

Prior to joining One City, David served as the Chief of Staff for Amethod Public Schools, a network of six public charter schools in Oakland and Richmond, California that serve 2,200 students from 4K through 12th grade. A list of Amethod's accomplishments can be found here.

David was born and raised in Dane County, WI. He attended Verona Area High School and then the University of Wisconsin – Madison, where he double majored in History and German and earned his bachelor of arts degree. He later earned an MA in Germanic Studies from the University of Texas at Austin and a JD from the University of Houston Law Center. During his studies, David was the recipient of several awards and scholarships, including the Marvin D. Nathan Fellowship with the Anti-Defamation League and an English Teaching Assistantship in Upper Austria, Austria through the Fulbright Program.

In David's role as the Chief of Staff at Amethod Public Schools, he worked with the CEO, executive team and Board of Directors to operationalize the organization's goals, develop growth strategies, build relationships with local school authorizers, and ensure each school site had the resources they needed to serve its young scholars. He also provided executive leadership to Amethod's Technology, Communications, Facilities and Human Resources departments.

David knows his way around the classroom as well. He has taught all ages, in the United States and Europe, including time as a high school psychology teacher, a graduate assistant and an elementary school literacy tutor. He also worked as a Law Clerk with Givens and Johnston LLP in Houston in the area of Customs and International Trade Law.

David is very excited to return to Madison and begin the next stage of his career with One City Schools. When he is not working, David enjoys spending time with his three young sons, reading, writing and playing music. You can click here to review his professional resume and reach him directly at dstephan@onecityschools.org.

Please join us in welcoming Mr. David Stephan to our One City Team! This an exciting and challenging time for early childhood and K12 education, but we are poised to make a very positive impact on both fields and the children we serve going forward.

Please let me know if you any questions. We continue to move Forward!

Onward.

Dear Samantha

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Hello County Executive Parisi,

My name is Samantha Fredrickson and I am a Dane County resident in District 5.

Please support the "Doyle Resolution" to not fund the new jail.

Now and moving forward, we need to invest more in supportive social programs to keep our populace healthy, free, and happy. Reallocating new funds to these programs away from the new jail is a step in the right direction, especially considering the vast racial inequities our prison systems perpetuate.

Sincerely,

Samantha J. Fredrickson

Wisconsin Covid-19 Testing – Significant Backlog in Reporting of Negative Results

Nass: Backlog of potentially thousands of negative results has skewed the data.

Senator Steve Nass (R-Whitewater) has been pursuing the Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) to publicly acknowledge there has been a significant backlog in local public health departments entering thousands of negative Covid-19 test results. Earlier this week, Dane County admitted they had not entered all of their negative results since July 10th and was running about a two week backlog in processing negative results. Dane County is Wisconsin's second largest county and has seen a huge increase in people seeking testing since mid-June.

"DHS and local public health departments have been aware of the backlog in counting negative test results and have not been transparent with the public about the situation. By rapidly including the positive test results but delaying thousands of negative test results from being included in the data released to the public, it provides a seriously incomplete picture of Covid-19 in Wisconsin," Nass said.

DHS has provided limited information regarding the backlog even with their confirmation it exists and is significant. Here is what we know:

-Most counties are attempting to enter positive Covid-19 test results in the state data collection system within 1-3 days.

-Counties that have seen increases in Covid-19 testing volumes over the last two months (which is most of the 72 counties) have dealt with backlogs in entering the negative results into the state system. Often the delay is believed to be about 5-6 days, but there are situations like Dane County that have run 10 days or more in backlogs.

"The public and media have been given an incomplete picture of Covid-19 testing results for several weeks. DHS and local public health officials have been telling us that the increases in Covid-19 positives are not simply because of more testing. We now know those statements were inaccurate and misleading due to the significant backlog in processing negative results," Nass said.

Nass noted that when DHS provides its daily Covid-19 briefing, the public and media are given the impression that testing data is timely and accurate. He emphasized that the backlog in entering negative results dramatically skews the percentage positive calculations (this includes the daily percentage, the 7-day percentage and the 14-day rolling average) used in determining if we are identifying more cases due to increased testing or are in a period of increasing spread of infections for other reasons.

Attachments: MKX-Tab3_07_24_2020_1455_31.pdf; ATT00001.htm

Good afternoon NWS Milwaukee Health Service/School/Media Partners,

Here is an update regarding the weekend heat and Sunday PM/Monday AM storm chances.

Bottom Line Up Front

It will be a warm and humid weekend. Sunday should be more humid than Saturday, but cloud cover and afternoon thunderstorms may temper temperatures, especially north and west of Madison. If thunderstorm development holds off until late Sunday afternoon, then it could be even warmer than currently advertised and a Heat Advisory may be necessary. Thunderstorms are likely Sunday afternoon through early Monday morning, but widespread severe weather is not expected. The strongest storms Sunday afternoon and evening will be capable of strong winds and heavy rainfall.

What has changed?

The forecast remains on track for a warm/humid weekend. Current peak afternoon heat index values on Saturday do not meet our Heat Advisory criteria of 100 degrees, but are closer on Sunday.

Forecast Information

Where: All of Southern Wisconsin
What: Heat Index values in the mid to upper 90s, localized severe storms/heavy rain
When: Heat: Saturday and Sunday. Storms: Sunday afternoon into early Monday morning
Impacts: Couple days of heat could cause some health issues. Strong winds could cause downed tree limbs and power lines which would lead to sporadic power outages. Heavy rainfall could lead to localized flooding of low lying and/or poor drainage areas.

Subject: RE: Scouting Project

Hello Wilson:

Thank you for your email!

Yes, we are incredibly excited about the opportunity to clean up area lakes, rivers, and streams with our "Suck the Muck" project!

This short video has great background on our first project on Dorn Creek:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fYHIZTinhoc

This video was done at the outset of Suck the Muck Project at Token Creek:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FlUlME3MgrM

And this one is the most recent update on that project:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=btdPOJv91Zc

The short answer to your question about fish - is YES! In fact, one of the neatest things about this project is how it cleans out the bottoms of streams and rivers and restores them to their natural gravel bottoms. In some cases we have found the "muck" that built up in the bottoms of these streams dates back more than 100 years! How did it get there? Well, every time it rains dirt runs off farm fields and lands surrounding these waterways. Over time it builds up - in some cases we found as much as three feet deep! Once you remove all of that sludge (muck) the stream is back to its original bottom and the water then is really clear. Shortly after we did this first work of "Suck the Muck" in Dorn Creek - which is between Waunakee and Middleton - we saw turtles back swimming in these waters. These streams, creeks, and rivers that all run into Lake Mendota all serve as fish spawning habitat for fish like northern and muskies - they set eggs in those shallower waters. In other words, this project not only vacuums muck right out of the water - which helps grow less green algae - it also creates new fish habitat. It's truly a win-win. Now, I asked your question about how young people can help our Dane County parks and waters to Laura Hicklin - she is in charge of that super fun part of county government. Here was her answer for you:

- Contact elected officials at the local and state level to let them know you care. You would be surprised at how rarely constituents communicate on issues and how much influence you wield. Communications from our next generation of community leaders, such as yourself, are particularly effective.
- • Volunteer your time to help protect our natural resources! Volunteering is a fun way to help protect natural resources, meet new people and get connected to your community. Please know that anytime you volunteer outside, you are helping the lakes and fish. Lakes and the fish inside them need good habitat around them to function properly. Check out our website for volunteer or learning events: https://lwrd.countyofdane.com/Event/Home/Index/12

- • Learn more about jobs in natural resources. Staff from our Land and Water Resources Department are happy to visit with your class to share information about career options in natural resources.
- • Spend time outdoors with your friends so that they also develop a passion for protecting the environment. The more time that people spend outside in nature, the more they love it and understand how important it is. Suggest going for a hike or looking for geocaches. https://www.travelwisconsin.com/article/things-to-do/a-wisconsin-guide-to-geocaching

- • Organize free native plants for your school or another community project. Check out our website for more information on how to receive free native plants. Native plants, including upland plants, are an important part of lake health. https://lwrd.countyofdane.com/Native-Plants-for-Schools-and-Community-Projects

- • Organize a group to apply for a storm drain mural. Storm drains send water along with trash, soil and other pollutants directly to our lakes, rivers and streams. Dane County and Dane Arts Mural Arts work in partnership with community groups to paint storm drain murals. The goal of these colorful murals is to capture the attention of those who pass by, help them understand where the stormwater that enters their storm drain flows and get them thinking about what they can do to "Keep It Clean". https://ripple-effects.com/Storm-Drain-Murals . You can also volunteer to mark storm drains (the markings serve the same purpose as the murals but are not as elaborate): https://ripple-effects.com/ForTeachers/Storm-Drain-Marking

- • Join us in keeping streets leaf-free. In the fall, timely removal of street leaf litter can reduce the amount of phosphorus in urban stormwater by 80% compared to no leaf removal! Communities across Dane County are working hard to reduce stormwater pollution to protect our waters, but they can't do it alone. You can help! Hello Mr. Parisi,

I am a boy scout with Troop 333. I am working on a merit badge for Citizenship in the Community. I need to look at someone in government to discuss issues. I thought that I would write you because you are right in Sun Prairie where I live. I looked at your website and the issues.

One of the issues that is listed on your website is Clean Lakes, I read Dane County values its natural resources and our Suck the Muck initiative means more opportunities to clean up surrounding waterways. Will this help more fish in the lakes?

What can young people do to help?

Data Bytes

Percent Positivity Updated on our Dashboard

As we talked about in our blog post and Snapshot we released on Monday, over the past couple of weeks, our data dashboard has appeared to have a high percent positivity rate. This is because each negative test has to be processed manually by a staff person. Our staff prioritize processing positive results, and as the amount of testing has increased, we have had a backlog of negative tests to process. Positive tests are always immediately verified and processed, and delays in processing negative tests in our data system does not affect notification of test results. The only effect this backlog has had is on our percent positivity rate and daily test counts.

Our data team has been working on a solution, and as of today, PHMDC is now including negative tests on the dashboard that have entered our data system but have not yet been processed by our staff. Around 17,000 negative tests were added to the dashboard today using this updated methodology. Recent dates are subject to change, as some tests are determined to be out of jurisdiction when they are processed. With this additional data added, the percent positivity rate over the past 7 days is 2.1%.

To be clear, percent positivity is just one metric we monitor and was not the reason for the new orders that have been issued in July. We issued orders with new restrictions effective 7/2/20 because from June 20, 2020 through June 26, 2020, 482 individuals tested positive for COVID-19, which was the highest of any seven day period. The number of cases increased by 45% in just one week which was the largest percent increase we had since the end of March. When the order for face coverings was issued on July 7, we had just again experienced the highest ever number of cases in 7 days: 780 cases from 6/27 to 7/3. Additionally, our lab timeliness and contact tracing metric turned red, and our community spread metric was red.

Hi Ariana:

Can you format Friday a.m.? We think an announcement may be coming about extending the AEC testing site. We aren't sure when this news will be released but want to send a statement of gratitude when it does. As you can see in the first line, we still aren't sure at this juncture the term of the extension. Thanks!

Dane County Executive Joe Parisi issued the following statement to today's announcement the community Covid-19 testing site at the Alliant Energy Center would remain open until_____(insert timeframe here). Prior to today's announced extension, the primarily federally funded testing site was originally slated to wind down on August 7th.

"Social distance, masks, rapid testing, and detailed contact tracing are critically important to slowing the spread of Covid-19. As caseloads continue to grow across Wisconsin, hitting new daily records this week, now more than ever we need to maintain the testing capacity built up this summer that allows health officials to identify and isolate positive cases.

"The challenge before all of us is incredible. Losing the ability to do mass testing at the same time schools and universities are looking to re-open would have been a significant detriment to the public health progress we've made here in Dane County. Covid is here for the long haul which means the tools we need to effectively confront it need to be as well.

"I'm grateful to Congressman Pocan, Senator Baldwin, Governor Evers, the Wisconsin National Guard, and our other partners for all of their work to maintain the testing work done every day at the Alliant Energy Center.

> Given that, and all of the sacrifices I know each and every one of you has made in the midst of the current global pandemic, I wanted to take an opportunity to do a couple of things. First, let me again say "thank you." Many of you have found yourselves on the front lines of a once in a generation health pandemic. All of you have experienced the impact of that pandemic on your homes and families, whether through health or economic hardship.
> Now for the good news - I'm hoping this helps reduce at least one of the fears or anxieties that is understandably in the back of a lot of minds right now (frankly in all workplaces). Like private businesses, units of government have been hit hard by Covid. This pandemic took an extraordinary toll on one of the primary sources of income for county government, the sales tax we collect when people make purchases. We will lose many, many millions of dollars this year. This money pays for wages, programs, and services.

Very early on we recognized what challenge this would pose to our finances. I asked our budget team to begin developing scenarios for how we could best insulate you - our county workforce - from these losses. My priority was to protect the wage and benefit gains the county was able to provide in recent years - we had come so far together. I'd like to report that as of today, I have every reason to believe we are going to be successful.

What does that mean? In short, it is highly unlikely we will need to implement across the board wage cuts or furloughs in 2021. I believe we can weather this storm without adversely affecting those who have worked the hardest to help us through this challenging period. I will be working over the next several weeks to finish preparing my county budget for next year and will keep you posted on these developments, as I know these decisions directly impact people's livelihoods. Given the financial losses experienced to date in the midst of this historic pandemic, being able to protect what we have heading into next year is no small feat. It speaks to our years of careful budgeting practices - an accomplishment we achieved together.

Additionally, I want to remind those workers deemed most critical in the county's emergency Covid response, of your eligibility for two weeks of Emergency Covid Leave under a program we created this spring. Public health employees, highway workers, 911 communicators, child protective service workers, and those caring for our most vulnerable at Badger Prairie Nursing Home (among others) are eligible for two weeks of paid leave. Even if it's not used before the end of this year, it will be paid out in full to you in December. If you have a question about the eligibility of your position for this Emergency Covid Leave, please feel free to contact our Employee Advocate Manager, Shannon Maier in the Division of Employee Relations within the Department of Administration.

Please stay well, stay safe, and thank you for all you do each day.

False Data

As uncovered today by State Senator Steven Nass and reported by WKOW News you have been lying to us about the metrics of positive and negative cases in Dane County for Covid 19. This from WKOW:

The numbers on the (County) data dashboard gave the impression that the county was continuously seeing greater spread of COVID-19.

The most current data displayed Friday morning was for July 18. The numbers showed a 6.1 percent daily positive rate and a weekly average of 13.4 percent. By Friday afternoon, following the addition of the new negatives, July 18's daily rate was down to 2.1 percent and the weekly rate at that point was under four percent.

Dane County, according to the now up-to-date dashboard, did see a sharp increase in COVID-19 cases beginning in late June. However, that rate began to subside as the weeks progressed.

The abuse of power is blatant and by your own metrics for Forward Dane the County should be fully open at this time. This is not the fault of staff, but improper management from the top down.

Stop pretending and report the true facts and act on them accordingly.

Hi Mr. Parisi,

I am sure you get 1000s of emails a day.
I wouldn't expect you to see this.
I sit here tonight with great thought.
I am very familiar with Madison and current events.
I am a golf coach at Edgewood High school and I have grown up here.
I know so many people in Madison on all "sides" of this virus which there should not be sides.
I have heard form 100s of people who I know.
It has broken families apart and friendships as you know..
I want to share with you my story and my personal opinion.
If you would be so kind to read.
When the virus came out, I was immediately cautious. I have a family of 2 doctors. One at UPenn, Daniel Kelly who is very renown cardiologist and his son, Sean Kelly who is in NYC fighting Covid at NYU and Bellevue hospital.
It's been very educating to me to learn from them along with my own research.
My whole family quarantined since March. My husband and I have auto-immune and my husband has more risk than me. We have 3 older kids. One a junior at ehs and 2 in college.
In mid June..when numbers were very low. We let our son move back downtown.
This was a mistake as he came back 10 days later covid positive. He was part of the KK super spreader where probably 100 or more were infected on June 18. (2 girls knew they were positive and went to the bar btw) All of his friends got it. Most tested negative and then positive which was interesting. And we all learned a huge lesson in how that works with testing….the hard way.
There must have been 30 of his friends..mostly from Madison. Lots of Edgewood families and Middleton. My son was an EHS grad but currently will be a junior at UW and lived at the Hub.
He did not go to the KK but was with older friends that were there…2-3 days later.
My point..sorry so long..is that its very confusing. Tests give false negatives based on timing. And kids don't stay quarantined the whole 2 weeks.
One of his friends brought it back to grandparents and another to a mom who was 50 with no underlying conditions who was so sick, its was scary. High fever for 14 days and in and out of hospital. Now long term issues possible.
I am the head coach at EHS Girls golf. I am beside myself. I want you to shut all schools down for the first month and go online and slowly see how it goes.
I know MMSD and Middleton and SP have done this. I know they aren't doing fall sports.
Here is the issue. At EHS, they told the staff they were going to start online. The teachers were so happy. Then the parents put out a petition and now suddenly everyone is upset.
And suddenly the CDC comes out with this total school plan…which…as my doctor family says..seems fishy. I get it is important especially for kids in bad situations but it was a quick change and I know trump was involved somehow….In my opinion. Most doctors feel they are hand picking data.
I am all for kids in school soonish….but we have to be careful.

Yes they will have masks at school but how will it be that much different than the KK if we throw them all in so fast. Kids won't respect it.

Which brings me to the next problem..the WIAA.
I was on the call yesterday and was so disappointed. They talked to one doctor who was very loose on restrictions in my opinion.
And suddenly everyone is celebrating fall sports!! Dave Anderson basically said lets go… I don't feel comfortable coaching. I want to try it in the spring. I have been coaching for 18 years and sadly, I might quit over this.
I dont want to but travel, and other things make it hard. And my sport actually is quite safe.
I can't imagine volleyball and football…really??? That is just crazy to me.
I know we are decreasing and I know today's 17,000 negative tests not in the system is just fuel for the private school fire.
But I look at what happened when the bars opened an I look at the 1000 cases a day and I say..its still there. We are doing all here but lets not blow it!!
I actually know the teachers and admin at EHS want to be told what to do. I think they would rather start out virtual and see how it goes in small groups.
Meanwhile….My father just died of covid..autopsy pending but most doctors agree.
A random death not related to my son or anything else.
So I am obviously very emotional about it and thank you for your time.
I truly believe we can go into school but I think august 17 to mix up school and sports together is a horrible idea.
Thank you for your leadership and all you do.
Obviously I would like this email to be private in your staff as opposed to public.

Sincerely,
Peggy Kelly Gierhart

TELL HUD NOT TO TOUCH THE EQUAL ACCESS RULE

Fight back against this cruel proposal. Tell HUD that #HousingSavesLives.

Yesterday the Housing and Urban Development Department (HUD) announced a new proposed rule called "Community Planning and Development Housing Programs: Making Admission or Placement Determinations Based on Sex in Facilities". It guts protections for transgender people by removing critical equal access protections to regulations meant to ensure the safety of anyone in need of HUD-funded programs.

By removing these protections, shelters and programs that receive or operate using HUD grants are now able to ignore nondiscrimination protections for transgender people, leaving them vulnerable to being denied shelter and forced out onto the streets.

One in three transgender Americans has been homeless at some point in their lives. Shelters are often their best access-point to programs that provide safe individual housing – which is a critical need during a global pandemic and an economic downturn.

Every American should have access to safe shelter free of discrimination. Preserving the Equal Access Rule is critical to ensure the safety of transgender people in need of shelter.

We have 60 days to tell this Administration that their plans to cut protections for transgender people will not be tolerated. Submit your comment now.

Hello, all!

Back in the day, freestanding office partitions (kind of like those shown in the attached photo called "partition") were ubiquitous in our government offices. I wonder if any of you know of one sitting idly in a closet or storage room somewhere that I could take off your hands-- or borrow, until I can get what I'm REALLY after—which is a freestanding portable plexiglass barrier (like the one shown in the attached photo labeled "plexi"). Certainly, if you have something like THAT to spare, it would be like a Christmas miracle!

Thanks for your consideration!

Dear Exec Parisi and Josh.
I haven't heard of anything we are doing with the COVID money for regular farmers. Many of them that raise animals for beef or pork are not able to find markets. After spending the money to raise the animals, they are forced to kill them. We will never know how many as it isn't legal for a farmer to kill and bury the animals. Not good for the environment to bury thousands of pounds of animals in just a hole in the ground, but they can't afford to spend even more to do it right. They aren't fool enough to tell government they did it. A program with some of the money that would reimburse them for the costs of raising the animals and also the disposal. We targeted CSA which sells to city folks, but need to help the other farmers.

Mr Parisi,

After observing how Dane County food service businesses are adapting to the horrific situation the area is currently dealing with, there is an innovative way to 1, help lessen the financial pressures all dining establishments are currently experiencing and 2, work to expand the future opportunities for all food service businesses to expand their potential customer base.

This basically revolves the expansion of the food cart model to brick and mortal businesses withing Dane County. The basic rationale for pursuing this at the county level is obvious. Obviously, it is relatively late in the summer season to fully develop a county wide program, but that should not deter the county from looking at a short term program utilizing current vendors, but also to plan an expansion to all current brick and mortar establishments. I believe the benefits are self evident, but am more than willing to discuss the issue with you directly, if appropriate.

While the potential scope of this effort is not detailed, I believe the potential benefit to Dane County is obvious. I am obviously more than willing to discuss this potential with you or your appointed agents.

I hope you find this an interesting possibility. I believe this has the potential of placing Dane County at the forefront of supporting businesses negatively impacted by the pandemic.

Sincerely,
Keith Kunugi

> Good morning NWS Milwaukee Partners,
> Here is an update regarding the heavy rain/flooding potential and heat conditions for this afternoon/evening.
> Bottom Line Up Front
> Humid air mass is already in place and remains here though tonight. Question is with how high temperatures can get if cloud cover/rain moves in this afternoon. If we have full sun, the heat index will get up to around 100-105F. The main threat from the thunderstorms appears to be with heavy rainfall and localized flooding. Will be watching for any storms that stall out or train over the same areas starting this afternoon on into this evening. If we do get full sun, this potential will increase, along with the chance for an isolated severe storm (large hail/damaging winds).
> What has changed?
> Higher confidence in hitting 100-105F heat indices in south/southeast WI. Some concern with whether we'll hit 100F from central to east-central WI. Increasing chance of some storms producing heavy rainfall/localized flooding.
> Heavy Rain/Flooding Forecast Information
> Where: More likely across the southern two rows of counties in WI
> What: Heavy rainfall and localized flooding
> When: This afternoon into this evening
> Impacts: Impassible low spots on roads, ponding of water in urban areas
> Heat Forecast Information

Where: More likely across southern WI
What: Heat indices of 95 to 105F
When: This afternoon into this evening
Impacts: Heat illnesses for those who weren't able to get relief yesterday and overnight.

Another Day of Humid and Hot Conditions

Details

A humid air mass will remain over southern Wisconsin today which, in combination with temperatures in the upper 80s into lower 90s, will lead to heat indices in the 95 to 105F range.

Cloud cover and developing thunderstorms moving from NW to SE this afternoon and evening could hold back these temperatures and head indices.

Hi Executive Parisi,

Hope all is well.

Attached please find information regarding the calibration of the 26th Annual Back To School Celebration sponsored by the 100 Black Men of Madison, 24 August - 3 September.

As you will read, the target of this year activity is three thousand, low income homes of Dane County. By any stretch of imagination, this 2020 activity will be a very difficult but extraordinarily necessary activity.

Upon review, any ideas would be welcome.

Regarding another matter, please share a date & time (hopefully, before Wednesday) when we could have a phone brief chat.

Again, hope all is well. I look forward to your thoughts and speaking with you.

God Bless,

Floyd

Aquatic Debris:

A quick reminder that an aquatic debris pick up is scheduled for this week beginning tomorrow morning 7/27.

The Dane County barge crew will pick up any debris that comes out of the water (including dead fish) and will make one complete trip around Lake Kegonsa and the near north Yahara River inlet. Depending on the weather, crew availability and the amount of debris, it may take them more than one day.

Dead Fish:

We've had a lot of questions about the large number of dead fish on the lake the last week or two. Almost all of the fish are freshwater drum (sheepshead). One of our board members, Pat Guiney, has been working with Dan Oele, Fish Biologist for the Wisconsin DNR, to identify the underlying reason. Dan was out on the lake last week to investigate. Although the water has been very warm for the last couple of weeks no reason is readily available for the fish die off. It is suspected that it may be due to a virus similar to the Koi virus that we saw killing carp a few years ago. Dan reported it to the DNR Fish Health experts. We will continue to update you as we learn more.

Dear Executive Parisi:

I am an I&A specialist and I work at Dane County ADRC. I love my job and I am a proud member of an AFSCME Dane County employee group.

The Parisi administration is proposing Employee Benefit Handbook changes that come directly out of Scott Walker's union-busting playbook, undermining what you, our EGRs, and the county board partnered to build to ensure Dane County workers' voices are heard. I am asking you to oppose the many proposals that attempt to silence and sabotage the employees' associations including:

Severely limiting the work our stewards do to ensure a fair workplace.*
Severely limiting our role and access at New Employee Orientation.*
Slashing workers' pay in the important work EGR leaders do in ensuring a happy, safe, productive work environment.*
Unreasonably restricting EGR access in the workplace communication by email & bulletin boards which is expressly prohibited in s. 18.06(3), Dane County Code.*
Our employee groups offered many proposals during the meet and confer process to address employee equity and retention, hardly any of which were included in your administration's proposal. Furthermore, the Parisi administration is using the Administrative Practices Manual to circumvent the meet and confer process.

You have been our champion for your entire career; we are counting on you to be our champion now. Respect and cooperation are our shared values. We demand you to abide by the democratic process of meet and confer——that is the Dane County way.

Thank you,

Dear Executive Parisi:
I am a 911 dispatcher at Dane County 911 and I work at the City County Building. I am also a proud member of an AFSCME Dane County employee group. I've admired your leadership and what you have done for County employees for years, and it's clear to me you care about your employees. I hope this email reaches you in the same mindset today as it has been in prior years.

I oppose the Employee Benefit Handbook changes below that undermine all of our work: you, our EGRs, and the county board- who partnered together to ensure Dane County workers' voices are heard. I am asking you to oppose the many proposals that attempt to silence and sabotage the employees' associations including:
Severely limiting the work our stewards do to ensure a fair workplace.*
Severely limiting our role and access at New Employee Orientation.*
Slashing workers' pay in the important work EGR leaders do in ensuring a happy, safe, productive work environment.*
Unreasonably restricting EGR access in the workplace communication by email & bulletin boards which is expressly prohibited in s. 18.06(3), Dane County Code.*

Many of the proposed changes evoke a feeling reminiscent of the disappointment, abandonment, and disregard for employee voices that Scott Walker elicited during his union busts in 2011. I sincerely hope that you at least can acknowledge and understand the similarities.

I implore you to abide by the democratic process of meet and confer and to continue to work with our employee groups to preserve the amazing cooperation, teamwork, and success that I have seen from Dane County administration and Employee groups for years—that is; or at least has been, the Dane County way.
Thank you,

Please read the information below:

1. I9 form exception: The exceptions for completing the I9 form in the email below have been extended to June 19th. If they are not extended beyond June 19th the original rules will apply where you will need to see the documents in person within the first three days of employment. For the employees whose forms you obtained electronically, please review the originals no later than July 31, 2020 and update the I9 document.

2. Electronic forms: The only forms that should be sent as hardcopies are the originals of the manually signed I-9 and the documentation for the I-9. All other forms, such as Employee Action Forms, Separation Notices and letters of resignation need to be sent electronically. Once you have sent the forms electronically, please do not send the hardcopy also. Payroll changes may not be made on a timely basis if not sent electronically.
Managers, please notify your payroll clerks when you make hiring decisions so they can complete paperwork on a timely basis.*

3. E-Verify results: When printing the I-9 E-Verify results, please be sure to open the "Case Details" so that you can see the employee's name on the form before printing.

4. Submitting paperwork on a timely basis: Please submit the necessary paperwork as soon as you know of a change in an employee's payroll status.

5. Updated Forms and electronic signatures for supervisors and payroll clerks: The Employee Action Form and the Separation Notice posted on dcinet have been updated so that you can now type your "signature" in the form and we are able to edit the forms. If the form needs to be "signed" by the supervisor, the payroll clerk should save the form as a pdf, forward to the supervisor and once the supervisor "signs" the form, it can again be saved and sent electronically to Renee Endres. By everyone "signing" electronically rather than manually signing it, it's doesn't need to be scanned and the information can be edited by Payroll and Employee Relations.

Any questions, please let me know.

Managers and Payroll Clerks:
If you are viewing the documents for the I9 via email, fax, picture etc… due to teleworking (you haven't physically seen the documents), you need to make that note in the "Additional Information" in the I9 (section 2 or 3). When you return to work and they actually view the document(s) in person you will also need to go back into the I-9 and document that in the same area. A reminder that if you are teleworking and using this temporary I9 process Employee Relations does need a copy of your teleworking agreement for your personnel file.

Good Morning WCEA members.

I have two questions I am hoping you can help me out with.

First, the Department of Health Services Division of Medicaid Services is working with the federal Food and Nutrition Services (FNS) on a project. I do not know the specifics of what they are working on but to be eligible a county must have a county-level emergency declaration in place. So, DHS asked if I could find out what counties still have an emergency declaration in place and when it expires. That will help them in deciding next steps relative to the project.

Second, I received a request asking if any counties had a board evaluation process/board performance measures in place. If you have a process in place or board performance measures I would really appreciate it if you could send a copy my way.

Thanks and have a great Monday!

Sarah

Hi Sarah. Our Board passed an emergency declaration resolution in March. It was set to expire 9-1, but the Board has extended it through year end. We do not have a Board evaluation process in place. Thanks.

Alliant Energy Key Customers:
I am not allowed to meet directly with you, so I thought it might be appropriate to share our recent announcement about Alliant Energy's accelerated commitment to meet our clean energy goals (attachment).
Our sustainability commitment includes 10, 20 and 30 year milestones:

- 2030 we will achieve a 50% reduction in carbon emissions, and a 75% reduction in water use for generation
- 2040 we will eliminate all coal generation
- 2050 aspire to meet net-zero carbon emissions as we generate our electricity

Our commitment is backed up with action. We have already started to build 1 gigawatt of solar generation here in Wisconsin, as well as other wind and solar investments elsewhere! That will make us the largest utility provider of solar energy in the state! The capital investment is substantial, but the payoff will be worth it – reduced cost for future electric generation, as well as far fewer carbon emissions into our atmosphere!

We are proud of our environmental and social aspirations, and know that you will be pleased as well.

Thought you should know,

Jeff

CHILD ADVOCACY CENTER

2020 Labor Day "Virtual" Dash

Coming Soon!

What?

This year our annual Labor Day Dash is going VIRTUAL. Please support Safe Harbor Child Advocacy Center by registering to run or walk a 5K or 10K in the week surrounding Labor Day.

Where?

Wherever you'd like! We will send out maps of our past routes in Vilas and Warner parks, but feel free to run in your neighborhood, on your treadmill, on a track or maybe try someplace new?

When?

Whenever you'd like! We're encouraging participants to run over Labor Day weekend and the week following, but whatever is convenient for you. That's what's great about a virtual event - you can support Safe Harbor and have the flexibility to run whenever it fits your schedule.

---

Registration Coming Soon!

Registration will be open very soon! We have lowered the cost of registration due to the race being virtual. Watch for our next email or check our website for registration availability.

T-Shirt!!!

With each registration you will receive a Limited Edition Safe Harbor "Virtual" Labor Day Dash t-shirt. Whether you love collecting our colorful shirts or whether it's your first time, we each race entry will include our 2020 shirt.

Hello Executive Parisi:

I am a Chronic Disease Specialist working for Public Health at our East Washington clinic office, and I am also a proud member of an AFSCME Dane County employee group. While much of the workforce are able to do their jobs remotely, I continue to serve on the front lines in the clinic daily, providing disease prevention supplies such as condoms to the residents of Dane County with the highest risks and least power, while also supporting our battle against COVID 19 by getting hundreds of people their test results personally. I am rather tired, but my dedication to my community is unswerving.

I have long admired your commitment to progressive policies and values, and your recognition of public service workers as the backbone of your administration's power to carry out these policies. Imagine my surprise to learn that the Parisi administration seems to be taking a page directly out of Scott Walker's union-busting playbook. I have learned that the Department of Administration, perhaps wanting to take advantage of the distraction that the pandemic provides, are proposing changes to the Employee Benefit Handbook without following the Meet and Confer process agreed upon nearly a decade ago. This undermines what you, our EGRs, and the county board partnered to build to ensure Dane County workers' voices are heard. I am asking you to oppose the many proposals that attempt to silence and sabotage the employees' associations including:

*Severely limiting the work our stewards do to ensure a fair workplace.
*Severely limiting our role and access at New Employee Orientation.
*Slashing workers' pay in the important work EGR leaders do in ensuring a happy, safe, productive work environment.
*Unreasonably restricting EGR access in the workplace communication by email & bulletin boards which is expressly prohibited in s. 18.06(3), Dane County Code.
Our employee groups offered many proposals during the meet and confer process to address employee equity and retention, hardly any of which were included in your administration's proposal. Furthermore, the Parisi administration is using the Administrative Practices Manual to circumvent the meet and confer process.

You have been our champion for your entire career; we are counting on you to be our champion now. Respect and cooperation are our shared values. We demand you to abide by the democratic process of meet and confer——that is the Dane County way.

Thank you,

Kathy Andrusz

COVID-19 has changed the way our society operates throughout everyday life while causing a new high demand for air cleaning technologies. PlasmaGuard has developed a new air cleaning technology that destroys all pathogens with a 99.99% efficiency, ensuring your facilities HVAC system will not circulate any bacteria or viruses. Our new Non-Thermal Plasma Pathogen Elimination System will eliminate all contaminants as they enter your system, which makes our system CARES act qualified by keeping your facilities safe. PlasmaGurad is the best technology for all high-profile crowded spaces such as Schools, Offices, Hospitals, Stadiums, and more; helping to protect our teachers, students, employees, and visitors from future potential outbreaks. PlasmaGuard is currently working with Oakland County, MI on their offices to help ensure clean air is being moved throughout their facilities.

Our PlasmaGuard system connects to any type of duct system before or after the HVAC main unit, while also having the ability to provide much higher efficiency with smaller surface area and overall size of the equipment, regardless of the amount of inlet particulate during the process. PlasmaGuard eliminates all pathogens from circulating throughout your facility, drastically cutting down on surface contaminants, and can significantly reduce the chances of illnesses such as sick school syndrome. This is the best air cleaning technology available across all industries and will ensure the safety of all that enter your facilities.

I know this is a lot to take in, so I would like to share an online presentation with you. This Presentation would only take a half-hour of your time. You will have a clear understanding to what PlasmaGuard is, what we can do with this life-saving technology.

Attached is a Brochure of PlasmaGuard.

Good Morning WCEA members.

I have two questions I am hoping you can help me out with.

First, the Department of Health Services Division of Medicaid Services is working with the federal Food and Nutrition Services (FNS) on a project. I do not know the specifics of what they are working on but to be eligible a county must have a county-level emergency declaration in place. So, DHS asked if I could find out what counties still have an emergency declaration in place and when it expires. That will help them in deciding next steps relative to the project.

Second, I received a request asking if any counties had a board evaluation process/board performance measures in place. If you have a process in place or board performance measures I would really appreciate it if you could send a copy my way.

Thanks and have a great Monday!

Sarah

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

To Whom This may Concern at the Dane County Health Dept. I understand that you have issued a monetary fine to Halbachs in Middleton for there no mask compliance. Thank you!. My concern is now several days or more have gone by, and nothing is being done to take/suspend the business licence away from Halbachs as mentioned in your local press interviews, as Halbachs continues to not follow the Dane county Mask requirement mandate.

I have made several calls and left messages to Dane County Health over the last 3 weeks with no response. Unexceptable!

I am considering taking major legal action with all involved here, as at this point the mask requirement laws put into place for Dane county, are not being followed on either side, referencing to Halbachs and the Dane county health dept in place to administer compliance under governor Evers mandate on wearing masks in Dane county.

Please advise as to what is being done about this, and how they (Halbachs) will be held accountable then stopped and made compliant! Based on your response I then can move forward on my end with a local and national press release, and have my attorney introduce the legal actions i will be taking going forward..

Look forward to your responses!

Thank you

Dave

To Whom This may Concern at the Dane County Health Dept. I understand that you have issued a monetary fine to Halbachs in Middleton for there no mask compliance. Thank you!. My concern is now several days or more have gone by, and nothing is being done to take/suspend the business licence away from Halbachs as mentioned in your local press interviews, as Halbachs continues to not follow the Dane county Mask requirement mandate.

I have made several calls and left messages to Dane County Health over the last 3 weeks with no response. Unexceptable!

I am considering taking major legal action with all involved here, as at this point the mask requirement laws put into place for Dane county, are not being followed on either side, referencing to Halbachs and the Dane county health dept in place to administer compliance under governor Evers mandate on wearing masks in Dane county.

Please advise as to what is being done about this, and how they (Halbachs) will be held accountable then stopped and made compliant! Based on your response I then can move forward on my end with a local and national press release, and have my attorney introduce the legal actions i will be taking going forward..

Look forward to your responses!

Hi Executive Parisi,

Hope all is well.

Attached please find information regarding the calibration of the 26th Annual Back To School Celebration sponsored by the 100 Black Men of Madison, 24 August - 3 September.

As you will read, the target of this year activity is three thousand, low income homes of Dane County. By any stretch of imagination, this 2020 activity will be a very difficult but extraordinarily necessary activity.

Upon review, any ideas would be welcome.

Regarding another matter, please share a date & time (hopefully, before Wednesday) when we could have a phone brief chat.

Again, hope all is well. I look forward to your thoughts and speaking with you.

God Bless,

Good Morning,

A couple of months ago, we had a hand wrangling meeting during the second round of extending our State of Emergency in Sheboygan County - some members of the public and a few new board members came out of the woodwork against it, arguing it was too broad, alarming or draconian (ironically, we largely used the same language from the first resolution that passed without a peep). The second Resolution ultimately passed 20-5, but it was a painful meeting.

Last week, we took a different approach and the County Board easily enacted an ordinance with far less angst and fanfare (even though we still had a dozen or so members of the public attend the meeting in opposition). For your interest and review, attached is the cover letter and corresponding Ordinance that you may find a more palatable approach then continuing to extend the State of Emergency (where some people argue you may seize their land or spend money with no constraints...).

I hope this finds you well and hanging in there during these difficult times.

Subject: Public Health Contact Tracing & Clerical Support Temporary Exception

To: All Employees:

(This exception applies only to Employee Group 720)

Last week, I proposed a temporary exception to the Employee Benefit Handbook that would allow the County to assign additional contact tracing duties to employees in order to assist Public Health Madison & Dane County. AFSCME represented Employee Group 720 has raised a concern regarding eliminating the 10 day waiting period before reassigning employees. Since a concern has been raised, I have scheduled a meeting to address those concerns. If any interested Stakeholders (members of EG 720) have concerns you can join my GoToMeeting on July 29, at 9:00 AM by emailing Michelle Goldade at Goldade@countyofdane.com and she will send you the link to the meeting.

Additionally, we have received a number of question regarding this temporary exception and I have provide the questions and answers below.

Q: What is contact tracing?
A: According to the CDC, "Contact tracing is used by health departments to prevent the spread of infectious disease. In general, contact tracing involves identifying people who have an infectious disease (cases) and their contacts (people who may have been exposed) and working with them to interrupt disease transmission. For COVID-19, this includes asking cases to isolate and contacts to quarantine at home voluntarily."

Q: Why are you proposing this temporary exception to the handbook?
A: Public Health Madison & Dane County is in need of additional support in contact tracing to interrupt the COVID-19 transmission. By providing additional support, we can help reduce the number of positive cases, save lives, get our children back into school and return to a robust economy.

Q: Which classification(s) within EG 720 is the county planning to reassign?
A: Economic Support Specialists, Admin Assistant I and maybe others based on the Public Health need.

Q: How many positions does the county expect to reassign?
A: Public Health would like to utilize the services of five to seven employees at this time.

Q: Are there certain positions that will be exempt from reassignments (for example, positions that have been determined first responders and/or health care workers)?
A: No exemptions have been identified.

Q: What position(s) within EG 720 are currently performing contract tracing? Are those positions considered first responders or health care workers?
A: Currently, no employees that I am aware of are assisting Public Health.

Q: Does the county anticipate reassignments to positions other than those that are performing contract tracing or clerical support?
A: Not at this time.

Q: Are any of the positions considered for reassignment classified as bilingual? Will the county guarantee that if an employee is receiving bilingual pay in their current position, they will continue to receive bilingual pay if they are reassigned?
A: Staff are continuing to be paid what their current pay is so the bilingual pay would continue as well.

Q: What other factors will determine which employees are reassigned? Will seniority play a factor in mandatory reassignments?
A: No

Q: The exception indicates the county will attempt to seek volunteers first before mandating staff reassignments. Can you provide further clarification on how the county intends to seek volunteers and how the county will determine when mandating reassignments becomes necessary?
A: The County will ask for volunteers.

Q: If a workers are mandated to a reassigned position, will they be subject to a "Trial Period" as defined in the Definitions subject of the EBH, Section 1(d)? If so, what is the process if an employee does not successfully complete the trial period?
A: No, they will not be subject to a trial period.

Q: If workers are mandated to a reassigned position, will the county guarantee they will eventually be able to return to their prior position, if desired? If so, when would they be able to do so? When the temporary exception expires? And if not then, when?
A: Employees would return to their prior position when the temporary exception expires or when the County in consultation with the Employee decide it is beneficial for the employee to return.

Q: A complete shift in job duties and/or work location could be stressful for both the employee and employer if adequate notice is not given. Why does the county believe the ten working day notice is no longer feasible?
A: The work assignments are being done remotely so employees will not locate to another work area. Given the pandemic, Public Health needs staff as quickly as possible.

Q: If the county believes the ten working day notice is no longer feasible, how much notice will workers receive before being reassigned?
A: As much notice as possible give the current needs in addressing the pandemic.

Q: Can you provide the full text of the exception you are proposing, with the language you intend to add or remove from the current 720 EBH?
A: Full language is below.

Section 3: Intradepartmental Reassignments (EG 720)

a. Intradepartmental Reassignments. Employees shall be advised in writing of the need for reassignments within a classification. The County shall consider volunteers to fill needed reassignments with a classification, within a department. When reassignment of employees within a classification on an intradepartmental basis is deemed necessary by the County, affected employees shall be advised of such need. Employees who are reassigned either in work station (geographic location) and/or work load (i.e., complete change in work load assignment) shall be notified in writing of such reassignment at least ten (10) working days prior to the effective date of the reassignment by their supervisor. The notice shall include a reason for the intradepartmental transfer and shall be copied to the employee group's representative.

b. Proposed Language: Intradepartmental Reassignments. For the purposes of addressing the COVID-19 pandemic and to assist Public Health in contact tracing and other duties as assigned, employees shall be advised in writing of the need for reassignments within a classification. The County shall consider volunteers to fill needed reassignments within a classification, within a department.

Best,

Hello, Executive Parisi

I have worked as a Senior Planner in the Dane County Department of Planning and Development since 1997. Since 2004, I have been a member, chief steward and elected executive board member of Employee Group Representative 1871, Dane County Professional Employees.

In 2013, I was proud to stand with you as you announced the adoption of the county's first Employee Benefit Handbook. Your words about "honoring the county's partnership with its workforce to the best of its ability" struck a deep chord in me, and in other county employees who had agreed to band together to represent their own interests.

So, it was with dismay that I learned that the Department of Administration is advancing proposed amendments to the Employee Benefit Handbook that would undermine, not honor, the partnership that has worked so well over the years. These radical proposals seem to be straight out of former governor Scott Walker's divisive union-busting playbook, and are antithetical to the "Dane County way" of partnership, respect and collaboration. Some of the most egregious proposals would:

- Unfairly limit the Employee Group Representative (EGR) ability to use the county email system and bulletin boards, even though other other groups still have this ability.
- Significantly limiting activities stewards and other EGR officials are allowed to perform during their day-to-day work.
- No longer providing the EGR with copies of important notices such as transfers,
- Severely limiting the EGR's role at new hire orientations by controlling what information can be said and presented.

I would ask you to reject these DOA-proposed changes. They seem intended not to solve any legitimate issues in the workplace, but rather at interfering with employees' rights to self-organize. These changes effectively stifle the free speech of employee group representatives, who are the elected representatives of the employees. I know you know full well the tactics the Republican majority in the Assembly used to attempt to silence Democratic representatives -- I would hope Dane County would be better than that. These also single out EGRs for differential treatment that does not apply to other work-related associations that employees may choose to join.

In addition, I would ask you to support sensible amendments proposed by EGR 1871 and other Employee Group Representatives. As an example, I have attached two EGR 1871 proposals that would equitably and economically address longstanding issues facing Dane County employees:

1. Employees who are asked to sit by the phone and wait for a possible call from their supervisor, without compensation. A recent survey of 1871 members indicates that 36% of professional employees have been in this situation at some point in their careers. I know some of our members who are expected to keep county-issued phones on their person at all times, 7-days a week, 24-hours a day. This is a terrible imposition on employees' social and personal lives, and such employees deserve compensation. Note that the EGR 1871 proposal is broader based, and thus more equitable, than a proposal from the Administration that would limit similar benefits only to employees in the 911 center.
2. Apply undesirable hours pay to all professional employees. EGR supports your original proposal to increase undesirable pay to $1 an hour, and we are glad to see that the Administration has included that in their proposal. However, aside from a few specified titles in Information Management, undesirable pay is not available to professional employees. This treats most professional employees differently than any other employee group in the county. Please support our proposal to make these benefits universal.

In closing, let me just say that good labor relations is about more than good wages and benefits. It's about democracy. I believe, as I hope you do, that citizens do not give up their democratic rights when they enter the workplace. Effective democracy is not possible without cooperation, open communication, equity and mutual respect. The Administration's proposed changes undermine all of these principles, and seem aimed at weakening employee's collective voice. Please reject these needless and authoritarian changes and keep Dane County the model for cooperative labor relations that it has been to date.

Sincerely,

Brian Standing, Vice-President / Chief Steward

Dane County Professional Employees Association, EGR 1871

"A gracious union of excellence and strength."

Forward Analytics Releases New Interactive COVID-19 Data Tool

Forward Analytics, the research arm of the Wisconsin Counties Association, has created an informative and useful interactive Covid-19 data tool. The tool is designed to aid local officials in decision making and assist the public in understanding the extent of COVID-19 in their county.

The data tool is composed of multiple tabs where users can see statewide trends in total cases, active cases, and deaths. It also has several tabs dedicated to individual county Covid-19 cases and deaths, including a time lapse map showing the spread of the virus since mid-March.

Forward Analytics will update the tool weekly using data from the Wisconsin Department of Health Services.

The Covid-19 data tool can be accessed from the Forward Analytics website at forward-analytics.net or at the link below:

I'd like an explanation NOW for the reason for the exclusion of the negative test results of COVID 19. And how long has this been going on And why after they have been corrected and the county has a low positivity percent along with ~300 people in the hospitals statewide why the hesitation to continue to open up the state. You've allowed schools in Dane County to make opening decisions based on BAD and misleading data impacting the lives of many families. This is not right and we demand answers

Dear Executive Parisi:

I am an Erosion Control Specialist with the Land & Water Resources Department, at Fen Oak. I am a proud member of an AFSCME Dane County employee group.

The Parisi administration is proposing Employee Benefit Handbook changes that come directly out of Scott Walker's union-busting playbook, undermining what you, our EGRs, and the county board partnered to build to ensure Dane County workers' voices are heard. I am asking you to oppose the many proposals that attempt to silence and sabotage the employees' associations including:

*Severely limiting the work our stewards do to ensure a fair workplace.
*Severely limiting our role and access at New Employee Orientation.
*Slashing workers' pay in the important work EGR leaders do in ensuring a happy, safe, productive work environment.
*Unreasonably restricting EGR access in the workplace communication by email & bulletin boards which is expressly prohibited in s. 18.06(3), Dane County Code.
Our employee groups offered many proposals during the meet and confer process to address employee equity and retention, hardly any of which were included in your administration's proposal. Furthermore, the Parisi administration is using the Administrative Practices Manual to circumvent the meet and confer process.

You have been our champion for your entire career; we are counting on you to be our champion now. Respect and cooperation are our shared values. We demand you to abide by the democratic process of meet and confer——that is the Dane County way.

A robust EGR or union that works with a robust administration is an amazing thing to behold, and we have done a lot together. I hope that we can stop the divisiveness that seems to recently be extending into our employee realm, so we can all keep working hard for the County and its constituents and taxpayers. My work is in conservation and resource protection, which is hard enough already without feeling an undercurrent of unrest from the top. We all want to do our best for the County and for you. Part of that is having a strong EGR.

Thank you for your support,

Jess Starks

2020 WCA ANNUAL CONFERENCE POSTPONED

Dear Wisconsin County Officials:

Every Autumn for the last 81 years, county officials from around the state have gathered at the Wisconsin Counties Association's (WCA) Annual Conference and Marketplace for educational opportunities, introduction to new products, and peer networking.

The safety and health of our Conference attendees is our top priority. The current public health situation has forced all of us to rethink how we conduct day to day operations at the county level, as well as at the Association. After careful consideration with regard to how WCA could safely conduct a large conference while implementing guidance provided by public health experts, the Association has made the difficult decision to postpone the 2020 WCA Annual Conference and Marketplace.

While we are unable to physically get together, WCA staff is working to ensure you can access some of the educational programming that you would have received at the annual conference. To that end, the September issue of Wisconsin Counties will include a series of articles from several of our concurrent session speakers. In addition, WCA hopes to host a number of webinars featuring concurrent session topics and speakers.

To ensure we can still conduct the business end of the annual conference, a virtual Annual Business Meeting will be held on Monday, September 21, 2020 at 9:00 a.m. Additional information on the Annual Business Meeting will be forthcoming to all county board chairs. Please watch your email for additional information.

While hosting a conference entails a great deal of logistics, so too does postponement. Please see below questions you may have on conference registration refunds and hotel cancellations.

2020 Conference Registration/Hotel Room Information:

Q. What do I do about my Conference registration?
A: There is nothing you need to do. WCA will cancel all Conference registrations, and refund counties/persons who have paid.

Q: What do I do about my hotel reservation? (See attached hotel cancellation policies and phone numbers.)
A: You need to contact the hotel where your reservation is held and cancel your hotel reservation as soon as possible.

It is our hope that we can all be together again for the 2021 WCA Annual Conference in La Crosse, scheduled for September 26-28, 2021. Registration for the 2021 conference opens May 3, 2021. For additional questions, do not hesitate to contact WCA Marketing and Events Manager Cheryl Fleck via email or at 866.404.2700.

Please stay healthy and safe. We look forward to a time when we can all safely be together again.

Sincerely,

MD. O'Connell

Dear members of the Public Health Madison & Dane County Board of Health,

Please find attached a letter in which I ask that the Board of Health immediately prohibit non-essential businesses and gatherings to prevent further community spread of COVID-19 with the aim of allowing K-12 schools to safely reopen for in-person instruction this academic year. For educational, economic, and social justice reasons, we must prioritize schools in our management of the COVID-19 outbreak. In order to reopen schools safely, we must reduce the community spread of COVID-19, which will require further limiting lower-priority community activities such as bars, gyms, and private gatherings.

The letter is signed by me as well as 363 members of our community. I have submitted a request to make a public comment at tonight's Executive Committee meeting, and am also available for comments and questions on the August 5th meeting of the full Board. I hope you will give this request the serious consideration that it deserves.

With respect,

Malia Jones, PhD, MPH

Joe,

I know you, and everyone else is struggling with how to manage COVID. I'm also pretty confident you've heard from other restaurateurs concerned about their future. So, what I have to say is not unique.

Our sales are down more than 50% year over year. While streamers has been helpful, we don't have as many large outdoor footprints to come close to making us whole. Even with the outdoor seating, once October rolls around, we can kiss even that goodbye. That will doom our business and most other full service restaurants in Dane County unless something changes. Food Fight used to employ over 1000 great people and support many local businesses. We are down to about 400, and we don't know if we can sustain that. We've negotiated with banks and landlords and have also written some pretty large personal checks to keep things going. PPP has been a help, but that to shall end. Top that all off with the protests, and we are in a world of hurt.

It seems to me that restaurants have been very conscientious and have followed guidelines unlike vertical drinking establishments. Let's work together to come up with creative solutions to get people back inside the restaurants. If we don't, there will be a lot more pain than currently. Sales tax, property tax, small businesses, and real people, will be hurt.

I get it: this is a very unique time, but we need to lead our way out of it without destroying what make Dane County and Madison so wonderful.

Thanks,
Greg Frank

Dear Mr. Parisi,
My family and I reside in Middleton, a couple of blocks from Helbach's Coffee. As you know, Helbach's service staff will not wear face coverings and the owners do nothing to discourage customers from coming in and out maskless (none of the required signage is posted). Their idiotic position makes it less likely that my son will be able to complete his last year of high school in any sort of normal way. Their idiotic position makes it more likely that more of our community will be scarred by this disease. Their idiotic position contributes to the overall problem, not a solution. I am writing to urge you to take strong action. They need to comply with your sensible mask mandate or be shut down immediately. This is taking too long for those of us 'within spitting distance'.

WCA ANNUAL CONFERENCE POSTPONED

Every Autumn for the last 81 years, county officials from around the state have gathered at the Wisconsin Counties Association's (WCA) Annual Conference and Marketplace for educational opportunities, introduction to new products, and peer networking.

The safety and health of our Conference attendees is our top priority. The current public health situation has forced all of us to rethink how we conduct day to day operations at the county level, as well as at the Association. After careful consideration with regard to how WCA could safely conduct a large conference while implementing guidance provided by public health experts, the Association has made the difficult decision to postpone the 2020 WCA Annual Conference and Marketplace.

While we are unable to physically get together, WCA staff is working to ensure you can access some of the educational programming that you would have received at the annual conference. To that end, the September issue of Wisconsin Counties will include a series of articles from several of our concurrent session speakers. In addition, WCA hopes to host a number of webinars featuring concurrent session topics and speakers.

To ensure we can still conduct the business end of the annual conference, a virtual Annual Business Meeting will be held on Monday, September 21, 2020 at 9:00 a.m. Additional information on the Annual Business Meeting will be forthcoming to all county board chairs. Please watch your email for additional information.

FORWARD ANALYTICS RELEASES NEW INTERACTIVE COVID-19 DATA TOOL

Forward Analytics, the research arm of the Wisconsin Counties Association, has created an informative and useful interactive Covid-19 data tool. The tool is designed to aid local officials in decision making and assist the public in understanding the extent of COVID-19 in their county.

The data tool is composed of multiple tabs where users can see statewide trends in total cases, active cases, and deaths. It also has several tabs dedicated to individual county Covid-19 cases and deaths, including a time lapse map showing the spread of the virus since mid-March.

Forward Analytics will update the tool weekly using data from the Wisconsin Department of Health Services.

The Covid-19 data tool can be accessed from the Forward Analytics website at forward-analytics.net or at the link below:

AS U.S. SENATE WORKS ON NEXT COVID RELIEF PACKAGE, URGE YOUR SENATORS TO SUPPORT DIRECT AND FLEXIBLE FUNDING FOR COUNTIES OF ALL SIZES

The U.S. Senate may soon unveil the next COVID-19 relief package and begin negotiations with leaders in the U.S. House of Representatives and the White House.

Take action today to ensure that your county has the resources and flexibility necessary to mitigate the virus, protect the public's health and restore our economy.

Nationally, county revenues are plummeting while costs are skyrocketing because of the unique county role in responding to this pandemic. New NACo research finds that the COVID-19 pandemic could lead to massive budgetary impacts for county governments and local taxpayers, with as much as $202 billion in lost revenue and increased expenditures through FY2021. Congress needs to know that this fiscal impact means the loss of critical local services such as public health, court management, housing, human services and public safety. Help us tell your story!

Greetings Supervisor Ripp:

Thanks for your note and I'm happy to say that within that monthly county food pantry allocation to 2nd Harvest are dollars to do just that - purchase meats, cheeses, and dairy. In fact - this is why the county acquired semi storage trailers for 2nd Harvest (they're now parked at the AEC) and recently invested into the cooler/freezer expansion project at Badger Prairie Needs Network. The Pork Producers and Yahara Pride were all instrumental in this partnership coming together and attended the kick-off for the project when we launched it a couple of months ago. I know all of them were having direct, one on one conversations with the Director of 2nd Harvest that day. Now - that said, I'm quite sure given what's happened at processing plants across the country there is still a pretty significant back-up that's likely resulting in challenges on the farm. In short, the agreement set up with 2nd Harvest helped create a new market for these goods but likely didn't resolve the entire disruption to the food supply network. I know a lot of dairies were dumping milk deep into spring - so incredibly sad to see.

I've attached the June food purchase/distribution report from 2nd Harvest. It has good detail about meat, cheese, milk acquisition with the CARES funding the County provided.

I hope this helps. And I hope you're staying well during this wild year!

Dear Exec Parisi and Josh.
I haven't heard of anything we are doing with the COVID money for regular farmers. Many of them that raise animals for beef or pork are not able to find markets. After spending the money to raise the animals, they are forced to kill them. We will never know how many as it isn't legal for a farmer to kill and bury the animals. Not good for the environment to bury thousands of pounds of animals in just a hole in the ground, but they can't afford to spend even more to do it right. They aren't fool enough to tell government they did it. A program with some of the money that would reimburse them for the costs of raising the animals and also the disposal. We targeted CSA which sells to city folks, but need to help the other farmers.

Executive Parisi, I'm writing to you as a zookeeper from the Dane County Zoo and member of the Local 65 employee group. Many of the proposed changes to the handbook are extremely negative especially for the ability of zoo employees to retain a work/life balance, something that has led to our zoo being able to recruit and retain high quality candidates from a nationwide pool in the past. Nearly all of our keepers are concerned specifically about potential hours changes with no guidelines on how they are enforced or scheduled. This is problematic for parents in need of childcare, pet owners who have animals to care for at home, and individuals who have come to this zoo in particular to have a stable work schedule.

Our employee group has worked with management and the county in the past to reach agreements on many things from healthcare to agreeing to staff the zoo in mutually beneficial ways, such as using compensatory time instead of overtime. New proposals to the handbook remove many options to collaborate and reach solutions as employee group members are unable to communicate with other employees effectively. Communication is the first step to solving minor problems before they turn into major issues. Workplace bulletin boards are unobtrusive ways to distribute information for example, and having a workplace representative to answer basic questions on site is a great option for those of us sometimes unable to respond to voicemails, emails, and other desk-based communication methods.

I don't think these proposed handbook changes have the best interests of everyone in mind, and I urge you to please reconsider them.

Thank you,
Elise Gorchels

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear Executive Parisi,

I am a 22 year Dane County employee – proudly serving our community as a social worker. I work at Badger Prairie Health Care Center where, as you know, things have been stressful but successful in terms of keeping our residents safe. I have also worked serving people with disabilities and in adult protective services. One of the best parts of working for Dane County is the progressive nature of our government. In 2011 Scott Walker stripped our rights for collective bargaining – an act you decried citing the importance of employees having a seat at the table. Your basis, in part, was your own upbringing in a union home and the values with which you were raised. I am also proud to be from a family of union members – my grandfather encouraged me to go in to civil service and I took his advice to heart. 2011 broke my heart - to watch workers' rights stripped away in the most underhanded way possible. Then we (the DOA and workers) came together to create the Employee Handbook. I was on the committee that created the handbook and we felt it was a triumph in the face of the austerity being brought by the Walker administration. Preserving our ability to be recognized as a group that works in partnership with DOA to achieve common goals to best serve our communities. The voluntary time away program, reintroduced this year by DOA, was born of the bargaining process and saved the County a substantial amount of money. From a personal level, sadly I've had to engage the EGR for support when management failed me when I was being bullied by another worker (not a manager but someone in a position of perceived higher power). If I had not had the EGR by my side, the bullying and harassment would have continued as multiple managers turned a blind eye. Turning to legal action I did not want to take was avoided – 100% due to the EGR assisting me and pressing a much higher-level manager to finally resolve the situation. The partnership we have is of great value – to serve our community best in a time of crisis – to pitch in together in tough times. Now does not seem the time to take a page from Scott Walker's playbook.

The proposals sitting in front of you and awaiting your signature are not in the best interest of anyone. It only serves to divide us in a time that calls for unity.

The proposals below are very clearly put in place to begin to dismantle the EGR and silence our voices and halt the cooperative relationship we value.

- Severely limiting the work our stewards do to ensure a fair workplace – as in my own situation.
- Severely limiting or role and access at New Employees Orientation.
- Slashing workers' pay in the important work EGR leaders do in ensuring a happy, safe and productive workforce.
- Unreasonable restricting EGR access in the workplace communications by email and bulletin boards which is expressly prohibited in s.18.06(3) Dane County Code.

Our employee groups offered many proposals during the meet and confer process to address employee equity and retention – hardly any are included in your administration's proposal.

And, your administration is using the APM to circumvent the meet and confer process. Why? Why does your administration feel this is necessary?

The EGR system is a triumph to all and in the true spirit of the Dane County Way. The EGR system allows you to remain to true to the values you claim to hold having grown up in a union home. I hope you can recognize workers feel valued when they have a voice and can be an effective part of real solutions to the challenges we face today and every day. I hope you can put action to what is clear sabotage of a system we collective designedl. We cannot and will not be able to work in partnership with your adminstration as we have with the proposals put before you. Why? What purpose does this serve but to silence the workers? I hope the Dane County Way is what you will practice and not just preach. When we created the EGR you said you were committed to employees having a seat at that table. You have been our champion – I ask that you oppose the many proposals that attempt to silence and undermine the employee associations.

Sincerely,

Rachel Friedman

Thank you for your reply Josh.
I know the County is doing a lot, but it is very frustrating to see what is happening. A farmer in my District had to dump milk so he bought 200 small pigs and used the milk as about a third of their feed. Now that the pigs are market weight, he couldn't get rid of them. He sold 8 to others in the rural area who butchered their own and he butchered one for his family. He had to shoot 191 and bury them last week due to no market or place to legally butcher them for sale. There isn't any help for folks like that.

Hello,

I am very concerned about Helbachs coffee shops' continued non-compliance /defiance of/with the MDCPH mandate re mask wearing. A $263 fine is pointless. Why has their license not been suspended or revoked. It is a slap in the face to have the barista serving maskless. A customer, even a mask wearing one, could be handed a mug from a hand that may have been used to cough in, Then that customer goes across to another shop, or home, and touches surfaces... that is how this dangerous virus spreads. Please, help our community.

Thanks you

Judy

The Arc Commemorates and Reflects on the 30th Anniversary of the ADA

Sunday, July 26th, marked the 30th anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act. The Arc is proud of our role in protecting the rights of people with disabilities, including as a significant player in the passage of the ADA. Consistent with our work for decades on policy development and legal efforts on key issues including deinstitutionalization, transforming state service systems, and ensuring that people with I/DD have access to education and life in the community, The Arc was committed to advancing the bill creating a national mandate for the elimination of discrimination on the basis of disability. From educating Congress and the public on the discrimination faced by people with disabilities and their families, helping to organize the grassroots, and supporting Congressional hearings and promotion on the Hill, The Arc was actively engaged in the fight for the ADA. State and local Chapters of the Arc were integral to the movement.

We ask our community to support the #WeAreEssential campaign and continue to work as a movement to be sure we are not left out.

Updates from The Arc on the Senates new COVID Relief Package. ACTION NEEDED!

Contact your Senators and tell them to include the needs of people with disabilities, the workforce, and service providers in the next package.

- In May, the House passed its fourth coronavirus package, the Health and Economic Recovery Omnibus Emergency Solutions (HEROES) Act (H.R.6800), with a vote of 208-199. Monday, Senate Republicans introduced the Heals Act. It is a series of bills that are in response to the HEROES Act that passed the House. The Heals Act includes additional stimulus payments, liability protections for businesses, fixes to the Paycheck Protection Program loans. The Senate bill has $1 trillion dollars of relief, while the HEROES Act included $3 trillion in funding, much in the form of relief for states, and including the broad FMAP increase as well as the dedicated HCBS funding. The Heals Act does NOT include funding for Medicaid Home and Community Based Services.

Dear Joe Parisi,

The Baldrige Foundation Institute for Performance Excellence & SOAR Vision Group, LLC are sponsoring a series of INNOVATION Shared Learning Labs to highlight solutions that are working to provide actionable data and effective targeted strategies. We want to give you an opportunity to have honest robust dialogue with leaders from other communities about what is working and how the current COVID-19 crisis provides an opportunity to rethink public health in this country. Learn more here.

Leadership has never been more important. We need swift actions that coordinate resources across counties and states with clearly articulated and aligned targets. Our health ecosystems are intertwined, so we need robust and transparent collaboration between public and private organizations. Most of all we need real-time data that leads to strategic actions.

INNOVATION Shared Learning Lab Dates:

- Tuesday, August 04 @ 1 pm ET
- Tuesday, August 11 @ 1 pm ET
- Thursday, August 13 @ 1 pm ET

We have invited forward-thinking community leaders to join us in each learning lab to present their best practices and case studies on how the COVID-19 crisis has provided an opportunity to rethink community health and to move from fragmentation to public-private coordination towards creating a Community Health without Walls model. Join a select group of community and healthcare peers across the nation to discuss your community-wide best practices related to COVID-19, and especially those that are helping you learn new ways of addressing social interdependencies. Each session will be facilitated by Dr. KaiLonnie Dunsmore, Baldrige Foundation Director of Community Initiatives, and enrollment will be limited to ensure interactivity.

Sincerely,

Al

Good afternoon Joe and Kristine,
I know you are inundated with a vast array of concerns in Dane County every day, but I am writing to advocate for Public Health Dane County to issue a ruling about the start to the school year, especially for high schools.

As you know, this pandemic is emotional and divisive. There are two competing sets of data that make decisions about reopening schools especially complex. The first states that students need in-person school for their mental health, and young people may be less likely to spread Covid-19 and also are less at risk from it/are quicker to recover. The second states that the virus is on the rise in 40 states, that cases are spiking in Dane County, and that as re-opening happens, younger and younger people are infected-- while they may not be hit as hard, their infections are often asymptomatic and testing won't reveal that they have the virus til they infect others. This second set of data is also showing significant rises in infections in 10-19-year-olds.

While the American Association of Pediatricians and many government officials advocate for reopening schools for mental health reasons, it's also important to restrict how many people come into contact with each other every day. Those limitations of movement aren't viable for secondary students who switch classes and have varied schedules many times a day.

Every major district in Dane County is ruling out an in-person start to the year, but this decision should not be occurring at the school or district level. Leaving the decision to schools or districts makes it seem subjective, at the whims of loud and clamorous stakeholders. This is a public health crisis. Public health guidelines should dictate our institutional policies. The mask order was the right thing to do. Making an order for schools in Dane County to begin the year virtually is the right thing to do. We need you! Please help us.

Listening to our school board meeting last night, it was evident that both the school board and public wanted some form of in person learning this fall yet the 6' restrictions placed by Dane county made the cost associated with that decision to be prohibitive.

Since these restrictions are only placed on schools in Dane County I can only assume that budget shortfalls within these districts will be taken up and funded by the County budget.

If the county deems all roads should be paved in gold, it would be up to the county to figure out the funding.

The Insighter: Apartments.com Marketing Trends

Where we report weekly on relevant apartment marketing topics facing communities today.

If you missed the much-talked about Live Virtual Summer Showcase from Apartments.com – a riveting two-day event with more than 10,000 learning sessions attended – these emails will present best practices and highlights from each of the 10 sessions.

This week we're highlighting the last of three session recaps from "The New Normal in Renter Search Behavior" with Jordan Silton, Senior Director, SEO & Analytics, Apartments.com.

Week 4

Traditional Renter Search Trends Remain Powerful: Photos, 'Read More' and Reviews

Traditional apartment marketing continues to come through. Image selection, compelling text and resident reviews remain critical aspects of listings.

Jordan Silton, Senior Director, SEO and Analytics, Apartments.com, shared his thoughts on these trends during the recent Apartments.com LIVE Virtual Summer Showcase.

Watch the full presentation

PICTURE PERFECT

The analytics team at Apartments.com continues to see that renters are asking for a lot of information. Pictures can provide many of these answers.

Renters viewed more than half a billion photos on Apartments.com in both May and June. Yet, despite all of those photo views, renters are consistently asking for more pictures.

Renters also want more information about floorplans, the application process, and other details. How detailed are the photos on your listings? How about other details? Marketers should review their listings and make sure they are providing as much thorough information as possible.

In terms of compelling pictures, Apartments.com has run quite a few analyses about photo quality. There appears to be a sweet spot in terms of photo count, where listings with 30 to 39 photos have the best correlation with leads, and some communities with over 50 photos correlate with a decrease in leads.

Having a minimum threshold of photos makes sense, but it's interesting to see the decrease for high photo counts. You could consider narrowing your photos down to the best ones, making sure you order them in an intuitive way, use actual photos as opposed to rendering or stock images, and try to use staged rooms with furniture as much as possible to help renters imagine what it would feel like to live there and what the proportions of the room are.

Apartments.com leverages machine learning and trained image classification models to recognize room types (ex. bedroom, bathroom, kitchen, living room, fitness center, pool). The initial goal was to analyze featured image room types to determine which are more likely to get clicked by renters.

The top three rooms types for featured photos included living rooms, fitness centers, and kitchens. Those photos received the highest clickthrough rate from search results to the listing detail page.

Overall, interior photos perform better than exterior photos. It may be time to replace that building photo with an interior image. Additionally, amenity photos such as pools and fitness centers also outperform exterior building photos. Many pools and fitness centers are closed right now, so you may want to keep those out of the featured photo for a little while, but once things open back up, you could certainly test amenities again.

'READ MORE'

Beyond just mentioning they key phrases renters are interested in, does your apartment listing description entice prospects to "read more?"

The listing description is one of the most under-utilized pieces of content on a listing detail page. Most content is structured data such as prices, availability and amenities. However, the listing description gives you creative license to tell a story, engage with renters, and draw them in.

It's not difficult to find standard, pat language on many listings. However, here's an example from Venue Brentwood that is effectively alluring:

LET'S REVIEW RESIDENT REVIEWS

Approximately 71 percent of Apartments.com listings included one or more reviews.

Multiple sources of research show that renters prefer recent reviews within the past 6 to 12 months. The problem is that only 36 percent have reviews posted from the past 12 months. A good benchmark would be to target approximately 10 or more reviews per listing, ideally all within the past year.

Specifically, on Apartments.com, CoStar analyzed the impact of reviews on lead-flow to apartment communities several times during the past few years. Results are similar each time: Listings with one or more reviews receive 40 percent more leads than those without reviews.

The fascinating part, and this has been consistent over time, is that there is no correlation between review rating and leads. Renters appear to just want to see something, some sign of life on the listing.

Recap compiled by Paul Bergeron, a freelance reporter and CoStar contributor, who covers apartment management. He can be reached at pbergeron333@gmail.com.

Dear Executive Parisi,

I have been a long admirer of yours, seeing you as a champion of the working people and supporter of collaborative communication with employees. I have appreciated you since you were running for Wisconsin State Assembly and I saw you speak at the CAUS-N and CAUS-S Political Fair in Sun Prairie. You expressed how you valued the voice of the working people. I taught school for almost 24 years and left teaching after losing my voice for my students and colleagues. Our administrator took Act 10 and turned our staff upside down and went to a totally authoritarian model. We went from a "Village Partnership" model to one of a top down, punitive model. Morale took a dive and it just wasn't a pleasant place to work anymore. The worst part, is what I think it was doing to the kids when the administration no longer listened to the teachers voices about what is best practice in education.

I have loved working for the county! I have loved everyone that I have worked with. Morale has been high in the areas where I work and I have always felt appreciated! However, I have seen some emails from Administration that come across as being that same authoritarian voice that I knew when I was a teacher. The voice that is trying to cut off the communication of the employees. Please help us scale that back and allow for communication. I feel that the more information people have – the better. It almost seems as if administration doesn't like the communication of the employee group when they stifle use of communication of employees as partners and colleagues and collaborative units. It is imperative that we include the voices of everyone that is included in decisions made, that want to be a part of that decision. I realize that while it takes more time to listen and consider other people's input, it is beneficial to everyone when we hear the perspectives and ideas of all sides.

People are stressed out with all the unknowns of COVID-19. It is concerning that our stewards can't meet with an employee that feels they are working in a hostile work environment to help investigate and work through the issue that is creating the hostile environment in an immediate manner, which helps with a quicker solution to issues in the workplace - especially when stewards can't deal with this on work time. A top down approach is the last thing we need right now. It is an attack on the association model. I would like to point out that all employees should also be able to vent to someone to help them work through hostile situations or just stressful situations even if they are not in an association -that should be the prerogative of any Dane County employee. A partnership with administration is of the utmost importance in helping with open communication and a good working relationship with employees. Whether these changes are temporary as Greg Brockmire has stated, or not, we need to listen to employees and allow them to be at the table for decisions. I know this can be difficult and more time consuming, probably more difficult when you have individuals and not just employee groups, but we need to figure this out so that it is a good thing for all of the County's greatest assets – our workers.
I do believe that the relationship between our Employee groups and administration has become strained and we cannot let that happen. Stifling the voices of the workers by taking away posting on bulletin boards and using email to communicate is concerning to me. Not allowing stewards the ability to meet collectively to help solve workplace issues is disturbing. It almost seems like our administration doesn't care to resolve issues in a cooperative manner. While I certainly hope that isn't the case, I have seen too many emails from administration that imply just that. I just want to make you aware of my feelings and fears. I have loved working for the county and don't want to see the morale tank in the wake of attacks on the collaborative efforts of our associations. This is not just an attack on associations, but all employees. Low morale is a hard thing to bring back. I do believe that you are still that champion of workers and maybe just too busy with COVID issues right now to know what is happening and how your employees are feeling. Let's go back to the Dane County Way of Respect for our employees and make this a great place to work for EVERYONE!

Thank you!

Sincerely,

Marla Hellenbrand

All –

Math error – 1 MW powers 130 homes, not 1300. I made a dumb math error – which I realized in the middle of the night (yeah, it's special to process solar data in your sleep…)

Details in case you want them…
1kW of solar yields about 1,200 kwh of electricity in our region.
1 MW (1000 kW) yields 1,200,000 kwh.
A typical home uses 9,000 kwh/year (bonus if you use a lot less than that – my house uses about 4,000 kwh and that includes charging an EV)
So 1 MW will power about 130 homes.
When we get everything up and running – airport, landfill solar – we'll have 27.75MW which will power 3,700 homes or all of our county's operations.

Sorry about that -

Joe, I sent you an email a couple of days ago. I know how busy we all are these days and how quickly an email can get buried, so I've attached it below for easy reference.

Please take a look when you have a chance—I think you'll find it interesting and valuable. Once you've taken a look, I hope that you'll be open to a brief discovery call with myself or my co-founder Meg. If you are, please let me know some times that work for your schedule, and I am happy to coordinate things from there.

Best regards,

Rachel

If so, I can guarantee to make that time productive for you by offering insights and strategies that other companies like yours have successfully leveraged to achieve their performance goals.
> As you are probably aware, the most successful companies effectively engage with their managers and employees to build a performance culture that promotes accountability and leadership. Yet, today's reality is that 85% of employees (managers and line workers alike) are disengaged from their work. This is not only a waste of individual potential, it's a waste of company potential, productivity, and morale. As companies seek to reposition themselves and their teams during this unprecedented and stressful time, many managers are hyper-aware that a misstep can lead to disaster—yet now is the time to ensure performance that keeps pace with rapid market changes.
> My company, Rose Group International, takes that potential for disaster and turns it into a company's biggest opportunity to drive performance and accountability to new levels. We use unique IP that we conceived and tested to get straight to the heart of what's bugging your team and help them to perform at their highest level within the systems and processes of your company.

We aren't another general team building, personality and strengths driven approach that throws a 6-inch binder at you, gives you a feel-good pat on the back and leaves you to sort out the rest. That is, we don't just "diagnose" an awareness of issues or classify individuals strengths or personality types and leave them to work out how to use that information. We also don't just focus on the managers. Instead, we listen. We give specific strategies and tools that impact every employee and help build a high performance culture. In fact, six months after training 90% of employees are often still using the tools and frameworks we teach—because they work!

We support organizations in:

- Building accountability
- Addressing and working through teamwork issues
- Raising productivity
- Creating alignment
- Building an agile, growth-capable culture
- Improving morale and reducing turnover
- Implementing change faster and with better outcomes

Our process has been tested with over 20,000 individuals. We have 50+ years of combined experience in leadership roles in major industries like aerospace, IT, geospatial technology, mining, transportation and logistics, and can combine that real-world experience with our unique systems approach to solve leadership and culture issues that many of our clients thought could not be effectively solved. We do it so well that over 90% of our clients have reported continued improvements over time.

Our approach has:

- Reduced turnover by an average of 20%
- Improved alignment with executive teams
- Improved productivity by 25%
- Saved hundreds of thousands in reduced downtime
- Saved millions in reduced project costs and implementation time
- Improved clarity, reduced stress, and improved morale

Getting the best from your teams really isn't complicated, and it has far less to do with personality and leadership style than many of our clients initially thought. We can help companies identify and move the levers that matter for productivity and accountability and drive performance through the roof.

Joe, whether you feel you have an immediate need for the kind of results our approach can deliver, would you be open to connecting for a few minutes? Worst case, we'll build a professional relationship and share some interesting conversation. Best case, we'll find that we can work together to build an accountable, high-performing culture that can create lasting advantage.

If you are open to a conversation with myself or my co-founder Meg, please let me know some times that work well for you in the next week or so. If you prefer, I am also happy to coordinate with your assistant.

Until we speak,

Rachel

Local Government Leaders,

Governor Evers announced a second round of aid to Wisconsin farmers. According to the release, nearly 12,000 Wisconsin farmers received aid through the Wisconsin Farm Support Program. Each recipient received $3,500 for a total of $41.6 million. The Evers administration says there is $8.4 million remaining so a second round is available; applications will be accepted between August 10-24.

Update on Protest Activity
The MPD Command Post is on day 54 (I believe) of being staffed to address/monitor the protest events throughout the City. Protesters have blocked the entrance of the South Police District (4 times in the past 7 days). The organizer, Jordan King, is calling for daily protests at the District. This activity has made it challenging for officers at SPD to respond to and from the District. Also, if you weren't aware, protesters also showed up to DA Ozanne's residence last Saturday for several hours into the late evening/early morning. Lastly, although not as well attended as in previous weeks, we continue to see nightly gathering of protesters at the Capitol.

Here's info of known events planned this weekend:

"Light up the Sky"
When: Friday, 07/31 @ 3pm
Where: Ahuska Park, Monona – then MPD Training Center and/or Hwy 51 and Broadway.
The event is calling for a march from Ahuska Park to the MPD Training Center on Femrite Dr. The group is advertising for a shutdown of traffic of Stoughton Rd (twice) before heading back to the park for pizza and fireworks.
East Police District Captain Cory Nelson is the Incident Commander for this event. There is some information advertised that this event is also on Saturday 08/01. MPD is monitoring

"Cappin at the Capitol"
When: Saturday, 08/31 8pm-11pm
Where: Capitol – State St
The event is being advertised as a block party. Local music artist will be performing and clothing and other items will be sold.

Thank you

It's nice to meet you

New Employee:
Rowan Childs

"I started in early June as the new Economic Development Director for the Village of Mount Horeb. I am thrilled to be able to help our community and businesses thrive now and in the future.
I have been lucky enough to meet people in person, phone, and via zoom the past weeks and have had much discussion with residents, business owners, brokers, village staff, to state economic planners getting up to speed on what has happened in the past, what we have planned, and what we can do now to help our businesses survive during the pandemic.
I have many people I have yet to meet, so please add your name to my list! I encourage you to reach out me to via email or phone.

Recent News

A newly formed Community Development Authority (CDA) was voted on in the July Village Board meeting. To clarify, the Mount Horeb Economic Development Corporation was dissolved earlier this summer and the development position is now under the Village of Mount Horeb. The CDA will do strategic planning relating to the growth and redevelopment of the Village, make recommendations to the Village Board on economic development programs and projects and oversee Mount Horeb's business retention, recruitment and expansion efforts. Additionally a housing task force will form in the fall to help address the wide housing need in the village.

We are compiling new data and information on available buildings for lease and sale along with available commercial land. Please contact Rowan to add your property to these listings so we can keep the lists current and share what is available with those looking to expand, build housing and or businesses in Mount Horeb. Interested in a new location for your business? Please reach out.

Expanded outdoor cafe zones approved

The village has approved new exterior cafe zones for restaurants to gain more seating and sales outside through Oct. 31st. "The Streatery" program includes several guidelines for restaurants to be able to increase their seating areas and maintain safety of patrons, pedestrians, and traffic.The restaurants are going through their individual plan approval now, watch for the expansion soon across the Village. A grant was also made available to help the businesses with the costs of the expansion from seating, umbrellas, to fencing and safety equipment. The Village is now working with the Chamber to expand the program for retailers.

Keep in touch!

We want to be in touch with you, so please add us to your email contact list. Please call or email Rowan to introduce yourself and or bring an important matter to our attention. Thank you for helping us make the Village of Mount Horeb a vibrant community for all.

Dear Executive Parisi:

I am an economic support specialist and I work at the Dane County Job Center. I am a proud member of AFSCME Local 720.

The Parisi administration is proposing Employee Benefit Handbook changes that come directly out of Scott Walker's union-busting playbook, undermining what you, our EGRs, and the county board partnered to build to ensure Dane County workers' voices are heard. I am asking you to oppose the many proposals that attempt to silence and sabotage the employees' associations including:

*Severely limiting the work our stewards do to ensure a fair workplace.
*Severely limiting our role and access at New Employee Orientation.
*Slashing workers' pay in the important work EGR leaders do in ensuring a happy, safe, productive work environment.
*Unreasonably restricting EGR access in the workplace communication by email & bulletin boards which is expressly prohibited in s. 18.06(3), Dane County Code.
Our employee groups offered many proposals during the meet and confer process to address employee equity and retention, hardly any of which were included in your administration's proposal. Furthermore, the Parisi administration is using the Administrative Practices Manual to circumvent the meet and confer process, which is total crap.

You have been our champion (or said you were) for your entire career; we are counting on you to be our champion now. Respect and cooperation are our shared values. We demand you to abide by the democratic process of meet and confer——that is the Dane County way.

Thanks,

Abe Saloma

Forward Analytics Releases Updated Interactive Sales Tax Forecasting Tool for July

Forward Analytics (FA), the research arm of the Wisconsin Counties Association, has released an update to its county sales tax forecasting tool. The initial version of the tool was released in June to allow county officials to run a series of forecasts based on sales tax distributions through June.

Counties with the local sales tax recently received their July payments, so the tool has been updated to reflect those amounts.

Overall, county sales taxes have held up remarkably well during the first few months of the pandemic. Through the July payment, these revenues are up 2.6% over the same period in 2019, with only six counties seeing 2020 collections below 2019 collections. The $1,200 federal stimulus and the additional $600 per week in federal unemployment helped maintain household spending.

Forward Analytics continues to monitor sales tax activity and will keep county officials apprised as new developments occur.

The Healing Power of Pets

You know how much enjoyment your furry friends bring to your life. But did you know they're also beneficial to your physical, emotional and social well-being?

Researchers offer all kinds of scientific rationale for engaging with our non-human counterparts: Their love and companionship can alleviate loneliness and boost our mood. Dogs encourage us to become more active by pulling us off the couch and out for regular walks. Even fish help us reduce stress by inspiring a sense of calm.

Our furry companions also serve in other important roles:

- Animal therapy has become more common in health-care settings. Dogs are frequently used with patients undergoing physical therapy or chemotherapy. And many pets can join their humans in assisted living facilities or nursing homes.
- Service dogs have been specially trained to provide humans with a greater sense of independence, especially those with diminished vision or hearing. More recently, they have been trained to detect allergens, imminent seizures and low blood sugar levels.
- Emotional support animals (ESAs) are prescribed by a mental health professional to help people cope with a disabling mental illness, such as anxiety, depression or certain phobias.

Although service dogs are allowed anywhere the public is allowed, that's not the case with ESAs. However, as ESAs become more common, laws could possibly change.

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Hi Joe,

Based upon my research, Dane County is eligible to receive reimbursement from the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act. Or perhaps you've received reimbursement and now have the responsibility to disperse these funds.

I'm reaching out from SimpliGov - A leader in government workflow automation, online forms, and electronic signatures.

Our cloud-based, no code solution is empowering public sector organizations to rapidly respond to the business process challenges associated with CARES Act funding.

"We're the first county in the first state to use next-generation, cloud-based government workflow automation to stand up a digital form in support of the CARES Act within 48 hours with a fully compliant workflow associated with the form," said Michael Hojnicki, Chief of Policy and Communications, New Castle County, State of Delaware. "Working with SimpliGov has been an awesome experience. After I saw the demo on the SimpliGov platform, I said, 'I'm sold. I like it. I want it. Let's make it happen.'"

Additionally, I want to make sure you're aware of our COVID-19 Resource Center.

Are you available for an introductory call next week?

Thank you,

Thinking of Walkability as a Health Justice Issue

As our Walking College Fellows approach their last leg of the curriculum and work on their Walking Action Plans, many are also brainstorming and articulating the ways that health justice will inform their work – as they take on real community change in their neighborhoods.

We're grateful to be having intimate Walking College social hour meetings lately with past and current fellows and mentors, to converse about these and other topics. To say we are honored and energized by our Walking College family is an understatement.

Not everyone has ease of access to nature or safe environments to walk and it is our duty as change agents to not only address the symptoms of inequity but to remove the root causes.

The social environment that racist and unjust policies have created also impacts walkability. As walkable community advocates, we must also advocate for dismantling the presence and impact of systemic racism.

How can we think beyond the built environment when pondering about improving walkability in communities of color? 2020 Walking College Fellow, Lee Scottlorde, shares her thoughts on the intersections of walkabiilty and health justice in her blog, Walkability is a Health Justice Issue in Philadelphia.

The Americans with Disabilities Act Turns 30-Years-Old

30 years ago on Sunday, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) was signed into law, giving people of all abilities greater opportunity and access to public spaces and places – a milestone to be celebrated. But, to echo advocates from the disability community, the ADA is not some magic wand that removes the ample attitudes and systems of ableism that permeate how individuals of varying physical and intellectual abilities move through the public sphere, and how we design the built environment.

Here is a small sampling of pieces to inspire your inclusive advocacy work, in light of #ADA30:

- COVID Times and ADA / Amelia O'Hare / NCHPAD
- How the ADA Changed the Built World – Crip Camp / NetFlix Film Club
- Walking Towards Justice: Connecting and Allying with the Disability Rights Movement / America Walks

- How I Walk – A Campaign to Rebrand the Word Walking / NCHPAD
- Walking Towards Justice: Addressing Ableism in Your Built Environment / America Walks

There were also invaluable discussions and threads on social media this weekend. Check out the hashtags #ADA30InColor, #CripTheVote, #DisabilityTooWhite and #ADA30 to continue unlearning ableism while adopting an intersectional ADA approach.

Hello Beth,

Thank you very much for reaching out with your feedback and to express your concerns. Developing local reopening metrics is our top priority, alongside thinking through metrics and criteria around what would cause schools to be shut down, and we continue to work closely with our operations and data team on this. We are reviewing an abundance of new metrics released from outlets across the county this week in consideration with what we just learned from DHS and are analyzing how everything connects to our Forward Dane plan. The variation in metrics we've seen is huge and, as you know, the science is complex. We are working to provide these metrics as quickly as possible. Thank you for your understanding.

Good afternoon Joe and Kristine,
I know you are inundated with a vast array of concerns in Dane County every day, but I am writing to advocate for Public Health Dane County to issue a ruling about the start to the school year, especially for high schools.

As you know, this pandemic is emotional and divisive. There are two competing sets of data that make decisions about reopening schools especially complex. The first states that students need in-person school for their mental health, and young people may be less likely to spread Covid-19 and also are less at risk from it/are quicker to recover. The second states that the virus is on the rise in 40 states, that cases are spiking in Dane County, and that as re-opening happens, younger and younger people are infected-- while they may not be hit as hard, their infections are often asymptomatic and testing won't reveal that they have the virus til they infect others. This second set of data is also showing significant rises in infections in 10-19-year-olds.

While the American Association of Pediatricians and many government officials advocate for reopening schools for mental health reasons, it's also important to restrict how many people come into contact with each other every day. Those limitations of movement aren't viable for secondary students who switch classes and have varied schedules many times a day.

Every major district in Dane County is ruling out an in-person start to the year, but this decision should not be occurring at the school or district level. Leaving the decision to schools or districts makes it seem subjective, at the whims of loud and clamorous stakeholders. This is a public health crisis. Public health guidelines should dictate our institutional policies. The mask order was the right thing to do. Making an order for schools in Dane County to begin the year virtually is the right thing to do. We need you! Please help us.

Subject: Masks

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Most everyone in Dane County is truly wearing the masks. Even if they hate them and know that studies have shown them to be ineffective, they wear them. People are social distancing. Restaurants are at 25% capacity. Positive cases are still rising (of course they're not counting the negative cases, throwing the numbers off). Deaths and hospitalizations aren't perfect either (of course I have video of the governor and head of the health department in Illinois admitting that COVID deaths are counted anytime someone dies for any reason whatsoever provided they test positive for COVID at death. This results in perverted statistics of course). I do have to say though that with everyone following the rules, and your modified numbers still going up, wouldn't you have to admit that what your doing doesn't work? If we're all wearing masks because you said they'd work, then numbers go up, shouldn't you apologize publicly and admit you were wrong? If were all standing 6 feet apart and numbers are still going up according to your contact tracers (who are directed to ask questions in a way to show results with an agenda), shouldn't we conclude that that doesn't work either? When will you finally admit that Sweden had it right all along? At least to yourself while you bankrupt the rest of us. When will you be happy? Do you want all of us dying of depression and poverty? Wouldn't it be better to be a leader that leads us to financial success? I'd be proud of a leader like that. I would actually vote you back in again when the time came if you'd do something like that. Do the right thing. Keep Dane county businesses strong!! They'll thank you for it.

Mr. Parisi:

The current Corona statistics for Dane County comparing total population to infections is LESS than 1%. If you compare your positive to negative testing it is 2.1%.

People's physical and mental health are suffering from this lock down. Do you know that the average person has already gained 16 pounds. Do you know that being overweight is another risk factor?

The mask order needs to be ended. People can make their own decisions about how to keep healthy. Do you have any idea how UNhealthy it is to workout with a mask on or work outside in 90 degrees.

Children need school to open.

Complying with Animal Accommodation Requests – NEW 2020 Guidance!

Live Webinar | Presented By: Jo Becker

Date: August 4, 2020 | Time: 1:00 pm EST

Apply "USA50" to get $50 off

REGISTER NOW

HUD has issued long-awaited guidance on animals as a reasonable accommodation, on emotional support animals, and on online verification vendors.

The federal Fair Housing Act (FHA) affords individuals with disabilities protections, one of those rights is the ability to request a reasonable accommodation and, according to the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), a request for a disability-related aid animal in a pet-restricted or no-pets property is among the most common accommodation requests made.

We'll discuss what's "reasonable" and legal reasons for denying along with common mistakes that could land you in legal jeopardy. And, then we'll take a deep dive into HUD's 19-page memo issued on January 28th and the guidance it provides. We'll also look at two earlier, momentous announcements – one from HUD on January 22nd, and another from the Dept. of Transportation late last year.

Session Highlights

- Definition of disability
- Trio of disability protections
- Fundamental principles of disability-related accommodation under the federal Fair Housing Act, including:
- Residents / prospects' right to ask (how, when)
- Your obligation and your rights
- What's "reasonable" and legal reasons for denying
- What you should know about the verification process

- Assistance animals as an accommodation
- Again, what's "reasonable" in terms of disability aid animals?
- What's okay vs. no-no's regarding fees, deposits, animal rent, damage charges, etc.
- And, in addition to this background and review, a thorough walk through of HUD's newly-released guidance specific to animal accommodations in housing and online verifiers!

Learning Objectives

- This webinar will provide you the knowledge to:
- Review current assistance animal accommodation policies and practices for compliance
- Craft or revise policies and rules based on official guidance and specific language offered by HUD
- Respond to accommodation requests promptly and appropriately
- Recognize the differences (and legal distinctions) between service animals, assistance animals, pets, and other critter sub-classifications such as emotional support animals.

Apply "USA50" at check-out to get $50 off on your registration.

Subject: Information for you regarding MMSD's reach out to Governor and DCF

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Hello Joe,
Below is a letter we are sending to the Governor and DCF later today. I know you don't have any authority over Wisconsin Shares but just wanted you to know about this. It will be really important for our most vulnerable children and families.
Thanks,
Jane

Dear Governor Evers and Secretary Amundson,

As you may know, the Madison Metropolitan School District has decided to begin the 2020-21 school year in an all-virtual method of instruction. Although this was an extremely difficult decision, we believe this is the right decision to protect the health and safety of children, and prevent greater spread of COVID-19.

We have been working internally with our district's recreation department (Madison School & Community Recreation, a department of the Madison Metropolitan School District), along with our district's other out-of-school time providers and believe we have the capacity to provide in-person child care for our most vulnerable children while they are in virtual learning in situations where parents cannot be home with them. We plan to provide in-person child care for a portion of the elementary-aged children in Madison with virtual instruction, technical support and time built into the curriculum. These programs will take place in both school buildings and neighborhood centers across the city.

These programs will be staffed with recreation and education professionals who will create enriching experiences to complement virtual instruction provided by classroom teachers. These spaces will give children safe places to be while their parents are at work while also supporting the children's academic, nutritional, physical and socio-emotional needs. The costs associated with increased supply needs, additional transportation needs, personal protective equipment for staff and children, and employment of staff for extended hours is a significant cost to our school district.

We are writing to make an urgent request for State assistance to support low-income children and families. The extension of use of the Wisconsin Shares funding would help us support our most vulnerable children and families. We respectfully request that Wisconsin Shares child care subsidy be made available for child care provided during virtual learning to help offset costs associated with providing adequate spaces and support for virtual learning. While we know Wisconsin Shares is not usually available to be used during a "typical school day," we would argue that a student attending a child care program and participating in virtual learning so that his or her parent can work is not participating in a "typical school day." For this reason, we believe Wisconsin Shares authorizations should be extended to cover child care during virtual learning and for full-day childcare programming while school is fully not in-person.

In a typical school year, Madison School & Community Recreation provides elementary afterschool programming in 15 of Madison's Title I schools and 2 low-income neighborhood centers. Last year, in our fee-based afterschool program:

- 15 % of our participants received Wisconsin Shares
    - Additional 14% received fee assistance
    - Additional 10% of our participants are homeless

We anticipate that due to rising unemployment rates, the need may be higher in the upcoming school year.

This issue has significant financial implications but it is, fundamentally, a matter of equity. In Madison elementary schools, over half of the 14,000 children who attend our 32 elementary schools qualify for free or reduced lunch and nearly 60% of our student body is made up of students of color.

It is clear that virtual learning may have adverse consequences for many children and threatens to further widen the achievement gap between white students and students of color. It is on all of us to minimize this adverse consequence every chance we have. We believe the steps we propose to take will mitigate some of that learning loss. However, we simply cannot reach the group of students we need to reach without further financial support from state or federal sources, such as the Wisconsin Shares.
As the scheduled start of the fall semester is only weeks away, it is essential that we move forward quickly. Thank you, in advance, for your prompt attention to this request.

Sincerely,
Dr. Jane Belmore - Superintendent, Madison Metropolitan School District
Kelly Ruppel - Chief Financial Officer, Madison Metropolitan School District
Janet Dyer - Executive Director, Madison School & Community Recreation

NEWS AND UPDATES

JUSTgrants
JUSTICE GRANTS SYSTEM

On October 15, 2020, the Department of Justice grant making components – the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS Office), the Office of Justice Programs (OJP), and the Office on Violence Against Women (OVW) – will transition to one grants management system (JustGrants) for all three grant components and a new payment management system (ASAP).
This e-newsletter will provide regular updates and share information to assist everyone with the transition to these new systems.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Addressing Concerns About Email Validity
We have received a few inquiries from recipients of this e-newsletter to our AskJusticeGrants@usdoj.gov email account asking about the legitimacy of our communication on the transition to DOJ's new grants management system (JustGrants) and new payment management system (ASAP).
We assure you that you did not receive our previous communications in error. You were automatically signed up to receive JustGrants emails through GovDelivery because you are a current grantee, award recipient, or applicant with one of the DOJ grant making components.
You can learn more about the transition to JustGrants by visiting the Justice Grants Website. This is an official website of the U.S.Government. DOJ posts all official email updates as PDFs to this website within hours of their dissemination.
To ensure that you continue to receive our emails, and that they are not flagged as spam, we recommend that you add justice_grants@public.govdelivery.com to your email system's "trusted sender" list (or equivalent.) Please note, this email address is only used for email dissemination and the inbox is not monitored. If you have any questions regarding JustGrants, ASAP, or the system transitions, please email AskJusticeGrants@usdoj.gov.
If you do receive an email purporting to be about the system transition from a source other than those listed above, please let us know by contacting the JustGrants team at AskJusticeGrants@usdoj.gov.
Automated Standard Application for Payments (ASAP) Update

Dissemination of ASAP enrollment invitations started on July 1 and will continue on a rolling basis through the end of August, until all DOJ recipient organizations are reached.

Two enrollment emails—one containing a username and one containing a temporary password and a link to create a new password—will be sent to your organization's SAM Electronic Business Point of Contact (E-Biz POC) from the Department of Treasury's Bureau of the Fiscal Service. Once you have received your invitation, refer to the ASAP Registration Checklist for the next steps to take.

Award recipient organizations can check the status of their enrollment, including whether or not their enrollment has been initiated, by contacting the ASAP Help Desk and providing the organization's DUNS number and Entity Identity Number (EIN).

For those new to ASAP, webinar trainings are currently scheduled to take place over the next several months. Access trainings and additional resources to learn more about the ASAP system.

Key Grants Management Transition Activities

In the weeks leading up to the October 15 transition, there are a number of actions that current award recipients will need to take. More information on these actions and associated key dates specific to each DOJ grant making component are available as downloadable PDFs for your reference and to help you prepare for the transition.

COPS Office Action Dates

OJP Action Dates

OVW Action Dates

DATES TO REMEMBER

July–August 2020 — Current grantees receive instructions on how to enroll in the ASAP system.

Early August 2020 — Current grantees receive instructions on how to access the JustGrants external dashboard and register in the system.

August 24, 2020 — JustGrants will open for external grantee organizations to enroll users.

August–October 2020 — Training will be available to external users through web-based e-learning courses, job aids, and virtual Q&A sessions. Additional information will be forthcoming.

September 22, 2020 — Legacy systems, including GMS, NexGen, and GPRS, are discontinued.

September 23–October 14, 2020 — Final data migration and "cutover" activities from the legacy systems to JustGrants occur. Grantees will NOT have access to their grants during this time period. Please ensure you have resolved any time sensitive matters prior to September 22.

October 15, 2020 — JustGrants is launched and grantees begin using the ASAP system.

Covering the Wisconsin Legislature since 1972

Thursday, July 30, 2020

GOVERNOR ORDERS NEW PUBLIC HEALTH EMERGENCY AND STATEWIDE MASK ORDER

Governor Evers announced a new Public Health Emergency which lasts for 60 days (Executive Order #82). It designated DHS as the lead agency to respond to the public health emergency, authorized the Adjutant General to activate the Wisconsin National Guard as necessary, and directed all state agencies to assist as appropriate. The first Emergency Order (EO#1) in the new Public Health Emergency requires face coverings for any individual age 5 or older when indoors or in an enclosed space other than a private residence; and; when another person or persons who are not members of an individual's household or living unit are present in the same room or enclosed space. The order supersedes any local order that is less restrictive and is enforceable by civil forfeiture of not more than $200. The order goes into effect at 12:01 am Saturday, August 1, 2020 and expires on September 28, 2020 or by a subsequent order.

DCF ANNOUNCES CHILD CARE FUNDING RESULTS

The Department of Children and Families (DCF) distributed $51 million in CARES Act funding. The funding was made available through three separate grant programs and reached 2,712 providers in Wisconsin. According to DCF's release, "Payments allowed over 20,000 workers to receive pay and enabled nearly 80,000 children to continue their care during the pandemic."

UW SYSTEM AUDIT RELEASED

The Legislative Audit Bureau completed an audit of the UW System and reviewed the status of recommendations made in prior audits. According to the release, the audit found:

- On the basis of generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), UW System's net position was $5.4 billion as of June 30, 2019.

- On a budgetary basis, UW System's total program revenue balance was $1.3 billion as of June 30, 2019. Of this amount, $866.6 million was from unrestricted sources such as tuition.
- UW System Administration did not provide written guidance to UW institutions to improve program revenue balances reporting.
- UW System Administration's policy on financial management of auxiliary operations has not been updated since June 1999, is inconsistent with other UW System policies, and is based on requirements removed from Wisconsin Statutes in July 2015.
- UW System Administration implemented 10 of our 16 recommendations from report 19-5 related to affiliated organizations, partially implemented 2 recommendations, and has not implemented 4 recommendations.
- UW System Administration and UW-Madison implemented our recommendations from report 19-5 related to personnel system policies.
- UW System Administration partially implemented recommendations related to information technology policies and procedures.

Good afternoon,
I was asked to participate in a meeting with Sen. Baldwin and reps from our National Association tomorrow. Looks like we have a 10-11 window. Anything you want me to emphasize?

Thanks,
Janel

Good afternoon WALHDAB PA Committee & WALHDAB Board Members,

We received the below request for WALHDAB Members to meet with Senator Baldwin this Wednesday from 9-11 Central Time. Would any of you have availability to meet with her, along with NACCHO Government affairs staff? He shared they have that 2 hr window open but would only be about a ½ hour pending the conversation.

We would hope to have at least 2-3 LHD representatives on the call if possible. Please let me know if anytime during that 2 hours might work for you and I will coordinate schedules. Thanks for your consideration.

Hi Jamie,
Yes, I just heard from them they are available from 10am – 12pm.

I also want to add The Republican proposal for COVID funding came out yesterday from Senate Majority Leader McConnell. It is largely seen as a starting point for negotiations with the House, although there are Senate Rs who object to the price tag.

There is $1.5 billion through CDC to provide States, localities, territories, tribes, tribal organizations, urban Indian health organizations, or health service providers to tribes, funding to carry out surveillance, epidemiology, laboratory capacity, infection control, immunization activity, mitigation, communications, and other preparedness and response activities:

The formula they would use is the PHEP grant formula, which would result in the same thing we have seen before, i.e. 6 cities and every state receiving funding with no requirement to send it to the local level.

Hi Jamie,
I was able to schedule a call with Sen. Baldwin staff for this Friday to discuss federal funding for local health departments in the next COVID package. Would you be able to join the call and perhaps recruit a couple of local health officials who can speak to what's happening on the ground in communities? As you may know, Congress is introducing new COVID relief packages this week and we want to ensure that there is explicit funding for local health departments in this bill.

Here is NACCHO's letter of recommendations for the next COVID package, but would love to get more first-hand stories from the field. Please let me know if you're available!

Best,
Ian

Subject: An Appeal from Your Employee and Constituent

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Dear Executive Parisi:

In this time of tumult, with a pandemic on hand, along with the long smothered wounds of Black people finally exploding through the oppressive gates of institutionalized racism, it seems a time to remember those less powerful and build them up, giving them resources which help them to exist on a more level playing field. However, at this critical time in history, while we march in the streets for unity and hope for a future without the current regime that seeks to dominate and subjugate, Dane County, as an employer, seems to be edging in the opposite ideological direction behind closed doors.

It seems an odd time for such a progressive employer as Dane to enact measures that appear to have the intention of weakening the rights of its frontline workers (the less powerful) and certain proposed changes to the Employee Handbook would effectively do just that. I ask that you consider whether making it more difficult for workers to bring forward and resolve issues, informally or formally, with the assistance of a steward (a representative), will move the organization toward a better place in this world.

To be sure, the Dane County government workforce is not a group the media is focusing on right now. We cannot be defined as a group of African American people, LGBTQ+ people, Latinx people, White people, persons with disabilities, women or any group of people just struggling against the ever present threat of poverty. No, our workforce is not any one of those, but all of them. As you fight for the citizens of Dane County whom you clearly care for so deeply, please consider the phrase that charity starts at home. We, your workers, are the citizens of Dane County.

On a personal note, regarding these proposed changes, let me speak as a Black woman of mixed heritage. I have worked for Dane County through contracts for 14 years total and as a formal employee for the last almost 8 years-all connected to the Dane County Job Center. In all of those years, I have not seen one person who looked like me in even the lowest position of leadership there until this last year. We now have one person at the very top who identifies as having African American heritage. Shortly after that person came on, our second person was promoted into the entry rung level of leadership, a job for which she'd been passed over for multiple times until now. Anyone might find the timing uncanny.

So, it took (at least) 22 years before we had 2 people of African American heritage in leadership positions in a division where we serve thousands of African American clients. We remain without anyone who looks like this significant demographic in a middle management position, arguably the most meaningful supervisory level in an organization. Now, I do not suggest that anyone making the decisions has been intentionally racist, but 22 years is a long time and, even within this last year, I, personally, was passed over for an opportunity I was well qualified for 'in the interest of "diversity"' without any context of what that even meant in relation to me. Numbly, I did not even take offense and expressed understanding of the decision at the time. The point is, I, along with many of my Black co-workers and our allies, have a very deep personal interest in keeping workers' rights and representation strong.

Executive Parisi, I have long been a fan of you as my County Executive and my boss, from renting in Madison to owning in Oregon, from working for you at the Early Childhood Initiative as an Employment and Education specialist under contract, to working for you now as an Economic Support Specialist. I sing your praises as your employee and your constituent. Please return the support and continue to be the balanced, fair and worker friendly leader we have known. Please decline the proposed changes to the Employee Handbook as it pertains to the following items:

-Limiting the work of stewards
-Limiting our role and access at new employee orientations
-Cutting workers' pay while acting on behalf of the Employee Group
-Restricting Employee Group access to work email systems and bulletin boards

If changes are in order, please consider allowing them to be made in the meet and confer process with strong consideration around the fact that your frontline workers are the least powerful in the organization, but the most impactful. Reducing our rights hurts everyone.

With much appreciation for all that you do for me, my co-workers and my fellow citizens,

Jamie O'Dea LaGree
Dane County Employee

Dane County Citizen

The Insighter: Apartments.com Marketing Trends

Where we report weekly on relevant apartment marketing topics facing communities today.

If you missed the much-talked about Live Virtual Summer Showcase from Apartments.com – a riveting two-day event with more than 10,000 learning sessions attended – these emails will present best practices and highlights from each of the 10 sessions.

This week we're highlighting the last of three session recaps from "The New Normal in Renter Search Behavior" with Jordan Silton, Senior Director, SEO & Analytics, Apartments.com.

Week 4

Traditional Renter Search Trends Remain Powerful: Photos, 'Read More' and Reviews

Traditional apartment marketing continues to come through. Image selection, compelling text and resident reviews remain critical aspects of listings.

Jordan Silton, Senior Director, SEO and Analytics, Apartments.com, shared his thoughts on these trends during the recent Apartments.com LIVE Virtual Summer Showcase.

Watch the full presentation

PICTURE PERFECT

The analytics team at Apartments.com continues to see that renters are asking for a lot of information. Pictures can provide many of these answers.

Renters viewed more than half a billion photos on Apartments.com in both May and June. Yet, despite all of those photo views, renters are consistently asking for more pictures.

Renters also want more information about floorplans, the application process, and other details. How detailed are the photos on your listings? How about other details? Marketers should review their listings and make sure they are providing as much thorough information as possible.

In terms of compelling pictures, Apartments.com has run quite a few analyses about photo quality. There appears to be a sweet spot in terms of photo count, where listings with 30 to 39 photos have the best correlation with leads, and some communities with over 50 photos correlate with a decrease in leads.

Having a minimum threshold of photos makes sense, but it's interesting to see the decrease for high photo counts. You could consider narrowing your photos down to the best ones, making sure you order them in an intuitive way, use actual photos as opposed to rendering or stock images, and try to use staged rooms with furniture as much as possible to help renters imagine what it would feel like to live there and what the proportions of the room are.

Apartments.com leverages machine learning and trained image classification models to recognize room types (ex. bedroom, bathroom, kitchen, living room, fitness center, pool). The initial goal was to analyze featured image room types to determine which are more likely to get clicked by renters.

The top three rooms types for featured photos included living rooms, fitness centers, and kitchens. Those photos received the highest clickthrough rate from search results to the listing detail page.

Overall, interior photos perform better than exterior photos. It may be time to replace that building photo with an interior image. Additionally, amenity photos such as pools and fitness centers also outperform exterior building photos. Many pools and fitness centers are closed right now, so you may want to keep those out of the featured photo for a little while, but once things open back up, you could certainly test amenities again.

'READ MORE'

Beyond just mentioning they key phrases renters are interested in, does your apartment listing description entice prospects to "read more?"

The listing description is one of the most under-utilized pieces of content on a listing detail page. Most content is structured data such as prices, availability and amenities. However, the listing description gives you creative license to tell a story, engage with renters, and draw them in.

It's not difficult to find standard, pat language on many listings. However, here's an example from Venue Brentwood that is effectively alluring:

LET'S REVIEW RESIDENT REVIEWS

Approximately 71 percent of Apartments.com listings included one or more reviews.

Multiple sources of research show that renters prefer recent reviews within the past 6 to 12 months. The problem is that only 36 percent have reviews posted from the past 12 months. A good benchmark would be to target approximately 10 or more reviews per listing, ideally all within the past year.

Specifically, on Apartments.com, CoStar analyzed the impact of reviews on lead-flow to apartment communities several times during the past few years. Results are similar each time: Listings with one or more reviews receive 40 percent more leads than those without reviews.

The fascinating part, and this has been consistent over time, is that there is no correlation between review rating and leads. Renters appear to just want to see something, some sign of life on the listing.

Recap compiled by Paul Bergeron, a freelance reporter and CoStar contributor, who covers apartment management. He can be reached at pbergeron333@gmail.com.

Dear Mr. Parisi,
My family and I reside in Middleton, a couple of blocks from Helbach's Coffee. As you know, Helbach's service staff will not wear face coverings and the owners do nothing to discourage customers from coming in and out maskless (none of the required signage is posted). Their idiotic position makes it less likely that my son will be able to complete his last year of high school in any sort of normal way. Their idiotic position makes it more likely that more of our community will be scarred by this disease. Their idiotic position contributes to the overall problem, not a solution. I am writing to urge you to take strong action. They need to comply with your sensible mask mandate or be shut down immediately. This is taking too long for those of us 'within spitting distance'.
Sincerely,
Edgar Spalding

Dear Executive Parisi:

I am a Susan Bertrand and I work at Henry Vilas Zoo as a Zookeeper. I am a proud member of an AFSCME Dane County employee group.

The Parisi administration is proposing Employee Benefit Handbook changes that come directly out of Scott Walker's union-busting playbook, undermining what you, our EGRs, and the county board partnered to build to ensure Dane County workers' voices are heard. I am asking you to oppose the many proposals that attempt to silence and sabotage the employees' associations including:

Severely limiting the work our stewards do to ensure a fair workplace.*
Severely limiting our role and access at New Employee Orientation.*
Slashing workers' pay in the important work EGR leaders do in ensuring a happy, safe, productive work environment.*
Unreasonably restricting EGR access in the workplace communication by email & bulletin boards which is expressly prohibited in s. 18.06(3), Dane County Code.*

Changing our work hours at the zoo directly affects many of our lives outside of work. As Zookeepers we already sacrifice a lot including weekends and holidays with our families. This job can be very rewarding! However, it can also be emotionally draining. It is important that we know our schedule and we can plan our lives with our families. As it stands now if Zookeepers are needed late or early it is overtime. It is voluntary. Many of us who do not want to work additional hours can avoid doing so. Workers are willing to volunteer because overtime is offered. Once over time is taken away no one will volunteer to work odd schedules. All Zookeepers will be forced to work odd hours and possibly more hours. This negatively affects our lives. Takes us away from our families and makes it more difficult to schedule child care. There are some Zookeepers that will not be able to accommodate this change. Our work schedule being 8 to 5 is an important existing benefit. Please do not take this away.
Our employee groups offered many proposals during the meet and confer process to address employee equity and retention, hardly any of which were included in your administration's proposal. Furthermore, the Parisi administration is using the Administrative Practices Manual to circumvent the meet and confer process.

You have been our champion for your entire career; we are counting on you to be our champion now. Respect and cooperation are our shared values. We demand you to abide by the democratic process of meet and confer——that is the Dane County way.

Thank you,

Susan Bertrand

Joe,
I've called few times in past month regarding problems I am having with my neighbor and his activities that affected my joint drive an shared use.

Polacek did not have county permits to fill, alter, park dirt piles on my non shared portion of my driveway and do concrete improvement to a large metal pole barn.

I had contacted town chair Greg hyer abd building inspector. They did nothing. I had emails from them showing Dereliction of duty and ignoring my car of complaint.

Luckily Jeremy balousek swmtjess starts out to investigate. She did report on same. She told polacek he needed permits. Polacek said he'd do permits. He did them all the while he continued to alter abd add dirt. His permits were denied and stop work order issued.

Week of July 13 polacek excavated the shared drive i built at hwy 14, removed my stone base and paved with asphalt without my consent.
And he barricaded me and my partner kim drake in our property from Monday thru friday without our consent and against our will. I called sherriff Dept they did nothing! In fact sherriff Mahoney came Friday in until marked squad abd took me to Dr appt. Due to barricade situation. I can't believe this is legal in Dane county! I'm legally disabled!!! I'm critically ill and home on pallative care!!!

My driveway document clearly states polacek cannot unilaterally change shared portion of driveway. Cannot stop my ingress egress. But he did and no one stopped him???

He also stopped our us postal vixe fir five days wo notice and I didn't get my pain Rx medication in mail and had to go wo medications gor two days until Saturday!
I'm legally disabled!!!

Polacek did not get state hwy connection permit to alter or change my shared driveway. I reported to town chair he did nothing. I reported to yoyr ofgice as county maintains hwy and sherriff Dept wasn't helping me! I was held hostage and our drive barricaded with large orange abd white barrels. And my mailbox.

How & why polacek was allowed to excavate my hwy apron of baee abd pave wo permits with a stop work order by county is beyond me???

And how& why a neighbor can barricade two taxpayers in on their property for five days is beyond me?

Polacek ripped out my well functioning driveway at hwy14 wo my consent. He paved it wo my consent. He paved wo dot permit, engineering and approvals. He even suggested we park our vehicles in row ditch to get off property! As if I can walk thru ditches up to my chest abd get in a car....I'm disabled and sick!
And dot nor county did anything to his vehicles parked overnight on hwy row. I have photos and witnesses they were right in edge of hwy 14 traffic lane!
Neither do nor county did anything as he held up state hwy traffic Monday and Tuesday I construction equipment pavers etc....

According to my attorney Nick loniello who I've had to retain and spend over $10,000 now on to deal with polacek mis reading of our drive agreement I built road, paid for all emgineering and town,county,state permits in 2004 when I built my home with festge family! I did all the work to get this shared drive.

It ensures Pam Allen festge access to farm Dane county park, use my road to access hwy 14. She farms polacek property and was never asked what this will do to her ag operations! Pavement won't hold up to our ag operations ever!
Today we are having. Pam hauls out 400 round bales #1000 each from festge park across my drive to hwy 14. 16 years never an issue. Until now polacek paved it and is trying to stop use by ag equipment!

I'm ag. I'm 4 th generation wi farmer. I told town chair hyer after 2018 flood I'm not leaving! I'm working with USDA agribility for disabled farmers and with veterans beginner farmer program to help me stay on farm until I die! My family has a right to this property and my hard work.

I've spent over $100,000 since FL repairing my property. In October 2019 I notified polacek by lawyer I'm fixing my drive so it meets fire and Em's code. 24 ft wide easement rock base with 14 ft road top coat recycled asphalt gravel. Polacek has covered my base on both sides with dirt, seed and mows as if he owns it. It's ruined it! $12,000 + drive i paid for before he arrived!
I only have a 11 ft road surface now and it's not fire or Em's safe! I have livestock abd woodbarn with fresh hay in it! Fire potential is real!

I am disabled with critical heart condition ems ambulance service is real!

I have rights!!!

I didn't go to media abd I didn't go to my senators. But I'm not seeing anyone stopping this insanity! It's cost me a fortune in lawyer fees to try to stop this and it continues today!

Your town chair has misread and interpreted for polacek that new $10,000+ asphalt paving as maintenance or repairs refusing to require building permits and state hwy connection permits on new improvements that are altering how my drive I built was designed for AG use forever. It's also changing the fiscally smart gravel type base easily maintained seasonally to most experienced least Hardy to ag equioment asphalt pavement....and brought additional maintenance costs to me.

Last my attorney has tried to negotiate with polacek to no avail and great expense to me over $10,000! And now we're fill restraining order and arbitrate request at more expense to me! An I'm critically ill! Why was this not stopped early on in process?? A stop work order and denied permits should have at least stopped polacek from paving shared drive wo my consent, wo discussing with me, wo ten days notice so I'd insist on arbitration, wo permits anx altering my driveway he cannot alter wo my approval!!! It's on record with deeds!!!

And since when doesnt county sheriff enforce laws? He illegally barricaded me on my property, like a hostage! And Kim drake! With no concern to my health abd medical appts and needs. Wo concern for my ag operations and livestock care. Wo concern for my senior gardeners tenants. Wo concern for my local youth equine riders. Kim's work. Nor our mail and Rx meds in mail!

We got a letter wed prior wo my consent to block my access or drive! Monday road tore up and not even properly done in moday hwy traffic!

I've had to take nitroglycerin 3x that week. I was held hostage while critically ill. We were scared to death. And nothing was done to protect us!

I'm now contacting Tammy Baldwin's office. I'm contacting Ada legal support. I'm contacting you.

I expect something to be done by you, your office of zoning and law enforcement.

Thank God as a retired law enforcement person I knew Dave Mahoney. He did save the day getting me to my scheduled appt. But I had to cancel Thursday appt I go weekly and often to medical appts. I'm.sick!!! And he did warn me to get restraining order which I'm.doing with attorney loniello. My mother was sheriff Dept employee and I retired county employee too.

This should not happen in Dane county!
It shows a sickness in the system...systemic issues favoring a white male with past firearms, tresspassing and damage to property issues with all surrounding ag neighbors!

And me!
I expect a call asap!
Home 798-4140
Cell 644-6525

This is all too much for me to handle as sick as I am!

Last,
I've learned logged +6 calls to sheriff regarding Polacek mowing state hwy row wo dot permit, creating safety hazards fir motorists and mowing at night by my Liv pens by hwy creating potential for injured animals or worse fence damage onto hwy out of fear in dark, they are pretty animals. I have photos, witnesses, an reported to lietenant pierce in person. Polacek continues to do so illegally and against dot policy. I'm reporting to senators office to ask dot why this isn't beibg enforced?
No lights,no rops, no smv sign, no flashers. Mowing right next to traffic lane day anx night friday thru Sunday....busiest times on hwy 14. My phone and video are pretty clear why I've complained.

Ps my 2013 complaint of polacek shooting an Ar 15 assault rifle at barrel of water in a metal pole barn with door open to my driveway (30 ft) as I left my home was ridiculous gross negligence by this guy. I called 911 sheriff responded and nothing done! If that was brown or black person what would happen?
And because of that privelege he did it again in 2019 in open prairie at swamplovers! Could kill someone!
This is an example of that systemic privelege and I'm sick of it!
I'm.going to the press if this isn't corrected to do fast!

Polacek is out there today wo permit smearing more dirt on my non shared portion of my drive making it even less Em's fire width!!!

Join Us Online to Talk About Climate Action in Dane County

Our Climate Action Plan (CAP) lays out an ambitious path that will cut emissions in half by 2030, delivering health, economic and eco-system benefits in the process.

We'll be sharing information about our progress implementing the CAP at a variety of events in August.

- Madcity BECCsters is hosting a discussion of CAP featuring County Executive Joe Parisi and OECC Acting Director Kathy Kuntz on Thursday, August 6 at 8 am.
- AIA SW Wisconsin is hosting an event, Transformational Change: An Intro to Dane County's Climate Action Plan, featuring County Executive Joe Parisi and OECC Acting Director Kathy Kuntz on August 18 at noon.
- OECC is hosting a discussion of the CAP for local business green teams where we'll explore how the CAP can help to accelerate green team efforts on Thursday, August 20 at noon.

If you want to host an event to talk about the CAP with your stakeholders, let us know.

Hi Joe,

Just checking in about this again. Do you or do you not support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to halt funding on the new jail?

Thank you,
Andrea

I appreciate that you share my concerns and pledge to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system (although in my opinion, this would be a complete overhaul of the system as we know it). So if we want to work towards less people subjected to the atrocities of incarceration, funding (and supporting the funding of) a new and larger jail would work directly against that goal.

Thank you for contacting me regarding 2020 Resolution 145 which was introduced by Supervisor Liz Doyle on July 9th. Resolution 145 promotes twelve criminal justice reform efforts aimed at reducing incarceration rates in the jail.

Resolution 145 was referred to three committees for review – the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, the Public Works and Transportation Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee. The County Board's process will afford the public several opportunities to provide testimony on this measure and will give County Supervisors the ability to ask questions and offer amendments. I encourage you to monitor the County's weekly agenda of committee activities to keep apprised of scheduled meetings where this resolution is on the agenda. The following link will take you to the County's calendar web page - https://dane.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx

I share your concerns and will continue to work toward a more fair, efficient and just criminal justice system. There are measures the criminal justice system can take to lower incarceration rates, preserve public safety and improve the lives of all people in our community. I look forward to monitoring the County Board's activities on this resolution.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Hello Joe,

I am a constituent of Dane County. My name is Andrea Collins and I live at 1218 Rutledge Street #4.

I support Supervisor Doyle's resolution to not fund the building of a new jail. Instead, we must direct those funds to communities (food, transportation, housing, healthcare, education, etc.).

As your constituent, please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Due to COVID precautions, the jail has let out many people; it currently has less than 500 people in it. We must keep it that way. If the criminal justice system can operate this way now, without locking people up, why can't we continue doing this? It is clear that the community is still as safe as it was before, as these folks have returned to our communities or are in alternative placements. Why do we need a larger jail?

Incarceration does not keep us safe and it disproportionately harms Black and Brown communities. We must decarcerate and redirect those funds to our community.

Please support Supervisor Doyle's Resolution to not fund the new jail.

Sincerely,
Andrea Collins

Caution: This email was sent from an external source. Avoid unknown links and attachments.

Good afternoon WALHDAB PA Committee & WALHDAB Board Members,

We received the below request for WALHDAB Members to meet with Senator Baldwin this Wednesday from 9-11 Central Time. Would any of you have availability to meet with her, along with NACCHO Government affairs staff? He shared they have that 2 hr window open but would only be about a ½ hour pending the conversation.

We would hope to have at least 2-3 LHD representatives on the call if possible. Please let me know if anytime during that 2 hours might work for you and I will coordinate schedules. Thanks for your consideration.

Hi Jamie,
Yes, I just heard from them they are available from 10am – 12pm.

I also want to add The Republican proposal for COVID funding came out yesterday from Senate Majority Leader McConnell. It is largely seen as a starting point for negotiations with the House, although there are Senate Rs who object to the price tag.

There is $1.5 billion through CDC to provide States, localities, territories, tribes, tribal organizations, urban Indian health organizations, or health service providers to tribes, funding to carry out surveillance, epidemiology, laboratory capacity, infection control, immunization activity, mitigation, communications, and other preparedness and response activities:

The formula they would use is the PHEP grant formula, which would result in the same thing we have seen before, i.e. 6 cities and every state receiving funding with no requirement to send it to the local level.

Hi Jamie,
I was able to schedule a call with Sen. Baldwin staff for this Friday to discuss federal funding for local health departments in the next COVID package. Would you be able to join the call and perhaps recruit a couple of local health officials who can speak to what's happening on the ground in communities? As you may know, Congress is introducing new COVID relief packages this week and we want to ensure that there is explicit funding for local health departments in this bill. Here is NACCHO's letter of recommendations for the next COVID package, but would love to get more first-hand stories from the field. Please let me know if you're available!

Best,
Ian

Testing, naturally. If you can tactfully suggest that directly funding local health departments is more effective than passing through the state, I think that would be good too.

County Executive Parisi,
Just read your comments about extending testing at the AEC, as I am here at the AEC for our late night hours. Right now we are 2,299 people tested so far today. I have been wondering what we will do if this center is closed and I am so glad that you recognize the predicament we are living in without a decision on this matter. Thank you for putting this out and helping to press for a decision on extending this service to Dane County and many surrounding counties that use this service.

statistics in this case lie greatly and those that rely on false data are also suspect. What do we know about these statistics.

The risk of Covid is extremely small.

If you test positive and wait 14 days and truly have covid and take another test it does not record you as having two tests it records you as 2 separate individuals. There is no coordination between testing sites nor those keeping the records. This leads to many false positives.

If you test positive and have another test within a week that is negative and a third that is negative the first positive result was probably a bogus test.

If you have Covid and test positive you will test positive for more than a month and possibly two months. That is the nature of testing.

A local firm decided to actually test the test kits that are being used. They took the kits and submitted the wabs as if they were real tests and found that most came back as positive results. Brings into question the value of the test kits. Previously from tests conducted on the kits in Washington DC on kits supplied by the CDC all the test kits sampled were positive results.

Thi brings into question all the statistics and points out how all this is being done as a political ploy.

problem with face masks.

I for one can not wear one due to medical reasons. But let's look at them. The fabric face masks will stop particles in the 0.3 micron range or greater. The virus average diameter is .12 microns smaller than what most face masks can stop. Dust masks are simply that for dust only and only stop large dust particles. Cloth face masks even though they do not stop the virus particles redirect the particles back over the head. N95 and surgical masks are the best but come with many restrictions - you must be fitted for them, one size does not fit all, pulmonary function testing is required and annual medical monitoring of the individuals wearing them is also mandated (OSHA regulations). I would assume that since the government is mandating the use the government will pay for them. Disposable masks are that once used and removed they are to be thrown away. This includes most that I see people wearing in public. Cloth ones if removed from your face must be washed before reused. This means people must have a supply on hand so they can discard or place in the wash. I am sure most people are using the same one over and over again and this makes the problem worse and can lead to many other health problems in people's lungs such as slinky lung disease.

many problems with the mandate and it really appears that it was not thought out.

> If we can help you spend less money on utilities that means you've got more funds that you can direct to your mission—which is a big win for everyone.
> So how can OECC help? If your organization owns its building, OECC can connect you to PACE Wisconsin, which is a financing program that offers cash-flow positive financing for energy efficiency, water efficiency and renewable energy projects. Using PACE you could implement an efficiency project that saves you $500/month in utilities, for example, where the loan payment is just $400/month—so that you reduce expenses by $100/month. Plus these projects can improve comfort and help you address indoor air quality concerns.

If you would like to learn more, please email or call Kathy Kuntz at OECC (Kuntz.kathryn@countyofdane.com or 608.772.5452). She will be happy to connect you with PACE and to answer any questions you have. Dave and I talked and agreed that I should reach out to all the POS agencies about PACE financing since at least one entity (RISE) is in process and since the reception at the POS leadership call was enthusiastic.

Dave also suggested I run the draft email past you – hence this email…sharing my POS email with you before I send it out…

Here's the draft email:

POS Agencies:

The services you provide to Dane County residents are critical, especially in these difficult times.

That's why County Executive Joe Parisi asked the Office of Energy & Climate Change to think about how we could help POS agencies reduce their operating costs.

In April our office issued an ambitious county-wide climate action plan. Ultimately we want to help everyone in Dane County reduce resource use in ways that save money, create jobs and increase positive health outcomes. Right now, though, our priority is point-of-service (POS) agencies like yours.

If we can help you spend less money on utilities that means you've got more funds that you can direct to your mission—which is a big win for everyone.

We hope this email finds you safe and well.

Staying safe and healthy is the number one priority for One City Schools. This summer, our entire staff from preschool to elementary; from assistants to administration; have worked tirelessly to incorporate feedback from parents, the health community, volunteers and supporters, and other stakeholders into a plan to provide the best quality education for our One City families while remaining safe.

We are excited to share with you our 2020-21 Safe Schools Reopening Plan: A plan that prioritizes health and safety while retaining our incredibly important vision of ensuring young children are succeeding in their personal and educational lives, whether via an in-person or guided remote learning environment. Please click here to review and download a copy of the plan, or click on the photo above.

We will offer an in-person and virtual learning option for children in our preschool and elementary school. Our elementary school will serve children in grades 4K - 2nd grade this fall.

Also, take a few moments to review our Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) document. If you have additional questions, please do not hesitate to contact Mr. Faren D'Abell, our elementary school principal at fdabell@onecityschools.org or (608) 268-8004, or me (for preschool questions).

Have a wonderful weekend. Onward.

CAUTION: External Email - Beware of unknown links and attachments. Contact Helpdesk at 266-4440 if unsure

Good afternoon,

Is there any chance that Dane County will align with the Governor's order which allows presenters of public presentations to do so without a mask?

3. EXCEPTIONS.

v1. While a single individual is giving a religious, political, media, educational, artistic, cultural, musical, or theatrical presentation for an audience, the single speaker may remove the face covering when actively speaking. While the face covering is removed, the speaker must remain at least 6 feet away from all other individuals at all times.

I understand and support the use of masks to curb the spread of the Covid virus but most public speakers are on a podium or stage and more than 6 feet from listeners. This is an important time to be communicating, leading and teaching effectively and it would greatly aid communication if the speaker could do so without a voice muffled by a mask.

Thank you,

Kent Van Horn

Hi Nina, Thank you for calling the other day with updates to this Halbachs Coffee Middleton Matter. I had a lengthy call with my Attorney yesterday , so i could fill him in on what i know thus far. He has stated that he is ready when i say go, to take legal action in this matter with all parties involved from a State level, DOH,any or all attorney's, involved etc. He did mention that he felt it was unacceptable and negligent handling of the Dane county mask order, thus has lead to this Halbachs matter, not being buttoned up at this point, with there License suspension, that was discussed, as the next step,being it has been several weeks or more, since this issue started with the Dane county mask mandate that went into effect.

I feel that i will give this matter 10 days, but expect to see or hear of meaningful action taken against Halbachs in that time frame with a complete stop to there unlawful business practices.

If i do not see or hear anything within that time frame, then at that point all involved with receive certified legal notices, along with monetary damage documents.

Thank you in advance for handling this matter for the sake of all of our health.

Sincerely

Dave

Dear Mr. Executive and Madam Chair,

Thank you for your letter of earlier today.

I would be happy to arrange a meeting either in person or electronically to discuss the items raised in your correspondence.

I suggest a meeting as soon as convenient for you as the body of knowledge on which the work group is working will likely be released in the near future. Please have your staff provide some dates and times which work for your schedules.

Sincerely,

Mark

The Wheeler Report

Covering the Wisconsin Legislature since 1972

Friday, July 31, 2020

SENATE PREPARED TO MEET TO END MASK ORDER

Less than 24 hours after Governor Evers announced a new Public Health Emergency, and shortly before a statewide mandatory mask order is set to take effect, Senate Majority Leader Scott Fitzgerald issued a statement saying the Senate is prepared to hold an Extraordinary Session to end the Public Health Emergency and to vacate the mandatory mask order. Assembly Speakers Vos' office did not return a request for comment on whether or not the Assembly would be working with the Senate to order an Extraordinary Session to address the issue. Both houses would have to agree to a call for an Extraordinary Session to take place.

PRELIMINARY EQUALIZED VALUES FOR 2020 AVAILABLE

The Department of Revenue has released the preliminary 2020 Equalized Values. The final 2020 Equalized Values are announced August 14. The available reports include:

- Statement of Changes in Equalized Values
- Tax Incremental District Values
- Tax Incremental Finance Value Limitation
- New Net Construction – Summary
- County Apportionment

According to the preliminary values, Wisconsin has seen a 5% increase in residential real estate values over 2019, an 8% increase in commercial values, a 5% increase in manufacturing values, and a 4% increase in agricultural values. Total real estate has seen a 6% increase in values over 2019.

The preliminary Net New Construction report shows Racine County has the largest construction growth with a 3.15% increase, mainly due to a 9.75% increase in the Village of Mount Pleasant, while the state as a whole has a 1.59% increase. The other counties with a 2% or greater increase include:

- Kenosha County: 2.63%
- St. Croix County: 2.39%
- Eau Claire County: 2.30%
- Dane County: 2.11%
- Washington County: 2.01%

Subject: Opportunity to Reduce Operating Costs

POS Agencies:

The services you provide to Dane County residents are critical, especially in these difficult times.

That's why I asked the Office of Energy & Climate Change (OECC) to think about how they could help POS agencies reduce their operating costs.

In April OECC issued an ambitious county-wide climate action plan. Ultimately we want to help everyone in Dane County reduce resource use in ways that save money, create jobs and increase positive health outcomes. Right now, though, a priority is point-of-service (POS) agencies like yours.

If we can help you spend less money on utilities that means you've got more funds that you can direct to your mission—which is a big win for everyone.

So how can OECC help? If your organization owns its building, OECC can connect you to PACE Wisconsin, which is a financing program that offers cash-flow positive financing for energy efficiency, water efficiency and renewable energy projects. Using PACE you could implement an efficiency project that saves you $500/month in utilities, for example, where the loan payment is just $400/month—so that you reduce expenses by $100/month. Plus these projects can improve comfort and help you address indoor air quality concerns.

If you would like to learn more, please email or call Kathy Kuntz at OECC (Kuntz.kathryn@countyofdane.com or 608.772.5452). She will be happy to connect you with PACE and to answer any questions you have. Our aim is to help entities save resources and transition to clean energy options so we definitely want to hear from you—your feedback can help us create more opportunities to help important community institutions like yours.

Thanks again for all you are doing in our community.

Community Testing Site Update

Alliant Energy Center

- Wednesday (7/29) 1706 people were tested and Thursday (7/30) 2310 people were tested.
- The total number of people who have been tested at the community test site is 92,255.

Data Byte

In the past week (July 24 – July 30), there were 312 new cases of COVID-19 in Dane County. Of the 247 with a complete interview so far:

- 101 (41%) reported attending a gathering, party, or meeting with people from outside their household.
- 40 (16%) were associated with clusters: 12 from childcare facilities, 9 from workplaces, 5 from congregate facilities, 4 from youth camps, 2 from bars/restaurants, 2 from college-age housing, and 4 from other clusters.

We define a cluster as 1 case in a long term care facility or childcare facility or 2 or more cases associated with one location or event around the same time.

Remember, our contact tracers are still conducting interviews, so the numbers above will go up as they complete more interviews.

COVID-19 VON BRIESEN TASK FORCE RESOURCE: WISCONSIN'S FACE COVERING ORDER

On July 30, 2020, Governor Tony Evers issued Emergency Order #1 (the "Order") requiring every individual in Wisconsin, aged 5 and older, to wear "Face Coverings" except in limited circumstances. This mandate, effective August 1, 2020, and continuing through September 30, 2020, requires Face Coverings be worn in Wisconsin when an individual is both:

1. Indoors or in an Enclosed Space (excluding private residences), and
2. Another person or persons is present (who are not members of individual's household or living unit) in the same room or Enclosed Space.

UPDATED: ROUTES TO RECOVERY FAQ

The Wisconsin Counties Association (WCA) has received multiple questions about the Routes to Recovery program and eligible expenditures.

When received, WCA has submitted questions to the Governor's office seeking clarification. Please see below the questions WCA has submitted and updated answers (if available) received from the Governor's office. In addition, we have included questions received by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities and the answers they received.

ICYMI: WCA ANNUAL CONFERENCE POSTPONED

Every Autumn for the last 81 years, county officials from around the state have gathered at the Wisconsin Counties Association's (WCA) Annual Conference and Marketplace for educational opportunities, introduction to new products, and peer networking.

The safety and health of our Conference attendees is our top priority. The current public health situation has forced all of us to rethink how we conduct day to day operations at the county level, as well as at the Association. After careful consideration with regard to how WCA could safely conduct a large conference while implementing guidance provided by public health experts, the Association has made the difficult decision to postpone the 2020 WCA Annual Conference and Marketplace.

While we are unable to physically get together, WCA staff is working to ensure you can access some of the educational programming that you would have received at the annual conference. To that end, the September issue of Wisconsin Counties will include a series of articles from several of our concurrent session speakers. In addition, WCA hopes to host a number of webinars featuring concurrent session topics and speakers.

To ensure we can still conduct the business end of the annual conference, a virtual Annual Business Meeting will be held on Monday, September 21, 2020 at 9:00 a.m. Additional information on the Annual Business Meeting will be forthcoming to all county board chairs. Please watch your email for additional information.

Dear Jeffrey,

Thank you for your response on behalf of Executive Parisi. Please note that I acknowledge and appreciate everything Executive Parisi has done for Dane County and Dane County Employees. I have collected signatures for Executive Parisi's nomination papers and have voted for him. That is what makes all of this so hard to believe.

I am writing specifically about the Department of Administration's tactics to bypass the County Ordinance and the Employee Handbook Meet and Confer process by sneaking policies into the Administrative Practice Manual.

Prior to the hiring of the current Director of AdminIstration, the Bargaining units and Employee Groups were successfully able to work with a Travis and/or Carlos to give and take, and come to an agreement. The current Director of Administration refuses to follow the process put in place by Executive Parisi and the County Board.

In summary, you must prohibit the Department of Administration from unilaterally making changes that should be discussed through the meet and confer process. If Executive Parisi does not intervene at this point, then I have to believe that he is either not being told the truth, or he is in agreement with these tactics.

Sincerely,

Marie VandeBerg

Sometimes people who agree on most things disagree on a few. And when they do, it's important to have an objective process by which to resolve those differences. In Dane County, we still have such a process, thanks to the work of the county executive, who worked with the Employee Groups to create that process after Act 10 gutted our former process, and made much of how we used to interact illegal.

That objective, third party process – originally proposed by the employee groups and agreed to by the county executive - is now being utilized to resolve the differences in legal opinions between the county's Corporation Counsel and the employee groups.
The county executive has always been dedicated to finding legal, workable post-Act 10 solutions to ensure worker's rights are protected. And, frankly, no other local leader in the state has done more for their employees.
The county executive took office shortly after fighting against the passage of Act 10 as a member of the state assembly, at which point he worked with the employee groups to create a fair and equitable post Act 10 process for conflict resolution (the same one being employed to resolve the aforementioned differences in legal opinions.)
Since taking office in 2011 the county executive has done a great deal for his employees:
He has added 280 full time positions to the county workforce.
Following ACT 10, he employed none of the so-called "tools" other leaders did to cut costs on the backs of employees. In fact, he even increased employee wages in an amount that covered the Act 10 mandated cut to the employer contribution to our retirement fund.
In the past four years alone, he has increase worker wages by 13.75%.
He instituted paid parental leave for all employees.
Last year he added the most generous retirement health care initiative in the state.
And despite skyrocketing health care costs, he has continued to offer a no premium HMO to all county employees, a benefit unheard of anywhere else.
And much more.
I believe most Dane County employees will tell you that the county executive cares deeply about his employees and has always been more than fair to them.
The county executive respects your right to have a difference of opinion and is following the agreed upon process for resolving those differences. He will abide by the decisions of the Independent Hearing Officers in the respective cases. He only seeks fair legal guidance and clarity.
I will close on a personal note. Comparing the current disagreement between the county executive and the employee groups to something out of the "Scott Walker union busting playbook" hardly seems fair to a man who has fought on the side of organized labor his entire career and who has treated his workforce with respect and affection. It is unfortunate that differences of opinion are seemingly no longer resolved with civil discourse but rather with threats and hyperbole. That does not strike me as the "Dane County Way."
Sincerely,
Jeff Kostelic
